

WAITING TO ENROLL, KNIGHTS TO SEAT OFFICERS TODAY

John Pidgon, 83 Years Old, of Germantown, Collapses in City Hall Installation Will Conclude 34th Triennial Conclave Gathered in Sessions Here

BETTER FACILITIES ASKED SEATTLE NEXT, IS BELIEF

An eighty-three year-old man collapsed today while standing in line in City Hall awaiting his turn to get on the registry lists. He is John Pidgon, a resident of Germantown.

Crowds lined the sixth floor corridor when the offices of the registration commission were opened. As the day wore on the crowds became larger.

When the commissioners suspended the work of registering voters and went into executive session to determine Senator Vane's right to vote there was a long delay.

The crowd remained in line, and it was then that Pidgon became exhausted and collapsed.

Among the prominent persons who registered today were Bishop Garland, of the Episcopal Church; the Rev. J. J. Joyce Moore, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, Eighth and Spruce streets;

Dr. W. W. Keen, surgeon; Frank H. Morris, a real estate dealer, and Senator George Woodward.

Senator Woodward returned to the city from Wyoming, where he has been spending the summer on a ranch.

The county commissioners were asked today to provide adequate election facilities to take care of the heavy registration.

Owen J. Roberts and Claude L. Roth headed a delegation of attorneys from the Moore campaign committee, who presented the matter.

They asked that the law be complied with in providing one polling booth for each seventy-five voters, fifty ball boxes for every forty voters and a ballot box for each 200 voters.

The county commissioners assured them that the law would be followed to the letter.

Independent supporters say a number of men who gained registration had been challenged on the regular registration days by division leaders.

To maintain a close scrutiny on all the prospective registrants at the City Hall, it was pointed out, would require a great many additional workers at the voters' camp from nearly every division in the city.

About 1000 names were added to the registration lists yesterday, and several hundred men still were waiting when the board adjourned.

Independent workers say the regular registration is a real headache.

They state a number of men, many of them negroes in the long lines yesterday, carried printed slips giving their addresses, and the number of their wards and divisions.

Industrial Parade to "Show Off" City

The industrial supremacy of the city, Philadelphia's industrial history and her goods, leather, carpets and rugs, hats, locomotives, steel railroad cars, freight cars, ships, stoves, lazers, oilcloths and upholstery will be signified by floats.

In all, 103 floats will be in line. In addition to the industrial angle, the historical and the city's greatness also will be typified.

The entries to the parade, most of which were contributed by manufacturers in the line represented, follow in the order of their appearance:

ECONOMY AX HITS APPROPRIATIONS

Federal Department Funds Reduced Two-Thirds by Bill Facing House

NAVY YARD FORCES CUT

By the Associated Press

Washington, Sept. 11.—The House appropriations committee swung the ax of economy hard on practically all government departments asking deficiency funds today, and reported a bill giving less than third of the total asked.

Frank E. Hardt and former president of the committee he expected to spend $25,000,000 a day on the food campaign alone.

Naval yard workers will feel the effects of the cut, and it was said many thousands would have to be discharged.

Indictments of Strang, Michel and Gabell, Officers and Directors, Will Be Asked

Indictments will be asked of the September grand jury in the cases of Elwood H. Strang, former paying teller of the North Penn Bank; Louis H. Michel, baker and former president of the bank; and William T. Gabell, director-clerk, Ralph T. Moyer, former cashier, has already been indicted.

The cases of Charles A. Ambler, former insurance commissioner, and Daniel E. Lafan, former banking commissioner, are to be presented to the October grand jury.

Captain William H. Assup, of Kansas Commandery No. 29, presented the prizes. The twenty-four men in the Englewood drill team each received a solid gold watch with cross and crown in enamel and with date and occasion engraved on the back.

Three prize winners received Knights Templar watch charms and the fourth prizes were Knights Templar rings.

Commander E. L. Bridges, of Raper Commandery, which has long been the rival of Englewood Commandery, presented Captain Wilson, of the latter team with American Beauty roses after the presentation of the prizes.

The three other teams not receiving prizes were given ratings as follows: Washington Commandery No. 4, Newport, R. I., 82 per cent; Cyrene Commandery No. 39, Rochester, N. Y., 79 per cent, and Cyrene Commandery No. 7, Camden, N. J., 72 per cent.

A parade of the drillers was led by the band of Baldwin Commandery No. 2, Williamsport, Pa.

HUSBAND CAUSES ARRESTS

Forgives Wife, but Baltimore Man Said to Have Deserted Family Held

A woman charged with having deserted her husband and eight-month-old baby and a man alleged to have forsaken his wife and two little children were arrested today in Camden.

The arrests were caused by the woman's husband, William Butterworth, of Baltimore.

Butterworth told the Camden police that when his wife, Mrs. Margie Butterworth, who is only eighteen years old, ran away he could learn nothing of what had become of her until David Neary, the man who was arrested with her, wrote a letter to take him back.

Mrs. Neary showed the letter to Butterworth, and he hurried to Camden. Neary is a painter, twenty-six years old, and lives in Baltimore. His children are two and four years old.

Butterworth is a printer at the Naval Academy at Annapolis. He forgave his wife after causing her arrest, and she returned with him to Baltimore. Neary was held in $300 bail to await the action of the Camden county grand jury.

SLAIN PAYMASTER BURIED

Hundreds of Friends Attend Funeral in Italian Section

The funeral of Anthony Aife, the paymaster who was murdered last week by a gang of highwaymen, was held today from his home, 517 Queen street.

Mass was celebrated at St. Mary Magdalene de Pazzi's Church, Montrose street above Seventh. The floral decorations filled three automobiles. Members of the Sons of Italy and the Philadelphia Lodge of Moose attended the funeral.

Three men have been arrested charged with the murder.

DEMOCRATIC FIGHT LOOMS INTO VIEW

Harry Westcott and Congressman Donohoe Contend for Mayorality Nomination

21,000 VOTES REGISTERED

With interest centered on the fight for the Republican majority nomination the contest in the Democratic ranks has been overlooked to a large extent by the voters.

Harry D. Westcott, son of former Judge Westcott, of New Jersey, and former Congressman Michael Donohoe are contenders for the honor of electing the Democratic ticket at the November election.

Westcott has the backing of the leaders affiliated with the Democratic city committee who acknowledge the leadership of Charles P. Donnelly, Mr. Donohoe is supported by the same combination of leaders that supported Municipal Judge Bonnell in his successful campaign for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination last year.

Leaders affiliated with the Democratic city committee which has been recognized by the Palmer-McCormick regime in the state, and is therefore supported by the small army of federal officeholders in the city, are confident Westcott will be nominated.

Friends of Judge Bonnell take the opposite view, but are not making predictions.

Approximately 21,000 Democratic voters have been enrolled on the three registration days. A greater number of Democrats are said to have changed their enrollment to Republican in order to get in on the warm contest now raging within the majority party's ranks.

"The voters are not as Democratic as they are Republican," said City Chairman Edgar W. Lank today.

"They are the Jacksonian brand who stick to the party through thick and thin."

Mr. Lank is understood to favor the nomination of Mr. Westcott, but declines to commit himself because of his position as city chairman.

"Any Democrat has the right to run for office," is the way he sums up the situation. Former Public Service Commissioner Michael J. Ryan is said to be one of the strong men behind the attempt to nominate Mr. Donohoe.

Pershing Welcome Plans Are Complete

Philadelphia station, and all along the line which will be followed by the Pershing party.

With Governor Sproul and the Mayor in the welcoming party at the station will be a delegation of councilmen headed by Isaac Hetzel. There will also be a citizens' committee.

At Independence Hall, besides making an address, General Pershing will inspect the State House and the Liberty Bell, and he will plant a tree in the Square, near one planted by General Grant.

At the Union League General Pershing will be received by former Governor Stuart. As the soldier steps out on the clubhouse balcony to make his second address, the "Star Spangled Banner" will be sung.

Tomorrow, during the two and one-half hours of the general visit, will be observed generally as a holiday.

15,000 Children Get Tickets

Schools will be closed. Fifteen thousand tickets for seats in the Parkway grandstand for the Pershing party have been distributed among elementary school children.

The tickets were placed in the hands of the nine divisional superintendents this morning for distribution.

As there are tickets enough for only one-fifth of the number of school children, Superintendent Garber decided that they should be distributed only among the pupils in the elementary schools, because they were older than the primary school children and more able to take care of themselves in the crowd.

Women Workers Assigned

Workers in the Southern Chapter, American Red Cross, will occupy the stand around which the general's procession will pass from Spring Garden street into the Parkway.

On the opposite side of Spring Garden street, members of the National League for Women's Service, the Emergency Aid and the Pennsylvania Society of Colonial Dames will be seated in a stand.

Distribution of tickets for this stand is being made upon personal application at the Emergency Aid headquarters, 1428 Walnut street, for Emergency Aid workers and their friends.

For members and friends of the National League for Women's Service and the Colonial Dames tickets are distributed at 1703 Walnut street, 109 West Chelton avenue, Germantown, and the Community House, Germantown avenue, Chestnut Hill.

15,000 Veterans in Crowd

Approximately 15,000 war veterans, members of the Philadelphia County Branch of the American Legion, will be in the crowds which will welcome America's premier soldier.

Boy Scouts will take a prominent part in the day's festivities. Five hundred of them will form at 9:30 o'clock on Chestnut and Sixth streets on Chestnut, to serve as a guard of honor for General Pershing.

The boys will form a line on both sides of Chestnut street; each line will be made up of 250 scouts. Le Roy S. Bishop, assistant scout executive will have charge.

The boys will be picked scouts from every troop in the city. Two scouts will be chosen from each troop. They will carry American flags given them by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

PERSHING INVITED HERE VICTORY DAY

Fraternal Organizations Want General to Review Parade October 11

60,000 TO PARTICIPATE

Pershing Sympathizes With Mrs. Roosevelt

Oyster Bay, N. Y., Sept. 11.—(By A. P.)—General Pershing paid a brief visit to Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt at Sagamore Hill this morning. He expressed deep sympathy with Mrs. Roosevelt not only in the loss of her husband, but in that of her son Quentin during the war. He did not have time to visit Colonel Roosevelt's grave.

Philadelphia's fraternal organizations will have a second chance to greet General Pershing if he accepts the invitation which will be extended to him tomorrow by local fraternal organizations to participate in the great Fraternal Victory Day planned for October 11.

More than 60,000 men and women will march in the parade and the afternoon of October 11 will be a general holiday in this city. Governor Sproul and Mayor Smith have agreed to issue proclamations declaring a holiday for the peace jubilee in honor of service men.

Sixty fraternal organizations including many nationalities and religions will take part in the exercises. They have formed the fraternal organizations of Philadelphia county committee and have been working on plans for the peace jubilee for months. W. Freeland Kendrick is chairman of the committee; Arthur H. Eaton, secretary; Allen D. Coyle, treasurer; John V. Loughney, Charles W. Bowers, Edward N. Haig, Jacob Singer and M. W. Meisel, vice chairmen.

PERSHING DATE BOOK REVEALS BUSY DAY

New York, Sept. 11.—(By A. P.)—General Pershing's last day in New York as the guest of the city found him on the move from early morning, with every hour set aside on his program in a round of visits, receptions and luncheons, to terminate tonight with a mass-meeting of the American Legion in Madison Square Garden.

In order to answer a few of the hundreds of pressing messages and letters that have clogged the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel mail system for the last three days, he planned to spend the evening at the Waldorf-Astoria.
