Nancy Wynne Says Many Will Spend Much Time in Church Today—She Sees Pretty Tweed Clothes. Talks About "Why Not 1922?"—Hospital Fete

A GOOD many are arranging to go down to Atlantic City today and tomorrow for the Easter week-end. With those of us who remain at home today will probably spend some of the time in church. There are services at almost every hour through the day in the various churches, from 8 in the morning on, and some of the churches in the center of the city will have the three hours' service from noon until 3 o'clock.

And besides the churches there are the Garrick Theatre and Keith's with preachers of various denominations. So many we all had plenty of places for service today.

AMONG those going down to Atlantic City for the week-end are the Ralph Earle, who will open their cottage at the Nuddy and Edmund Thayers as their guests. The James Francis Sullivan are down at the Traynors, and the R. Penn Smiths are at there, too.

THERE is no doubt about it what a sweater-tweed is here this spring, and here to stay. It's everywhere. You can't turn that you do not see a tweed dress or cape or suit. It is so common to every one, fortunately, and is extremely good looking, so I am glad it is here. It's quite one of the prettiest fashions we have had for a long time.

SPeAKING of "Why Not 1922," did you ever hear anything like the excitement over Jack Whiting's going on the stage? It's really great that "Why Not" last year gave him an opportunity of demonstrating his ability. You remember at the performance they had at the Academy of Music Mr. Ziegfeld came on with his hat, which he was much taken with Jack and with the little too dancer, who also signed up with him.

JACK has only been waiting for his parents' consent, and now that it is obtained, he will go New York under contract with Ziegfeld in May. But first we will hear him in "Why Not 1922." I tell you it's interesting. Perhaps next year Ernie Coleman will be on the stage, and you remember Peggy Tayer had an offer after "The Marriage Tax." We certainly have talented people. And Helen Ellason puts them all on as impresario. I must say, I think it's quite wonderful.

HAVE you heard about the beautiful fete which is to open the season's outdoor affairs? It's to be on May 12 at Miss Mary Converse's place in Rosemont, and it's to benefit the Catholic Benevolent League, which is a country house of the Presbyterian Hospital.

It is going to be given on a very large scale, from all I hear about it. Mrs. Robert M. Glavin, Jr., is the most prominent, is chairman of the whole affair, and she will be assisted by Miss Mary Converse, Mrs. Frank Roberts and Miss Grace Roberts as vice chairmen. Mrs. Henry Masters is secretary and Mrs. Recco Oberhauser is treasurer.

Mrs. Glavin tells me that they have the promise of a live pig and lamb for sale, and there will be guinea pigs, too, I suppose. Then there's to be a fashion show, and who do you think is at the head of that? Deborah Seal. You know Debby and her attractive laugh. She's a good looking and such fun.

Some of the other women interested are Miss Isabelle Rex, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. Howard Ketchum, Mrs. Whitwell Cox, Mrs. McClintock Howell, Mrs. E. J. Sensenbrenner, Mrs. Howard Kennedy Hill, Mrs. Frederic Gilbert, Mrs. Charles Heebner, Mrs. B. F. Richardson, Mrs. William Houston, Mrs. Frederic Howell, Mrs. Hugh Winter, Mrs. Allen Barr, Mrs. James Thorington, Mrs. George B. Evesh, Mrs. Alvin McCarter, Mrs. Walter Merson, Mrs. Allan Passmore, Mrs. L. W. Nickerson, Mrs. Edger Van Dyke, Mrs. Wilson Hedley, Mrs. Augustus Hugo, Mrs. Edwin Nicholson, Mrs. George Green, Mrs. Walter Waring Hopkinson, Mrs. John McQuade, Miss Blanche Wafer, Mrs. William Wells, Mrs. Bertha Benson, Mrs. Henry Heston, Jr., Miss Ella Dent and Miss Jennie McCreary. I am sure it will be a wonderful success.

The Converse place is simply beautiful, and it will be a great treat for many to see the grounds and, which have been closed for some years, and only opened again last season, I think, after Miss Converse's return from the Orient.

NANCY WYNNE.
