

DISARMAMENT SUNDAY MAY BE OBSERVED HERE

Great Falls Pastors Will Discuss Matter at Meeting in Y. M. C. A., Tuesday.

Great Falls churches will probably consider plans for the observance of Disarmament Sunday, which falls on June 5, at a meeting of church representatives Tuesday afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Disarmament Sunday marks the culmination of a united movement by all the churches of America in favor of an international reduction of armaments.

The Rev. V. V. Loper, pastor of the First Congregational church; the Rev. Christoph Keller, of the Episcopal Church of the Incarnation, and the Rev. Leo L. Totten, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, have been selected as members of the Great Falls committee on reduction of armaments, and have expressed themselves as heartily in favor of the movement to do away with armament rivalry among nations. The movement is sponsored by the Church Peace Union, founded by Andrew Carnegie. It has the support of many noted churchmen and laymen. Leaders of the various faiths have given the plans their unqualified endorsement. Directors of the movement have urged church congregations to send resolutions to senators and congressmen, pointing out the imperative necessity for a disarmament conference of the leading nations.

Mr. Bennett's shoulder was injured and he received severe lacerations about the head.

Conditions Better in Montana Than in East, Says Corcoran

"Conditions are better in Montana than anywhere in the middle-west," says J. H. Corcoran, attorney, who returned to Great Falls Saturday from a several weeks' trip through the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin. He was called east by the death of his sister at Fargo and accompanied the body to Prescott, Wis., for burial. Mr. Corcoran also states that the people through the northern states of the middle-west are excited over the oil situation in Montana and particularly so in Minnesota and Wisconsin. A number of capitalists in these two states with whom he spoke were planning to come to Montana this summer to look over the oil fields.

STAR "PAN" SHOW COMING TUESDAY

Head-Line Act Owned by Alexander Pantages Swellest "Girl Act" Out, Report.

Reputed to be the largest and best "girl act" ever placed on the Pantages circuit is that entitled "A Japanese Romance," which will be presented Tuesday and Wednesday evenings at the Grand theater. This feature act, according to Manager Steege of the Grand, is owned by Alexander Pantages and is declared to be the best attraction ever offered to the Pantages fans.

The act carries a cast numbering 16 people. The star members of the group are Carl Dyal, Sallie Kieth and George Gould. The chorus is composed of girls of more than average beauty and they have remarkably good voices, says Mr. Steege. The act carries a special scenery of the kind necessary for a Nipponese setting. The scenery is fashioned from silks and satins. Five other good acts make up the coming Pantages bill, said Mr. Steege, who Sunday received a telegram from Calgary, where it is now showing, asserting it is the best "Pan show" seen this year.

A complete radio telephone unit, powerful enough to operate for distances up to 15 miles, has been developed that weighs but 60 pounds.

LOCAL AD CLUB IS NOT NOTIFIED OF COAST MEET

Tacoma Expects 1000 Delegates to 18th Annual Gathering of Pacific Bodies.

No arrangements have been made by the Great Falls Ad club to participate in the eighteenth annual convention of the Pacific coast advertising clubs, which will be held in Tacoma July 3 to 10. The local organization has not been formally notified of the convention and until it will make no plans. According to a communication received from the Tacoma Ad club, which has charge of the convention plans, more than 1000 delegates are expected from the principal cities of California, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and British Columbia.

Elaborate entertainment preparations have been made by the Tacoma Ad Club, the communication states. Following an inspirational meeting July 3, devoted to the ad men's efforts to encourage truth in advertising and business dealings, delegates will be entertained at a series of Natal Day events. These will include a military, fraternal, advertising and industrial parade at 10 a. m. and in the afternoon, the annual national auto racing classic of 250 miles for a $25,000 cash purse at the Tacoma Speedway. At night is scheduled a band concert, military and fireworks spectacle in the stadium. A nine-vessel squadron headed by the U. S. S. Arkansas of the Pacific fleet will be anchored in Commencement Bay opposite the stadium. The convention climax after three days of business sessions interspersed with banquets, dances and receptions, will be reached in a three day trip to Rainier National Park. Here will be held the annual ski-jumping tournament and a mid-summer snow frolic. Camp Lewis with its 10,000 troops will be inspected enroute. The convention closes July 10 after the delegates have enjoyed the beauties of the national park with its 28-glacier system, the greatest single peak geyser system in the world.

Railroads have granted a special fare of one and a half times the single trip fare for all convention delegates.

Japanese will link the ports of Dair-en and Port Arthur with a road limited to the use of automobiles and other rubber tired vehicles.

WILD CAYUSES ROAM PLAINS, IS BOSTON REPORT

Montana Homesteaders Hire Professional Hunters to Slay Them, Is Stated.

Boston papers have achieved a great scoop on Montana newspapers. A recent issue of the Boston Globe tells a story of the warfare being waged on the Indian cayuse by Montana homesteaders. The influx of settlers is bringing about the extinction of that species, the Boston writer declares. Professional hunters have been employed to rid the ranges of the cayuse and the animals are "following down the same old trail of the West to oblivion after the buffalo, the antelope, the cowpuncher, the stage driver and the Indian to give way for purebred cattle, automobiles, silos, and 'dude' tourists."

Following is the story as it appeared in the Globe: "Livestock men of Montana are turning their backs on their old friend the Indian cayuse, and are taking steps to rid the range of every member of this species. "The Indian cayuse is a scrubby scrawny, evil-eyed, evil-tempered and tough little horse, weighing between 600 and 750 pounds. For years these horses fed on the open range of the state in large bands and until a score of years ago were sold in the principal cities by the Indians for prices varying from $2.50 to $7 a head for a particularly bright colored pinto with big splotches of red and white. "With the influx of homesteaders into Montana during the last few years the land which was formerly free for all to graze their cattle is rapidly disappearing. "The water holes have been fenced up and rough mountainous country, the last stand of the bear, deer, elk, coyote, timber wolf, mountain goat and mountain sheep is now being invaded by the cayuse, who in turn are being killed off and chased out for beef cattle. "Stockmen recently met there and adopted a resolution planning to rid their ranges of all cayuses. They will be killed by professional hunters and the hides sold for leather or rounded up and corralled for shipment to a market, probably in the southern states where several trainloads of horses were shipped and successfully marketed during the last few months. "The cayuse is following down the same old trail of the west to oblivion
