

STRAWBRIDGE & CLOTHIER

CLOVER DAY To-morrow (and Wednesday)

The Last Two Clover Days Before Easter

Therefore, promising to result in the biggest, busiest value-giving days so far this year. We have prepared accordingly, going into the market and securing fresh, fashionable Spring Apparel and Springtime merchandise, to group at decided price-concessions, with the many clearance lots of seasonable, desirable things. Apparel and accessories for springtime attire, new things to brighten up the home for the new season, wanted fabrics of all kinds—practically every need is anticipated in this collection of—

Hundreds of Values

Every Department of the Store is represented. Limitations of space prevent our telling you of all the good things—therefore, we can list but a few of the outstanding value groups.

Remember—these are the only two Clover Days before Easter. Plan and profit accordingly

SHOES

Women's New Oxfords Unusual Value—$4.90

Women's Kid Slippers Far Under Price—$1.45

Children's Pumps and Oxfords, Save at $2.25

Men's Oxfords and Shoes, Unusual—$4.45

S. & C. Peroxide Cream Excellent Value—18c

Fabrikoid Suit Cases Excellent Value—$3.50

Boxes of Stationery Sharply Reduced

25 Cedar Chests now $12.50 to $25.00

25 Cedar Chests now $12.50 to $25.00

White Skirting Exceptional at 26c

FOR MEN

Suits With Extra Trousers—$25.00

Suits Reduced Over One-Third—$13.50

Very Fine Suits Reduced to $36.50

Overcoats Half Price

Serge Suits With Extra Trousers—$19.75

FOR BOYS

Boys' Cloth Hats Attractive at $1.00

Two-Trousers Suits Special Value—$8.75

Boys' Cheviot Suits to Greet Spring—$6.75

Wash Suits One-third Under Price—$1.95

Percale Blouse Waists Excellent Value—50c

GIRLS

Girls' New Spring Coats—now $12.50

Girls' Serge and Jersey Dresses—$3.75

LITTLE TOTS

Babies' Coats and Caps Under Price

Exceptional Lot of Little Girls' and Boys' Apparel at 95c

FOR WOMEN

Fine Underwear Greatly Reduced

Percale Dress Aprons Half Price at 50c

FOR WOMEN

Silk Petticoats Exceptional—$3.65

Women's Sweaters of Fibre Silk—$5.50

Women's Linen Handkerchiefs—10c

UNDERWEAR HOSIERY

Women's Full-fashioned Silk Stockings—$1.45

Women's Full-fashioned Lisle Stockings—50c

Women's Union Suits Now 38c and 45c

Cotton Vests, 20c Lisle Vests, 25c

Men's Cotton Socks Six Pairs for 65c

Men's Nainsook Union Suits—60c

Children's White Socks, Unusual—20c

Boys' Nainsook Union Suits—50c

THROUGHOUT THE STORE

These Cream Pitchers Under Price—now 20c

Glass Candy Jars Imported—$2.35

Aluminum Frying Pans Half Price—$1.25

Willow Hampers Special at $1.75

Cut Glass Bowls 8-inch Size—$3.25

Electric Hot Plates Ready to Use—$1.65

Peanut Balls at Clover Day Price—30c

Imported Stationery Away Under Price—25c

White Skirting Exceptional at 26c

Brocade Satin Coat Linings—now $1.50

8 1/4-inch Moire Ribbon—now 65c

Leather-bound Kodak Albums—$2.00

FOR WOMEN

New Canton Crepe Frocks now $24.00

Crepe de Chine Dresses now $12.50

Tailored Wool Dresses at $12.50

Crepe de Chine Dresses now $17.75

New Tailored Tweed Suits—now $22.75

Men's-wear Serge Suits—now $22.50

High-grade Tricotine Suits—now $29.50

New Wool Velour Capes—now $8.75

New Wool Velour Coats—now $25.00

Miscellaneous Lot of Skirts—$5.75

Odd Lots of Cotton Blouses—now 50c

Fine Cotton Voile Blouses—now $1.35

Silk Over-Blouses and Blouses—$2.50

Crepe de Chine Over-Blouses—$4.25

American Opossum Neck Furs—$5.00

Two-skin Natural Mink Scarfs—$25.00

900 Tailored Sailor Hats—$3.00

Ostrich-Trimmed Hats—now $3.25

Trimmed Black Hats—now $3.85

Flower-Trimmed Hats—now $3.50

Corsets—Half Price and Less at $1.45

Corsets Greatly Reduced at $5.35

Corsets—Worth Double and Much More—$3.95

Queen Make House Dresses—now $2.85

made. It is known that so far more than 100 appointments have been made, divided approximately evenly among the four districts. The appointments will be announced tomorrow. This evening Joseph M. Steele will be the principal speaker at the anniversary of the Conference Tract Society, while the Rev. Matthew J. Treney will address the Board of Sunday Schools at its annual meeting. Singing by the choir of the Erie Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, will be a feature. Praising the Christian ministry as the highest calling that a young man can choose, Bishop Berry yesterday issued a challenge for service as he organized candidates for deacons and elders. Aided by the four district superintendents, the Bishop, before the entire body of the conference, raised a score of men to their new positions. Among the group are three young women who were consecrated deaconesses. A preacher can loaf with less chance of detection than an other man in Philadelphia," Bishop Berry told the candidates. "A clergyman has no time-clocks and nobody watches him. He is put largely on his own responsibility. "Young men," continued the veteran Bishop, leaning over the pulpit confidentially, "you will not make a success of your ministry if you sit gossiping in the bookroom at 1701 Arch street half the day. A minister cannot loaf and win."

Senator Pepper more effectively than the knowledge that the hero of the "Erie Ship" is the author of the fantastic slogan, "We'll get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," and the protagonist of a puerile peace propaganda was pouring Michigan money into Pennsylvania to induce the voter's choice. The name of the candidate who is to be the recipient of Mr. Ford's aid, if there is one, has not yet been disclosed. The fact that Major Reed is in the city, that he has conferred with Senator Republican and Governor Sproul, has brought again to the front with a rush the idea of effecting some sort of a compromise on the gubernatorial situation. An one leader expressed it: "The longer the present condition of factionalism exists the more dangerous does it become for the party. It is a matter of time before an element of bitterness among the followers of each candidate. This will extend beyond the primary and will react upon the successful candidate. It must be stopped."

For the Democrats are united for once. They realize now that in John A. McSparran, "dirt farmer," college graduate, Methodist Bible class leader, resourceful campaigner, their candidate, they have the best chance of winning a Governor they have had in thirty years. With the declaration from Gifford Pinchot that no "bosses" can dictate to him; John S. Fisher, confessedly a strong candidate at the present, refusing to consider withdrawal; Edward E. Beidleman, through Secretary Baker, of the State Committee, declaring his intention of remaining in the bitter end; Charles A. Snyder, feebly proclaiming his determination to run, and Harry E. Mackey protesting any intention of dropping out to one side, and a united Democracy on the other, the outlook is by no means rosy for the party of "Lincoln, Grant and Garfield."

There are persistent reports, and they are worthy of consideration, that if by any misadventure a certain Republican aspirant should receive the nomination in May, an independent Republican candidate for Governor might drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life.

Everybody knows what this would mean. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life.

Japanese Ambassador Takes Leave of President—To Return in Fall Washington, March 27.—Ambassador Shidehara, of Japan, called at the White House today and said good-by to President Harding, preparatory to leaving tonight for San Francisco to sail April 2 for Japan. The Ambassador, on leaving the White House, said he would be gone several months and might possibly have to undergo an operation in Japan. He said that he hoped he would be able to return to Washington in the fall. During Mr. Shidehara's absence, the Japanese Embassy will be in charge of Sado Saburi, counselor.

These girls, in their trim-looking uniforms, were in the parade that marked part of the Wanamaker Commercial Institute celebration of the thirty-first anniversary. They were photographed on Broad street made. It is known that so far more than 100 appointments have been made, divided approximately evenly among the four districts. The appointments will be announced tomorrow. This evening Joseph M. Steele will be the principal speaker at the anniversary of the Conference Tract Society, while the Rev. Matthew J. Treney will address the Board of Sunday Schools at its annual meeting. Singing by the choir of the Erie Avenue Methodist Episcopal Church, will be a feature. Praising the Christian ministry as the highest calling that a young man can choose, Bishop Berry yesterday issued a challenge for service as he organized candidates for deacons and elders. Aided by the four district superintendents, the Bishop, before the entire body of the conference, raised a score of men to their new positions. Among the group are three young women who were consecrated deaconesses. A preacher can loaf with less chance of detection than an other man in Philadelphia," Bishop Berry told the candidates. "A clergyman has no time-clocks and nobody watches him. He is put largely on his own responsibility. "Young men," continued the veteran Bishop, leaning over the pulpit confidentially, "you will not make a success of your ministry if you sit gossiping in the bookroom at 1701 Arch street half the day. A minister cannot loaf and win."

Senator Pepper more effectively than the knowledge that the hero of the "Erie Ship" is the author of the fantastic slogan, "We'll get the boys out of the trenches by Christmas," and the protagonist of a puerile peace propaganda was pouring Michigan money into Pennsylvania to induce the voter's choice. The name of the candidate who is to be the recipient of Mr. Ford's aid, if there is one, has not yet been disclosed. The fact that Major Reed is in the city, that he has conferred with Senator Republican and Governor Sproul, has brought again to the front with a rush the idea of effecting some sort of a compromise on the gubernatorial situation. An one leader expressed it: "The longer the present condition of factionalism exists the more dangerous does it become for the party. It is a matter of time before an element of bitterness among the followers of each candidate. This will extend beyond the primary and will react upon the successful candidate. It must be stopped."

For the Democrats are united for once. They realize now that in John A. McSparran, "dirt farmer," college graduate, Methodist Bible class leader, resourceful campaigner, their candidate, they have the best chance of winning a Governor they have had in thirty years. With the declaration from Gifford Pinchot that no "bosses" can dictate to him; John S. Fisher, confessedly a strong candidate at the present, refusing to consider withdrawal; Edward E. Beidleman, through Secretary Baker, of the State Committee, declaring his intention of remaining in the bitter end; Charles A. Snyder, feebly proclaiming his determination to run, and Harry E. Mackey protesting any intention of dropping out to one side, and a united Democracy on the other, the outlook is by no means rosy for the party of "Lincoln, Grant and Garfield."

There are persistent reports, and they are worthy of consideration, that if by any misadventure a certain Republican aspirant should receive the nomination in May, an independent Republican candidate for Governor might drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life.

Everybody knows what this would mean. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life. It is acknowledged that Gifford Pinchot and John S. Fisher will divide the Republican country vote and a large part of the woman vote. Just so would an independent Republican candidate for Governor drag away from the regular Republican candidate, and thus give the Democrat, Mr. McSparran, the opportunity of his life.

Japanese Ambassador Takes Leave of President—To Return in Fall Washington, March 27.—Ambassador Shidehara, of Japan, called at the White House today and said good-by to President Harding, preparatory to leaving tonight for San Francisco to sail April 2 for Japan. The Ambassador, on leaving the White House, said he would be gone several months and might possibly have to undergo an operation in Japan. He said that he hoped he would be able to return to Washington in the fall. During Mr. Shidehara's absence, the Japanese Embassy will be in charge of Sado Saburi, counselor.

Coal Mine Owners Fix Pay Cut Today

BIRTHDAY AT INSTITUTE

Wanamaker Institution Marks Its Thirty-first Anniversary

Wanamaker Institution Marks Its Thirty-first Anniversary

Methodists Attack and Defend Mayor

Methodists Attack and Defend Mayor

Reed Refuses to "Ride" for Grundy

Reed Refuses to "Ride" for Grundy

Coal Trade Booming

Coal Trade Booming

Brooklyn Won't Get Post

Brooklyn Won't Get Post

President Selects Under-Secretary

President Selects Under-Secretary