

WOMAN SHOTS ARCADIA CHEF; TRIES SUICIDE

Simonini, Once Servitor to Kings of Greece and Italy, Wounded in Bedroom

WIFE IN "LOVE TANGLE" ENTERS HOUSE BY A RUSE

Her Husband, Manufacturers' Club Chef, Had Left Her Because of Affair

AVENGING HONOR, SHE SAYS

Victim Pursues Her to Another Room and Grabs Her as She Presses Pistol to Temple

Joseph Simonini, assistant manager of the Arcadia Cafe and formerly a chef to royalty, was shot in the stomach, chest and arm today by Mrs. Marie Cochet, who then tried to shoot herself. Simonini is in a critical condition.

The attempted double killing occurred on the third floor of 1611 Pine street, where Simonini had a front room, and Henri Cochet, chef of the Manufacturers' Club, and the woman's husband, occupied a rear room.

Simonini, once chef to King Constantine of Greece and later to the King of Italy, was lying in bed at 9 o'clock this morning when the woman, who had been living apart from her husband, gained entrance to the house by a ruse.

The frenzied woman, who later told Lieutenant Belshaw she was avenging her honor, fled to the rear room, pursued by the wounded man. She said she intended to kill her husband and then slay herself.

Woman Fires Six Shots

She had fired all six shots in her revolver, three bullets lodging in a wall in Simonini's room.

Cochet was in a bathroom on the second floor when he heard the shots. He rushed upstairs and saw his wife in his room with the revolver pressed to her temple.

Simonini, with blood flowing from his wounds, was trying to grapple with the woman when the husband dashed into the room. Cochet plucked the weapon away from his hysterical wife.

"He crossed my path, he crossed my path," the woman wailed as Louis Mesa, owner of the apartment house, and Nellie Cooper, a colored maid, ran upstairs and helped to subdue her.

Mesa, Cochet, who returned from a visit to France three months ago, lived at 329 South Smalley street with her nine-year-old son, Henri, Jr.

Several months ago the husband refused to live with her any longer, according to the police. He suspected she was intimate with Simonini, but Mrs. Cochet insisted the ex-chef had forced his attentions on her.

Husband to Stand by Her

After the shooting, however, Cochet took a lawyer to City Hall for his wife. "I will stick by her to the end," he said as he left the office of Captain S. J. Scudder. "I think she did herself right. No jury in the world will convict her when they learn all the circumstances of the case."

Shortly before 9 o'clock this morning Mrs. Cochet, a pretty brunette about thirty-three years old, left her Sunday street apartment. She kissed Henri, her son, and told him to go to an address on South Eighth street if she had not returned by 9 o'clock.

Her apartment is just around the corner from the Pine street house, which she reached about 9 o'clock. She rang the bell and Mess responded. Before she had threatened to kill her husband and herself, Mesa related later, but Cochet paid no attention to the man's threats.

"I have some important letters for you," she said.

DRYS STOP SENATOR

"First Time I Have Ever Been Held Up," Says Dillingham

Montpelier, N. J., July 15.—(By A. P.)—Senator Dillingham, who is on his way to Washington, while motoring over the Waterbury-Montpelier road yesterday, was stopped by customs officers who were searching for bootleggers.

Senator Dillingham's only comment was: "This is the first time I have ever been held up—an interesting experience."

The customs officers' activities in searching other automobiles during the day yielded twenty cases of liquor.

SHOOTS AT INTRUDERS

E. Thompson St. Man, Aroused by Burglar Alarm, Thinks One Hit

Alexander Stepanowski, 4157 East Thompson street, emptied his revolver at two young men who saw in the yard of his home at 110 o'clock this morning and thinks he wounded one of them.

Stepanowski had his house equipped with a burglar alarm. Following a robbery some time ago, the bell rang this morning. He jumped up and grabbed his revolver. The men, frightened by the ringing of the bell, were trying to get over the fence into the alley when he fired. One of them, Stepanowski, told the police, groaned as though he had been hit.

Investigation showed the alarm had been set off when the robbers tried to tear out a screen in a rear window.

APARTMENTS TO SUIT EVERY PURSE

And meet every requirement may be found by consulting the Apartment Directory on page 19 and 20.—Adv.

Shot by Woman

MR. STOTESBURY TAKES FAIR POST

Banker Agrees to Head Finance Division of Sesqui-Centennial

ELECTION OF MR. BOK AS PRESIDENT SEEMS CERTAIN

Changes in Organization Will Take Place at Meeting of Directors Monday

N. J. RUM CARAVAN SEIZED IN NIGHT

Three Men, 2 Autos, Truck and $15,000 in Liquor Nabbed by State Troopers

DRIVING WITHOUT LIGHTS

Moving slowly through South Jersey with no lights to show its approach, a caravan of liquor was brought to a halt shortly before dawn today near Ham- mington by the New Jersey State police.

The cargo, valued at $15,000, was seized and three men in charge of it arrested and sent to Mount Holly for a hearing.

The three men arrested gave their names as John Bogiano, driver of the truck; Angelo Serale and Ferdinand De Stefano, drivers of the other cars.

Two other men, riding as passengers, one on the truck, the other in one of the touring cars, were held as witnesses. One of the men said his name is John McGinness. The other's name was not learned. All the men are Philadelphia.

Bogiano exhibited a permit to move the liquor from New York to Baltimore. Agent Carlata declared he does not believe the permit is genuine.

Lieutenant John S. Sticker and five troopers with State Prohibition Agents Carlata, Adams, Good and Kennedy, had been watching the roads in the neighborhood of Hammington for several days. They heard the faint murmur of motors coming along White Horse pike, but no sign of anything approaching.

Finally an automobile with lights on boomed up before Lieutenant Sticker. He ordered the driver to stop. An attempt to dodge past was abandoned when four other police jumped from the bushes and ordered the car to stop.

Two men in the car were held along the roadside until another car a few yards in the rear arrived. It was also stopped and two more men were lined up beside the first two.

The men were indignant. They denied being in collusion with bootleggers, but Sticker was unmoved.

A few minutes later a large motor-truck also with lights on appeared out of the darkness. The driver was ordered to stop. The truck apparently held a light load of hay, but the police discovered scores of cases of liquor of various brands.

Liquor in the touring cars was covered with tarpaulins. The cars were big and valuable machines. In one case of high-grade Scotch whisky, a quantity of gin, and some plain alcohol.

According to the police and prohibitionists, the shipment is only one of many, and other arrests are expected.

When the cars came into Mount Holly a great crowd gathered, many eyes being longingly at the necks of bottles growing from broken cases. Chief of Police Gaskill summoned his reserves and with the State troopers formed a cordon.

The men arrested will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Haines at Mount Holly late today.

BAUGH GETS $50,000; DROPS WILL CONTEST

Family Settlement Concedes Testa- mentary Capacity of Widow

Paul D. Baugh, son of Daniel Baugh, who died in Palm Beach, Fla., more than four years ago, has won a $50,000 cash. The estate, divided among numerous heirs, amounted to $50,000.

According to the agreement made June 30, and now a matter of record at the office of the Clerk of the Orphans Court, Paul D. Baugh consents not to contest the present or future will on any ground.

Following this family settlement, which concedes the testamentary capacity of Mrs. Anna Willis Baugh, widow of Daniel Baugh, the case was settled in the Register of Wills and the probate stands.

Baugh interpreted his honeymoon to contest the will nine months after it was admitted to probate. He received in the original will a trust fund of $200,000, which yielded about $10,000 a year.

HELD UP BY AUTO BANDITS, LOSES WALLET AND CARDS

Thieves Flee When Car Appears, but Disregards Victim's Hail

Three men in an automobile held up James McKenna, 3047 Fox street, at Twenty-ninth and Somer streets, early today and got only a wallet containing a car for their trouble.

Prickett, who works until midnight, was returning on foot to his home when an automobile pulled up beside him and a man jumped out, pointing a revolver at him with a command to "get out of the car."

Prickett, who works until midnight, was returning on foot to his home when an automobile pulled up beside him and a man jumped out, pointing a revolver at him with a command to "get out of the car."

MR. STOTESBURY TAKES FAIR POST

Banker Agrees to Head Finance Division of Sesqui-Centennial

ELECTION OF MR. BOK AS PRESIDENT SEEMS CERTAIN

Changes in Organization Will Take Place at Meeting of Directors Monday

N. J. RUM CARAVAN SEIZED IN NIGHT

Three Men, 2 Autos, Truck and $15,000 in Liquor Nabbed by State Troopers

DRIVING WITHOUT LIGHTS

Moving slowly through South Jersey with no lights to show its approach, a caravan of liquor was brought to a halt shortly before dawn today near Ham- mington by the New Jersey State police.

The cargo, valued at $15,000, was seized and three men in charge of it arrested and sent to Mount Holly for a hearing.

The three men arrested gave their names as John Bogiano, driver of the truck; Angelo Serale and Ferdinand De Stefano, drivers of the other cars.

Two other men, riding as passengers, one on the truck, the other in one of the touring cars, were held as witnesses. One of the men said his name is John McGinness. The other's name was not learned. All the men are Philadelphia.

Bogiano exhibited a permit to move the liquor from New York to Baltimore. Agent Carlata declared he does not believe the permit is genuine.

Lieutenant John S. Sticker and five troopers with State Prohibition Agents Carlata, Adams, Good and Kennedy, had been watching the roads in the neighborhood of Hammington for several days. They heard the faint murmur of motors coming along White Horse pike, but no sign of anything approaching.

Finally an automobile with lights on boomed up before Lieutenant Sticker. He ordered the driver to stop. An attempt to dodge past was abandoned when four other police jumped from the bushes and ordered the car to stop.

Two men in the car were held along the roadside until another car a few yards in the rear arrived. It was also stopped and two more men were lined up beside the first two.

The men were indignant. They denied being in collusion with bootleggers, but Sticker was unmoved.

A few minutes later a large motor-truck also with lights on appeared out of the darkness. The driver was ordered to stop. The truck apparently held a light load of hay, but the police discovered scores of cases of liquor of various brands.

Liquor in the touring cars was covered with tarpaulins. The cars were big and valuable machines. In one case of high-grade Scotch whisky, a quantity of gin, and some plain alcohol.

According to the police and prohibitionists, the shipment is only one of many, and other arrests are expected.

When the cars came into Mount Holly a great crowd gathered, many eyes being longingly at the necks of bottles growing from broken cases. Chief of Police Gaskill summoned his reserves and with the State troopers formed a cordon.

The men arrested will be arraigned before United States Commissioner Haines at Mount Holly late today.

BAUGH GETS $50,000; DROPS WILL CONTEST

Family Settlement Concedes Testa- mentary Capacity of Widow

Paul D. Baugh, son of Daniel Baugh, who died in Palm Beach, Fla., more than four years ago, has won a $50,000 cash. The estate, divided among numerous heirs, amounted to $50,000.

According to the agreement made June 30, and now a matter of record at the office of the Clerk of the Orphans Court, Paul D. Baugh consents not to contest the present or future will on any ground.

Following this family settlement, which concedes the testamentary capacity of Mrs. Anna Willis Baugh, widow of Daniel Baugh, the case was settled in the Register of Wills and the probate stands.

Baugh interpreted his honeymoon to contest the will nine months after it was admitted to probate. He received in the original will a trust fund of $200,000, which yielded about $10,000 a year.

HELD UP BY AUTO BANDITS, LOSES WALLET AND CARDS

Thieves Flee When Car Appears, but Disregards Victim's Hail

Three men in an automobile held up James McKenna, 3047 Fox street, at Twenty-ninth and Somer streets, early today and got only a wallet containing a car for their trouble.

Prickett, who works until midnight, was returning on foot to his home when an automobile pulled up beside him and a man jumped out, pointing a revolver at him with a command to "get out of the car."

Prickett, who works until midnight, was returning on foot to his home when an automobile pulled up beside him and a man jumped out, pointing a revolver at him with a command to "get out of the car."

BRIDESBURG MAN DIES IN AUTO UPSET

Crushed After Doctor Tries to Avoid Stalled Car

August Miller, forty years old, Bristol street near Richmond, Bridesburg, died early this morning in a motor accident in Welsh road, near Bettevayres. Dr. C. W. Judd, Richmond street near Bristol, a neighbor and friend of Miller, was severely cut by broken glass.

Last evening Mr. Miller, passing the physician's house, saw him and stopped to chat. The doctor suggested that Miller go along for a ride.

They drove out through the country and were going over Welsh road when a small touring car loomed up in front of them with rear lights and stalled.

Dr. Judd swung his car sharply to the right to avoid a collision. His machine climbed an embankment, but he swung it safely round again. It turned over, however, flattening the physician and his passenger inside.

Miller evidently had put his head out of the window as the oncoming passenger car stalled in front of him. As Dr. Judd's car turned over Mr. Miller's head was crushed between the window frame and the motorist in the stalled car got the machine going and callously drove away at full speed.

A few minutes later another car came along, found the overturned machine, and helped Dr. Judd, who had crawled through the broken top, to extricate his friend.

M'CORMICK SAILS; FEELING "BULLY"

Won't Discuss Marriage Pros- pects of Daughter, Nor Say Anything of Ganna Walska

ALMOST MISSED HIS TRIP

New York, July 15.—Harold F. McCormick, chairman of the board of the International Harvester Company, sailed for Europe on the Olympic today, feeling "bully" after an operation he underwent recently in Chicago.

He willingly discussed such personal affairs as his own health, but when it came to talking of his daughter, Mathilde, and the prospects of her marriage with Max Oser, Swiss riding instructor, "that's a little too personal," he declared. He added, however, that his daughter was not sailing with him.

"Boys, I can't discuss it," he said. "Yes, I'm feeling fine. Bully. Never better in my life."

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

He left Chicago in such a hurry that he forgot to reserve a berth, so when he got here yesterday the steamer chart was filled and he had to be content with a little inside room, the cheapest of outside berths.

Mr. McCormick boarded the Olympic at 5 o'clock this morning, six hours before the gangplanks were pulled in—yet he almost missed the boat.

STORM ARMORY AFTER SHOOTING

Carbondale Mob Seeks Guns to Avenge Attack by Rail Strike-Breakers

DOOR FORCED OPEN BEFORE POLICE DISPERSE CROWD

Sheriff Disarms Six D. and H. Guards—State Police Are Called

LAST-MINUTE NEWS

BODY OF EDGEWATER WOMAN, MISSING SINCE JULY 4, IS FOUND IN A CORNFIELD

LATEST RACING RESULTS

BOBBY JONES, PAR 70, TIES FOR GOLF LEAD

SENATE DEFEATS DYE EMBARGO EXTENSION

BASEBALL SCORES

WOLVERINE FLIER DERAILED BY LOOSENED TRACK

JAPANESE WARSHIPS SENT TO CANTON

HUSBAND IS TRACED IN HAMMER CRIME

WOMAN DESCRIBES TRAGEDY

SLAIN IN A SALOON

LOOTS NURSES' HOME

FORD'S OFFER REJECTED

SENATE COMMITTEE TURNS DOWN MUSCLE SHOALS PROPOSAL, 9 TO 7

SAY MRS. MILLER GIVES NEW BRUNEN EVIDENCE

HELD IN SECLUSION AS STATE WITNESS AND NOT ON MURDER CHARGE

DO YOU WANT A JOB? THERE ARE WANTED COLUMNS TODAY ON PAGE 20.—Adv.

GIRLS ARE ATTACKED ON STREET BY MAN

One Struck With Revolver—Their Screams Make Him Flee

A tall, well-dressed Negro attempted to attack two girls at Nineteenth and Cambria streets late last night, but fled when their screams attracted the police.

He escaped along the tracks of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway.

The girls are Alma Nolan, sixteen years old, and Florence Gordon, four years old, of Cambria and Opal streets. The Negro struck Miss Nolan on the head with the butt end of a revolver. She was attended at the Women's Homeopathic Hospital.

Both girls were on the way home from a carnival. While they were passing a lumber yard the Negro sprang from behind a tree. He had a revolver.

When the girls screamed the Negro struck Miss Nolan and fled. Patrolmen McDevitt and Lafferty, attracted by the girls' cries, fired several shots after the fleeing man.

CHILD DIES OF SCALDS

5-Year-Old Leon Dhrager, 2443 S. 8th St., Had Been Playing Near Tub

While playing on the kitchen floor today at his home, 2443 South Eighth street, Leon Dhrager, five years old, fell into a tub of hot water. He was badly scalded that he died shortly after being admitted to the Methodist Hospital.

The boy's mother was working in another part of the house when she heard the child's cries. She picked him out of the tub and ran with him to the home of a nearby physician, who summoned an ambulance.

PRESIDENT ANGELL ILL

New Haven, Conn., July 15.—James Rowland Angell, president of Yale University, is in New Haven Hospital, but his physicians today expressed the belief that he would return home in a few days.

At first it was thought he had typhoid fever, but the doctors attribute his indisposition to over-exertion during the commencement season.

R.R. STORES SHOPS AS MOVES FOR PEACE END

Labor Board Abandons Hope for Present, No Common Ground Being Found

CLASH OVER SENIORITY; ROADS READY TO FIGHT

Determined to Run Repair Plants by Employing Non- Union Men

HARDING STILL OPTIMISTIC

President Expects to Avoid Seizure of Carriers and Mines by U. S.

Congress May Aid Rail Men by Wage Guarantees

Washington, July 15.—(By A. P.)—Hearings will be held soon by the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee to initiate revision of the Transportation Act and deal with problems developed by the present strike, Chairman Cummins stated today.

The first effort of Congress, Senator Cummins said, probably would be to amend the law so as to guarantee a fair living wage to railroad workers. Later, but probably not during the present strike, he said, an effort would be made to provide penalties for violation of orders of the Railway Labor Board.

Senator Cummins, who had a long conference last evening with President Harding, said he was convinced that amendment of the Transportation Act in these respects was necessary. He said the committee hearings, which will be held to secure all possible aid in drafting a new formula on railroad wages, would be held in secret, but not so as to interfere with the present strike negotiations.

Chicago, July 15.—Virtually abandoning hope of an early settlement of the railroad strike, following the failure of last night's conferences, rail executives today prepared to make a determined effort to reopen shops with non-union employees, according to a high official of the United States Railroad Labor Board.

This official said peace moves would be suspended for the present, as the carriers and strikers were unable to find any common ground for starting negotiations when Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the Labor Board, sought to get them together yesterday. Mr. Hooper added to the general depression today by announcing that no further conference with the union heads were scheduled at present.

The stumbling block in the path of settlement, it was said at the railroad board, will be the union's demand for restoration of seniority and other privileges which the strikers demand.

The roads indicated to Mr. Hooper that the men who have stuck by their employers and the new employees enlisted will be protected in the seniority they have already earned.

Yesterday's session between Mr. Hooper, acting as an official envoy of the railroad, and the union leaders ended in what was apparently an unbreakable deadlock. Of the four main questions at issue not a single conciliatory step was taken on any one.

Strike reports indicated that the nation's production is gradually growing more serious.

Washington, July 15.—(By A. P.)—Desiring the apparent lack of progress in efforts of members of the Railroad Labor Board to effect a settlement of the strikers' strike, Administration officials today still were hopeful that a solution to the strike would be found before any situation arose which might force drastic action by the Government.

President Harding also is hopeful that an agreement can be reached in the near future.

LAD WHO TOLD OF LETTING CHUM DROWN IS ARRESTED

Now Claims He Told False Story to Free Himself of Blame

Lancaster, Pa., July 15.—(By A. P.)—Charged with homicide, Samuel Harton Jacobs, twelve years old, of Terrace Hill, who, according to the State police, confessed to causing the death of his chum, Romanus Miller Swickard, twelve years old, by drowning in the Conestoga on July 1, was arrested today and brought to