

GIANTS COME BACK WITH A VENGEANCE, DEFEAT YANKEES 13-5 IN THIRD GAME

THREE AMERICAN HURLERS ARE CUFFED OFF MOUND BY HEAVY HITTING NATIONALS

Yankees Start Things in Third; Tied by Their Opponents in Same Inning; Giants Put Game on Ice in Lucky Seventh With 7 Runs; McGraw Men Hit Hard.

New York, Oct. 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—The Giants awoke from their two days of lethargy Friday and sprinkled the diamond at the Polo ground with such a shower of hits that the Yankees were swamped under a score of 13 to 5 in the third game of the world's series.

The National leaguers had gone runless for 20 innings up to the third session of Friday afternoon's struggle. Then the outbreak of hitting started.

Stealing the Yankees' thunder, as the latter had stolen theirs in the previous games of the series in speed and daring on the bases; John McGraw's men, after spotting their American league opponents to a four run lead, promptly cancelling this advantage, driving Bob Shawkey, who had started for Miller Huggins team, off the mound in the third inning. Then, after the score had run along in a tie for three more innings, they broke out with an orgy of hitting against second strike Yankee pitchers in the traditional "chucky" series, putting over eight runs in the fourth and piling up a total of 13 runs in their eight innings at bat.

Despite its one-sidedness, the game was of the sort that tickles the fancy of the average baseball crowd, and Friday's throng, despite the partisan leanings of a goodly portion of it, was an exception. The game was full of thrills, brilliant catches, daring base running, and on the Giant side, long distance hitting.

The crowd, with perfect baseball weather to bring it out, was a record breaker for this series. More than 36,500 fans jammed the stands and bleachers. They broke the series record for noise and enthusiasm as well. The turn for the Yankee adherents came first, but the hubbub they kicked up was as nothing to that let loose by the Giant fans when their opportunity came.

With the McGraw club riding rough shod over their opponents, the National league partisans lumbered their vocal chords, their cowbells and rattles, heretofore subdued, and played the game as hard from their seats as hard as their favorites did on the diamond. At times the whole sections of the stands seemed to be composed of seething waves of yelling humanity. The Yankee supporters were dumbly silent in the seventh and the close of the conflict became a Giant carnival.

The Yankee fielders stood up well under the bombardment of hits and incidentally turned in some notable defensive feats. One of these was a jumping catch in the second inning by Aaron Ward, the Yankee second sack-er, which resulted in a double play.

It was George Burns, the Giants' center fielder, however, who turned in the most remarkable feat of the game and also of the series. In the seventh inning he started back with the crack of Pitcher Quinn's bat against the ball, and while still on the run hauled down the drive over his shoulder, close to the center field fence. It was a marvelous piece of fielding, and it drew a big demonstration from the crowd.

All but Two Hit. All of the Giants with the exception of Toney and Kelly, figured in the hitting. Toney was taken from the game before he had a chance to bat, Burns and Snyder died batting honors, each making four hits. Burns' hitting included a double and a triple. Young had a double and a triple, while McGraw's Menusel had two singles and a double.

Babe Ruth had another colorless day compared with some of his work during the season's campaign. In four trips to the plate he struck out twice, made a single, which scored two Yankees, and drew a base on balls. He left the game in the eighth after he had received a base on balls. Fewster running for him and scoring a run. It was said the home run king was suffering from an infected ear. In the fielding side he had but one chance, capturing Bancroft's chief fly.

The game, which ended so lopsidedly struck out as if it might be another like the pitchers' battle of Thursday. Toney, who started for the Giants, breezed along comfortably for two innings. The Yankees got to him in the third, however, and he was taken out with the bases full, none out and three runs in. Another run was scored by the Yankees before Jess Barnes, who relieved him, could retire the side.

Shawkey Meets Fate. Shawkey met his fate, like Toney, in this same inning. His wildness was responsible. After he had forced two runs over the plating passing batters, Jack Quinn was called to the mound. Two of the Giants, Shawkey left on the bases subsequently talked but did not score, off Quinn until the lucky seventh. Meanwhile, Barnes was twirling a heady, steady game and holding the Yankees safe, as he did to the end.

Then came the Yankees' third inning. Schang drew a base on balls and reached third on Shawkey's single to right. Miller hit for a base, scoring Schang and moving Shawkey to second. Toney gave Peckinpaugh a base on balls and all corners were filled. Cheers of the Yankee fans rocked the stands as the home run king walked to the plate. Ruth slammed the Yankees' sixth pitch and drove it to center for a single, sending home both Shawkey and Miller. Peckinpaugh took third. Here Toney was waved off the mound and Barnes was brought out of the bull pen. Ruth went out trying to steal. Bob Menusel walked and Peckinpaugh scored on Pipp's out. This ended the Yankees' scoring in the inning.

The four run lead looked big to the Giants as they went to bat. Barnes, first man up, poked out a single to left. Barnes went out on a fly to center but Captain Bancroft laced a second to right, Barnes stopping at single. Shawkey threw wide to Frisch, who walked, filling the bases. Shawkey appeared to lose control, and passed Young, forcing Barnes home with the Giants' first run of the series. Shawkey then passed Kelly, forcing home Bancroft. Quinn replaced Shawkey, with the bases still loaded. Frisch scored while "Irish" Menusel was being put out at first, Young and Kelly moving up. Young came home with the tying run when Rawlings hit a grounder to Peckinpaugh, who could not handle the ball in time to throw out the Giants' second baseman. Snyder fouled out to Pipp and left the score tied in a knot until the Giants' hectic seventh inning.

The Lucky Seventh. The National league leaders made more hits in the seventh than in the two previous games of the series. Frisch began the attack by slushing a single to center and went to third on Young's two bagger to right field. Kelly walked and the bases were filled. There was tremendous cheering when "Irish" Menusel slammed a double to right, sending home Frisch and Young. Kelly stopped at third. Rawlings came through with a single to center, scoring Kelly and Menusel.

Here Collins took up the pitching burden for the Yankees, but was unable to sweep back the attacking Giants. After Rawlings went out trying to steal, Snyder, Barnes and Burns hit out singles and frenzied rooting with the bases full. Bancroft lifted a sacrifice fly to Ruth, scoring Snyder. Frisch walked, and the National league followers broke into tumultuous cheering as Young swept the bases with a tremendous three-bagger to left center. Collins then waved good night to the crowd.

Baker Goes Out. Pitcher Rogers, his recuer threw out Kelly at first, ending the slugging attack to the relief of Yankee rooters, some of whom began to "ride" the American league champions. Twelve Giants were at bat in the inning, getting eight hits and two bases on balls for a total of eight runs. Each team added a run to their totals in the eighth inning. Frank Baker, home run king of other days, was given a cheer when he batted for Pitcher Rogers in the Yanks ninth, but the best he could do was to give "Irish" Menusel a long fly.

The official figures showed an attendance of 36,500, with gross receipts of $119,007, the latter again a new record. The advisory board's share of the receipts is $17,851.45, the pitcher's share $40,683.50, and the two club shares $40,462.38.

Judge Sentences Wrong Man; Court Withdraws Order

Chicago, Oct. 7.—A meek man with downcast eyes standing beside Mrs. Joe Yenohofsky was sentenced to jail Thursday by Judge Jacobs in municipal court after Mrs. Yenohofsky had told the court how her husband had beaten her unmercifully. It was not until after sentence had been passed and he had been subjected to a severe lecture that the meek man, Frank Kelly, with Mrs. Yenohofsky's aid, convinced the court that he was not her husband, but was appearing in connection with another case. The court's order was withdrawn.

COLLEGE TRAINS MEN TO BECOME LABOR LEADERS

Brookwood School Will Work on Novel Plan; All Get Turn at Dishes.

Two Year Course Will Be Offered to Prepare Students for Work.

Katonah, N. Y., Oct. 7.—Brookwood, a residential workers' college, opened here today with more than 30 men and women students who will train for leadership in labor and farm movements.

The college, which was founded by a number of labor organizations, aims to train economists, statisticians, writers, teachers, organizers and other workers and speakers "in order that these (labor) movements may have people coming from their own ranks with their own point of view who are fully capable by training and knowledge of exercising a genuine statesmanship."

Brookwood will be not only a college but an experiment in community living. Every one will take his turn at washing dishes and performing the necessary tasks about the school grounds.

The school will be one of genuine democracy and selfgovernment, according to announcements. The ruling power of the college will be an academic "town meeting," where every body will have one vote, whether faculty member or student.

The course of study will be two years, but there will be a third year of post graduate work of a specialized character for those who wish. The regular course the first year includes: social problems, history of civilization, English language and literature and science. The second year continues social problems and includes modern social history, science and certain practical courses, such as statistics, labor organization, labor and farm journalism and workers education. Students to the college are chosen by labor organizations who have donated scholarships.

The cooperative labor committee, which took a prominent part in founding the institution is headed by John Fitzpatrick, Chicago labor leader, and James H. Maurer, president of the Pennsylvania State Federation of Labor.

Another Boy Found Strangled to Death; Police to Investigate

Chicago, Oct. 7.—The body of August Knauts, 14, was found suspended by a rope to a rafter in the basement of his home Thursday by his brother, Walter. The police are investigating to ascertain whether the boy was accidentally strangled while playing or whether he placed the rope around his neck with suicidal intent.

Knauts was the second boy to be found hanged this week. A few days ago Samuel Buffington, 14, was found hanged to death in a closet in his home with his hands tied behind him.

OIL TREATMENT DISCOVERED TO CURE LEPROSY

Dr. Dean Claims That New Method Will Stop Spread of Disease.

Experiment Conducted in Japan Prove Value of New Treatment.

Honolulu, T. H., Oct. 7.—The chaulmoogra oil treatment for leprosy, evolved by Dr. A. L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, has produced remarkable results in checking the disease in Japan, according to Dr. R. Hoyoshima, director of the medical college of the Imperial university of Kyoto, Japan, in an address here to leading members of the Japanese community.

Japan Experiments. Dr. Hoyoshima, who is here studying the latest developments in the Dean specific, said that when the report of Dr. Dean's discovery reached Japan, chaulmoogra oil was prepared at the medical department of the Kyoto university immediately and experiments were made on 13 lepers. Two months of treatment was so effectual, Dr. Hoyoshima said, that it was not possible for a layman to recognize that the patients ever had been afflicted with leprosy.

"One of the patients was so glad that he came to me and told me that heretofore he had confined himself to his home because he was ashamed of his disease," Dr. Hoyoshima stated. "But on the preceding day the result of the treatment had been such that he was no longer ashamed to go out, so he went to a barber and had his hair cut."

Patients Waiting. "Our experiments with the treatment resulted so favorably that the medical department of Kyoto university has received innumerable requests from leprosy patients to have the treatment administered to them, but our department has been unable to meet the demand. A large number of leprosy patients are waiting eagerly to receive the treatment and this very day a great many of them are waiting my return."

Dr. Hoyoshima estimated that there are 100,000 persons in Japan afflicted with leprosy. The fact that chaulmoogra oil is a curative for leprosy was known in Japan before Dr. Dean's, Dr. Hoyoshima said, but the effect of taking the oil prior to Dr. Dean's experiments was so terrible that many persons preferred to suffer with leprosy rather than submit to the treatment.

Ten Million Will Be Available for Western Farmers

Spokane, Oct. 7.—Ten million dollars has been allotted to the local office of the war finance corporation for loans to farmers and livestock raisers in Washington and northern Idaho, it was announced Friday by R. L. Rutter, chairman of the Washington agricultural loan agency of the corporation.

This sum is aside from a like amount authorized for the Northwest Wheat Growers, associated, and is available to farmers who are not members of the wheat growers organization.

Mr. Rutter also announced that Kenneth Murray of this city has been recommended as secretary of the Washington agency. Plans for operation of the agency were completed at a meeting here Thursday of the executive committee comprising Washington and northern Idaho bankers.

Good Meals Still to Be Had in Area of Rusa Famine

Samara, Russia, Oct. 7.—(By The Associated Press.)—A month's journey from Constantinople to Moscow by way of the Caspian sea and the Volga region reveals an immense hunger crisis, culminating in intensity at Samara and Kasan. It is difficult to say whether more people are slowly perishing from under-nourishment in Constantinople, Tiflis, Baku and Astrakhan or in the Aravok region.

In each region there is a constant scramble for bread, with the whole undivided daily purpose of every individual whether rich or poor, to stock up a slender store of provisions against the approaching cold weather. Nowhere is there more than a month's supply of food.

Despite the famine, the curious fact stands out that everywhere it is possible to obtain a good meal if the traveler has money.

HAD NERVOUS BREAKDOWN

Mrs. Ireland Permits us to Publish this Letter for the Benefit of Others Who Are in Her Condition

Warsaw, Missouri.—"For five years I was weakly, nervous and in a run-down condition. Then I had a nervous breakdown and doctors said I would never be well again. After I took seven bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was healthier, stronger and felt better than I ever did in my life before. I can't praise the Compound enough and would recommend it to all women. You may publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. FLOYD IRELAND, R. R. 1, Warsaw, Mo.

Nervous women are both ailing and wretched, and with a nervous breakdown all joy goes out of a woman's life. It is said that the ills peculiar to women act on the nerves like a firebrand.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is successful in overcoming such conditions, and a large number of American women who were once great sufferers from nerve troubles owe their present health and comfort to it and it contains no narcotics or harmful drugs.
