New Price Reduction on Cars Announced

Prices have been reduced on both the Hudson and Essex open touring cars, according to word received Wednesday by W. W. Wight, Great Falls dealer in these cars. Hudson super-sixes, which last year sold for $2,900, will now be sold for $1,895, while the Essex price, which last year was $1,795, has dropped to $1,395. Officials of the two companies manufacturing these cars state that the heavy sales of this summer have exhausted old inventories and reduced overhead costs so that now they are able to buy materials at new low costs. This is the third cut in prices of the Hudson and Essex cars since the peak quotation.

TENT FLAPS FALL WHEN RAIN HITS

Tourists at Auto Camp Muffle
Machines to Keep Out Wednesday Night's Shower.

Tent flaps were pulled in and doors slammed shut as the rain started pouring at the tourists' camp Wednesday night. In a few minutes automobiles were dark mounds in the dim twilight with tarpaulins and compasses hurriedly thrown over them, and all that could be heard was muffled mumbering within the tents as people discussed the suddenness of the rain and satisfaction of having all holes covered.

Have Twin Beds in Auto.
Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Robinson of Bushnell, Ill. were visitors at the camp Wednesday. They have come from Tacoma where one month was spent. By the time they arrive home, they will have traveled more than 7,000 miles in less than two months. One month was also spent at Lewistown, Mont., visiting with a son.

"I think we have the greatest equipment for comfort and compactness I have seen all along the road. I invented it myself during the winter months and it so provides that, if stranded any place by rain or any other cause, we could easily get along for three days.

"Our 'twin beds' are two cots stretching from the top of the rear seat of the automobile to the front of the car. They are so built as to be folded in the day time and, at night, all we do is to undo them, stretch the seats, and are ready to sleep. We always travel with the side curtains up, except the two front ones, and are protected from any sudden change in temperature or weather. Our large lunch box is placed under the beds and is divided into compartments for thermos bottles and lunch. We carry a steamer trunk on the rear seat and two suit cases and a 10-gallon can of oil also in the back. Nothing is on the outside of the car and it is perfectly balanced."

Returning from Yellowstone.
Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Smith of Denver came in Wednesday night from Yellowstone park. Mr. Smith represents the Charles Candy Co. of Newark, N. J. Mrs. Smith teaches in the Denver public schools. They are on their way home.
Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Radcliffe and daughter Betty, of Medicine Hat, Sask., are in Great Falls for the second time. They have toured Yellowstone park and are on the way home.

Swiss scientists who have made extensive blood tests or representatives of many nationalities have suggested that the Asiatic and African races had an origin independent from the European.

SHORT AND UGLY WORD IS HURLED BY ATTORNEY TO ATTORNEY AND BACK AGAIN IN POLICE TRIBUNAL

By speaking a few soothing words, threatening to impose fines for contempt of court and extending conciliatory hands between two attorneys as one was addressing menacingly toward the other, Police Magistrate Harry Sheppard quelled an impending ruckus on the rostrum of his courtroom Wednesday afternoon. Each attorney was representing a defendant accused of assault and each defendant had charged the blame against the other, when J. N. Thelan, counsel for Strato Kafkas, objected to methods of re-direct examination followed by O. A. Gerth, attorney for Theodore T. Talo. Mr. Thelan insinuated pointedly that Mr. Gerth was pursuing the tactics of a pettifogger and Mr. Gerth thought he needed no advice in conducting his case. Then he hurled the short and ugly word at Mr. Thelan and Mr. Thelan hurled it right back. Talo, who is part owner of the Liberty Shining parlor, testified that Kafkas, his former employe, assaulted him in front of his place of business Tuesday afternoon. On complaint of L. Rosenfeld, proprietor of a south side store, Talo was arrested by Constable F. A. Lamore Wednesday morning on a charge of grand larceny. It is alleged that Talo wrongfully has possession of the complainant's $250 diamond. As the story was told to officials by Rosenfeld, the complainant lost the gem on the paving in front of his store, and Kafkas found it and disposed of it to Talo. Both W. J. Tighe and F. A. Ewald, deputy county attorneys, refused to authorize the warrant, but it was issued by Justice of the Peace P. J. Shields on demand of Rosenfeld. The defendant was booked in justice court under the name of Theodore Chepalas, but Talo declared in police court that he was the same man. He is at liberty under bail and will appear before Justice Shields August 20.

SLAM IS TAKEN AT ALLOPATHS BY OSTEOPATHS

False Telegram Sent to Legislature by Cascade County Medicos, Is Charged.

The Cascade County Medical society sent a telegram to the last session of the legislature which was false and misrepresentative, according to Dr. Asa Willard of Missoula, who spoke to the third day's session of the convention of the Montana state association of Osteopaths Wednesday afternoon, at the Hotel Rainbow. The telegram, which Dr. Willard averred was sent on February 18, read, he declared, as follows: "The United States government, after due consideration of claims of osteopaths, refused to admit them as medical officers in either army or navy on account of their deficient medical education and training. No other state has granted osteopaths such license and in California it was defeated by referendum vote."

Commissions Were Opposed.
"As to the statement in the telegram relative to the United States government and osteopaths, it may be said that, during the early part of the war, in response to the government's call for physicians, a number in this profession applied for commissions in the medical corps of the army. They were told that they would have to take the same examination as the M. D.'s, and a number made splendid grades and were recommended for commissions," said Dr. Willard.

"When the matter came up to Washington, politico-allopathic influences immediately got busy with the surgeon general to prevent the granting of these commissions. Arbitrary Ruling Made.
"The osteopathic physician's educational training had been tested by the medical army examiners and they had been given high ratings and could not be turned down on that score. This being the case, the surgeon general, himself an allopath, was persuaded to make the arbitrary ruling that none could serve except those having the M. D. degree. The osteopathic physicians had been tested and measured up to even with the medical yard stick in the hands of allopathic examiners, but their degree was D. O.

As to the second part of the telegram that the "State of California had turned down such a number of osteopaths," Dr. Willard branded it as an absolute, unqualified falsehood, saying that the state of California never, in all its history, had before it any initiative or referendum osteopathic measure at all. "I feel sure that many of the 38 doctors who signed this telegram simply allowed their names to be used by a few active ones and that they, themselves, would not sanction such a thing if they knew of its falsehood and misrepresentation," said the Missoula osteopath. "The osteopathic profession is continually encountering this sort of thing from a few prejudiced doctors of medicine who seem willing to use any sort of tactics to eliminate competition," said Dr. Willard.

No More Clinic Patients.
No more clinic patients will be registered because of the number who have taken advantage of treatment thus far, both residents of Great Falls and from the surrounding country. In the Wednesday morning session, Dr. Virgil Halladay of Kirksville, Mo., lectured on various subluxations and demonstrated his ideas with a number of bisected specimens of the human body.

Says Prejudice Lessens.
Dr. Roberta Weimer Ford of Seattle told that less prejudice against osteopathy is evidenced in women's clubs in that city with which she is affiliated. She also said that prejudice is being done by members of that profession in the larger cities for the children.

Dr. M. E. Church of Calgary, Alta., declared that nerve reflexes are the cause of disease condition in one part of the body which might develop a train of symptoms in an entirely different and far remote part and thus wrong diagnosis and useless, or perhaps, harmful practice.

Former Resident Visiting in City

Thomas Leskin, former Great Falls real estate man, arrived in Lewistown Wednesday from Berkeley, Calif., and will spend several days in the city. Mr. Leskin left here four years ago to enter the military service and has been located at Berkeley since his discharge. Mr. Leskin claims the distinction of being the only Montana man in California with a billion dollar front yard. His residence is just above Berkeley and spread out below are five cities, each of them so situated that they fit into a setting that radiates like an extension to the Leskin premises.

For attempting to ride the blind baggage on the passenger train through Great Falls, James Bennett, Frank Moran, Ralph Whitney and Courtney Whitney were adjudged guilty of vagrancy in police court Wednesday and given suspended fines. Bennett's fine was suspended during good behavior, but the other three were informed that the court's leniency would extend through only 12 hours, during which time they agreed to quit the city. R. ### Fogerty Returns From Convention in San Francisco

Frank Fogerty returned on Wednesday from California where he attended the thirty-ninth annual international supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus there the first week in August. Mr. Fogerty went as a delegate from the Great Falls lodge, and was one of a party entertained by the Los Angeles Knights of Columbus on an auto trip to southern California at the close of the convention. He reports an unusually successful and enthusiastic gathering of knights from all over the world, and says that no effort was spared by the California knights in entertaining the visiting delegates and their ladies. The work of the order has progressed by rapid strides in late years, coming to embrace many phases of humanitarian and educational work, according to the reports read at the convention. The dignified manner in which the order has met with prejudiced antagonism everywhere is one of which the members may well be proud, it was stated by the speakers.
