

Women's Corner

MEETING OF TRAVEL CLUB HELD

The Great Falls Travel club held a short business meeting Thursday morning at 10 o'clock in the children's room of the public library. Mrs. George Edwards read a paper on "Interesting Features of a Trip Through China-town." At 11 o'clock the guests and members listened to an address on "Cosmopolitanism" by the Rev. Christoph Keller. The club reported on the tapers for its choice of a flower for Great Falls.

G. A. R. LADIES OFFER SPECIAL PROGRAM

Under the auspices of the ladies of the G. A. R. two concerts have been arranged to be given on the evening of May 4 to 8:15 and on the afternoon of May 5 at 3:15 o'clock in the palm room of the Hotel Rainbow. On the notice order appear the names of Sonya Nedriess, soprano; Signor Philip Sevasta, harpist; and Lee Cronican, pianist. The two concerts will be given in connection with music week.

SILVER TEA TO BE GIVEN

The woman's auxiliary of the Episcopal church will hold a silver tea at the home of Mrs. E. A. Shaw, 1617 Central avenue, this (Friday) afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock. All members and friends of the parish have been invited.

HOLDING A HUSBAND

Adele Garrison's New Phase of...

REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

THE GUESS THAT LILLIAN MADE WITH CURIOUS EFFECT.
I have sat through many plays where I experienced a far less distinct dramatic thrill than I did when Lillian so quietly yet effectively held toward the young motorcycle officer the tiny badge and card which she had taken from her flash over the chauffeur's face, which he bent his head quickly to hide. But the young son standing behind his father, bent almost double in laughter which he evidently had much trouble to keep inaudible. He was evidently enjoying to the utmost this fruition of Lillian's suggestion that to be put in a corner like a child would be a most salutary lesson to his father.

I know of course, what they were—the credentials identifying her as an important member of the diplomatic secret service, which she always carries, but which she does not use unless she deems it absolutely necessary. The eyes of the young officer rounded and widened until I wondered if he would be able to keep them in their sockets. He flushed a brick-red, and evidently casting about wildly for some action to show her his recognition of her rank, and his apology for the annoyance to which she had been subjected, he put his hand to his cap in a military salute.

"I thought I told you—" I looked quickly at the three men who were spectators of the little scene. On the faces of Jones, the chauffeur, and Ted, the son of the owner, there was mirrored intense interest, a great deal of amusement, but no particular surprise. I decided that while they could not have known the particular nature of the discomfiture which Lillian had intended to administer to the man who had aggrieved her, yet they had anticipated from her manner something surprising and humiliating.

The pompous owner of the automobile looked more apologetic than ever as he saw the action of the young motorcycle officer. He strode toward us, his nostrils wrathfully opening and closing as I have seen the gills of a stranded fish move.

"What does this nonsense mean?" he snarled. "I thought I told you—" Lillian said something to the young officer which I could not catch. He nodded comprehendingly, then turned with an air of assurance to the older man. I think he had been secretly humiliated by the way the other man had treated him, though overawed by his knowledge of the pompous man's wealth and power, and was not sorry to retaliate a bit.

"You've made a great mistake, sir," he said, and though his words were respectful enough, there was a contemptuous edge to his tone which enraged the older man still more.

"Mistake!" he bellowed. "I never make mistakes—" A Little Stage Play.

"Officer!" Lillian's tone was like the snap of a whip. "May I suggest that you are wasting time here? If you will go down to this gentleman's automobile and search it, you will find some bottles that may interest the prohibition enforcement officials."

As the full beauty of this announcement dawned upon Jones and Ted I saw a look of intense gratification

flash over the chauffeur's face, which he bent his head quickly to hide. But the young son standing behind his father, bent almost double in laughter which he evidently had much trouble to keep inaudible. He was evidently enjoying to the utmost this fruition of Lillian's suggestion that to be put in a corner like a child would be a most salutary lesson to his father.

I know of course, what they were—the credentials identifying her as an important member of the diplomatic secret service, which she always carries, but which she does not use unless she deems it absolutely necessary. The eyes of the young officer rounded and widened until I wondered if he would be able to keep them in their sockets. He flushed a brick-red, and evidently casting about wildly for some action to show her his recognition of her rank, and his apology for the annoyance to which she had been subjected, he put his hand to his cap in a military salute.

"I thought I told you—" I looked quickly at the three men who were spectators of the little scene. On the faces of Jones, the chauffeur, and Ted, the son of the owner, there was mirrored intense interest, a great deal of amusement, but no particular surprise. I decided that while they could not have known the particular nature of the discomfiture which Lillian had intended to administer to the man who had aggrieved her, yet they had anticipated from her manner something surprising and humiliating.

The pompous owner of the automobile looked more apologetic than ever as he saw the action of the young motorcycle officer. He strode toward us, his nostrils wrathfully opening and closing as I have seen the gills of a stranded fish move.

"What does this nonsense mean?" he snarled. "I thought I told you—" Lillian said something to the young officer which I could not catch. He nodded comprehendingly, then turned with an air of assurance to the older man. I think he had been secretly humiliated by the way the other man had treated him, though overawed by his knowledge of the pompous man's wealth and power, and was not sorry to retaliate a bit.

"You've made a great mistake, sir," he said, and though his words were respectful enough, there was a contemptuous edge to his tone which enraged the older man still more.

"Mistake!" he bellowed. "I never make mistakes—" A Little Stage Play.

"Officer!" Lillian's tone was like the snap of a whip. "May I suggest that you are wasting time here? If you will go down to this gentleman's automobile and search it, you will find some bottles that may interest the prohibition enforcement officials."

As the full beauty of this announcement dawned upon Jones and Ted I saw a look of intense gratification

IRIS FAVORED BY WOMEN FOR CITY'S FLOWER

Club Representatives Act; Approval to Be Sought From Council and Park Board.

The iris, known also as the fleur de lis, was almost unanimously favored by the committee composed of officers of the various women's organizations which met in the children's room of the public library Thursday morning. Various flowers were proposed but the iris was chosen as the most hardy and appropriate for the flower of Great Falls.

In its selection the committee argued that the iris grows under all conditions and already may be found in most of the yards in Great Falls.

Because it needs no special care it has been planted in the soldiers' plot of Highland cemetery. It is a perennial, increasing from year to year, and remains green all winter. The plant and flowers are sturdy and it planted along the streets or on the sides of the river bank would not suffer from non-protection against the winds. There are 25 varieties of the iris and if properly selected its blossoms may be had blooming in the city from early spring until late in the fall.

The matter of its choice will be submitted to the various men's organizations and later to the city officials and the park board. Mrs. H. B. Mitchell was elected permanent chairman of the flower committee and Mrs. W. M. Treadwell, vice chairman.

Ten Clubs Represented. At the meeting Thursday morning there were representatives from the following women's organizations: Thimble club, Ladies of Woodcraft, St. Ann's Alta society, the woman's clubs and a representative from each of its four departments, art, social economic, music and dramatic art and mothers' sisterhood of the First Christian church, Travel club, Newcomers' club, City Federation, Women's Relief Corps, and the Association of University Graduates.

WIFE DESTROYED PEACE OF MIND

Sven G. Evans Is Granted Divorce; Ethel Condon Also Gets Marital Freedom.

Finding that the conduct of Goldie V. Evans towards her husband, Sven G. Evans, had been such as to destroy his peace of mind and happiness and make the continuation of their marital relations unreasonable and unbearable, Judge J. B. Leslie held Thursday that the wife was guilty of cruelty and awarded the husband a decree of divorce. Default was entered against Mrs. Evans.

In the case of Ethel Condon against Robert Condon, a default decree issued to the plaintiff after she had proved that her husband had for more than a year failed to provide for her support. They were married at Columbus, Mont., July 14, 1919.

Temporary alimony was awarded Mrs. Sylvia Sheeks while her divorce suit against B. A. Sheeks is pending, but in what amount will not be determined until today (Friday).

9 Babies Brave Storm to Go to Health Clinic

Despite the stormy weather which lasted during the clinic hours Thursday afternoon there were nine babies brought to the baby clinic of the public health department for weighing and measuring. Five of them were making their first appearance at the clinic. Miss Dora Mecklenberg and Miss Nella M. Woods, assisted Dr. Aloysius Dolan in the physical examination of the babies.

MERCHANTS HEAR TALK BY LEAVITT

Greater Co-Operation Between Great Falls and Nearby Towns Is Urged.

Urging the merchants of Great Falls to co-operate in benefiting Great Falls and emphasizing the need of working with surrounding towns and communities, Scott Leavitt spoke at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Great Falls Merchants' association Thursday in the palm room of the Hotel Rainbow.

"The prospects of the city are wonderful," said Mr. Leavitt, "and to get those things which would benefit Great Falls most, all citizens and organizations must co-operate for the good of the city. During my travels around the state I always noticed a kindly feeling towards this city and its projects, and its possibilities are unlimited."

"One of the most important factors in benefiting Great Falls is the immediate need of co-operating with the towns and organizations in close proximity. The need of this was shown when the park-to-park highway project was going through and the co-operation of other small towns on the route was desired. They responded then, due to their good feeling, and it is up to us to show them that they are important members of the community."

Clarence Conrad, president of the organization, thanked Mr. Leavitt for the address in behalf of members of the club. Fred Perra opened a discussion on current prices of articles of clothing in Great Falls which was followed by the general weekly business talk.

BUILDING PLAN CONSIDERED BY MUSIC SOCIETY

Erection of New Structure for Musical Purposes to Be Decided in May.

The construction of a modern building for the instruction of music in Great Falls will be decided at a special stockholders meeting of the Musical Art association of Great Falls to be held the third week in May, according to B. P. Reckardt, director and treasurer of the organization.

"Great Falls is in need of an institution where musicians can meet and where music teachers can give lessons. During the past the main drawback in the instruction of any musical instrument was the objection of many citizens living near the school."

"The directors of the association realizing that the city must have some meeting place for musicians will formulate plans for raising funds in Great Falls at the next meeting and then a site will be chosen for a permanent institution."

"The object of the organization is to further the fine arts in the city and make Great Falls the leading music center of the state. With the material we have at present no difficulty should be experienced in forming the best musical corps in the state."

Passenger Service on G. N. Scobey Line to Be Discontinued

Passenger service will be discontinued on the Scobey line, running between Bainville and Scobey beginning Sunday, May 1, according to an announcement received at the office of J. J. Pewters, general traffic agent of the Great Northern Railroad Co. Discontinuance of the service is the result of slack business and it is expected that other stations will suffer a like change in the near future.

Housewives' Aids to Be Demonstrated

Home testing circles will be organized in communities throughout Cascade county this spring and summer under the direction of the Cascade county farm bureau. These circles will learn to make various articles for use at home and will loan them to their neighbors to show how they should be made.

One of these circles was held by the Nelson community, Tuesday, April 28, with Mrs. Charles Lister at her ranch home near Monarch. The pressure cooker, step-ladder stool, kitchen jockey, iron board, pan lifter, long handled dust pan, the reel and rice, measuring cup, spatula and scraper were some of the many useful articles discussed for the women by Miss Alberta Borthwick, home demonstration agent. Miss Borthwick also gave a short talk on gardening and clothing.

The testing circle will last for about two months and at the end of that time a community demonstration will be given.

9 Smallpox Cases Reported in City

Four cases of smallpox were reported to the health department Wednesday and five new ones were reported Thursday, in addition to several suspicious cases.

One of the patients was a child attending the first grade at the Washington school building and parents having children attending the first grade at this school have been urged to have their children vaccinated.

Vaccinations will be performed by either Dr. Dolan or Dr. Fred T. Foard of the health department free of charge.

CHEST COLDS
Apply over throat and chest—cover with hot flannel cloth.
VICKS VAPORUB
Over 17 Million Jars Used Yearly

CASH AND CARRY

SUGAR	11 lbs. for.....	$1.00
EDEN FRESH CREAMERY BUTTER, 2 lbs. ....		75c
BREAD	16-oz. loaves, 3 for.....	21c
BROOMS	each.....	59c
SAPPHIRE FLOUR	98 lbs. ....	$4.15

All Orders Amounting to $5.00 or Over Delivered Free. Less Than $5.00 a Delivery Charge of 10 Cents Will Be Added.

SANDAHL GROCERY

WYOMING COAL

No Soot — Low Ash — No Clinkers
HOT STUFF
$11.25 Ton Load Lots; $11.50 Single Ton
Delivered Subject to Your Inspection

PURITY COAL CO.

TELEPHONE

JACK RABBIT GREATEST WELL IN CAT CREEK

FULLY DEVELOPED ACREAGE OF
WATANA PETROLEUM CO.

Our vice president and geologist returned from the field yesterday and wires from Lewistown indicate that the Jack Rabbit well is flowing and that the production is greater than at first estimated, 50 barrels per hour gushing from the casing, also that this great strike absolutely proves an even greater well, the Watana drill site being only 600 feet from the Jack Rabbit well. The holder of Watana is made rich by this great strike.

The Baker No. 1 is due in any day and will doubly prove Watana holdings. Don't wait until it is too late. Our office was besieged yesterday by Great Falls people anxious to place their bets on Watana. Careful, conservative citizens who believe that Watana is the best investment in the field today. You cannot make a mistake by following the lead of these men and women.

BACK WATANA FOR EVERY DOLLAR YOU CAN RAISE
UNITS NOW $100 — MAY ADVANCE ANY DAY

Write or Wire for Literature and Oil Maps

WATANA PETROLEUM CO.

HOME OFFICE
Block, Great Falls, Montana

TRUSTEES
IRVIN W. WALKER, Vice President.
JONES, Secretary-Treasurer.

J. I. E.

Get Your Money's Worth

YOU simply cannot afford to buy anything but the best overall. You want your money's worth now-a-days—and the only sure way to get it is to buy Oshkosh B'Gosh. Remember "They Must Make Good or We Will."

OSHKOSH OVERALL CO.
Oshkosh, Wis.

OSHKOSH B'GOSH

UNION MADE OVERALLS
"They Must Make Good or We Will"

OSHKOSH OVERALLS SOLD BY

Kaufman's

212 CENTRAL AVE.

SELF SERVICE

PAY CASH — 419 CENTRAL — AND SAVE

Ranch Butter, good grade, 2 lbs. ....	68c
Head Lettuce, big solid heads.....	10c
Fresh Bunch Carrots, each.....	8c
New Cabbage, solid green heads, lb. ....	4c
Lard, 10-lb. pails.....	$1.70
Milk, tall, 2 cans.....	25c
Extra Standard Corn, 9 cans.....	$1.00
Extra Standard Tomatoes, 10 cans... ..	$1.00
Shoulder Hams, Swift's, lb. ....	19c
Wide Lean Bacon, lb. ....	25c
Chicken Feed, 100 lbs. ....	$3.00
Flour, Rex or Sapphire, 98 lbs. ....	$3.94

— PAY CASH — — AND SAVE —

THE VALLEY MARKET

WE DELIVER — PHONE 9578

Stone's Catsup, 2 bottles for .....	25c
Heinz medium size Peanut Butter .....	30c
Heinz Cooked Spaghetti, 2 for .....	25c
Walter baker's Chocolate, 1 lb. ....	59c
Old Manse Maple Syrup, quart can .....	78c
Fancy Brick Cheese, per lb. ....	38c
Extra tender Garden Peas, 2 cans .....	25c
Crosby Sugar Corn, can .....	15c
Royal Anne Cherries, can .....	35c
Cube Sugar, 2 lb. package for .....	29c
Stone's Soups, 2 cans for .....	25c

FISH DAY

The Finest Variety of Fish in the City

WE SOLICIT YOUR PATRONAGE AT THE SIGN OF THE ELECTRIC STEER