WILSON URGES WARD AT ONCE ON R. R. WAGES

Message to Rail Labor Board Follows Visit of Brotherhood Official to White House

TEXT OF COMMUNICATION HAS NOT BEEN MADE PUBLIC

Trainmen's Unions May With- draw Opposition to Strike, Is Washington Report

HINT PAYNE GIVEN WARNING

P. R. R. Hiring Men Perma- nently—Freight Moving—Men Deny Claims of Lines

President Wilson sent a message to the Railroad Labor Board at Chicago, today, urging that it make an immediate award in the wage controversy, says an Associated Press dispatch from Washington. The text of the message was not made public at the White House.

Announcement of the President's action was made after W. N. Doak, vice president of the Trainmen's Brotherhood, had called at the White House and conferred with Secretary Tamm.

Mr. Doak declined to discuss his conference with Secretary Tamm, but said he would have a statement later in the day.

Information prepared for submission to Secretary Payne today indicated that unless assurances were given immediately to railway workers that the wage adjustment might be expected soon, an unauthorized strike at Philadelphia, Baltimore and many other points might not be opposed further by the brotherhoods.

Doak Going to Chicago

Mr. Doak, who is director of the railroad administration. He also plans to leave this week for Chicago, where the railroad labor board is meeting.

Reports to labor headquarters in Washington today indicated no improve- ment in the situation and pointed to in- creased unrest among the men. Labor leaders said that since the beginning of the unauthorized strike 30,000 men had been dismissed from the unions, but that the feeling was growing that to continue disciplining the men was impracticable.

P. R. R. Hiring Men Permanently

The Pennsylvania Railroad announced this afternoon in the second statement issued during the day that it had begun to hire men on a permanent basis to take the places of the strikers.

Freight Moving

Freight trains were running on the Pennsylvania Railroad today, although the men were notified that unless they returned by midnight of last night they would be discharged from their positions.

Men are being employed," said the statement, "in considerable num- bers, to take the places permanently of men who have left the service, and it is noted that the number of men employed in this way is increasing more men are seeking positions vacated and the general character of the ap- plicants is satisfactory.

Better organization of volunteers and more complete breaking in of new men has resulted in considerable im- provement in freight traffic on the Schuylkill division today. All efforts are being concentrated on moving freight into Philadelphia, and as a consequence 150 carloads of freight were en route to this city at noon, consisting for the most part of anthracite coal.

8 of 14 Yards Operating 100 Per Cent

The statement shows that eight of the P. R. R. yards are operating at 100 per cent capacity at noon today. The Baltimore yards are working on an 85 per cent basis. Deliveries at Baltimore yards were good, according to the statement, and this same standard is being maintained today. More than an ordinary day's work was done up to midnight last night, according to the statement, at the market house. Thirty-three cars of perishable freight had been brought in for unloading.

Some of the produce received yesterday was to be unloaded today, the statement said, at outlying points. Thirty cars of live stock were delivered yesterday at the Philadelphia Stock Yards, and a total of twenty-five carloads of stock are on the way to this city today. At Greenwich yard yesterday, 17 carloads of coal were put aboard ship, and fifty-six cars of export freight were unloaded.

"Owing to the steredores' strike," the statement said, "the grain traffic at the Grand Point Elevator was light, a total of thirty cars being loaded and un- loaded."

Volunteer Crews Replace Strikers

Volunteer crews are still taking the place of strikers on all three railroads, according to officials of the lines.

Strike apparently is marking three stages. Both sides report losses in the last twenty-four hours.

Pennsylvania Railroad in its earlier statement admitted that there "are no on strike. With the aid of vol- unteers, however, freight has been kept moving."

The Philadelphia and Reading Rail- way, less detailed and explicit in its statements concerning the strike,

Schuylkill District Coal Mines Face Total Shutdown

Pottsville, June 23.—The Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. at noon today announced that a complete suspension of the mines of the Schuylkill district was imminent, and that a number of collieries had already suspended because of the lack of cars. The officials stated that the supply of cars was fast dwindling and that although some of the collieries had enough cars to last the day out the outlook for Thursday pointed to a complete suspension of work. Unless emergency measures provide cars this afternoon, it is anticipated that the 50,000 miners in Schuylkill and Northumberland counties will be obliged to quit work.

EXCURSION TRAIN IN CRASH AT SHORE

Passengers Shaken Up as En- gine Jumps Switch—Truck Drivers Hurt

Five hundred Philadelphians bound for Atlantic City for a day's outing were given a scare this morning when a Reading excursion train from Kaighn's Point, Camden, ran into an open switch on the outskirts of the resort.

The engine crashed into a delivery motor of the Standard Oil Co. and the train, which had a full complement of Atlantic City, were injured. Passengers in the first car of the excursion train were badly shaken up, but no one was hurt.

The two men in Atlantic City Hospital are:

Harold S. Reitzel, thirty-eight years old, 322 French street, oil truck driver; lacerations of scalp, head injured and shock.

W. F. Peterson, fifty-six years old, 110 North Morris avenue; lacerations of the neck and shock.

The accident occurred at Mississippi and Fairmount avenues as the train was turning a curve into the branch line running down Mississippi avenue to the Boardwalk.

The engineer discovered an open switch running into a feed warehouse siding and the oil truck on the track at the same time. He applied his brakes, but it was too late. The locomotive struck the truck with sufficient force to hurl Reitzel and Peterson twenty feet and drive the heavy truck across the street and against the side of the warehouse.

1,900,000 IN PHILADELPHIA

City Retains Third Position in U. S. According to Unofficial Count

Philadelphia has a population of 1,900,000 and holds its place as the third city in population in the United States, according to unofficial figures of the last decennial census. The official figure will be announced at 9 o'clock tonight.

There is even a possibility that the counting of noses here made by Uncle Sam may run the total to 2,000,000 in round figures. That total is discounted, however, by the estimate. Although not complete, 1,900,000 is regarded as approximately correct.

Completion of the count for this city virtually ends the calculation for the first in the nation, although the figures of a third of the population figures of the entire country have been tabulated.

FINDS NO COAL GOUGING

Dealers Have Refrained From Profiteering, State Association Is Told

Reading, Pa., June 23.—(By A. P.)—A local investigation was done yesterday by a coal merchant from entering the profiteer class. Every dealer should secure a reasonable profit based on the cost of doing business under present conditions, but excessive profits or unfair methods will surely harm the whole industry by encouraging government interference.

This was the substance of the annual report of Secretary Wellington M. Bertolet, submitted to the State Retail Coal Dealers' Association here today. The coal dealers will be in session today.

Bomb Stored 3 Years in Locker Explodes

Pittsburgh, June 23.—(By A. P.)—Explosion of a bomb taken by the police in connection with the robbery of the Castle Shannon Bank three years ago, in an ammunition locker at the courthouse today, did $500 damage and almost caused the death of Charles Kohler and Howard Coulson, county detectives.

The men were asleep in their rooms nearby when they were awakened by the explosion. Leaving from their beds, they ran into the corridor and were met with a shower of bullets, set off by the bomb, and dense clouds of smoke. One bullet struck Kohler in the hand. Both were overcome by the fumes, and were finally rescued by firemen.

GIBBONEY SCORES ATTACK ON ANSELL AS HE FACES JURY

'More of Col. Cresson's Mexican Tactics,' Bergdoll Lawyer Says Before Quiz by Probers

McAVOY ADMITS CHARGE AGAINST ARMY OFFICER

Military Prosecutor Accused of Conversing With Jurors Be- fore Court Opened

D. Clarence Gibboney, the Bergdoll family lawyer, voluntarily appeared today before the federal grand jury investigating the escape of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll from the military authorities on May 21 while on the way to the Maryland hills to unearth the "pot of gold."

Gibboney was the first witness appearing before the investigating body when it resumed its sessions at 10 o'clock this morning. He was still closeted with the jury an hour later.

Before entering the jury room Gibboney took occasion to comment on the statement attacking Samuel P. Ansell, made Monday by Assistant Colonel Charles C. Cresson, who was in charge of Bergdoll's trial at Governors Island.

Raps Cresson Attack

"This statement made Monday by Colonel Cresson while in this city testifying before the grand jury is in keeping with the Mexican tactics," said Gibboney. "The attack on Mr. Ansell was unwarranted."

Ansell, who is a member of the law firm of Ansell & Bailey, of Washington, D. C., was arrested in Philadelphia on behalf, asking for a new trial, was severely attacked by Colonel Cresson for his part in defending the draft dodger.

All it goes to show how this trial on Governor's Island was conducted," Gibboney continued. "For instance, Mr. Romig who was a witness there, was severely attacked by Colonel Cresson in order to force from him supposed information he, as adviser of Grover, had in connection with Grover's escape.

"I fully understand my status before the grand jury and have nothing to say," Gibboney said upon leaving the jury room.

Talked to Jurors, Report Says

United States District Attorney McAvoy was asked this morning whether he had heard of reports that Colonel Cresson had improperly attempted to bribe the grand jurors just before they began their morning session yesterday.

It was rumored Colonel Cresson talked to the jurors about the Bergdoll case, and that he had offered them $5000, said Mr. McAvoy. "I don't know what action will be taken."

It was intimated that Colonel Cresson had been in the jury room probably was innocent, and that he might have believed that since he had been a witness Monday he was doing no wrong in conversing with the jurors. "Cresson left for New York immediately after he had talked to the jurors."

Englishwoman Who Jilted Canadian Officer Sent Back Home

New York, June 23.—(By A. P.)—Executive Justice Charles E. Hughes, by his mind today resulted in Miss Nell Butler being ordered back to England husbandless after she had crossed the Atlantic to wed.

She had sailed for Halifax to marry a Canadian army officer she had met during the war, but a three-day courtship of Captain Paul Miller, of the British army, a fellow passenger, resulted in her switching her choice of husbands before reaching port.

She must marry the Canadian who had paid her passage or she must sail on a ship that would not stop at Halifax. She sailed on the latter.

BALTIMORE FIRE-SWEEP

$1,500,000 Loss Incurred at Two Big Blazes

Baltimore, June 23.—(By A. P.)—Starting within several hundred feet of where the great fire of 1904, which wiped out Baltimore's business district started, flames erupted this morning, spreading over the seven-story building at 37 Hopkins Place, and quickly spread to four other structures.

The damage, according to insurance men, was estimated at $1,500,000 for twelve hours. The first blaze began in the second-story Darby Building, which housed the wholesale house of Blumberg Bros.

3D DAY CAR BANDIT THOUGHT ARRESTED AT RIVERTON, N. J.

Foreigner, Wearing Baseball Uniform, Captured After All-Night Search

TWO OF ROBBERS WOUNDED AFTER SHOOTING POLICEMAN

Men Seized $4000 in Cash and Fled With Motor- cycle

A man believed to be the third member of the band of three bandits who held up a Public Service Corporation paycar in Burlington, N. J., yesterday, got $4000, snatched the chauffeur and shot a patrolman, has been caught.

The capture was made in Riverton, N. J., after an armed posse had rounded up the other two men, wounding both, one probably fatally, and searched all night for the third robber.

The man was dressed in a baseball uniform. The chauffeur, Edward L. DeVore, saw the suspect pass through that town this morning, and notified the Riverton authorities in time to have him caught there.

He could give no satisfactory account of why he should be roaming around in a baseball uniform at 7:30 o'clock in the morning, the time Mayor Lee saw him. His answers were vague and suspicious.

Last Seen Near Clubhouse

The uniform worn by the suspect is said to be one stolen from the clubhouse of the Roebeling baseball team. The last skirmish the posse had with the missing robber was near the clubhouse.

The man was taken and taken to the Riverton authorities in time to have him caught there.

He will be taken to the jail and hospital at Mount Holly and confronted there with the driver and guard of the paycar for identification.

The bandits, operating with a motorcycle and sidecar attachment, held up a paycar in Burlington, N. J., yesterday, and fled with $4000 in cash and a motorcycle.

William McCormick, the oldest patrolman in Burlington, who was in the back when he came upon the bandits dividing their loot in the woods after they made a wild dash through Burlington, N. J., yesterday, was in a serious condition in the Jefferson Hospital.

An unidentified Italian, about twenty-five years old, is held in the Burlington Jail at Mt. Holly. He has a load of buckshot in his body, but his injuries are not serious. About $800 of the stolen money was recovered from him and $400 was found in the pay bag which he had hidden.

Fights With Posse

The Italian caught at Riverton is thought to have hidden the missing $2200. Several times during the night he fought with the posse, and he changed shots, but he always escaped in the darkness.

ARCHITECT ENDS HIS LIFE

John Jardine, Formerly Associated With Carnegie, a Suicide

Morrisstown, N. J., June 23.—(By A. P.)—John Jardine, an architect, who had been in the city for some time, committed suicide here this afternoon at the Overlook Farms, where he was boarding. Jardine is said to have shot himself, although at the "Farms" no information concerning the suicide could be obtained. The county sheriff's office was notified and County Detective Edward Brennan was detailed to investigate.

Jardine was vice president of the St. Andrew's Society at the time Andrew Carnegie was president, and was employed by Mr. Carnegie in planning several of the Carnegie libraries. He is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Dudley Cook, of this city, and a son living in California. Mr. Jardine was seventy-five years old and had been a resident of Morrisstown for many years.

WOMEN WARN DEMOCRATS AGAINST FAIR NOMINEE

'Would Kill Party Chances in Election,' Says Mrs. Mortimer Brown—'No Vote Magnet' Declares Mrs. Klinge-Smith

"What woman is fit for the Vice Presidency?" questions Mrs. Mortimer Brown, president of the Women's Democratic Club, of this city, who very frankly hopes that the Democratic convention will not make the mistake of nominating a woman for the office.

"Not the one who would kill their chances of election if they were to nominate a woman, now or ever," she said. "Never! I'd go as far as to say that never will a woman be fit. A woman's sphere is a big and great sphere, but it does not include political office."

"I hope the convention will leave the whole subject of suffrage alone. It's a hoodoo."

Mrs. Margaret Klinge-Smith, of the political committee of the Democratic Club, believes that it is very improbable that the convention will nominate a woman for the vice presidency.

Depends on Convention

"It, of course, depends on what forces control the convention," says Mrs. Klinge-Smith. "And I doubt very much whether a nomination of that sort would get a man or a woman of her or she is affiliated. A strong moral and perhaps an economic issue would draw more than interested in the idea."

"It's really a great problem," says Mrs. Barclay H. Warburton, chairman of the Women's Pennsylvania Republican state committee. "But I should want to know the specific candidate before I approved or disapproved the idea."

In the political duties they have done already undertaken they have done well. There is no doubt that the nomination of a woman for the vice presidency would be a compliment and I think that it would get votes."

"There is always the serious problem of choosing a woman who could not only be a successful Vice President, but also one who would be able to fill the office of the President if necessary."

PHILA. ROTARIANS HAVE OWN PARADE

Quaker City Day Marked by Big Showing on Atlantic City's Great Board Way

HALT ANNIVERSARY PLAN

Special Dispatch to Evening Public Ledger
Atlantic City, June 23.—Quaker City Rotarians, the blue and gold boys of the glad hand, featured Philadelphia Day at the eleventh annual convention of the International Association of Rotary Clubs by holding a parade of their own on the Boardwalk this afternoon.

With two bands to keep them stepping, the brethren from the City of Penn made a gallant showing as they marched from the Steel Pier to the Million Dollar Pier and back again, making a clear sweep of the wooden subway and getting plaudits from Rotarians from every clime.

President Adams marshaled the Quaker line-up and headed the line with George Nitsche and Dr. August Koehn as assistant marshals. C. Edwin Bartlett, president, was identified at the head of the line and given special attention by the western brethren as the leader of the boys who did so much to make a new name for Philadelphia Rotarily while they were passing through on their way to the shore.

Join in General Parade

The Philadelphia Rotarians finished their "own" parade just in time to take part in the first division of the general parade which was held on the Boardwalk through Atlantic avenue, late in the afternoon.

The special committee on resolutions this morning failed to report favorably on the proposal to have the Philadelphia club. It proposed that International Rotary shall take an active part in the proposed international expedition to commemorate in 1928 the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of Philadelphia.

The committee explained that the project had not yet received the official sanction of the Executive Committee of the Government or that of Philadelphia, and that premature action by outside interests several times has done more harm than good to worthy projects.

Action was deferred also upon a resolution proposing to make Armistice day, November 11, an international thanksgiving day.

"Boy insurance" and "loyalty" were topics engaging the interest of the day of 4000 delegates to the convention.

Captain Makes Address

"Americans All," was the keynote of a stirring address on "A Rotarian's Loyalty to His Government," delivered this morning by Rotarian Captain Clarence Mackinnon, principal of the Fairview Presbyterian College and an ex-ambassador of the Canadian Expeditionary Forces.

Virtually the whole of the afternoon was given over to consideration of boy problems, following reports of the committee on boys' work by John Dolph, of Washington, whose work in that connection has attracted international attention. Taylor Statten, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. of Canada, brought a message from the Dominion in this regard. "The Challenge of the Boy."

Other speakers were John J. Thayer, of Blackwell, Okla., on "Helping Our Boys to Get a Better Education"; Roger S. Huntington, of Greenville, S. C., "Building a Practical Program"; C. J. Atkinson, New York, "Making Graphic the Conditions Affecting Boy Life"; H. A. Lane, of Oklahoma City, on "Making of the Survey"; and R. C. Sidenius, Charlotte, N. C., "What Our Boy Life Survey Revealed."

Would Amend Constitution

Proposed amendments of the constitution of the international body to be acted upon today provide for a more definite recognition of the world-wide scope of rotary activities and administration, limiting the term of honorary membership, revising the method of receiving invitations for the convention.

SPROUL NAMES TRUSTEES

Philadelphians Appointed on State Hospital Board

Harrisburg, June 23.—(By A. P.)—Governor Sproul today announced the appointment of these trustees of the State Hospital for the Chronic Insane at Wernersville: S. P. Light, Jacob M. Shenk, Lebanon; Walter T. Bradley, J. Warner Hutchins, Philadelphia; Oscar E. Fox, Reading, and Howard S. Williams, Philadelphia.

John D. Harris, of Huntingdon, was reappointed a manager of the State Industrial Reformatory at Huntingdon, and Mary S. Garrett, of Philadelphia, was reappointed trustee of the State Hospital for the Criminal Insane at Fairview, and Charles R. Galbraith, of Franklin, of the State Hospital for the Insane at Warren.

"I am not so sure of how many votes would be influenced by such a nomination. I don't think that women have as much sex loyalty as men have. Some might be influenced, however, both ways."

TILDEN IS WINNER IN BRITISH TENNIS

Philadelphia Star Defeats S. Franklin, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0, in English Title Tourney

SCORES AN EASY VICTORY

Wimbledon, England, June 23.—William T. Tilden, of Philadelphia, scored an easy victory over S. Franklin, a Surrey county player of about scratch level in today's play of the British tennis championship tournament here. Score, 6-1, 6-1, 6-0. The match was contested on the center court.

When the match began at 2 o'clock the stands were well filled and there was a general feeling of tense expectancy. The match did not provide the anticipated fight, however. Tilden in the quickest fashion annexing the first set and then taking the third set 6-0.

Tilden mixed liffed drives with cut strokes and volleyed finely. All the spectators remarked on the all-around superb game played by the American.

The result was most surprising since Tilden in the London championship tournament last week made the Japanese appear as a poor second-class player. Shimizu won 6-4, 10-8, 4-2, 6-4. Gobert led 3-2 in the final set, but was unable to produce his true game and the Japanese, who was the sturdiest, took the set and the match.

Another surprise was caused by the result of the two next matches. G. J. Schuurler, of Holland, beat Nicholas Mishu, of Rumania, 7-5, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3. The winner, who is considered Holland's third best player, showed great improvement on his Wimbledon form of last year. A Drew, a Lancashire county player, beat Max Deucings, one of France's best tennis stars, 6-4, 9-7, 6-8, 6-2.

Jewels of Gaby Deslys to Be Sold for Charity

Paris, June 23.—(By A. P.)—The jewels of Gaby Deslys, the famous French dancer and actress, who died February 11, last, were placed on exhibition here today, preliminary to their sale on June 28 for the benefit of the pube of the city of Marseilles as provided in Madeleine Deslys' will.

According to commissioners, the collection comprises the finest assortment of pearls ever seen in Paris. Although diamonds, rubies, sapphires, emeralds and other precious stones are adequately represented they are not quite so conspicuous, the dancer's hobby being pearls.

One necklace contains fifty-seven pearls valued at several million francs, and there are two pendant pearls weighing 100 grammes each, being absolutely the same in size and weight. Another, a black in color, weighs 140 grammes, while there are seven other pearls weighing from 70 to 100 grammes each. All the pearls were selected and matched with exquisite taste.

St. Paul, Minn., June 23.—In the Seventh congressional district, A. J. Volstead, Republican, author of the prohibition enforcement act, was defeated at Monday's primaries, virtually complete unofficial returns indicated, by the Rev. O. J. Kvale, of Benson, minister of the Nonpartisan League. Doctor Kvale, friends said, has been an advocate of prohibition for more than twenty years.

With 550 precincts of 3195 in the state missing, J. A. O. Proulx, state auditor, today continued to lead Doctor Henrik Shipstead, endorsed by the Nonpartisan League, for the Republican gubernatorial nomination as belated returns of R. W. Fargadine by more than 1000 votes with two-thirds of the precincts heard from.
