

$1,000,000 CAMPAIGN BY U. OF P. HOSPITAL

Drive to Start October 6 to Relieve Financial Demands of Big Institution

WORKERS ALL PROMINENT

The board of managers of the hospital of the University of Pennsylvania have decided to ask the public for a million dollars.

The provost and board of managers of the hospital state that the need of this money is imperative.

A drive for the fund will be made during the week of October 6, under the direction of the following executive committee:

E. T. Stotesbury, Edingham B. Morris, Randall Morgan, George H. McFadden, J. R. McAllister, Arthur Sewall, Provost Smith, Dr. John B. Deaver, Dr. John G. Clark, Dr. Alfred Stengel, W. W. Curtis, Joseph E. Widener, George H. Frasier, Joseph G. Rosegarten, Samuel Sullenburg and Caleb F. Fox, chairman.

Headquarters have been established at the Bellevue-Stratford, and the work of organizing a large force of volunteer workers begun. There will be 300 workers, divided into sixty teams, thirty teams of women and thirty men's teams.

The women's teams will be under the direction of a women's executive committee of which Mrs. William W. Arnett is chairman and Mrs. Walter S. Thomson associate chairman.

Chairman Fox, in announcing the purpose of the campaign, said:

"The hospital of the University of Pennsylvania is not only one of the oldest and largest institutions of healing in the Commonwealth, but it is one of the most valuable to the community at large because it is a teaching hospital. It is one of the most important adjuncts of the medical school of the university. For these and many other reasons it is deserving of the generous support of the public for whose benefit it has labored ceaselessly and unselfishly for nearly half a century.

"For several years past the hospital has felt a serious financial stringency which has hampered its efforts to keep pace with the constantly increasing demands of a growing community. Not only has it been unable to enlarge its facilities by erecting the necessary modern buildings but during and since the war the available income, from every possible source, has failed to meet the increased cost of maintenance.

"The board of managers is therefore confidently asking the public to contribute $1,000,000 for the three-fold purpose of liquidating an existing indebtedness, completing the surgical pavilion and increasing the necessary equipment."

LANDING AT CHESTER

It is expected that a party of about 500 will go from Lansdowne to Chester for the launching.

The vessel will be named Lansdowne because that township went "over the top" in all of the Liberty Loan drives and was conspicuous in all war work. The ship is 410 feet in length and has a carrying capacity of 8800 tons.

LEGION POSTS HERE TO AID JOB-SEEKERS

Will Join With Other Branches in Adopting Plan to Place War Veterans

A permanent policy of re-employment assistance to discharged veterans, which will be adopted immediately by local posts of the American Legion throughout the country and recommended to the national convention of the legion in Minneapolis on November 10, 11 and 12, was announced today by the state executive committee at its headquarters, 121 South Fifth street.

The plan proposed contemplates the legion's carrying on in large measure the work undertaken by Colonel Arthur Woods, with whom the legion's state employment officers have been co-operating.

"The employment situation," a bulletin issued by the legion states, "has materially changed in the last few months. The army is now practically demobilized, and from this investigation, one by the United States employment service and the other by the war-camp community service, made in the month of August, it has been found that there are only about 20,000 men unemployed. The need, therefore, is not so much for a nation-wide employment service to handle thousands of applicants as it is to give devoted attention to those that are left over, which are probably the most difficult cases.

"By maintaining an efficient and continuous interest in employment, so that veterans of the war will know where to turn whenever they need advice or help with reference to getting a job, the American Legion can render the greatest service.

"To this end, it is urged that each post appoint a strong employment committee in its city, in order that it may strengthen any agencies that seem weak, establish relationships with the Salvation Army, the police, churches, etc., and get in personal touch with any ex-service men in need of jobs."

LAND ARMY HAS PROBLEM

Members Questioned About Work Next Season

The Woman's Land Army has issued a circular letter to all its members to find out if it is worth while to continue the work next year, from the point of view of the farmers and that of the workers. They are asking the following questions:

If the camps are improved or new ones selected, would you go on with this work next summer?

Can you add from your acquaintances more workers for 1920?

How can we secure workers for September and October?

What feasible way for financing the executive and office end of the Land Army can you propose?

The Land Army continues to keep workers only on private places.

BIG 'MOVIE' HOUSES MERGE BUSINESS

Stanley Company and Nixon-Nirdlinger Circuits Work Out Agreement

SEE BENEFIT TO PUBLIC

The Stanley Company of America and the Nixon-Nirdlinger circuit, two of the biggest "movie" booking houses in the city, have entered into a co-operative agreement which is virtually a merging of their interests.

Although no details were made public after the conference at which the agreement was signed yesterday, it is understood that all the theatres under contract to either agency will be supplied through the Stanley Company booking agents.

James W. Mastbaum, president of the Stanley Company, and Fred G. Nixon-Nirdlinger, Jr., representing the opposition, met and decided the issue. By the terms it is understood that Mr. Nixon-Nirdlinger becomes a member of the directorate of the merged organizations.

The arrangement means the addition of many theatres to the chain which will be supplied with the Stanley output. Among them are the Locust, Belmont, Rivoli and Cedar in West Philadelphia; the Franklin, in Frankford; Jumbo, in Kensington; West Allegheny in Northwest Philadelphia; the new Freilhofer, Germantown and Lehigh avenues; the Strand Theatre, Nixon's Temple Theatre, Camden; the new Nixon Theatre in Chester; Nixon's Dover Opera House, the Grand Opera House, West Chester; the Cort, Critterion and City Square theatres, Atlantic City, and many others which are in the chain represented by the Nixon-Nirdlinger company.

Mr. Mastbaum said the move would mean much to the patrons of motion pictures not only in the various sections of Philadelphia and Camden, but to every city and town in which the new arrangement applies. It will mean that these houses are going to be served with the very best that the producers of pictures offer. There will be no waiting until the picture has been shown in every hamlet, as has sometimes been the case. Under the new agreement, he said, five subjects will prevail, and in consequence the patrons of these houses will be brought upon an equal plane with houses which heretofore have enjoyed what might be termed a favored position. It means that in all those houses the latest issues of pictures will be shown immediately upon their release.

Mr. Nixon-Nirdlinger was enthusiastic over the consummation of the deal, and insures them success for the term of the agreement, he said, "that it is an asset which we may leave to our families and estates. It obviates the expenditure of fortunes in the erection of theatres in direct competition with each other and gives us an opportunity to expend large sums of money in sections which hitherto have enjoyed no sectional playhouses. Then, too, it means the curtailment of the manifold duties which have hitherto been a big factor in the organization of our various enterprises. Since my father's death my time has been occupied in other fields, and by this arrangement I have the co-operation and support of the greatest picture-booking organization that has ever been formed in this country."

Adolph Zukor, president of the Paramount-Atteraff-Famous Players-Lasky Corporation, who was in the city yesterday, expressed himself as pleased to see that the Stanley and Nixon-Nirdlinger organizations had abridged any differences they might have had and were now prepared to work in harmony for the benefit of the motion picture industry.

URGE JEWISH CENTER

Community Movement Here Part of Americanization Program

New York, Sept. 24.—Christianization of the Jews in the United States, as part of a $1,000,000 "Americanization" program planned by the Episcopal board of missions, was advocated here yesterday at a board conference. Suggestion by Bishop Rogers Israel, of the Erie, Pa., diocese, that any action along these lines should be deferred until after the Episcopal general conference at Detroit in October, brought prompt answer from the Rev. John I. Zacker, superintendent of Jewish work for the diocese of Philadelphia, that if the Jew was left out of the program for only a short time it would be a failure. Bishop Thomas J. Garland, of the Philadelphia diocese, asserted that the Americanization of the Jews had become secondary to the Christianization of them. Mr. Zacker, who declared there are 15,000 Christian Jews in the country today, pleaded for establishment immediately of a community center for Jews in Philadelphia.
