BENSON APPEALS TO OFFICERS AND MEN OF SERVICE

Asks Rank and File of the Merchant Marine to Accept Wage Readjustments.

New York, May 8.—Chairman Benson of the shipping board, has addressed an appeal to officers and men of the merchant marine asking their co-operation with the board's policies in the marine situation.

He urged that readjustments in wage scales be accepted. The board had not singled out the seamen for reductions, he said, but cuts had been asked in the wage scale in shipyards and repair yards, which in most instances have been agreed to.

"Review of developments of the regrettable marine labor controversy," he said, "should convince all unbiased men that the course pursued by the shipping board is sound and fair, that the economic conditions fully justify the readjustment of wage scales and working conditions."

He promised full protection would be given by the board to all who kept ships in operation. The fact that the board is enabled to keep its boats operating indicates, he said, that the personnel agree with the board's position. He reminded the men that the board had effected increased rates to cope with increased living costs, and that American laws give better protection and working conditions to seamen than the laws of any other nation. The decline in ocean freight has necessitated general liquidation.

PORTLAND SEAMEN REJECT SHIPPING BOARD'S OFFER

Portland, May 8.—The local Marine Engineers' Beneficial association voted for rejection of the shipping board's proposal for a 15 per cent wage cut and a bonus system, according to a statement issued by Barney Dionne, secretary. The result of the vote was forwarded to national headquarters of the union.

The shipping board steamer Pawlet sailed Sunday night for the Orient, breaking an extended tie-up because of the shipping shortage.

She sailed with a full crew and the personnel was all American, declared James W. Christian, district agent of the operations division of the shipping board.

PILOTS VOTE TO REJECT

San Francisco, May 8.—By unanimous vote the San Francisco Association of the Masters, Mates and Pilots' association of the Pacific coast rejected the government proposal to end the strike which has tied up American vessels here. Last night, the marine engineers voted to reject the proposals.

GALVESTON MEN ACCEPT

Galveston, Texas, May 8.—The Galveston branch of the Marine Engineers' Beneficial association voted to accept the final proposition of the shipping board, which provides a wage reduction of 15 per cent, but retains the 8-hour day.

Jews Are Defended Against Anti-Semitic Attacks in America

Atlantic City, N. J., May 8.—Defense of American Jews against anti-Semitic attacks was made by Samuel Dorf, grand master of the United States grand lodge, Order B'Nai B'rith, in a message delivered to members of the order at their convention Sunday.

"The Jewish people," the message said, "have contributed their full share to the progress, the welfare, the prosperity and the happiness of the themselves intensely patriotic. We therefore, denounce the libelous and defamers of the Jew who would sow the seeds of discord among their fellow men and seek to create race antagonism."

FANS ARE ON EDGE AT SCHAUER-FRANCE BATTLE HERE MAY 16

Winner of Contest Will Be Deluged With Offers to Appear Elsewhere.

The eyes of the boxing world will be centered on Great Falls the night of May 16 when Johnny Schauer, of St. Paul, the lightweight champion of the northwest, and Earl (Young) France, of Los Angeles, claimant to the lightweight title of the Pacific coast and southwest, meet in the 15 round headline event of the annual program at the Grand theater. Promoters will anxiously await the returns of the bout and look forward to signing the winner before their clubs. Schauer is now in line for a fight with Rocky Kansas at Detroit, while the Capital City Boxing club of St. Paul also wants him to meet Ward but Schauer is skeptical as to the prospects of this bout being arranged as he has sought Ward before and never had luck to meet him.

They also sought to match Schauer and Fowler but the weight question prevented them from arranging this as the headline event from their card and they are still seeking an opponent for the St. Paul lightweight. The American Legion club of Rock Island, Ill., wired his manager, Mike McNulty, Saturday and asked his fighter's terms for a bout at Rock Island with Mike Welch of Indianapolis who defeated Al Van Ryan of St. Paul on their last card.

France is a fighter of no mean ability and will likely give Schauer plenty to think about but this is just what the St. Paul fans claim he wants. "The better they fight the more satisfaction there is in beating them," is the way Schauer considers France's ability. Besides lightweights, some of the premier fighters of the country are seeking Great Falls as their "stamping grounds" and it is very probable that Great Falls will become the fight center of Montana and with improving times will be in a position to stage some bouts which will make promoters in larger cities jealous of the Legion's ability in securing the class men of the game for their shows. One of the latest to look to Great Falls is Mike Collins, manager of Mike Gibbons and Jack Malone, middleweights of St. Paul, who says that the west looks good to him and he would like to line up bouts in this vicinity.

Another St. Paul middleweight would like to appear before Great Falls fans and Ortega or Malone would be his choice if he were selecting. Malone is a stable warrior to show his wares in Montana. Emke is a strong contender for the middleweight title, but has been laid up for about two months with injuries received in training. He has been fighting for two years and is 22 years old. When he started fighting he was matched with lightweights as the twin city men did not like his game. One of his fights was against Cliff Kramer, St. Paul, 187 pounds, who later fought Farmer Lodge. He has sought Malone on several occasions but the latter always claims he is a welterweight when Emke looms on the horizon. Ortega has also been sought by Emke on the coast but Emke has never been able to appear against the Portuguese battler. Emke's last fight was in Minneapolis a couple of months ago when he substituted for Jimmy Joe Quinn against Eddy Sullivan on a day's notice and gave Sullivan a severe drubbing. Prior to that he beat Quinn in Minneapolis in a 10 round bout. He also knocked out Al Williams and Billy George at writlans and won a 10 round bout with Soldier Bartfield was sought but the soldier refused him. Other fights on Emke's record are draws with Johnny Selmar and Frankie Denny and a knockout of Earl Dwyer in one round and a win over Billy Newman at St. Louis in three rounds by the same route. He was matched with Johnny Sudenberg for April 19 and also had a match with "Wild" Bill Bailey at Fargo on April 25 but broke his thumb in training some time prior to these dates. He has fought 27 ring battles and won 16 of the K. O. route.

The eight-round semi-windup of the Legion card is looked forward to with anxiety. Both Pete Bross and Bill Crawford, Great Falls middleweights look for a win in short order and it is very probable that there will be a K. O. Crawford is training hard and is well down to the 165 mark which he is required to make. He will do some boxing Monday. Bross is on a ranch at Great Falls with his manager, Fred Goldhahn, but will return to Great Falls Tuesday and work out with Schauer.

The four round preliminaries will bring out a good deal of real milling and it is a question whether the bout between the colored boxers, Billy Smith of Great Falls and Ted Jones of Bure, will outlast that between Chick Ferguson of Great Falls, and Tom Johnson of Havre. Ferguson has progressed in the mitt pastime and will give his opponent plenty to worry about.

A class bantam is also seeking Montana as a scene of future bouts, and he is "Babe" Asher, bantamweight champion of the A. E. Asher has fought the best bantams in the game, and among his bouts are: An eight round draw with Jimmy Wilde, English champion, at St. Louis; a 12-round no decision bout with Kewpie Callender; 12 and 15 round no decision fights with

FRAZIER HIGH GUN AT TRAPS SUNDAY AFTER 'SHOOT OFF'

Choteau Marksman Makes 47 Out of 50 and Cleans Up With 25 Straight.

Inclement weather failed to keep the members of the Great Falls Rod and Gun club and outside enthusiasts from the Earling park traps Sunday and shooters participated in the registered shoot, the regular weekly shoot, the W. R. Wilcoxon medal cup shoot and a special feature of the afternoon was presented when a quartet of members challenged C. L. Flannigan for his "goat button." In the registered shoot, C. G. Elton, C. In the shoot off Elton broke 23 out of 25 birds and took possession of the cup. He holds it until eligible shooters issue a challenge to him. P. W. Woodbury held the cup over the winter season. In the "goat button" shoot Flannigan was challenged but shot too good for his opponents and when the smoke of battle cleared away the challenged member emerged with his "goat button," grasped firmly in his hand and with it was "two bits" contributed by each of the losing challengers.

The scores of the registered shoot were as follows:

Schauer will work out with Ferguson and Bross, both of whom are appearing on the program. France is not expected to arrive in town yet, but is expected in the course of a couple of days, and undoubtedly will bring sparring partners from Butte, where he has been making his headquarters.

THIS WEEK'S GAMES WILL GIVE AN IDEA OF TEAM STRENGTH

Big League Schedules Call for First Inter-Sectional Contests of Season.

New York, May 8.—The first inter-sectional battles in the major leagues will be played in the western and eastern teams of each league.

The Pittsburgh National league leaders are strongly fortified in pitching strength for their invasion of the east, while the staff of the Cleveland Americans, world's champions, appears well prepared to take care of the eastern invaders. Pittsburgh will play in Boston and Philadelphia before attacking the stronger Brooklyn and New York teams. Cleveland will be host to its nearest rivals, Washington and New York, while Detroit will take on the two eastern teams in the reverse order.

In the National league the Pittsburgh twirler has pitched an average of about 3/4 runs a game and the Brooklyn and New York box men have scored upon a slightly higher rate. The winning streak of the Pirates and the Giants were interrupted Sunday by Cincinnati and Brooklyn respectively. Pittsburgh had won nine straight and New York six.

The Pirates and the Giants were the only National league teams to gain ground last week. Most of the other teams had unsteady pitching. Philadelphia's staff is doing well but has been handicapped because of weak batting. In the American league Cleveland appears to be the only team which will give strong opposition to the two strong eastern clubs, unless Detroit's heavy batting can carry its faltering pitching staff to victory.
