

POLICE JUDGE'S WAGE CUT; NO ONE NAMED TO POSITION

Action Is Taken by City Council Without Dissenting Vote; Regular Meeting Night Made Monday Instead of Tuesday.

Taking action as recommended in a motion by Alderman R. R. Johnson one week ago, the city council Monday night passed an ordinance reducing the salary of the police magistrate from $155 to $50 a month. The ordinance was passed as an emergency measure and became operative when it was approved on second reading. No voters were cast against the reduction.

The council made no move towards filling the vacancy in the office of magistrate and no intimation was given as to how many remain of the 20 candidates who announced before the reduction in salary was proposed. The office became vacant through the death of the late John T. Earll and George Raban is continuing as an official whose successor has not been elected and qualified. Harry Sheppard, former alderman and now justice of the peace on the west side, filed with the council Monday night an application for the appointment and stated his willingness to serve for $50 a month.

Monday to Be Meeting Night.
By passing on first and second reading a resolution providing for the holding of the weekly council session on Monday instead of Tuesday night, the council concurred in Mayor Ray M. Armour's suggestion of last week that the meeting date be advanced one night. Another resolution provided that all hearings, protests and petitions which are heard on the night of the council session be also advanced to Monday night.

On request of H. R. Wahoske, division freight and passenger agent for the Milwaukee railway, the council conferred upon the public improvement committee, the city engineer and the fire chief the power to act upon the road's application for a permit to install partitions on the second floor of its Great Falls passenger station. Alterations are desired to accommodate an express company which will transfer its offices from Spokane to Great Falls June 1.

Wage War on Dandelions.
The council voted unanimously to duplicate the dandelion picnic of the last two years as a prize to school children who destroy the greatest number of the yellow pests. One hundred dollars was appropriated to meet the cost of the picnic and a citizens' committee will be named by Mayor Armour to supervise the contest. It is the intention to repeat the picnic of former years and to make the prize winners honor guests on the day of the picnic. The date of the picnic was not determined, but this and other details will be announced this week. The picnic will probably be given before June 1.

Smallpox Hangs On Among Children Here Is Health Report
Although every effort has been made to eradicate the disease, it continues to be reported to the department Monday. Practically all of the smallpox cases have been among children. All children of Great Falls who have not been vaccinated and all adults who were vaccinated more than seven years ago are urged by the health department to be vaccinated or re-vaccinated. Vaccination will be done free of charge by Dr. Aloysius Dolan or Dr. Fred T. Board of the public health department.

Health Report Filed.
Dr. A. Dolan, secretary of the joint board of health, filed a report for April showing that cases of whooping cough and measles were reduced in the city during the month, but that smallpox cases slightly increased. In March there were 136 measles cases and in April there were 46, while whooping cough cases were reduced from 43 to 24. Smallpox cases increased from 26 to 33. Dr. Dolan's report quoted the state board of health as saying that whooping cough and measles were a greater menace to child life during the last winter than any other diseases. The report showed that diphtheria is now under control in the city and that no cases have occurred on the west side since two carriers were discovered and treated in that section of the city two months ago. Previous to then, there had been an average of three cases per month across the river. Two new residents of the west side developed diphtheria soon after their arrival, but the cases were quarantined and the disease did not spread.

City Has $277,163.
The annual report of Treasurer W. P. Wren for the year ending April 30 showed a balance of $277,163.95 in the treasury May 1, as against $371,405.44 one year ago. Receipts, less transfers, were $973,444.55, and disbursements, less transfers, $1,067,686.99. A detailed statement by the treasurer gave the yearly tax delinquencies in the department's special improvements and maintenance since 1910. The total now delinquent is $21,181.79, representing a reduction of one-third during the last year. Delinquencies for 1920 were $8,983.30. Treasurer Wren's April report showed a balance April 1 of $298,149.60, receipts of $29,205.00, disbursements of $50,190.74, and a balance May 1 of $277,163.95.

City Won't Cut Cottonwoods.
The petition of H. A. Templeton for the removal of the cottonwood trees in front of his residence was denied on recommendation of the boulevard committee. The committee found that trees cannot be cut unless they are a menace to property or unless they are a majority of the property owners in the affected boulevard district. The Paris store was permitted to install plates with the name "The Paris," in the sidewalk around the Liberty theater building on recommendation of the public welfare committee. A petition for a lunch wagon permit for the vacant lot adjoining the James hotel on First avenue south was referred to the public welfare committee.

Public Improvement Committee.
The public improvement committee was charged with the responsibility of investigating a protest from property owners on Eighteenth street between Third and Sixth avenue against the construction of boulevards within that territory. The protesters stated that those who desired boulevards should construct them independently, and declared that business conditions do not justify the creation of a district. It was also stated that the city's financial condition will not permit adequate care of boulevards now being maintained. Protest of property owners on Second avenue southwest between Third and Fifth streets against the construction of concrete sidewalks and curbs on either side of that thoroughfare was found sufficient to defeat the project within the affected territory and the council, on recommendation of the public improvement committee, ordered the proposed work abandoned. The council concurred in the same committee's recommendation for the construction of cement walk and curbing on Central avenue west, between Fifth and Seventh streets. Opening of bids for district 397 was postponed until May 18.

R. S. Gaunt, inspector of dance halls, filed a report for April showing that seven halls were inspected, 17 dance permits and one annual permit issued. Receipts of the department were $50, of which $30 was for fines imposed upon people arrested under the dance hall ordinance. A drain layer's license was issued to Otto Kiessig on committee recommendation. The $100,000 official bond of Treasurer W. P. Wren and the $500 bond of Weightmaster W. P. Beachley were approved, as was the personal surety of the West Side State bank. The bank's bond was for $10,000 and was signed by W. H. George, R. B. Noble and L. H. Hamilton.

Appointments Confirmed.
Mayor Armour's appointment of Charles Landgren as marketmaster, whose duties are incorporated with those of the boulevard superintendent, and of Michael Hull as journeyman plumber were unanimously confirmed. No appointments were submitted for the office of water registrar. After adjournment, Mayor Armour said he had expected one of the aldermen to introduce the subject of a wage scale for the coming year, but that for some reason the matter was not mentioned. Alderman George T. Booth demanded that the impending ordinance be amended to permit the seizure of dogs which are not kept confined, but the opinion prevailed that so long as an animal is on his owner's premises it cannot be interfered with. Booth's demand was made, he said, because dogs are doing damage to the boulevards at many places on the south side. The judiciary committee and City Attorney Charles Davidson will investigate and report next week on the constitutionality of an ordinance such as proposed by Alderman Booth.
