GOAL PARLEY HERE TAKES UP NEW CONTRACT

First Definite Move Toward Settlement of Anthracite Strike is Announced

JOINT STATEMENT ISSUED BY LEWIS AND WARRINER

Agreement May Be Reached on Monday, When Conferees Hold Next Session

LASTING PEACE IS SOUGHT

Both Sides to Controversy Agree to Thorough Investigation of Hard-Coal Industry

The first significant move toward an early settlement of the hard coal strike was made today when the operators and the mine union leaders began discussing the terms of a possible contract.

At the two previous joint conferences in this city both sides virtually were deadlocked on the operators' proposal to arbitrate and the union leaders' insistence on collective bargaining.

The joint session this morning, like the others, was in the Lafayette Building office of Samuel D. Warriner, chairman of the General Policies Committee of the anthracite operators.

Another conference will be held at 4 P. M. Monday, when an agreement may be reached that will end the strike of 155,000 miners idle since April 1.

Joint Statement Issued

After this morning's session Mr. Warriner and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, issued this joint statement:

"The conference of the anthracite operators and mine workers met this morning at 10 o'clock and continued its efforts to reach an agreement for the anthracite field. The time of the conference was consumed in a discussion of the terms of a possible contract. The conference will reconvene Monday at 4 P. M."

The sides' joint conference began at 10 o'clock.

The conferees have reached an agreement. Both sides favor a "fact-finding" commission which will investigate the coal industry on questions that breed disputes.

It was stated that both Mr. Lewis

DIES AFTER ONE DRINK OF HOME-MADE WHISKY

Mrs. Jeannette Markey, 76, Succumbs Suddenly in Camden

Mrs. Jeannette Markey, seventy-six years old, 203 Thirtieth street, died suddenly in Camden today, after drinking some home-made liquor given to her when she complained of illness.

Mrs. Markey went to Camden this morning to visit Mrs. Anna Newlin, 1100 Emma street. According to Coroner Bentley, the aged woman became ill and died while driving as a restaurateur. She died before a physician reached the house.

"There is no doubt in my mind," said Coroner Bentley, "that Mrs. Markey's death, although due to natural causes, was superinduced by home-made whisky."

STORE VANDALS LEAD WOMAN TO TRY SUICIDE

Mrs. Rose Cutone Despondent Because of Tomato-Strewn Shop

After some boys had splattered tomato sauce on the walls of her produce store at Sixteenth and Mifflin streets, police say, Mrs. Rose Cutone, twenty-four years old, 1817 South Bancroft street, tried to kill herself with gas last night.

She was found unconscious in her home and was taken to St. Agnes' hospital. Physicians say she will recover.

TRUCK HITS WOMAN

Helen Devine Suffers Fractured Skull—Driver Arrested

Miss Helen Devine, thirty-five years old, housekeeper for T. D. Richardson, Maryland avenue and St. Martins lane, sustained a fractured skull this morning when she was knocked down by a truck at Germantown avenue and Center street.

The driver of the truck, Ralph Pasquillo, 4908 Wayne avenue, was arrested and taken to the Germantown police station.

Miss Devine was taken by a passing automobile to the Germantown hospital, where she was still unconscious at noon.

CLOUDS ONLY A BLUFF

Fine, Clear Weather Prediction for Tomorrow and Next Week

Sunny skies and no unusual heat is the outlook for the week-end and the first half of next week. Those leaving with migrating birds in the clouds appear threatening, but Mr. Blise declares it is mostly a bluff, with a possibility of showers, followed by a fine day tomorrow.

The Government forecast sent out at noon today from Washington and covering conditions in the North and Middle Atlantic States, promises fair weather and moderate temperatures for the first half of next week, with occasional showers and some scattered rain during the latter half. No great changes in temperature are looked for, and last night's cooling breeze, which swept right into the city, had cleared away the remainder of the last hot spell.

She Sues McFadden

Mlle. Blanche Miquet

Mlle. Miquet Wants $50,000 Damages Due to False Arrest After Jewel Robbery

SECOND ACTION OF KIND

Alleging that she was humiliated and disgraced as a result of her arrest for the theft of jewels valued at $200,000 from the home of George M. McFadden in October, 1920, Mlle. Blanche Miquet, a French maid formerly employed by the family, brought suit for $50,000 damages against Mr. McFadden today in Mead court.

Mlle. Miquet is now in Paris, and asserts in the bill filed by her counsel, Robert W. Beatty, that she is unable to obtain employment on account of the stain on her name due to the arrest.

Second Damage Suit

The action of the maid is the second damage suit growing out of the McFadden jewel theft, which stirred Philadelphia society circles for several days. Jeanne Arberlet, a governess employed by the family, also arrested in connection with the theft, brought suit for $100,000 damages against Mr. McFadden in Common Pleas Court of this city April 22.

Through their counsel both women were liberated by habeas corpus proceedings and after a somewhat stormy three days' trial before Judge Johnson, discharged for lack of evidence.

United States Senator George Wharton Pepper and former State Attorney General John C. Bell were counsel for Mr. McFadden in the case.

Among the jewels stolen was a valuable necklace belonging to Mrs. McFadden's mother.

Were Entertaining Party

The robbery occurred shortly after the McFaddens had returned from a trip to Europe. On the night of the robbery Mrs. McFadden had entertained a party of friends at dinner. When she retired she forgot to put the jewels in the safe, as was her custom, and discovered their loss in the morning.

COMAR CAPTURES FIRST TWO SETS FROM O'HARA WOOD

Spaniard Surprises in Davis Cup Match, Leading by Score of 8-6, 6-3

OPENING SET THRILLER UNTIL ANZAC WEAKENS

Spanish Ambassador in Attendance—Alonzo Faces Patterson

By EDWIN J. POLLOCK

Playing like a fighter with his back to the wall, Count Manuel de Comar, Spain, surprised 2500 tennis enthusiasts at the Germantown Cricket Club this afternoon by taking the first two sets of his match against Pat O'Hara Wood, of Australia. The scores were 8-6, 6-3.

There were some desperate rallies at the net, and when both players approached the barrier the Anzac usually got the decision. However, the Spaniard was excellent in the back court, his placing down the side lines was remarkable, and his driving past Wood when the Antipodean came to the net while he remained in the back court earned him many points.

Count de Comar led almost from the beginning. Wood pulled up at 4, 5 and 6 all on games, but lost on his own service, and then the Latin breezed through for a victory on his own show.

Do Comar kept up his good work in the second set, and held the lead on games at 3-2. Then he spurred and won the set by 6-4.

At the net the defendant ran to the umpire's chair and the linesmen got ready for action. Then the fireworks started.

Wood-Gomar Match

Wood started serving, and the Spaniard won the first two points on outs by the Australian. Then the Count netted one, and game went to deuce. The game went to deuce twice, and then deuce was called again two nets by De Gomar gave the Spaniard the game.

He played from the back court, shooting to Wood's back hand. The game went to deuce twice, and then De Gomar took his second straight game on two outs by Wood.

The Count was a trifle wild in the third game, and lost on Wood's serve. The Latin got in a jam in the fourth game, but pulled out with some neat placements, and won on nets by Wood. This gave him a lead of 3-1 on games.

The next game went to deuce twice before the Australian won on a placement down the side line. The Spaniard went wild on his own service and missed some splendid opportunities for kills at the net. Wood won the game and tied the score at three-all.

A placement, two nets and an out gave the Spaniard a love game for the lead. They came to the net for points in the next game, and the Spaniard was superior at the barrier. The Count committed a double fault, and again the score was tied. Wood took the next on his own serve, and went into the lead for the first time in the match.

Gomar Takes Set

The Spaniard, however, did not lose courage. He won the game and evened the Australian on claim at five-all. The next went to deuce, and then

HARDING RECEIVES POWERS ON TARIFF

Borah Is Only Republican in Senate to Vote Against Proposition

MEASURE WILL PASS TODAY

Washington, Aug. 19.—The presidential powers provisions of the tariff bill finally were reapproved, 45 to 26, by the Senate today, after the section relating to coal, tar, dyes and synthetic chemicals had been so amended that many decreases of rates decided upon by the President would become operative within fifteen days after the issuing of a proclamation, instead of sixty days, as originally planned.

The final vote on these provisions of the bill was along almost strictly party lines, Senator Borah being the only Republican to vote against them, and Senators Droussard and Kendrick the only Democrats supporting.

By a vote of 44 to 15 the Senate rescinded its former action in eliminating from the bill a provision prohibiting the importation of any foreign-made merchandise bearing a trademark similar to any trademark owned by an American citizen without the written consent of the American owner.

On a vote of 35 to 34 Senator Levermore lost his fight to reduce by an average of 10 per cent the protective duties on woolen cloth, the Senate ratifying his action in approving those duties, which range from 40 per cent to 55 per cent. Ten Republicans voted

THOSE RIDING ON FERRIS WHEEL ALSO LEFT IN AIR AS POWER FAILS

Atlantic City, Aug. 19.—Atlantic City, Ventnor, Margate City and Longport—all of Absecon Island—was without electric service for more than two hours. Both the regular and auxiliary transformers for both the direct and alternating currents burned out. The trouble developed at 10:30 A. M.

Service was completely paralyzed in the four resorts of the island. The larger hotels conducted their own independent plants and were not affected. Several provide their own illumination and the power for the elevators and other uses is supplied by the Atlantic City Electric Light Company. As a result there was no elevator service.

Many amusing situations developed when the power went off without a second's warning. The current flickered once about a half-hour before the final shutdown. At George C. Tilly's Steeplechase Pier on the Boardwalk several of the amusements were stopped in mid-air. Passengers on the Ferris wheel and airplanes were rescued by the use of ladders.

Card lunches were the rule in homes. Impatient patients in the dentist office, fumed and then became reconciled to the condition and made later appointments. So far as could be learned there was no serious confusion. The possibility that the service was "overloaded" is advanced as the cause of the trouble.

SCHOOLGIRL BOWS TO MOLLA MALLORY

Helen Wills Defeated, 6-3, 6-1, in Final Round for Women's Tennis Title

MAKES PLUCKY FIGHT

Forest Hills, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory, six times holder of the United States women's tennis championship, rose to the stately heights of brilliance here this afternoon in the final of the thirty-fifth annual national tournament, defeating sixteen-year-old Helen Wills, of Berkeley, Calif., 6-3, 6-1.

Three thousand enthusiasts were in the west stand when the former Norse girl scored her third and deciding ten of the United States championship bowl.

The second trophy she has captured during her meteoric career on American courts.

Miss Wills gave some of her best in the opening set and up to one stage of the match she held the New Yorker to a 6-2 tie in games. She was then outplayed from L. Torrey, of Boston. Her husband, a powerfully built man of aggressive personality, is manager of the Chandler and Cleveland Auto Agency for this city. Before their separation the couple lived in Oak Lane. Mrs. Caldwell is of medium height and weight, with dark hair and blue eyes.

Neilson, the defendant, is small and slight, being about five feet three inches in height, and weighing between 110 and 115 pounds. His hair is iron gray. He maintains a home at 309 South Fifth street, and also has rooms at the University Club.

In 1911 he married Mrs. Kate Felton Elkins, widow of William L. Elkins, Jr. His wife, through the terms of the will of Mr. Elkins, forfeited her share to a third interest in his estate of $1,125,000. She is now said to be at the home of her parents in California.

The suit has been filed, and Judge Rogers has set bail at $1500. It is alleged, in brief, that Neilson made "wrongful, unlawful and malicious" statements, etc., to her husband regarding her. This is alleged

CONGRESS WILL PUSH HARDING'S STRIKE PROGRAM

Senate and House Leaders Proceed With Plans for Drafting Legislation Asked

COAL INQUIRY COMMISSION TO BE CONSIDERED FIRST

Proposal for Fuel Purchasing Agency and Price Control Faces Indefinite Delay

TO AMEND LABOR BOARD ACT

Senator Cummins at Work on Measure to Make Its Decisions Enforceable

By Associated Press

Washington, Aug. 19.—Republican leaders in Congress today proceeded with plans for action soon on some of the legislation asked yesterday by President Harding in his address on the coal and railroad strikes.

The President's minor proposals, it was said, would be taken up first, with prospects of indefinite delay on the part of the major proposals. Senator Kellogg, of Minnesota, today sought to arrange a meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee next Monday to consider his bill giving Federal protection to and Federal Court jurisdiction over aliens, which legislation was urged vigorously by the President.

The Executive's recommendation for a fact-finding commission to investigate the coal industry will be taken up soon, Chairman Borah, of the Senate Labor Committee, said, but probably not until after the Senate disposes of the soldiers' bonus bill, which is to be taken up next week with a hard fight forecast.

Senator Borah today received the letter of Secretary Hoover, of the Department of Commerce, recommending investigation against coal profiteering. There were no indications, however, that the recommendations for a Federal coal purchasing and selling corporation or for legal authority to control coal prices and distribution would be considered soon in the Senate, although House leaders were prepared to take up these subjects.

Senators Considering Bills

Several Senators were reported to be considering bills to meet the President's coal legislation requests, and Chairman Cummins, of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee, has been drafting a bill to amend the Transportation act to make the Railroad Labor Board's decisions enforceable. The latter legislation was said generally, probably would await the next session of Congress, except possibly for committee action in the meantime.

President Harding, during the morning, called Senator Borah on the telephone and gave his general approval to the Senator's bill to establish a coal investigation commission, which is pending before the Senate. The President asked Senator Borah to confer with him on details of the bill, and indicated that he might desire a commission of three members.

The agency proposition, which would be designed primarily to control prices, likely would require more time for consideration than the fact-finding commission, as some leaders were said to oppose the re-creation of any such body as the war-time coal administration, which was declared was not a success.

First-hand information as to the status of rail strike settlements negotiations in New York was received today by President Harding from A. P. Taylor, general manager of the Association of Railway Executives. Mr. Taylor declined to discuss what he had told the President, but remarked that the situation was still "unsettled."

Among the Administration's supporters the message was commended. Several Democrats and a few Republicans withheld comment while privately expressing the opinion it would contribute no improvement to the present situation. Opinions on the message follow:

Secretary Davis—"A splendid message and one of the great acts of American workers will subscribe to it."

Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts—"I think it a most excellent message. The President will certainly have my most earnest support, and in my opinion, the hearty support of Congress and the American people."

Senator Watson, Indiana—"I was very greatly pleased by the President's message. It was what I was anxious for him to say three weeks ago. In my judgment he expressed the views of nine-tenths of the American people."

Senator Curtis, Kansas—"I think it was a very strong message. It fully and impartially revealed the situation and made recurring reference to what is approved by all persons who believe in protecting the public."

Senator Kellogg, Minnesota—"It's a fine message, and I think it is a very great step in the right direction. I am sure that it will be the hearts of all Americans."

Senator Cummins, Iowa—"I con-
