

Evening Public Ledger
PUBLIC LEDGER COMPANY
Cyrus H. K. Curtis, Publisher
John C. Martin, Vice President and Treasurer
Charles A. Tyler, Secretary

Member of the Associated Press
This Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for news and news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to this paper, and also the local news published here.

JARNDYCE OUTDONE
The latest form of opposition to executing the will of John G. Johnson raises a point of practical importance not heretofore exhibited.

OPPOSITION MOSTLY TALK
The renomination of Senator Hale in Maine and Senator Kellogg in Minnesota on Monday was expected.

THE JUDICIAL MIND AT WORK
That the assumption of judicial robes is conducive to philosophic calm is a long-attested fact to which new pertinence is accorded in Mr. Taft's conservative utterances regarding the fallacy of the United States to enter the League of Nations.

MR. RUTH'S NEW TROUBLES
Babe Ruth's ego is in no respect like the rest of his and Senator McCumber's opinion of Senator McCumber. It has expanded beyond all normal bounds.

THE MODERN FAUSTS
Faust sold his soul to the devil for a second youth, but the mature and aged gentlemen in this and other countries who do not like the prospect of their autumnal years

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

WHAT DOES LAW AMOUNT TO AMONG POLITICAL FRIENDS?
Former Treasurer Kephart Nonchalantly Admits That He Did as He Pleas'd, Regardless of the Statutes

Mr. Kephart exhibited an amazing composure when he admitted that he disregarded the express provisions of the law limiting the amount of deposits to be made in individual banks.

It is important that the truth be discovered. Who, if anybody, had the use of this money while it was carried in Mr. Kephart's secret fund? Why did not the State get interest on it?

Mr. Kephart exhibited an amazing composure when he admitted that he disregarded the express provisions of the law limiting the amount of deposits to be made in individual banks.

Still further, it was disclosed that there were two secret funds, apparently not carried on the books, which were used in cashing checks of various persons in need of money.

Mr. Kephart professed to be indifferent to the fact that he disregarded the law limiting the amount of deposits to be made in banks.

McCALL'S COALS OF FIRE
Those opponents of Senator Lodge who were hoping to defeat him for re-election in Massachusetts by having former Governor McCall run against him are to be disappointed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
I was very much entertained not long ago at some reminiscences that a group of half a dozen or so guests at an after-dinner chat indulged in after they were sure they were not being overheard by the younger persons of the party, who had on their part purposely removed themselves to another room for the more serious pleasures of dancing.

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

Mr. Johnson's contention that by marked increase of effort the fair could be held in accordance with the exact historical proprieties is in some respects theoretically sound.

Mr. Bok has laid particular stress upon this handicap, and also upon the unwisdom of volunteering promises at variance with realities.

A RAIL STRIKE UNLIKELY
APPROXIMATELY 50,000 ballots cast by members of the railway shop unions were, almost without exception, favorable to a strike.

Two Solomons
A New York magistrate sent two young chaffeurs to jail for one day each with books on traffic rules to study while they loafed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
I was very much entertained not long ago at some reminiscences that a group of half a dozen or so guests at an after-dinner chat indulged in after they were sure they were not being overheard by the younger persons of the party, who had on their part purposely removed themselves to another room for the more serious pleasures of dancing.

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

Mr. Johnson's contention that by marked increase of effort the fair could be held in accordance with the exact historical proprieties is in some respects theoretically sound.

Mr. Bok has laid particular stress upon this handicap, and also upon the unwisdom of volunteering promises at variance with realities.

A RAIL STRIKE UNLIKELY
APPROXIMATELY 50,000 ballots cast by members of the railway shop unions were, almost without exception, favorable to a strike.

Two Solomons
A New York magistrate sent two young chaffeurs to jail for one day each with books on traffic rules to study while they loafed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
I was very much entertained not long ago at some reminiscences that a group of half a dozen or so guests at an after-dinner chat indulged in after they were sure they were not being overheard by the younger persons of the party, who had on their part purposely removed themselves to another room for the more serious pleasures of dancing.

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

Mr. Johnson's contention that by marked increase of effort the fair could be held in accordance with the exact historical proprieties is in some respects theoretically sound.

Mr. Bok has laid particular stress upon this handicap, and also upon the unwisdom of volunteering promises at variance with realities.

A RAIL STRIKE UNLIKELY
APPROXIMATELY 50,000 ballots cast by members of the railway shop unions were, almost without exception, favorable to a strike.

Two Solomons
A New York magistrate sent two young chaffeurs to jail for one day each with books on traffic rules to study while they loafed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
I was very much entertained not long ago at some reminiscences that a group of half a dozen or so guests at an after-dinner chat indulged in after they were sure they were not being overheard by the younger persons of the party, who had on their part purposely removed themselves to another room for the more serious pleasures of dancing.

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

Mr. Johnson's contention that by marked increase of effort the fair could be held in accordance with the exact historical proprieties is in some respects theoretically sound.

Mr. Bok has laid particular stress upon this handicap, and also upon the unwisdom of volunteering promises at variance with realities.

A RAIL STRIKE UNLIKELY
APPROXIMATELY 50,000 ballots cast by members of the railway shop unions were, almost without exception, favorable to a strike.

Two Solomons
A New York magistrate sent two young chaffeurs to jail for one day each with books on traffic rules to study while they loafed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

By SARAH D. LOWRIE
I was very much entertained not long ago at some reminiscences that a group of half a dozen or so guests at an after-dinner chat indulged in after they were sure they were not being overheard by the younger persons of the party, who had on their part purposely removed themselves to another room for the more serious pleasures of dancing.

REORGANIZING FOR PROGRESS
The risk of losing the services of distinguished citizens in the active management of the fair is not manifestly comparable with the dangers entailed in a directing organization disrupted by conflicts of purpose.

Mr. Johnson's contention that by marked increase of effort the fair could be held in accordance with the exact historical proprieties is in some respects theoretically sound.

Mr. Bok has laid particular stress upon this handicap, and also upon the unwisdom of volunteering promises at variance with realities.

A RAIL STRIKE UNLIKELY
APPROXIMATELY 50,000 ballots cast by members of the railway shop unions were, almost without exception, favorable to a strike.

Two Solomons
A New York magistrate sent two young chaffeurs to jail for one day each with books on traffic rules to study while they loafed.

Happy Days
Half a hundred boys looted a car of watermelons on Washington avenue on Sunday.

Buried Treasure
Workmen excavating on the site of an old hotel in Flushing, L. I., uncovered a dozen boxes of old-time whisky.

AS ONE WOMAN SEES IT
Study of the Present by the Light of the Past Summed Up in the Statement That We Are Slaves to Our Plumbing

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

NOW MY IDEA IS THIS!
Daily Talks With Thinking Philadelphians on Subjects They Know Best

CHEVALIER LUIGI SILLITI
On Italo-American Citizenship
THE Italian citizens of the United States as a whole consider American institutions and ideals to be the best in the world.

Better Class of Immigrants
The class of Italians which has been coming to the United States has been of a distinctly higher type during the past few years.

Italian Government Aid
The Italian Government pays strict attention to those of its subjects who desire to emigrate to this country or to other countries to see that they conform strictly with the laws of admission of the country which they desire to enter.

Become Naturalized Early
As soon as the Italian decides that he will remain here, he usually becomes naturalized at once; he does not wait until some crisis makes it to his advantage to be a citizen of this country.

Italians in Pennsylvania
There are now in Pennsylvania 222,704 Italians born in Italy. These figures are from the Federal census of 1920.

American Institutions Admired
The Italians, both here and in Italy, have a profound admiration for American institutions and ideals. They like the governmental conditions under which they live in the United States and also the economic conditions which they find here.

SHORT CUTS
Orangemen know the Ku Klux Klan by a lemon. The Bonus Bill seemingly has nowhere to go but out.

Peace and Prosperity, sweet P's, were features of Germantown's flower show yesterday.

Higher gasoline price is predicted for this summer. Some prophets pick easy subjects.

Tariff tinkers are obviously of the opinion that this living cost deflation has gone far enough.

New York woman has applied to the Jockey Club for a jockey's license. Feminism again jockeying for position.

Chicago has unearthed a plot of criminals to put a bunch of crooks on the force. Interesting but hardly unprecedented.

England needs baseball, says Sir Arthur Conan Doyle. Well, perhaps it needs it more than it does spiritualistic seances.

"Dear, dear," murmured the mighty hunter, Auditor General Lewis, as he leveled his trusty gun, "I know who passed the buck; but who passed the dough?"

Hathor woman has jar of cherries nicked fifty years ago. Suggested title for fruitful topic: Cherries Reach Ripe Old Age.

Among the things "no feller can understand" may be included the opposition of the American Federation of Labor to the sales tax.

Tidluote, Pa., has two new oil wells, each producing over 150 barrels a day. Just a little suggestive of the old days of Colonel Drake at Oil City.

Perhaps the reason the police are trying to drive the ballyhoo men from Coney Island is because they think there is need for them on lower Broadway.

First thing he knows "The Ineffable Barrie" may wake up to find himself hailed as one of the world's greatest orators. And then what will he do?

The curious thing about travel on The Hague road to peace, as illustrated by France, is that the journey is almost simplified by making reservations.

The mare that goes at the behest of money (we gather, as we resume our study of political conditions) may be kept within the bounds of the law by means of a check rein.

What Do You Know?
1. What is a mandrill?
2. To what nations does the great island of Papua, or New Guinea, belong?

Answers to Yesterday's Quiz
1. The island of St. Croix, or Santa Cruz, of the Virgin group in the West Indies and belonging to the United States, was named after the discoverer to the production of sugar.

2. The greyhound is so called because it hunts the gray or badger.

3. A succedaneum is a substitute, thing, or rarely person, that one falls back on in default of another.

4. The famous poetic number known as the "Miserere" occurs in Verdi's "Il Trovatore."

5. John Milton wrote the dramatic poem "Samson Agonistes."

6. A "modus operandi" is the way a person goes to work; the way a thing is operated.

7. Charles Flammarion is a world-famous French astronomer. He was born in 1824.

8. Enchiridion is a book.

9. The Great Prophets of the Bible were Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel.

10. The Kingdom of Norway was separated from that of Sweden in 1905.