

SAW MAN DRAGGING WOMAN FROM TAXI

Policeman Arrests Him After Furious Fight and Robbery Story Follows

SUSPICION OF DRUGGING

A taxi ride last night of Mrs. Elizabeth Mayers, 228 East Allegheny avenue, and Thomas Brown, twenty-seven years old, 247 Cornwall street, ended in the arrest of both, after Brown had put up a terrific fight with Mounted Policeman Schwartz.

As a sequel to the ride, both were arraigned before Magistrate Price today in the Twenty-second street and Hunting Park avenue station.

Brown was held under $800 bail for a further hearing on a charge of assault and battery, and on suspicion of larceny. Mrs. Mayers was held under $300 bail, charged with breach of the peace and as a material witness.

According to the story told the magistrate, Mrs. Mayers yesterday drew $210 out of bank, as first payment on a house she and her husband had selected. At 8:30 she met Brown at Cumberland street and Kensington avenue, and the taxicab driven by Michael Farrell, 772 North Twenty-fifth street, was summoned. With Mrs. Mayers was her eight-year-old daughter.

An hour later Mounted Policeman Schwartz, of the Branchtown station, heard screams, and, enlisting to Wombling avenue and Fishers lane, saw Brown dragging Mrs. Mayers from the taxi and across the street. The taxi drove rapidly away.

Policeman Schwartz testified he had arrested Brown after a fight in which he broke the middle finger of his left hand. Brown, said the policeman, offered him $50 to let him go and arrest the woman instead. Schwartz arrested them both. He then gave the key to a passerby, and the patrol was sent for. CHEAPER CLOTHING NOT YET IN SIGHT

Manufacturer Here Takes Issue With Washington's Optimistic Views

Fall and winter clothes may be even higher in price than they were last spring.

A representative of A. B. Kirschbaum, clothing manufacturer, today took issue with the statement of the attorney general's office at Washington that there is no justification for a price increase in suits.

Suits for this coming fall have been made up of wools purchased at prices prevailing a year ago, according to the Kirschbaum representative. Woolen lines for next spring haven't been opened yet, he stated, but for next summer the prospects are for higher priced mohairs, pain beachas and other light clothing than for this summer.

"Clothing manufacturers have not noted any decrease in the cost of labor or any increase in efficiency by the workers," he said. "Clothing manufacturers generally are on part time. They simply won't produce more clothes than the public will buy. Generally they are content to fill orders and are not manufacturing in anticipation of a big demand."

The price of a suit for the average man this fall should be from $40 to $60. The retailer won't be able to do much better than this. Those who are selling at decreased prices now are overstocked.

Public Service Men to Meet

Representatives of the Public Service Commissions of Pennsylvania, New York, Ohio, Maryland and West Virginia will meet here to discuss uniform practice in regard to natural gas matters. The results of the conference will be submitted to the natural gas conference in Pittsburgh, on July 28. At that time rules adopted by gas corporations for conservation will be submitted.

POSTS WILL BE IN CHARGE

Distribution of Victory medals November 11, Armistice Day, by posts of the American Legion throughout the United States has been arranged for at national headquarters in Indianapolis, according to an announcement made today by department headquarters, 841 Chestnut street.

An arrangement has been effected with the War Department which will pay the way for formal presentation of the medals in simultaneous ceremonies.

A bulletin issued from department headquarters contains the following: "At the request of the Legion's national commander, the War Department has consented to deliver on request, through the nearest army post or recruiting station, to the commander of each Legion post application blanks needed. After these have been filled out and forwarded the Victory medals will be mailed to the individual legionnaires in care of their respective post commanders, who can keep them pending the date for joint community presentation ceremonies. In filling out these blanks the delivery address must be given as in care of the post commander. There is ample time for preparation of programs as elaborate as posts or groups of posts care to make them. Here is opportunity for the receipt of the medal to become an important epoch in the life of every ex-service person and for the anniversary of the official ending of the world war to receive a splendid historical setting as significant as that of July 4 or Memorial Day. National headquarters appeals to all departments and posts for whole-hearted co-operation and team play to put this across for the everlasting glory of America and the Legion. It is believed that 11 a. m. would be the ideal hour to have the ceremonies begin."

In Philadelphia county the matter of distribution of medals might be taken up effectively by the seventy-five active posts. One of the notable achievements of the Legion was the distribution of French memorial certificates here.

THE Auto Vacuum Ice Cream Freezer is gaining many friends, particularly since the auto-trip season began. It is so easy to pack your ice cream freezer, put it in the tonneau and open it at luncheon-time, to find that you have smooth, velvety ice cream for dessert without the tiresome effort of turning a crank. It is often thought that cranking or churning makes ice cream smooth, but, in reality, the texture of ice cream is dependent on the quality of the cream mixture and the time spent in freezing, hence the right proportions of ice and salt must be used. A smaller quantity of ice is required in this freezer than in others, and replenishing is not necessary. Ask to see the Auto Vacuum Freezer at J. Franklin Miller's 1612 Chestnut Street.

HAVE you seen the new "shirt-waist sets" at Bailey, Banks & Biddle Company's store? They are really the most attractive and useful pins that I have seen in a long time. The set consists of a bar pin and two smaller pins. They are of gold or platinum and are set with diamonds. One that I thought particularly lovely was in bow-knot design. You may use the large pin in your collar and the two small ones to hold together the cuffs of your dainty summer shirtwaists. One finds an infinite number of uses for a trio such as this, and one makes no mistake in choosing one of these sets as a birthday present for some one who has so many things that it is difficult to find anything new.

WHAT a wonderful time of year it is for fruits! Just about every fruit you can think of is obtainable now at Henry R. Halliwell & Son's, Broad Street below Chestnut—California Bartlett Pears, delicious Peaches, large red, juicy Plums, Grapes, the most luscious of Cantaloupes and Honey Dew Melons; large, sweet Cherries; Pineapples; Hothouse Grapes, from Belgium; Alligator Peas, so delicious in salads, and those wonderfully colored Maroones. Halliwell's fruits are all of the very highest quality and are from the best producing sections of the country. They look most tempting arranged in Gift Baskets or Hampers, and are very much appreciated by those starting on an ocean voyage. They will ship their fruits to any point within 1000 miles of Philadelphia. Perfect delivery is guaranteed.

WHETHER you are looking for a new tennis racket or desire to have your old favorite restrung you would do well to send your way toward the store of A. G. Spalding & Bros., 1210 Chestnut Street. I visited the department devoted to the repairing of rackets and can vouch for the efficiency of the work. Spalding's have a new oak racket, which is very good, and the Spalding Gold Medal racket, strung with black and white gut, is a worthwhile investment. Something new in the tennis world is the galvanized marker for the court, which comes in sections. Its pointed teeth fit into the ground and make a permanent marking. I was interested, too, in the post with ratchet which enables you to loosen or tighten the net of will.
