

REV. G. D. ADAMS WEDS N. Y. WIDOW

Takes Mrs. Cora Killen, Ex-Wife's Rival in Divorce Suit, as Bride

WAS PASTOR HERE

The Rev. Dr. George D. Adams, formerly pastor of the Chestnut Street Baptist Church, Fortieth and Chestnut streets, and central figure in a dramatic divorce suit, was married August 1 in New York to Mrs. Cora Killen.

Mrs. Killen is the widow of Charles L. M. Killen and the daughter of E. B. Lippincott. The bride is fifty-one years old and the bridegroom fifty-six.

Dr. Adams is pastor of the First Baptist Church, Mount Vernon, N. Y., where he went after serving for ten years as head of the Philadelphia years as head of the Philadelphia church.

He was granted a divorce March 3, 1921, after he brought charges of infidelity. Although Mrs. Adams made public denial, she did not wish to interrupt the clergyman's career.

When Dr. Adams first made his charges against the announcement to the congregation, the incident did not become public until December, 1919. Dr. Adams was said to have had the symptoms of his congregation throughout the divorce proceedings. Mrs. Adams admitted she had been writing to her husband on a promise of forgiveness, from six years after they lived together happily. She said she had considered nothing but flirtations and indiscretions.

It is no surprise to me," she continued. "He told me before we separated that he loved another woman. Mrs. Adams, a handsome woman with auburn hair, said that she and the minister were married in 1891, "before she was of age. They had two children, a son and daughter."

WOODRUFF HITS LOW PAY OF CITY BUREAU DOCTORS

Efforts Made to Exempt Twelve Positions From Examinations

Salaries of physicians employed by the Bureau of Hospitals of the Public Health Department were termed ridiculously low by Clinton Rogers Woodruff, chairman of the Civil Service Commission, at a public hearing on examinations this morning.

Efforts are being made by the bureau to have twelve positions as physicians exempt from taking civil service examinations. The salaries vary from $720 to $1000 yearly. Those applying have refused to take the necessary examination on the grounds of insufficient time. The chairman said it was a matter of too high requirements rather than time.

Action was postponed after Albert S. Paugler, secretary of the Civil Service Reform Association, had advocated lowering the requirements and advancing salaries to $2500.

Positions as nurses, paying less than $1200 yearly, are exempt from examination hereafter.

Feminine Instinct Reasserts Itself When Mrs. Harrison Reaches Berlin

GUEST OF SENATOR FRANCE

By the Associated Press

Berlin, Aug. 4.—Captain Merion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who escaped from a prison in Moscow after having been shot down during fighting between the Bolsheviks and the Poles, arrived here from Warsaw yesterday to see Mrs. Margaret E. Harrison, the American newspaper correspondent, recently liberated by the Soviet authorities.

Captain Cooper declared Mrs. Harrison had saved his life by supplying him with food and clothes at the Moscow prison before she was herself incarcerated. When the two Americans, who had such trying experiences in Russia, met in the lobby of a Berlin hotel, there was an affecting greeting.

"I would have gone around the world to see you," exclaimed Captain Cooper, smilingly, as Mrs. Harrison, Captain Cooper and Alfred Bond, of New York, all of whom were prisoners in Russia for long periods, had dinner last night with United States Senator Joseph I. France, of Maryland, who is returning to the United States after a visit to Moscow.

Mrs. Harrison arrived in Berlin yesterday morning from Riga, accompanied by Senator France, and immediately began a shopping expedition.

"You know, when a woman has been in jail in Russia for many months and gets to a place where there are good shops she cannot resist outfitting herself," said Mrs. Harrison.

"I have just received a telegram from my son, saying he is leaving the United States today, and that he will meet me in London August 10, so I must shake off my Russian appearance before then."

Grandmother's Silk Dress

You have heard of that wonderful silk, so stiff the dress would stand alone, handed down in the family, and seeming never to wear out.

And so with writing paper. When Crane & Co. began they made paper that was really too good for many uses to which it was put, but it was the only paper there was. It was used for everything.

Crane & Co. went on making that kind of paper, while other manufacturers found ways of making cheaper papers, plenty good enough for many uses.

Meanwhile governments, financial institutions, engravers, learned that when a paper for some very important purpose was desired, Crane & Co. were still making paper with that old-fashioned durability.

DE VALERA TO CALL IRISH PARLIAMENT

Ulster Said to Have Turned Down Sinn Fein Overtures for Peace

By the Associated Press

London, Aug. 4.—The Irish situation took a sensational turn today when it was announced in Dublin that Eamon de Valera and his cabinet had decided to summon a full meeting of the Irish Republican Parliament to consider the British Government's peace proposals.

It had been repeatedly stated that the Dublin Eireann would not be summoned to summon a full meeting of the Irish Republican Parliament to consider the British Government's peace proposals.

invitation from the Dail Eireann to Sir James Craig, the Ulster Premier, asking him to attend a conference in Dublin with a view to determining Ulster's attitude. It adds that there is no possibility, however, of another meeting between Sir James and Mr. de Valera in Dublin, although the Ulster Premier is willing to meet the Republican leader with Premier Lloyd George in London.

Out of these conflicting reports, however, arises the outstanding fact that the Republican Parliament is to meet, which is taken to mean undoubtedly that Mr. de Valera will reply to Mr. Lloyd George in the immediate future.
