

FUNERAL OF RAYMOND E. GREELEY

The soldier, whose body lay in state in City Hall courtyard for one hour on Thursday while the whole city paid tribute to his soldier dead, was buried with special military services yesterday. He was a member of Company M, 110th Infantry, and had been chosen by lot to represent all the soldier dead of the city. The funeral services were held at 2:30 o'clock at the home of his parents at 800 North Union street. Interment was in Arlington Cemetery.

3 KILLED, 25 HURT IN TROLLEY CRASH

Three Philadelphians Are Injured as Cars Collide Near Pottstown

SOME PINNED UNDER WRECK

Pottstown, Pa., July 18.—Three persons were killed and twenty-five injured, some of them seriously, when two trolley cars on the Pottstown and Phoenixville Railway collided head-on at Rahm's Hill, on the pier about a mile from Pottstown, Saturday night. A trolley car going westward in charge of Paul Heimbach, motorman, got beyond control when the brakes, it is said, failed to work, and drifted past a switch. A trolley in charge of Robert Lachman, conductor, and Calvin Levan, motorman, was to pass Heimbach's car on the switch. The latter car halted on Rahm's Hill to let off passengers and the runaway car crashed into it. Several passengers were pinned between the seats when the cars crashed.

Calvin Levan, of Pottstown, the motorman, was pinned beneath the wreckage and Dr. Stapp amputated his right leg in order to release him. His other leg had been cut off in the crash. He died in a few minutes. The other dead were: Mrs. Emma Fortna, Robesonia, Philadelphia; Mrs. Anna A. Stott, Reading; Mrs. Mary Rhoads, Pottstown; Dorothy Neely, Pottstown; Helen Reinert, Stowe; Linwood Saylor, 1022 Arch street, Philadelphia; Mrs. Emma Fortna, Robesonia; Alvin Keenan, Stowe; William Slonaker, Pottstown; John Coyne, Phoenixville; Jacob Koons, Pottstown; William Kane, Pottstown; Peter Schurr, Pottstown; Walter Sakiewicz, Reading; Mrs. Fannie Saylor, 1022 Arch street, Philadelphia; Mrs. Annie West, Pottstown; Besie Reiser, Stowe; Mrs. Annie Stott, Pottstown; Earl Pottelger, Pottstown; Anna Kelley, Pottstown.

BOROUGH POLICE UNPAID

National Park Mayor Says Town Has No Funds

National Park, N. J., July 18.—Despite the fact that the police have not been paid for their services and there is no telling when they will, their duties are growing because of the increased number of visitors here for the week ends. Mayor Waters refuses to approve the bills of $48 each presented by the four members of the new police force. He says the borough has no funds. He is awaiting the decision of the Supreme Court on the legality of the ordinance passed by Council giving the Police Commission the right to appoint police officers.

The Mayor has a police force of his own of three members, but they have not asked for any pay, because they know that they will not receive it with the majority in Council opposed to them and the Mayor. Both departments were on duty last Saturday and yesterday.

Motorists' Cards to Be Smaller Motorists' registration cards for 1922 will be so printed that they can be cut to fit the ordinary-sized wallet. That announcement has been made by Registrar of Motor Vehicles Benjamin G. Eynon in a letter to J. Barton Weeks, president of the Keystone Automobile Club. Mr. Weeks suggested a reduction in the size of these cards in a letter to Mr. Eynon last September.

LAST RITES FOR SOLDIER

Thousands Lay Tribute to Greeley and Lost Comrades

Thousands of Philadelphians, particularly those in the section beyond the Schuylkill, paid tribute to a soldier hero in West Philadelphia yesterday. The body of Raymond E. Greeley, 800 North Union street, one of the twenty-six Philadelphians returned from France on Thursday, was buried from his home at 2:30 o'clock. The body had already received signal honors from the city on Thursday, when it laid in state in City Hall for an hour. He had been chosen by lot to symbolize the entire group of returned heroes.

Thousands crowded along Union street to get a glimpse of the flag-draped casket, as it was carried from the house to the caisson on the shoulders of his American Legion comrades. The body passed beneath an arch formed by the Stars and Stripes, and the color flag of the Raymond E. Greeley Post, No. 61, American Legion, which was named in his honor.

The body was escorted to Arlington Cemetery in Upper Darby. Cullen applied for treatment at the Polyclinic Hospital. Later the police from the Seventeenth District Police Station arrived and took Cullen to the station house, where he collapsed a short time afterward. Then he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital at the request of relatives.

DIRECTS RESCUE IN VAIN

Plucky Miner Buried Under Coal Dies After He Is "Saved"

Pottsville, Pa., July 18.—After directing the work for his own rescue, Stephen Lovelick, of Primrose, died yesterday of injuries received at Phoenix Park Colliery. Lovelick climbed into a chute to see if enough coal was there to be loaded, and an immense tonnage fell upon him, breaking several bones and fracturing his skull. Remaining consciousness, Lovelick told how the work of removing the coal should proceed.

DYING KIN ROUSED

Relatives of Stabbing Victim Want Police Action Probed

Relatives of James Cullen, of 1929 Harlan street, who is dying in St. Joseph's Hospital from stabs, say they will demand an investigation as to why the police of the Twentieth and Federal streets station took the man from the Polyclinic Hospital, although his condition was said to be grave.

Cullen, it is said, was with four companions when he received his wounds. With those companions, who were said to have been intoxicated, Cullen applied for treatment at the Polyclinic Hospital. Later the police from the Seventeenth District Police Station arrived and took Cullen to the station house, where he collapsed a short time afterward. Then he was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital at the request of relatives.

ICE WATER TO CURE FLIRTS

Beach Police Adopt Novel Method to End "Petting Parties"

Atlantic City, July 18.—"Petting parties" along the beach yesterday were placed under the ban by strand censors, who adopted a novel method to break up the spooning wherever they found it. They called it the "water-cure" and it was as effective as in the Philippines. Heretofore the beach cops have slipped up on couples four-cuddling too close along the sands and ordered them to move on. Under orders of Chief Surgeon Charles Bossert, censors yesterday used ice water instead of words to break up the spooning.
