

VARIOUS SOUPS—WOMAN'S EXCHANGE—FLORENCE ROSE'S TALK—CRUEL PRACTICAL JOKES

MRS. WILSON GIVES RECIPES FOR MANY KINDS OF CHOWDER

Fish and Clam Are Not the Only Foods That Can Be Made Into This Variety of Soup

By MRS. M. A. WILSON
CHILLY days give one the desire for something hot, most frequently for some soup, bouillon or a chowder.

When chowders are mentioned most people think of fish and oysters and clams as the variety, whereas the economical New England housewife sees celery, potatoes, peas, lentils, beans and turnips and cabbage, thus providing a splendid variety.

Chowder is the old English porridge of the Elizabethan days, when the family trencher held delicious and savory porridges.

In making the vegetable chowder, such as potato, celery, onion, carrot, etc., pare the vegetables and then adjust the coarsest knife on the food chopper and put the vegetables through it.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry. When dry place in a fruit jar until needed.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

Mrs. Wilson at Food Fair: What She Does and When

Mrs. Mary A. Wilson, food expert of the Evening Public Ledger, is giving cooking demonstrations daily at the Food Fair in the First Regiment Armory, Broad and Calowhill streets.

Her program for today and tomorrow follows: This Afternoon 3 p. m.—Wireless cookery, bread, rolls, cinnamon buns, pastry.

Tonight 8 p. m.—Bread, rolls, cinnamon buns, crumb cake.

Tomorrow 3 p. m.—Wireless cookery, breads from whole wheat, deviled egg salad, cheese novelties.

8 p. m.—Breads, fancy fruit roll, fancy pastry.

One faggot of soup herbs, Bring to a boil and then cook slowly for one-half hour. Now add One-half cup of flour, One and one-half cups of milk.

Mix together and stir thoroughly to dissolve the flour in the milk. Add to the chowder and then bring to a boil and cook for ten minutes. Season with

One and one-half teaspoons of salt, One-half teaspoon of pepper, Two tablespoons of finely minced parsley, and serve with toasted pilot crackers.

One vegetable may be substituted for another, using just the same proportions.

Gloucester Salt Cod Place one package of salt cod in a piece of coarse cloth and dip three times into hot water. Squeeze dry after each dipping to remove the salt.

Now place six tablespoons of bacon or ham dripping in a deep saucepan and add

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

The prepared fish, One faggot of soup herbs, One quart of water.

Bring to a boil and then cook slowly for thirty minutes. Now place in a bowl

Two cups of milk, One-half cup of flour, Stir to thoroughly dissolve the flour and then add to the chowder and bring to a boil. Cook for ten minutes and then add

One tablespoon of butter, One-half teaspoon of pepper, Four tablespoons of finely chopped parsley.

Serve with toasted cornbread or bannocks. And as one old Jack Tar said to me, when his good wife gave me this recipe: "This meat and fish to the real Yankee and furriners come miles in their automobiles to get a sup of the real Gloucester chowder."

Gloucester Chowder Select two heads from the cod, hake or tile fish and then split and wash thoroughly, first in warm water and then in cold salt water. Let drain and then place in a saucepan six tablespoons of bacon or ham drippings and add one cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until the onions are soft. Now add

One carrot, chopped fine, One cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Use five tablespoons of the bacon or ham drippings in place of the salt pork.

One cup of finely chopped onions. Cook slowly until soft and then add one carrot, chopped fine, One-half cup of finely chopped celery.

One small branch of celery, One small piece of carrot, One-sixth of a leek, splitting the leek lengthwise in half and then cutting each half in three pieces.

Now thread a bay leaf on a piece of string and tie each faggot securely. Place on a tray near the range and let dry.

When dry place in a fruit jar until needed. Salt pork, bacon and ham fat or drippings may be used for all chowders.

Various Vegetables Are Used by Thrifty New England Women to Boil Down and Serve

One cup of finely chopped celery, One faggot of soup herbs, The prepared fish heads, Five cups of water.

Bring to a boil and cook slowly until the bones of the head are free from the meat. Remove the heads and pick the meat and return to the chowder, discarding the bones. Now add

One cup of stewed and strained tomatoes, One cup of minced peas, Now place in a bowl

One cup of milk, One-half cup of flour, Mix together and stir to thoroughly dissolve the flour and then add to the chowder. Stir well and then bring to a boil and cook for ten minutes. Season with

Two teaspoons of salt, One teaspoon of pepper, Four tablespoons of parsley, and serve with toasted bread.

Time for Wedding To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—

I am going to be married on Wednesday, November 26, 1919, and I cannot decide upon the time of day.

It is a large church wedding. Will you answer through your column and advise me? Also the best way to arrange a bridal veil of point de veuze lace. I have a great deal of hair.

HAPPY BRIDE. The time for a wedding usually depends a good deal upon the time of the train that the bride and bridesmaids take.

They are just passing by. If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

The Woman's Exchange

Costume for Autumn To the Editor of Woman's Page:

Dear Madam—You have helped me so many times before that I am coming again to ask your assistance.

I am going to a "most" party next Saturday and would like to be dressed as "Autumn." Now, I do not know how to go about making the costume. What sort of shoes would be proper, and how should I wear my hair?

SIXTEEN. Make your costume of copper-colored chesecloth. Cut irregular patches that look like leaves, out of yellow and brown chesecloth and sew them all over the dress.

Let the sleeves hang in jagged points over your arms. Vent your hair in the usual way and encircle your head with a brown ribbon studded with yellow chrysanthemums, or the tiny flowers would do just as well. Brown stockings and brown slippers adorned with the yellow leaves would be the most appropriate thing to wear on your feet, but if you expect to dance the snappers would not do. In that case, wear your regular slippers and fasten the leaves on them like bushes.

Time for Wedding To the Editor of Woman's Page: Dear Madam—

I am going to be married on Wednesday, November 26, 1919, and I cannot decide upon the time of day.

It is a large church wedding. Will you answer through your column and advise me? Also the best way to arrange a bridal veil of point de veuze lace. I have a great deal of hair.

HAPPY BRIDE. The time for a wedding usually depends a good deal upon the time of the train that the bride and bridesmaids take.

They are just passing by. If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

The whole proceeding seems to have been rather out of order. It is not usual for young men to ask young women to stay and see them, even if they are just passing by.

If there is an older woman present, or if the young man's mother was there, it would have been within the proprieties, but you do not mention that any one else was present.

In any case, whether they should have been asked or not, and whether they should have accepted or not, you and the young men who asked them to stay should certainly have escorted them home after dark.

He has no argument to uphold his conduct. And you should have stood to your guns, and have gone with them, if he did not. By all means apologize to the young women.

THE WARM TOPCOAT IS COMFORTABLE NOW

Brown duvetyne is the material of this coat. The wide collar is of beaver, and the muff, which is carried with it, is also made of the beaver.

A Daily Fashion Talk by Florence Rose FOR a while it really seemed as if it was quite incompatible with being fashionable to be really warmly clad.

Young girls who affected the "cuties" in clothes would go about in cold weather with deep V's in their bodices, wearing suits that were ridiculously light in weight, and if they wore furs they wore them so as to get the best possible warmth from them—wide open at the neck, draped nonchalantly over their shoulders.

They persisted in wearing low shoes or pumps and, of course, their stockings were of sheerest silk, and as grandmothers wisely remarked it was pride alone that kept them warm.

The thought of any sort of underwear that was made of wool would have sent these precious young ladies into torrents of protest, and if you suggested nightgowns that

IF YOU LOVE Flowers you should be interested in THE CENTURY FLOWER SHOP 12th Below Chestnut St.

Opposite Ritz-Carlton 1335-37 Walnut Street

Afternoon Gowns $25 to $250 Our collection includes graceful duvetynes, shimmering charmeuse, scintillating nets, diaphanousorgettes, glorious tricolettes and luxurious velvets.

The pictured model is of soft satin—with collar and cuffs of tucked white lace. Colors are navy, brown and black. Price for Monday, $39.75

THE HOUSE OF WENGER

Twelve Twenty-nine Walnut Street

Models that notably portray the distinctive character of Chertak-Wenger Hats.

MOST PRACTICAL JOKES ARE LACKING IN HUMOR

Read About the Wild-Goose Chase on Which This Girl Was Sent on a Bitter Winter's Night

HOW funny is a practical joke? As a rule quite funny when it is on some one else and not half so funny as the rest of them think it is when it is on you.

But even at that some practical jokes fall in the end to amuse those who perpetrate them.

What do you think of this one, that happened in a nearby town? It was in the dead of winter, one of those bitter winters prevalent a couple of years ago.

The snow was heaped high everywhere and then frozen almost solid on top. Poking a hand outside to reach for the milk or the morning paper was as much as many women were doing.

But school went on of course just the same. It was a bunch of high school girls who went to Mary C. and told her about the surprise party that was to be given for one of their number.

It was to be no end of a jolly affair and not under any circumstances to be missed. There was a great deal of whispered planning during the next few days and by the time the night arrived anticipation was high.

So high that no amount of persuasion on the part of Mary's parents to make her stay at home because of the unusual cold could prevail on her to do so. She had never been to this particular house before, and it was "way on the other side of the town, but even this could not deter her.

Well, to make a long and very cruel story short, that little high school girl went to the address given and walked around in that neighborhood for three-quarters of an hour hunting for the house. In the end through inquiry she discovered there was no such number.

With feet numb and herself dazed with the bitter cold, she made her way home. When this innocent victim was planning during the next few days and by the time the night arrived anticipation was high.

So high that no amount of persuasion on the part of Mary's parents to make her stay at home because of the unusual cold could prevail on her to do so.

She had never been to this particular house before, and it was "way on the other side of the town, but even this could not deter her.

Well, to make a long and very cruel story short, that little high school girl went to the address given and walked around in that neighborhood for three-quarters of an hour hunting for the house.

In the end through inquiry she discovered there was no such number. With feet numb and herself dazed with the bitter cold, she made her way home.

When this innocent victim was planning during the next few days and by the time the night arrived anticipation was high.

So high that no amount of persuasion on the part of Mary's parents to make her stay at home because of the unusual cold could prevail on her to do so.

She had never been to this particular house before, and it was "way on the other side of the town, but even this could not deter her.

Well, to make a long and very cruel story short, that little high school girl went to the address given and walked around in that neighborhood for three-quarters of an hour hunting for the house.

In the end through inquiry she discovered there was no such number. With feet numb and herself dazed with the bitter cold, she made her way home.

When this innocent victim was planning during the next few days and by the time the night