

ON WAY TO SERVE EIGHT-YEAR SENTENCE. William Bush, the Wilmington banker, who pleaded guilty to embezzlement in a Delaware court yesterday, accompanied by a deputy warden, is on his way to the county workhouse. Bush is at the right.

TOYS FROM TIN CANS. Wounded soldiers in New York have struck the keynote of economy by making Christmas toys for the children from discarded tin cans.

GIRL VIOLINIST HOME FROM EUROPE. Miss Marie Kryl, daughter of Bohumys Kryl, the Chicago bandmaster, as she arrived on the S. S. La Savoie.

A CZECHO-SLOVAK GIRL. Will the Senate bar this type of immigrant when they consider the Johnson bill, which virtually prohibits immigration for one year?

THESE ARE BUSY DAYS. A Christmas shopper snapped on Chestnut street as she left a store. She is displaying a real Christmas spirit by taking home her purchases. It all helps the delivery man.

STEWARD ON THE MAYFLOWER. T. Shiro has been on the President's yacht for ten years. He was snapped with his children, Josephine and Eugene.

AN EMERGENCY CHRISTMAS POST-OFFICE. This fittingly decorated auto truck is one of several placed on the streets of Washington to cope with the Christmas parcel post work.

HIS DADDY MADE IT. Members of Fire Company No. 45, Twenty-sixth and York streets, are going to have a Christmas tree. The firehouse, built by Fireman John Keegan, Sr., will be part of the decoration. His son John will get the outfit after the holiday season—thus his interest.

LONDON "BOBBIES" here to fight policemen. Left to right, Jack Stanley, heavyweight; Inspector A. J. Briggs, manager, and Harry Mallin, middleweight.

GIFTS FOR CHILDREN IN HOSPITAL. Scores of youngsters in the St. Christopher's Hospital, Lawrence and Huntington streets, enjoyed a visit of ladies yesterday who brought many gifts. At the left Charles Berger is testing out his carvings. Miss Mary Wagner and Mrs. A. R. Sutherland are helping Jane Drake get her presents together.

COMMEMORATING LANDING OF THE PILGRIMS. The girls of the William Penn High School will give a masque, "The Lighting of the Torch," in the school auditorium this evening. Among the members of the cast are (left to right) Helen Smutt, Anna Chase and Mabel Stahele, as Puritans.

YALE'S GOAL KEEPER. Diefendorf came to Philadelphia with the ice hockey team to practice.

OUR CITY'S WORKERS AND WHAT THEY DO

MISS HILDA HOWELL, 5712 American street, Olney, an expert engraver of the A. H. Fox Co., Eighteenth street and Windrim avenue. It takes her from two to six days to engrave a single gun.

FORMER KING. Emir Faisal who reigned for a short time as King of Syria, and is now in London.

THE REV. H. N. COUDEN, the blind chaplain of Congress, who will retire shortly after twenty-five years' service.

SEMAPHORE SENTINELS

THIS IS RESERVE PATROLMAN WILLIAM J. BLACKBURN, stationed at Delaware avenue and Chestnut street for three years. He is forty-nine years old. Blackburn has a wife and five children. They live at 1310 South Thirteenth street. He has been on the police force seventeen years.

THE BEAUTY CORNER

ROBERT VON MOSCHIZSKER, justice of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, discusses law as a calling in an interview on the editorial page.

MISS EDITH SMITH 5709 Pine street, Philadelphia