A LITTLE BIT OF BELGIUM IN STATEN ISLAND

Getting the dogs ready for the morning delivery of milk. Each dog wears its leather muzzle such as it would wear in Belgium. On this little farm in Staten Island lives this Belgian who supplies most of the necessities of life to his countrymen in the little Belgian colony which has sprung up there. All the quaint customs are left intact and it is not surprising to see the dog cart with its load going the rounds every morning.

YALE'S VARSITY TRIUMPHS OVER HARVARD'S CREW AT NEW HAVEN, CONNECTICUT

The Yale varsity crew, despite general prophecies to the contrary, won a hard fought victory over the Harvard eight on June 24th, in the revival of their historic dual regatta over the Thames course at New London, Conn. Trailing the Crimson oarsmen for the first three miles the Bulldog eight by powerful rowing caught up and finished a half a length ahead of Harvard. Photo shows Yale crossing the finishing line.
