

JUST GOSSIP ABOUT PEOPLE

Nancy Wynne Talks of the Weather and the Doings in Society This Week—Miss Kester to Be Married to Mr. Seal Tonight

IT WAS wonderful to find along through the high snow yesterday, wasn't it? I have been wanting a snow like that all winter. And on Sunday, wasn't it great when it was falling? Even if the sleet did cut your face a bit, when you had on everything but the kitchen stove as a covering, and the boots and fur caps and gloves and a heavy skirt and coat. Well, I am afraid I went back to my childhood days, literally, for I fell all over myself on Walnut street and laughed. I am afraid as did those who stood by, just as I did, never offered me a hand to rise.

ALL the younger set are busily engaged this week in seeing to the finishing touches on their fancy garments for the meeting of Mrs. Wurtz' dancing class on Friday night. It's the annual costume affair of the class and it's always a great event. The committee of boys in charge of the classes this year includes Reynolds Driver, Brown, H. Curtis Wood, Jr., H. Douglas, J. E. Johnson, Jr., Henry Lear, Louis Phillips, William F. Walsh, Bartol Muller, Morris Swope, Frank Kane and John Rhein, Jr.

YOU know that Margaret Kester and Hal Seal are to be married tonight at Holy Trinity Chapel, which is at Twenty-second and Spruce streets. Mrs. William H. Roberts, Jr., who is the best man, is to be the officiating minister. Miss Helen Roberts, his niece, is to be flower girl. Murray Seal, of Baltimore, will come up to be best man for his brother, Hal Seal, who is the groom.

Hal Seal is a Baltimorean, but is in business here. They will live in this city on their return from a wedding trip. The pastor of Holy Trinity Chapel, the Rev. Ogle W. Griffin, will perform at 8 o'clock.

OF COURSE, we're all looking forward to the Ice Carnival which is to be held on Thursday night at the Ice Palace on Market street. If this cold keeps up we won't have to go that far to get ice, will we? But then we will have to go there to see the fancy skating and dancing. I wonder what sort of costumes they will wear this year. They certainly were extraordinarily pretty last year. Somehow you don't want to put a lot of effort into it, but you often find that any old thing will do. At times you get together very beautiful effects. For on the skating rink bright colors are wonderful.

It takes a party of this kind (the skating carnival I mean) to show us how efficient some of us are. For you have no idea how many of the young people in and about Philadelphia state most beautifully. It is such a graceful art, and so exhilarating. You feel like a bird flying through the air as you glide to and fro. And there is so little of it out of doors with the mild weather of these last two winters, it really is wonderful to have the Ice Palace to go to.

I SAW Mrs. Hamilton Colket on Chestnut street on Saturday wearing a beautiful top coat of Hudson bay Palmetto made with a broad collar and cut three-quarter length. Her hat was a semi-large turban of damask silk, the groundwork being a sort of deep blue color and lined with all colors in satin. Threads of gold ran through the silk, too. It was very good-looking.

Helen Mitchell is a very attractive-looking girl. I saw her on Chestnut street, too. She was wearing an awfully pretty dark brown suit, trimmed with a fur collar and cuffs. Her hat was also fur-trimmed and was a small affair, with deep velvet lined with red. Helen will make her debut next winter.

NANCY WYNNE.
