

FIFTEEN THEATRES WILL CLOSE DOORS

Managers Refuse to Meet Wage Demands of Union Musicians

WILL FIGHT TO THE FINISH

On account of demands made by union musicians for an increase in wages, fifteen vaudeville and moving-picture theatres of this city will close their doors tomorrow night. Several will close tomorrow night.

In the better class of houses the musicians have asked that their present wage of $44 weekly be increased to $56. They also want $2.00 an hour for rehearsals.

Local managers assert that the closing of the theatres is the first step in a fight to a finish. They assert that they are already overburdened with expense, which makes continuation in business unprofitable.

A meeting of managers and owners will be held next week, and definite plans for dealing with orchestra and other matters will be discussed.

The Philharmonic Society has met the demands of the union, but will give only five concerts during the coming season instead of ten, as in the past.

The Philharmonic Society was compelled to grant the demands of the musicians' union because a larger organization in the city had taken that course.

It was said by Charles S. Hirsch, 300 Pine street, treasurer and manager of the society, announced that this would mean the end of the Philharmonic Society, but as a result of the resourcefulness of the members of the Board of Directors and the great generosity of a handful of public-spirited citizens who refused to let union dictatorship interfere with the public good such a calamity has been averted.

It has been decided to try giving the concert under the adverse financial conditions for one year.

"However, the plans of the society will have to be changed. It was the intention to give ten concerts next season instead of five, as in former years, to meet the ever-increasing demand of the public, but that will be impossible because of the tremendous expense and the old number of five will be adhered to.

Not Money-Making Body
"The people of Philadelphia should not lose sight of the fact that the Philharmonic Society is not a money-making proposition by any manner of means. Its purpose and work is purely educational, namely, within reach of those who otherwise would have no opportunity to enjoy it.

"Last year the membership fee, entitling the music lovers to admission to our five symphony concerts, was $5. The actual cost to the society, per capita, was $10—we stand ready to prove these figures with our books. A small group of men and women made up the deficit and will do so again next season.

POLICEMAN SHOTS FUGITIVE IN AUTO

Suspecting Car Contained Load of Stolen Tires, He Fires in Pursuit

MAN AND COMPANION ESCAPE

One of two men in an automobile carrying a load of supposedly stolen tires, is believed to have been shot by Sergeant Ferguson, of the Poach and Media streets station when the car failed to stop as it was entering Fairmount Park near Georges Hill, last night.

Ferguson fired after the speeding machine as it raced down Parkside avenue and saw the man who was sitting in the rear, which was piled high with tires, slump and slide to the floor. He continued to fire after the automobile, but it turned in the entrance of the Park and was lost to sight. No other machines were near which he could commandeer to give chase.

The police sergeant was walking along Parkside avenue when he saw the automobile approaching. Both men in it were young and dressed in dark clothes. The rear of the car was so filled with tires that there was hardly room for a man to sit there and hold them in. He yelled to them to stop, but the only answer was a burst of speed which threw one of the tires into the street. He drew his gun and fired as he ran after them.

When he drove his bicycle into the rear of a motortruck, near his home last night, Raffaele DiZiuppi, eighteen years old, of 341 North Sixty-fourth street, suffered cuts and bruises about the hands and head, and the driver of the truck was arrested.

The latter is Alessio DiTietdana, of 223 North Cross street.

He will be given a hearing before Magistrate Price this morning. DiZiuppi is in the West Philadelphia Hospital.

W. C. T. U. in San Francisco
Chicago, July 8.—The forty-ninth annual meeting of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, the first convention to be held since the Eighteenth Amendment became effective, will be held in San Francisco, August 18 to 23.

Night Off for Second Street Stores
Members of the North Second Street Business Men's Association have decided to keep their stores closed on Tuesday evenings in July and August.

Cardinal at Funeral
J. J. Rooney
Funeral services for the Rev. John J. Rooney, rector of the Catholic Church of St. Gabriel, Thirtieth and Reed streets, were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the church, with divine office at 9:30 o'clock.

Outing for Store Boys
Wanamaker Institute Camp to Be Opened for Season Today
The John Wanamaker Commercial Institute, Thirteenth and Market streets, will open its annual encampment at Island Heights, N. J., today.

PAIN TO FISHES CAUSED BY THOUGHTLESS ANGLERS

Aquarium Official Declares Inhabitants of Sea and Lakes Have Well-Developed Sense of Feeling—Asks Less Cruelty

CAMDEN BOY, HIT BY PATROL, DIES

Charles Daruso, seven years old, 383 Spruce street, Camden, was run over by the Camden police patrol at Broadway and Cherry streets this morning and died of his injuries at the Cooper Hospital.

The patrol, driven by James Paradise, was on the way to bring a woman to Cooper Hospital.

When the patrol reached Cherry street, the boy darted aside to avoid a motortruck and stepped directly in front of the patrol. Paradise turned the vehicle abruptly. As the patrol swung around the rear end struck the boy and the vehicle then crashed into a telegraph pole. Paradise was thrown from his seat and the patrol was badly damaged. The boy and the driver were picked up and taken to the hospital in an automobile. Daruso died shortly after being admitted. Paradise received severe cuts and bruises.

Have fish a sense of pain?
"No!" scoffs the fisherman, as with flashing knife he performs a surgical operation on a catch he has just used for and throws it back into the water, still living and helpless prey for other fish.

"A fish is cold-blooded," this sportsman explains. "It has no nervous sensibilities, and it suffers little if any pain. Now, they don't mind being cut up while they're still alive!"

But Thomas Meehan, superintendent of the Fairmount Park Aquarium, who certainly knows what he is talking about, says this is all wrong.

"Of course fish feel pain," he said. "They can suffer acutely from the thoughtless cruelty of heedless fishermen. Fish have a very sensitive nerve along the lateral line and suffer extremely from any injury to the sides.

"Some men scale a fish before it is dead. This is cruelty in the extreme and should be punished severely. Not long ago I had the pleasure of having a man fined for doing just this thing.

"In the Delaware Bay just now small sharks are numerous, and are bothering the fishermen, most of whom have no use for these fish. One method of punishment is to turn back the shark's nose and throw it in the water. 'There is little if any cruelty in this,' explained Mr. Meehan, "because turning back the shark's nose breaks its neck and it dies instantly. It may seem to swim away, but that merely is a convulsive movement, like that of a chicken with its head cut off.

CARDINAL AT FUNERAL

Officials at Services for the Rev. J. J. Rooney

Funeral services for the Rev. John J. Rooney, rector of the Catholic Church of St. Gabriel, Thirtieth and Reed streets, were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the church, with divine office at 9:30 o'clock.

The mass was celebrated by Cardinal Dougherty, who was accompanied to Rome for elevation by Father Rooney.

Father Rooney died Tuesday morning in St. Joseph's Hospital after an illness of two weeks. He was fifty-five years old. His body was taken to New Philadelphia, Pa., for burial.

Wanamaker Institute Camp to Be Opened for Season Today
The John Wanamaker Commercial Institute, Thirteenth and Market streets, will open its annual encampment at Island Heights, N. J., today.

The camp will be devoted to boys until August 4, and from August 5 to August 15 girls of the New York store will be entertained.

The first detachment of boys will leave the Market street entrance of the Wanamaker store here at 1:15 o'clock this afternoon, marching to the Market Street Ferry. A special train will carry them to Island Heights, where they will remain until July 21, when they will give place to another detachment of boys.

Night Off for Second Street Stores
Members of the North Second Street Business Men's Association have decided to keep their stores closed on Tuesday evenings in July and August.

Cardinal at Funeral
J. J. Rooney
Funeral services for the Rev. John J. Rooney, rector of the Catholic Church of St. Gabriel, Thirtieth and Reed streets, were held at 10 o'clock this morning in the church, with divine office at 9:30 o'clock.

Outing for Store Boys
Wanamaker Institute Camp to Be Opened for Season Today
The John Wanamaker Commercial Institute, Thirteenth and Market streets, will open its annual encampment at Island Heights, N. J., today.

CAMDEN BOY, HIT BY PATROL, DIES

Dodges Truck and Steps in Front of Wagon—Driver Is Injured

WAS ON HURRY CALL

Charles Daruso, seven years old, 383 Spruce street, Camden, was run over by the Camden police patrol at Broadway and Cherry streets this morning and died of his injuries at the Cooper Hospital.

The patrol, driven by James Paradise, was on the way to bring a woman to Cooper Hospital.

When the patrol reached Cherry street, the boy darted aside to avoid a motortruck and stepped directly in front of the patrol. Paradise turned the vehicle abruptly. As the patrol swung around the rear end struck the boy and the vehicle then crashed into a telegraph pole. Paradise was thrown from his seat and the patrol was badly damaged. The boy and the driver were picked up and taken to the hospital in an automobile. Daruso died shortly after being admitted. Paradise received severe cuts and bruises.

Have fish a sense of pain?
"No!" scoffs the fisherman, as with flashing knife he performs a surgical operation on a catch he has just used for and throws it back into the water, still living and helpless prey for other fish.

"A fish is cold-blooded," this sportsman explains. "It has no nervous sensibilities, and it suffers little if any pain. Now, they don't mind being cut up while they're still alive!"

But Thomas Meehan, superintendent of the Fairmount Park Aquarium, who certainly knows what he is talking about, says this is all wrong.

"Of course fish feel pain," he said. "They can suffer acutely from the thoughtless cruelty of heedless fishermen. Fish have a very sensitive nerve along the lateral line and suffer extremely from any injury to the sides.

"Some men scale a fish before it is dead. This is cruelty in the extreme and should be punished severely. Not long ago I had the pleasure of having a man fined for doing just this thing.

"In the Delaware Bay just now small sharks are numerous, and are bothering the fishermen, most of whom have no use for these fish. One method of punishment is to turn back the shark's nose and throw it in the water. 'There is little if any cruelty in this,' explained Mr. Meehan, "because turning back the shark's nose breaks its neck and it dies instantly. It may seem to swim away, but that merely is a convulsive movement, like that of a chicken with its head cut off.

CAMDEN BOY, HIT BY PATROL, DIES

Dodges Truck and Steps in Front of Wagon—Driver Is Injured

WAS ON HURRY CALL

Charles Daruso, seven years old, 383 Spruce street, Camden, was run over by the Camden police patrol at Broadway and Cherry streets this morning and died of his injuries at the Cooper Hospital.

The patrol, driven by James Paradise, was on the way to bring a woman to Cooper Hospital.

When the patrol reached Cherry street, the boy darted aside to avoid a motortruck and stepped directly in front of the patrol. Paradise turned the vehicle abruptly. As the patrol swung around the rear end struck the boy and the vehicle then crashed into a telegraph pole. Paradise was thrown from his seat and the patrol was badly damaged. The boy and the driver were picked up and taken to the hospital in an automobile. Daruso died shortly after being admitted. Paradise received severe cuts and bruises.

Have fish a sense of pain?
"No!" scoffs the fisherman, as with flashing knife he performs a surgical operation on a catch he has just used for and throws it back into the water, still living and helpless prey for other fish.

"A fish is cold-blooded," this sportsman explains. "It has no nervous sensibilities, and it suffers little if any pain. Now, they don't mind being cut up while they're still alive!"

But Thomas Meehan, superintendent of the Fairmount Park Aquarium, who certainly knows what he is talking about, says this is all wrong.

"Of course fish feel pain," he said. "They can suffer acutely from the thoughtless cruelty of heedless fishermen. Fish have a very sensitive nerve along the lateral line and suffer extremely from any injury to the sides.

"Some men scale a fish before it is dead. This is cruelty in the extreme and should be punished severely. Not long ago I had the pleasure of having a man fined for doing just this thing.

"In the Delaware Bay just now small sharks are numerous, and are bothering the fishermen, most of whom have no use for these fish. One method of punishment is to turn back the shark's nose and throw it in the water. 'There is little if any cruelty in this,' explained Mr. Meehan, "because turning back the shark's nose breaks its neck and it dies instantly. It may seem to swim away, but that merely is a convulsive movement, like that of a chicken with its head cut off.

The Ritz Roof

Cool, dainty, appealing—a very charming place, indeed, with its intimate air of quiet comradeship and good breeding. Luncheon, Dinner or Supper on the Ritz Roof seems quite different from any other place.

Dancing During Supper

Broad and Walnut Streets

The Record of Quality

OKeh

ZING dash! Those OKeh dance records fairly swing you off your feet!

And the reason, you will find, is this: Winning tunes played by famous music makers and faithful register of true fall tones.

Ask your dealer for 4544 (Dinner Dancy) (fox trot) 85c Down Arrow the Sip-Sip Sippy Shore (one step)

GENERAL PHONOGRAPH CORPORATION NEW YORK

Horn & Hardart Baking Co.

24 Restaurants—Centrally Located

Suggestions for This Evening's Meal

MINUTE STEAK	Mashed Potatoes	French Fried Potatoes
FRIED HALIBUT	Green Peas	Stewed Tomatoes
DEVILED CRAB	String Beans	Baked Beans
	Spaghetti	Spinach

with choice of Two Side Dishes .30

Soup (small order) .05
Cole Slaw
or Pickled Beets .05
Desserts Many Varieties of Pies, Cakes, Puddings, Fruits, Fruit Ice Cream

Roll and Butter .05
Coffee, Chocolate, Tea, Iced Tea or Milk .05

We Offer a Wide Choice of Cold Salads and Combination Salad Sandwiches

Our "Automat-Cafeteria"

818-20 Chestnut Street
OPEN SUNDAYS UNTIL MIDNIGHT

RR One-Day Outings RR

FROM MARKET STREET WHARF	Every Day	Atlantic City Wildwood Angelsea Andrews Avenue Ocean City Cape May Seaside City Coronas Inlet Stone Harbor Avalon	Standard Daylight Time
Atlantic City (daily)	6:00 A	7:00 A
Additional train to Atlantic City	6:30 A	7:30 A
For all other routes	6:55 A	7:55 A
Weekdays	6:55 A	7:55 A
Sundays	6:55 A	7:55 A
Fishermen's Excursion	6:00 A	7:00 A
Angelsea, Andrews, Wildwood (Sundays)	6:00 A	7:00 A

FROM MARKET STREET WHARF	EVERY SUNDAY	Beach Haven, Barnegat City, Harvey Cedars, Spray Beach, Brant Beach, Beach Haven Terrace, Ship Bottom, Beach Haven, Surf City, Atlantic Beach, Atlantic City	Standard Daylight Time
Market St. Wharf	Standard Time 6:10 A	Daylight Time 6:52 A
Train 6:55 A	Standard Time 6:05 A	Daylight Time 6:44 A

FROM BROAD STREET STATION	WEDNESDAYS	July 20 to August 31	Standard Daylight Time
Atlantic City	6:05 A	7:05 A
Additional train to Atlantic City	6:35 A	7:35 A
Weekdays	6:25 A	7:25 A
Sundays	6:25 A	7:25 A
Cape May (daily)	6:45 A	7:45 A
Stone Harbor and Ocean City	6:45 A	7:45 A
Weekdays	6:45 A	7:45 A
Sundays	6:45 A	7:45 A
Seaside City	6:15 A	7:15 A
Weekdays	6:15 A	7:15 A
Sundays	6:15 A	7:15 A

EVERY SUNDAY	Fishermen's Excursion—Harvey Cedars, Beach Haven, Surf City, Atlantic Beach, Atlantic City	Standard Daylight Time
Market St. Wharf	Standard Time 6:10 A	Daylight Time 6:52 A
Train 6:55 A	Standard Time 6:05 A	Daylight Time 6:44 A

16-Day Niagara Falls Excursions
September 1, 16, 22 and October 13
Consult Ticket Agents

REID AND FORT

WINDSOR ROOM—1204 Chestnut St.
11 SOUTH 15th ST.
Founded In 1894

Fine Clothes Reduced To A New Low Level

Reid & Fort's entire stock of three-piece suits reduced as follows:

$30 Suits—$22.50	$40 Suits—$32.50
$35 Suits—$27.50	$45 Suits—$37.50
$50 Suits—$42.50

Better Babies For 63 years thousands of babies have gained health and lusty strength through Borden's EAGLE BRAND Condensed Milk

MIDSUMMER SUITS $15 to $25

Palm Beaches—Mohairs—Crashes
White Flannel Trousers—$10, $12, $15

Office Coats—$4.50 and $5
Linen Dusters—$3.50 to $7.50

RITTENHOUSE THE GRILL

22d and Chestnut
Philadelphia's Coolest Restaurant

Special 90c Luncheon
Turkey Five Play During Lunch in Dinner, Supper

BATTEN

3 tests of yourself

FROM the day you decide to go into business these three tests confront you. If you pass all three, you are a useful man. If you pass but two, you are just an ordinary citizen—a little less than a success, a little more than a failure. If you pass but one, you are one of the most pitiable things in life—a man in business who means nothing to his business.

Can you get a job or a business? That is the first test. In America it is not hard. It simply involves the ability to get someone to give you a chance and pay you money on the theory that you will soon earn more. Gain the confidence of one individual and you have passed Test No. 1.

Can you make your business grow? This test is a little more devilish. Those who can pass it are looked upon as men who are "making good." They are the men who become executives, managers, department heads, buyers, salesmen, superintendents. They are usually in line for promotion. Prove that you can gain and hold the confidence of several people, a few more every year, and you have passed Test No. 2.

Can you grow as fast as your business? This is the supreme test. It is this that keeps grey-haired men toiling at their desks while others are saying, "Why does he work? If I had as much money as he has, I would have quit long ago."

For a business is like a child—once it starts growing it may easily outstrip in size and weight those who bred and nurtured it.

When your business begins to grow, you must not only grow yourself, but you must see that those about you grow as rapidly as their jobs are growing. You must become national-minded instead of local-minded.

When your business reaches the point where you must think in terms of the whole people, you must look to it that the whole people think in terms of your business and its goods or service. Unless you can grow, you will be outgrown, and some day people will say, "There is a new bunch in control down there now."

To grow as fast as a big business can grow, means that you must win and hold the confidence of the people of the United States of America. That is Test No. 3.

Of the many firms that are doing national advertising, a few know that this is true. The others are advertising without knowing why.

ONCE a month, or more frequently, we issue a publication called Batten's Wedge. Each issue is devoted to a single editorial on some phase of business. If you are a business executive and would like to receive copies, write us.

George Batten Company, Inc.

Advertising

Boston 10 State Street
Chicago McCormick Bldg.
New York 381 Fourth Avenue

Moulding favorable public opinion for articles or services that deserve it.

Pennsylvania System Factory Help!

If you need operators, menders, sewers, finishers, etc., you'll get them quickly through an ad in

THE LEDGER MORNING and EVENING

Walnut 3000—Main 1601