WILSON'S TRIUMPH OVER O'DOWD PROVES 'SET-UPS' CAN BE 'UPSETS'; MIKE WILL BOX CLARK IN CAMDEN

By ROBERT W. MAXWELL

MIKE O'DOWD lost the middleweight championship and the Freight Handlers' Union lost an active member when Johnny Wilson won the title up in Boston Thursday night on a referee's decision.

months later and knocked out Papke. That same thing might happen to O'Dowd.

JUST the same, O'Dowd will be in action at Camden next Tuesday night against Jackie Clark, of Allentown. Herman Taylor, matchmaker of the club, says he will use the ex-champion and fulfill the contract given to O'Dowd two weeks ago.

Thursday night was not the only time O'Dowd risked his title. When he broke out Mike was just beginning to collect on his victory over Al McCoy in Brooklyn, but he dropped everything, enlisted in the army and was the only champion who saw service overseas.

CRAVATH PINCH-HITTING CHAMP; JOE DUGAN LEAPS TO .366 MARK

Gavy Tops the National League With Average of .600—Five Phils Clouting Better Than .300

OLD MAN CRAVATH is up there again. Last year the Phils' boss topped the National League circuit in clouting, but never got any credit for it because he didn't play regularly.

Gavy has carried his wicked weapon to the plate in a pinch five times in this young campaign and all he has done is to whittle out a home run and a pair of singles for an average of .600.

Aside from Cravath there are four other Phils in the three hundred class. These are DeWitt LeBourveau, who with Cravath is among the five leading big hitters; Wrightstone, .500; Rixey, .417; and Dave Hanrott, .324.

Rogers Hornsby is the real leader of the league with .418. LeBourveau is second, Grob, third, and Zach Wheat, fourth. Eddie Roush, who Cobb has gotten away to a poor start. He's leading .292 now.

Lee Meadows is setting the pace for the twirlers. The Cravath flinger hasn't had a game out of four starts. George Smith also is given credit for two victories and no defeats, but he was beaten Thursday. Mitchell of Boston, also has clean records.

YOUNGER COLLEGE pitcher used to slaughter collegiate pitchers when he second based at Holy Cross. Right now he's treating major league flingers with the same regard as student moundsmen. Joseph is whaling the ball.

Take a look at the averages. The former Holy Cross star is holding forth at the dizzy gait of .506 with a record of twenty-six hits out of seventy-one chances at bat. Considerable slugging has been done by the New Haven product in the last week.

Dugan and Walker are the only Mack regulars in the 200 class. Walker is hitting .324. They hold another record. They are tied with Babe Ruth and Everett Scott for the home run honors of this youthful season.

Six pitchers have won two or more games without a defeat. These are Corcokie, of Cleveland, six; Williams, of Cleveland, five; Bagby, Cleveland, four; Thornburn, New York, three, and George, Chicago, two.

LET the coast stop and whine. When the skulkers hold the line, it's the coast that's the loser. With the best he has to give.

There are many who are experts at "panning the other guy," but, after all, it is not so good a job nor so clean a job as being an expert at swabbing out sewers.

There is said to be little truth in the rumor that Colonel Huston and Rupert have requested Babe Ruth to assist from knocking balls out of the park until the cost of baseballs comes down a bit.

SO FAR no one has suggested a match between Carpenter and Douglas Fairbanks for the motion picture championship. This trifling oversight will probably be corrected in the next day or two.

EXPLODER to start soon for the South P. Having arrived there, if he only keeps on going, he will be a hundred miles further south he will undoubtedly run across the Detroit Tigers, who, when last heard of, were down in their last nip of pessimism and their last can of gumdrops.

Tom Seaton Released; Accused of Gambling

San Francisco, May 8.—"Casey" Smith and Tom Seaton, the latter formerly of the Phillies, leading pitchers on the San Francisco team in the Pacific Coast League, were given their unconditional release yesterday following charges of gambling placed against them by Manager Casey Graham.

Not to Forget—How, also about the case of the White Sox of 1907. Beyond mid-season they were in seventh place and sinking swiftly.

They suddenly whirled, won nineteen straight games, and then, before they were stopped had beaten the great Cub machine in a world series.

These facts were paralleled by the Boston Braves of 1914, who starting from last place in July, not only won the National League pennant, but then wrecked the Athletics on four straight afternoons of play.

Now, if the Tigers care to class with the clubs mentioned above, they should whiff some of the most serious nature have reached me regarding these players, their practices and their associates." He said at first he refused to listen, but their growth persuaded him that whether true or not, for the best interest of the game, Seaton and Smith should be released.

HIDE YOUR STRAW; PENN GAME'S OFF

Rain Causes Postponement of Battle With Princeton. May Play Tuesday

Straw Hat Day's all wet and all off. So are straw hats. We hate to drag in the old ancient and honorable Jupiter Pluvius, but he's the guy to blame.

The game has been canceled altogether. The date has just been put back. According to the latest dope, the battle will be staged at Franklin Field on Tuesday next.

It was a poor getaway for the straws. There were none to be seen about the campus, raincoats and caps and the old felt holding forth.

The rain started early this morning, and along about 11 o'clock Franklin Field was so swamped with water that it was plain the game was out of consideration.

Major Pickering, the Penn graduate manager, of course, was anxious to fix another date for the engagement, and it is believed that Tuesday will be the day.

So hold on to your old felt billy. It has a few more days of life. The straws will bloom on the first clear day.

Scrap About Straps

THAT the boxing game has its ups and downs is not news. When it looks as if a set-up is being served, was proved unanimously in Boston Thursday night, when Mike O'Dowd was beaten for his title by Johnny Wilson, entirely unknown to the fight world at the time.

Tonight at the National Club Young Joe Borrell, local Italian welterweight, is to stack up against a hefty hitter in Steve Lazo, of Hazelton, Pa. Steve is champion; still he is recognized as a mighty good battler.

Borrell also possesses a mean wallop, but Lazo, according to the know-bows, looks like the winner. Borrell is not only a vicious puncher, but he also is tough, rugged and aggressive. All of which means Steve will have no simple time of it.

Sam Lewis, former New York referee, who has been living in Philadelphia for about two years and who has been managing a local theatre, is to return to his native city this summer. With the closing of the theatre, he will return to his native city. He will do the honors of the ring. He will do the honors of the ring.

In the Wallingford Cup series the second teams of the Philadelphia Cricket Club and the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club, who are vying for the lead, continued on their way toward another title by defeating the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club in the matches played yesterday, securing their fifth straight team victory.

The Country Club met some stiff opposition at the Whitmarsh Valley Country Club, capturing three of the five matches. Whitmarsh started well by winning the first match, Mrs. M. H. Vane defeating Mrs. T. H. Vetterlein.

The second team of the Philadelphia Cricket Club kept up its fine work by winning all five matches from the Llanerch Country Club at St. Martins. In the Wallingford Cup League, only one of the matches was close, Mrs. J. H. Tarr taking Miss M. Goodman to the eighteenth green. The best golf of the day was played by Miss Charlotte Bliven in her match with Mrs. W. H. Bliven. The competition ended on the fourteenth green, but the by holes were played, Miss Cheston finishing with the lowest score.

The Merion, second team kept up its winning stride by taking five matches from the Old York Road Country Club in the Wallingford Cup League. The day was between Miss H. Griscom, of Merion, and Mrs. R. Beatty, the contest ending on the home green.

This Proves Wilson Middleweight King

Boston, Mass., May 7.—There is no doubt as to Johnny Wilson's right to the middleweight championship, according to conditions governing his recent bout with Mike O'Dowd.

O'Dowd stipulated 160 pounds ringside. Neither moved the beam at the weight. Wilson weighed 156 before entering the ring. Announcement was made the referee conditions for the middleweight title, and O'Dowd and his handler immediately after the fight acknowledged loss of the title.
