

Evening Public Ledger

PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY
CYRUS H. K. CURTIS, President
Charles H. Lindbergh, Vice President
Editorial Board:
DAVID E. SMILEY, Editor
JOHN C. MARTIN, General Business Manager
Published daily at Public Ledger Building, Independence Square, Philadelphia, Pa.

A FOUR-YEAR PROGRAM FOR PHILADELPHIA

Things on which the people expect the new administration to concentrate its attention:
The Delaware river bridge.
A drydock big enough to accommodate the largest ships.
Development of the rapid transit system.
An art museum.
A building for the free library.
An art museum.
Enlargement of the water supply.
Honors to commemorate the population.

MR. PENROSE'S ILLNESS

DURING the last week there has been cumulative evidence to indicate that Senator Penrose will be unable to attend the Chicago convention. The culminating report of yesterday, which appears to prove the senator's physicians and friends have decided that the journey would be unwise, may be denied, but it is none the less obviously true.

The absence of Mr. Penrose will leave a large gap in the party councils at Chicago. Without the man who was depended on to act as a presiding genius and final arbiter in successive emergencies, the convention may be expected to depart widely from prearranged programs. The outcome never seemed so uncertain as it seems now.

Even those who disagree with Mr. Penrose in matters of national and party policy recognize the force of his driving talent for organization and his ability to keep a cool head in any sort of storm. His leadership is not modern. But it is objective, forceful and without the hindrance of doubts or doubts. He would have been a steady force for the Old Guard at Chicago. And the suggestion that he will direct and advise lesser leaders from his sickroom here will mean little to trained party men, who know how swiftly affairs may move at a national convention and how easily great masses of delegates may be swept beyond control.

DRY-DOLLAR EDWARDS

THE Senate committee investigating pre-convention expenditures exposed a far greater interest in the kind of money spent than in the amount in the case of Governor Edwards, of New Jersey. Certain members of the committee seemed to find satisfaction in the Edwards money had not the same site element of dryness required in a presidential campaign.

HIDDEN SUGAR

THE speculators' craze at the low and the efforts of the administration to stem speculation in foodstuffs is again strikingly shown by the fact that one agent of the Department of Justice has located almost 1,000,000 pounds of sugar sequestered in the railroad yards of Chicago. One certain man had bought sugar which had been sold and resold ten times, all the while remaining in the yard.

ELKTON

TIME was when Elkton, which is in Maryland, was a refuge only for poor young lovers who fled from parental bonds to be married in a hurry. But nowadays the high-powered motors of the rich are wearing a smooth path to that place.

TRANSIT NOW SQUARE UP TO MAYOR MOORE

CONCLUSIONS of the Ten Responsible Citizens Commend Themselves to Unbiased Judgment
COMPLETION of the report of the transit commission puts the question of improved transit facilities in this city squarely up to Mayor Moore.

Miss Edith Gould, who sat ecstatically beside him in an automobile that could do everything but fly. They followed the example of some of the sons and daughters of the elite in this city who have been going to Elkton in order that they might live happily ever after.
Elkton used to be a quiet and idyllic spot. One of these days it may put up a tiny marriage chapel of marble and have persons working in eight-hour shifts advertise itself as a national institution. Even then something may be said upon its side. For the growing popularity of the community shows that there are some among us still unafraid of the high costs of living. And an elopes' paradise has one very definite meaning of its own. Most eloquent of all are the numerous protests against the terrible distress of the modern fashionable wedding.

THE DEADLY SPOTLIGHT

SENATOR H. JOHNSON, as the mercurial little Spotlight Man in the odd drama of the campaign preliminaries, has done more in a week than any other man in the city. He has been in the Senate at least half his time in the White House. His withering beam, directed with awful skill, will send more than one important candidate reeling for the permanent shelter of the wings.

THE WAY TO DOLLAR

THERE are three ways to Dollar, and a fourth which you think, dear reader, is the way is not a way at all. For Dollar has nothing to do with what you think it has to do. Now if you live in the Villa of Harvestoon, in the flower garden, through which dashes whenever it rains a delightful little brown speaking of the joys of the hills— if you live in the Villa of Harvestoon, even there, there comes a time when you feel that you must away from its blossoms and its cool green shadows, its miniature stretches of turf and the Portuguese laurel which spreads its dark variegated branches over the lower eaves at the back of the house. And you betook you of the way to Dollar; for from Harvestoon one always goes to Dollar, Stirling with its castle being far off the other way.

THE GOWNSMAN

THE first of the roads to Dollar goes to the left, passing in front of the house, hard, macadam, straight, well-graded and properly ditched, and it reaches the heart of the town with extraordinary speed. By this road go the big coaches which ply between Dollar and Stirling, passing Tillicooney by the way, which is busy and dirty. On this road is the kirk of the audit light and also a chapel of new darkness, as "a bitter speaking body" Dollar—once called—we shall not inquire what new sect. The heavily encumbered and awkward-looking car, whether they come out of Dollar or go thither. And any man, inquired of on this high road, will tell you that this is the best, the only way.

THE GOWNSMAN

But there are other ways to go to Dollar. Leaving Harvestoon through the arched gateway, you go to the road, you can go down through the meadow, to the bankside of the Devon river, which, flowing in dimensions little beyond what we should call a creek in your mind, will bring the traveler back to the main highway as quickly as possible. In many instances these detouring thoroughfares are state highways, but in the majority of cases they are merely township roads—such roads as were to be found everywhere in Pennsylvania not so very many years ago.

PATIENCE PART OF PRICE

WE PAY FOR GOOD ROADS
Two Hundred and Thirty Projects on Pennsylvania Pikes
Necessitate Exactly That Number of Detours

PART of the cost of the people of Pennsylvania are paying for durable roads, but it is the occasional inconvenience to which they are put when they travel the detours made necessary by new construction.
Contractors are now at work on approximately 230 projects in various portions of Pennsylvania. Each construction project necessitates a detour. These detours are of necessity over roads which will bring the traveler back to the main highway as quickly as possible. In many instances these detouring thoroughfares are state highways, but in the majority of cases they are merely township roads—such roads as were to be found everywhere in Pennsylvania not so very many years ago.

UPON PARTING

THE skylark's song delights the sky. Makes leaden clouds to smile. Its azure-tinted melody Embosses all worth while; And though 'twould love to scatter mirth, Or eternal roads sublime, Yet said that beauties such on earth Must course their end sometime.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

lines ready for operation when the new company has been organized.
Consequently it would seem to be the part of wisdom to agree at the earliest possible date on the construction of at least one of the proposed high-speed lines. The only one that has any need, then, is the one in North Broad street, but unless that can be shown it would be well to begin letting contracts for short sections of that line, so that work could proceed on it continuously during the preliminary arrangements for the re-organization of the whole system. As projects of construction come when succeeding sections would cost less than the last, and as the work proceeded there would be time for making arrangements for the transfer of funds from those set apart for other lines so that it could be completed as far as originally proposed. The transfer of funds would be necessary, for all expenses of construction have increased since the preliminary estimates were made.

Unless some such course as this is adopted relief will be pushed indefinitely into the future, while such a course would put the city in shape to reap some benefits from transit reorganization than any other plan in sight. It would mean simply carrying two projects ahead at the same time and adjusting them in such a way that they would be consummated together.
In the meantime this city should be grateful to the public-spirited citizens who have courageously handled a difficult and complicated problem.

THE light burned cruelly on General W. yesterday and revealed some ugly cracks in the armor of that dignified warrior. These are days in which a man who receives half a million dollars in a single campaign contribution will properly be regarded with suspicion if not with actual dislike. Even very rich men do not give gobs of money for nothing. What interest Mr. Proctor in this instance? Campaign money is usually bread upon the waters. In what form were Mr. Proctor's leaves to return? Battered and spread with jam?

HOWEVER, the third way to Dollar is the way of ways. To go by this way you start out of Harvestoon through the rear, and skirt the valley which is the hem of the mantle of the Ochilts, where the hills begin to straighten out before becoming valley, where delicacy of mind and delicate curves and angles, of wooded copes and little glades, of bits of sunlight and shades obscure. And here the birds sing, the twitterers and the high notes, the skylark rises upward musical spirit till he fades, both bird and song, into fleecy white clouds. This way to Dollar is full of beauty, and if you do not watch carefully you will find yourself neglecting the turn to the right which takes you down through the meadow, where the water falls in fairy music and the trout jump on their way upstream; you may not find yourself until you are half way up the hill, where the pines, knee deep in beauty, when the sun shines this upland is lovely. When the mists drift it is lovelier, for then there is even the expectation of a rainbow, inspiration, adventure, things are possible and joy that we are alone certain.

MR. MORGAN'S HOUSE

THE offer by J. Pierpont Morgan of this London house as the American embassy building will be received with mixed emotions by the American people. It is true that the American embassies would present better fronts to the world if they were housed in buildings like the Morgan London home, but it is equally true that the richest nation on earth should provide its own foreign representatives with residences and official offices second to those of no other nation. The construction of the government of the United States with regard to its treatment of the subject of the subject of adverse comment, both at home and abroad. The salaries are so inadequate to the demands for expenditure that only a rich man can afford to accept one of the higher ambassadorships. This suitably and the maintenance of the embassy is correspondingly high.

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

lines ready for operation when the new company has been organized.
Consequently it would seem to be the part of wisdom to agree at the earliest possible date on the construction of at least one of the proposed high-speed lines. The only one that has any need, then, is the one in North Broad street, but unless that can be shown it would be well to begin letting contracts for short sections of that line, so that work could proceed on it continuously during the preliminary arrangements for the re-organization of the whole system. As projects of construction come when succeeding sections would cost less than the last, and as the work proceeded there would be time for making arrangements for the transfer of funds from those set apart for other lines so that it could be completed as far as originally proposed. The transfer of funds would be necessary, for all expenses of construction have increased since the preliminary estimates were made.

Unless some such course as this is adopted relief will be pushed indefinitely into the future, while such a course would put the city in shape to reap some benefits from transit reorganization than any other plan in sight. It would mean simply carrying two projects ahead at the same time and adjusting them in such a way that they would be consummated together.
In the meantime this city should be grateful to the public-spirited citizens who have courageously handled a difficult and complicated problem.

HOWEVER, the third way to Dollar is the way of ways. To go by this way you start out of Harvestoon through the rear, and skirt the valley which is the hem of the mantle of the Ochilts, where the hills begin to straighten out before becoming valley, where delicacy of mind and delicate curves and angles, of wooded copes and little glades, of bits of sunlight and shades obscure. And here the birds sing, the twitterers and the high notes, the skylark rises upward musical spirit till he fades, both bird and song, into fleecy white clouds. This way to Dollar is full of beauty, and if you do not watch carefully you will find yourself neglecting the turn to the right which takes you down through the meadow, where the water falls in fairy music and the trout jump on their way upstream; you may not find yourself until you are half way up the hill, where the pines, knee deep in beauty, when the sun shines this upland is lovely. When the mists drift it is lovelier, for then there is even the expectation of a rainbow, inspiration, adventure, things are possible and joy that we are alone certain.

THE ordinary township road is not capable of carrying modern traffic. It is usually an earth road. The passage of motorcars of great weight quickly cuts the thoroughfare to pieces. After even a light rain the roadway is deeply rutted. The continual passing of trucks in these ruts creates a condition which is a nuisance to the drivers of all cars. They complain that the state Highway Department does not maintain these detour roads as they should be maintained.

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

lines ready for operation when the new company has been organized.
Consequently it would seem to be the part of wisdom to agree at the earliest possible date on the construction of at least one of the proposed high-speed lines. The only one that has any need, then, is the one in North Broad street, but unless that can be shown it would be well to begin letting contracts for short sections of that line, so that work could proceed on it continuously during the preliminary arrangements for the re-organization of the whole system. As projects of construction come when succeeding sections would cost less than the last, and as the work proceeded there would be time for making arrangements for the transfer of funds from those set apart for other lines so that it could be completed as far as originally proposed. The transfer of funds would be necessary, for all expenses of construction have increased since the preliminary estimates were made.

Unless some such course as this is adopted relief will be pushed indefinitely into the future, while such a course would put the city in shape to reap some benefits from transit reorganization than any other plan in sight. It would mean simply carrying two projects ahead at the same time and adjusting them in such a way that they would be consummated together.
In the meantime this city should be grateful to the public-spirited citizens who have courageously handled a difficult and complicated problem.

HOWEVER, the third way to Dollar is the way of ways. To go by this way you start out of Harvestoon through the rear, and skirt the valley which is the hem of the mantle of the Ochilts, where the hills begin to straighten out before becoming valley, where delicacy of mind and delicate curves and angles, of wooded copes and little glades, of bits of sunlight and shades obscure. And here the birds sing, the twitterers and the high notes, the skylark rises upward musical spirit till he fades, both bird and song, into fleecy white clouds. This way to Dollar is full of beauty, and if you do not watch carefully you will find yourself neglecting the turn to the right which takes you down through the meadow, where the water falls in fairy music and the trout jump on their way upstream; you may not find yourself until you are half way up the hill, where the pines, knee deep in beauty, when the sun shines this upland is lovely. When the mists drift it is lovelier, for then there is even the expectation of a rainbow, inspiration, adventure, things are possible and joy that we are alone certain.

THE ordinary township road is not capable of carrying modern traffic. It is usually an earth road. The passage of motorcars of great weight quickly cuts the thoroughfare to pieces. After even a light rain the roadway is deeply rutted. The continual passing of trucks in these ruts creates a condition which is a nuisance to the drivers of all cars. They complain that the state Highway Department does not maintain these detour roads as they should be maintained.

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

lines ready for operation when the new company has been organized.
Consequently it would seem to be the part of wisdom to agree at the earliest possible date on the construction of at least one of the proposed high-speed lines. The only one that has any need, then, is the one in North Broad street, but unless that can be shown it would be well to begin letting contracts for short sections of that line, so that work could proceed on it continuously during the preliminary arrangements for the re-organization of the whole system. As projects of construction come when succeeding sections would cost less than the last, and as the work proceeded there would be time for making arrangements for the transfer of funds from those set apart for other lines so that it could be completed as far as originally proposed. The transfer of funds would be necessary, for all expenses of construction have increased since the preliminary estimates were made.

Unless some such course as this is adopted relief will be pushed indefinitely into the future, while such a course would put the city in shape to reap some benefits from transit reorganization than any other plan in sight. It would mean simply carrying two projects ahead at the same time and adjusting them in such a way that they would be consummated together.
In the meantime this city should be grateful to the public-spirited citizens who have courageously handled a difficult and complicated problem.

HOWEVER, the third way to Dollar is the way of ways. To go by this way you start out of Harvestoon through the rear, and skirt the valley which is the hem of the mantle of the Ochilts, where the hills begin to straighten out before becoming valley, where delicacy of mind and delicate curves and angles, of wooded copes and little glades, of bits of sunlight and shades obscure. And here the birds sing, the twitterers and the high notes, the skylark rises upward musical spirit till he fades, both bird and song, into fleecy white clouds. This way to Dollar is full of beauty, and if you do not watch carefully you will find yourself neglecting the turn to the right which takes you down through the meadow, where the water falls in fairy music and the trout jump on their way upstream; you may not find yourself until you are half way up the hill, where the pines, knee deep in beauty, when the sun shines this upland is lovely. When the mists drift it is lovelier, for then there is even the expectation of a rainbow, inspiration, adventure, things are possible and joy that we are alone certain.

THE ordinary township road is not capable of carrying modern traffic. It is usually an earth road. The passage of motorcars of great weight quickly cuts the thoroughfare to pieces. After even a light rain the roadway is deeply rutted. The continual passing of trucks in these ruts creates a condition which is a nuisance to the drivers of all cars. They complain that the state Highway Department does not maintain these detour roads as they should be maintained.

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

lines ready for operation when the new company has been organized.
Consequently it would seem to be the part of wisdom to agree at the earliest possible date on the construction of at least one of the proposed high-speed lines. The only one that has any need, then, is the one in North Broad street, but unless that can be shown it would be well to begin letting contracts for short sections of that line, so that work could proceed on it continuously during the preliminary arrangements for the re-organization of the whole system. As projects of construction come when succeeding sections would cost less than the last, and as the work proceeded there would be time for making arrangements for the transfer of funds from those set apart for other lines so that it could be completed as far as originally proposed. The transfer of funds would be necessary, for all expenses of construction have increased since the preliminary estimates were made.

Unless some such course as this is adopted relief will be pushed indefinitely into the future, while such a course would put the city in shape to reap some benefits from transit reorganization than any other plan in sight. It would mean simply carrying two projects ahead at the same time and adjusting them in such a way that they would be consummated together.
In the meantime this city should be grateful to the public-spirited citizens who have courageously handled a difficult and complicated problem.

HOWEVER, the third way to Dollar is the way of ways. To go by this way you start out of Harvestoon through the rear, and skirt the valley which is the hem of the mantle of the Ochilts, where the hills begin to straighten out before becoming valley, where delicacy of mind and delicate curves and angles, of wooded copes and little glades, of bits of sunlight and shades obscure. And here the birds sing, the twitterers and the high notes, the skylark rises upward musical spirit till he fades, both bird and song, into fleecy white clouds. This way to Dollar is full of beauty, and if you do not watch carefully you will find yourself neglecting the turn to the right which takes you down through the meadow, where the water falls in fairy music and the trout jump on their way upstream; you may not find yourself until you are half way up the hill, where the pines, knee deep in beauty, when the sun shines this upland is lovely. When the mists drift it is lovelier, for then there is even the expectation of a rainbow, inspiration, adventure, things are possible and joy that we are alone certain.

THE ordinary township road is not capable of carrying modern traffic. It is usually an earth road. The passage of motorcars of great weight quickly cuts the thoroughfare to pieces. After even a light rain the roadway is deeply rutted. The continual passing of trucks in these ruts creates a condition which is a nuisance to the drivers of all cars. They complain that the state Highway Department does not maintain these detour roads as they should be maintained.

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

UPON PARTING

THE rivulet's thirst-quickening flow Delights some water the strains That, kissed and graded by stellar glow, Fill zephyr-twinkled lanes; And though 'twould love to be so For ages on and on, Yet this delight must sometimes go Among the joys bygone.

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY

THE JANE P. C. MILLER CONSERVATORY
1228 CHESTNUT ST.
WALNUT 127
PRIVATE LESSONS DAILY
DANCING MODERN METHOD AND STAGE

Why Change Your Wife?
P. A. L. A. C. F.
1214 MARKET STREET
THE $100,000 PHOTOPLAY SPECTACLE
"Virgin of Stamboul"

A. R. C. A. D. I. A.
CHESTNUT BELOW 10TH
10 A. M., 12, 2, 5:45, 8:45, 9:30 P. M.
Mary Miles Minter
Next Wk.—"MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM"

VICTORIA
MARKET STREET ABOVE 9TH
CLEMENCIA, A FIRST PHOTOGRAM
"THE STRONGEST"
Address: CHARLES CHAPMAN in "Parade"
St. Wk.—"THE BARKER"

CAPITOL
724 MARKET STREET
10 A. M., 12, 2, 5:45, 8:45, 9:30 P. M.
"The Sagebrush"
RECENT
MARKET ST. BELOW 17TH
9:45, 11:15, 11:30 P. M.
"THE MODERN SALOME"

CHARLOTTE GREENWOOD
In the new musical comedy
"LINGER LONGER LETTY"
COMING JUNE 14th
"THE EYES OF THE WORLD"
By HAROLD BELL WRIGHT

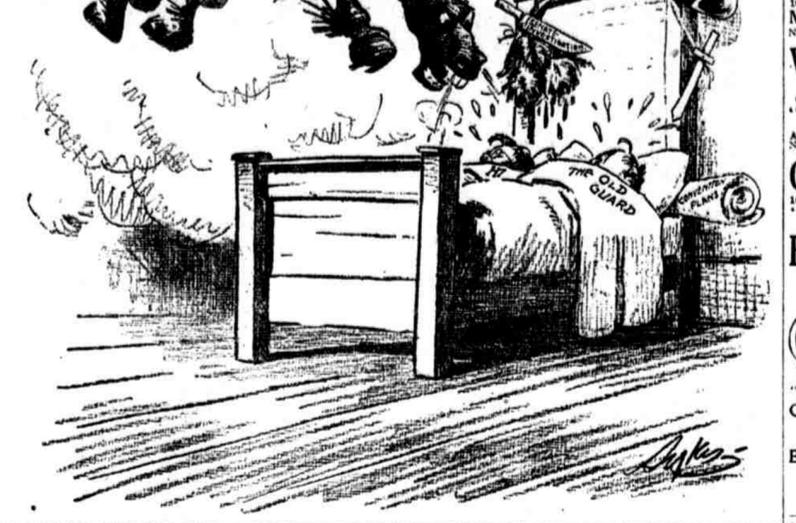

GRACE GEORGE
in "THE RUINED LADY"
"MAKES YOU ROAR WITH LAUGHTER."—RECORD
LYRIC EVG. AT 8:15
MAT. SAT. 7:15
OLIVER MOROSCO Presents
WILLIAM COURTENAY
IN CIVILIAN CLOTHES
"A Scintillating Success."—Press

GARRICK
Four Shows Daily
1:30, 3:30, 7 & 9 P. M.
MAE MURRAY and DAVID POWELL in
"ON WITH IT" DANCE
A Paramount-Attraction Picture from the Play of the Same Name
Advised Attraction "THE FATHER GOVERN"
Mats., 2:30, 5:00, 7:30, 9:00, 10:00

WILLOW GROVE PARK
FRANKO and ORCHESTRA
Soloists: EDGAR COPPFIELD, Harpist;
PIETRO CAPODIFERRO, Trumpet
Platter Diners Served at the Casino Club
METROPOLITAN Opera House
1100 BATHING PLACE, WATER FRONT

KEITH'S
JULIUS TANNEN
SPEAKING THE PUBLIC MIND
Frances Pritchard & Co.
NEW DANCE PRODUCTION
Grace Huff & Co.; Dorothy Brunner; Dugga & Raymond; Donovan & Lee; Ocker

4 DANCING LESSONS $5
A Teacher for Each Pupil
CORTISIO SCHOOL
1520 Chestnut Locust 3129
OPEN ALL SUMMER
ORPHEUM MAT. TODAY, 2:30, 5:00 & 10:00
CLOSING WEEK OF SEASON
Mac Desmond and "The Brain"
JACQUETTES and EMILY WELCH
Mats. Mon., Wed., Sat. 8:00, 9:00 & 10:00
Joining the Elks
TROCADERO
Glee Club, Glee Club

PATIENCE PART OF PRICE
WE PAY FOR GOOD ROADS
Two Hundred and Thirty Projects on Pennsylvania Pikes
Necessitate Exactly That Number of Detours

What Do You Know?
QUIZ
1. Is there anything in the constitution that forbids the President to leave the United States?
2. What is a mitter?
3. Who was Max Adler?
4. What is an eclogue?
5. What are synonyms?
6. What is a steylhard?
7. What is a holocaust?
8. Where did the phrase "Praise from Sir Hubert" originate?
9. What notable woman is known as the Lady of the Lamp?
10. What does "Mesopotamia" mean?

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz
1. The first "dark horse" was elected to the presidency by James K. Polk.
2. The Bog of Allen is Ireland's greatest bog, with an area of 240,000 acres.
3. "Yea and ben," Scotch and English dialects, are the outer and inner rooms of a dwelling with but one entrance.
4. A shank is a piece or fragment of a brittle substance, as of an earthen vessel.
5. The United States has no national holiday, though one or two are almost nationally observed.
6. Julia Grant, granddaughter of former President U. S. Grant, is now the Princess Cantacuzene-Speransky, of Russia.
7. An estimate made last year puts the number of foreign-born in the United States at 1,068,000.
8. Joseph Dennie, 1768-1812, was known as the Addison of America.
9. British Liberals who succeeded from their part in 1868 to the introduction of a franchise bill were dubbed Adullamites by John Bright, the Liberal leader. Adullam was a contented people mentioned in I