

RELIEF DRIVE FOR CLOTHING MADE BY A. R. C.

County Chapter Gathering Discarded Garments for Distribution Among Needy.

Great Falls people are asked by the Cascade county chapter of the American Red Cross to ransack their closets for old clothes that can be supplied to families in need of aid. The collection of clothes is being conducted through a special campaign now under way with the chapter, it is announced by Mrs. Harriet Carrier, the secretary.

Some Urgent Cases. "Donations of clothing will be of much assistance in work now being done by the chapter," said Mrs. Carrier, "and we are anxious to have everyone go through their closets and sort out everything that can be consistently given. The need is urgent in some cases and responses previously made to requests of this kind cause us to believe that the present campaign will bring in much useful material."

The approach of winter has had the effect of revealing a number of families that lack sufficient clothing. Mrs. Carrier stated, and the request has been made that donors make a thorough job of searching for discarded garments.

Exhaust Fund Given in 1919. Mrs. Carrier says that $14,000 worth of materials was donated to the Cascade county chapter in 1919 by the national organization at Washington, all of which has been exhausted. She says, too, that the chapter feels there is no need to question any of the cases in which aid is given, as a thorough investigation of the merits is made in every instance, so that none but deserving persons may receive the help of the chapter.

Aid Ex-Servicemen. The Cascade county chapter has been instrumental in obtaining insurance, compensation and other relief for disabled war veterans to the amount of $136,000, it is said by those in charge, and a representative from the northern division of the American Red Cross on a recent occasion made the statement that the local chapter was "100 per cent efficient."
