Nancy Wynne Speaks of the First Meeting of Mrs. Troth's Dancing Class—The Townsends' Theatre Party for Miss Rosengarten Tonight

OF COURSE, every one is excited over the opening dance of Mrs. Edward Troth's class this evening at the Germantown Cricket Club. Every one loves the Troth class. You have such a wonderful time, don't you? And, though there have been a few through the war, the reputation honest-to-goodness class was decidedly scattered, as were all the other social affairs in that time. So many of the members in the service, "nevertheless,"

Marie Louise Paries is to have a dinner before the meeting tonight, and Katherine King will be guest of honor at a dinner given by her aunt, Mrs. George Frank Brown.

IN TOWN these will be the theatre party which the John Barnes Townsends will give for their cousin, Peggy Rosengarten, the daughter of the Mitchell Rosengartens. Peggy is an attractive little thing, is she not? Very fair, like her mother and father, and dainty and slender, she is a great favorite with girls and men.

With the exception of the daughters of the late Mrs. Stuart Tyson, who was Miss Katie Rosengarten, Peggy is the only girl in that branch of the Rosengarten family, so she is bound to be made much of. The Townsends do not live here, you know, so it seems even more as if Peggy were the only girl in the family. Her mother was Miss Frances McCullough, a daughter of the late Edmund McCullough, who, on second noes, married his daughter's friend, Miss Ethel Newbold, who by the way, has been chaperoning the two Wurts girls, most of the season on account of their parents' mourning.

To go back to Peggy, her father is a brother of Harold Rosengarten and the late Albert J. Rosengarten, who married Betty Mary Jeffries, and of the late Mrs. William E. Ashton, who was Miss Alice Rosengarten. They were the children of the late Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell George Rosengarten, and are nieces and nephews of Miss Fanny and Mr. Joe Rosengarten and of Mr. Harry B. Rosengarten and Mr. Frank Rosengarten, of this city. There are, of course, innumerable cousins in that family, too.

HAVE you heard that the Orpheus Mixed Quartet is to give "A Persian Garden" with appropriate costumes and scenery in the ballroom of the Bellevue on December 15? You know these things, but you may not know that the quartet is to be made up of the late Mrs. George D. Winters, who was Miss Edna Harwood Raucher, Miss Foretta Strelitz, Mr. Philip Warren Beckie and Mr. David Rounding. Miss Strelitz replaces Miss Elizabeth Dickson, who was the contralto in other years. These four singers give their time and talent to charity at least two times through the year, and as they sing delightfully it is a fine thing indeed.

A number of women of social importance have given their names as patronesses to the affair, and of course, anything done for the Emergency Aid is backed by that organization. Among those interested in the concert and dance which will follow are Mrs. Stanley Flagg, Jr., Mrs. George D. Winters, Mrs. John F. Braun, Mrs. Matthew Baird, Mrs. Percy Clark, Mrs. Oswald Chey, Mrs. John G. Gurnee, Mrs. Richard C. Dale, Mrs. Gurnee Munn, Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, Mrs. Charles A. Munn, Mrs. Henry F. Miller, Mrs. George Madigan, Mrs. Richard Nalle, Mrs. Tremont Newbold, Mrs. J. N. Dew, Mrs. Henry Reeves, Mrs. Alexander Van Rossum, Mrs. George W. Chid, Mrs. Francis I. du Pont, Mrs. J. Horner Moore, Mrs. B. C. McFadden, Mrs. Thomas M. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Benjamin West Frazer, Mrs. William H. Geary and Mrs. John J. Allen.

SOMETIMES Mary talks quite a lot; sometimes she says a bit more than her prayers at night; she even sometimes tries to skylark too much when it's time for "beddy-bye." And so one or twice Mother has had to say a few strong words to gain obedience. She was not prepared, however, when baby brother was crying the other day and she told Mary to stay in the room while she went to get his bottle, to hear Mary's small voice slightly raised as she said: "You go to sleep now; no more nonsense."
