MUST RETURN BOOZE IS SUPREME COURT'S ORDER IN 2 APPEALS

Missoula Sheriff Was Acting Illegally in Seizure; Improper Search Warrant.

Special to The Tribune.
Helena, Oct. 10.—M. F. Wright, of Missoula, will have restored to him a quantity of whisky unlawfully seized by the sheriff of Missoula county. This order was made Monday by the supreme court, which, in an opinion per curiam, held that the search warrant under which the liquor was seized was not properly issued and the judgment of the district court of Missoula county is reversed and the sheriff is directed to return the liquor seized. The appeal was taken by the defendant.

Like action was taken in the case against Ora and W. J. Dishmon, another case involving the question of a proper search warrant with which the sheriff for liquor on the defendant's premises.

The appeal was taken by the defendant from the district court of Missoula county which ordered certain whisky destroyed by the sheriff. The supreme court in its decision finds the search warrant was not issued according to law, reverses the order of the lower court and directs that the sheriff restore the whisky and other articles to the defendant.

Shool Board Must Pay Broken Contract

Helena, Oct. 10.—School district No. 1, of Powell county, must pay a judgment of $411.70 to Mary B. Ryan, is the decision of the supreme court in the appeal of the defendant district court from the judgment of Powell county district court.

From the record it appears that Mary B. Ryan entered into a contract to teach in the district for a period of nine and three-fourths months, beginning September 3, 1917, for $80 a month. Plaintiff alleges that she was dismissed without cause and over her protest on February 12, 1918, and that such dismissal was a violation of the contract, she being ready and able at all times to perform her duties.

The case was tried before the court without a jury and a judgment was entered for the plaintiff. The supreme court in an opinion by Commissioner A. C. Spencer holds that, while the testimony is conflicting as between the parties, the district court was the judge of the weight of the evidence and there being no errors of law, the judgment is affirmed.

Ask Marshal Foch to Address State Teachers' Meeting

An invitation to Marshal Foch, supreme commander of the allied forces during the war, to speak at the convention of the Montana State Teachers' association in Great Falls, November 21, 22 and 23, will be extended today (Tuesday) by the Great Falls Commercial club and Secretary Oscar Bowland of the association.

Marshal Foch, it is understood, will attend the opening of the conference on limitation of armament at Washington, Armistice day, and will make a tour of the principal American cities immediately thereafter, according to announcements made. It is considered probable by Secretary Bowland that he will accept the invitation to attend the teachers' convention if his itinerary will permit a stop here. He would appear on the same speaking program with William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, and Frank G. Louder, former governor of Illinois, both of whom have definitely promised to attend.

An attendance of 3,000 is expected at the convention.

Counsel Can't Collect Fees in Divorce Suit as Couple Dropped It

Special to The Tribune.
Helena, Oct. 10.—Interpreting section 3877 of the Montana statutes as relating to the authority of the courts to require a husband, as defendant or plaintiff in a divorce action, to provide money to enable his wife to prosecute or defend the action, as being merely an incident to an action for divorce and that it ceases to be operative when the action has been determined, the supreme court has sustained the district court of Yellowstone county in sustaining the general demurrer of defendants in the case of O. K. Grimstad and Rookwood Brown against Clara E. and John A. Johnson.

This grew out of a divorce action instituted by Clara E. Johnson against John A. Johnson, Oct. 1, 1918, in which Grimstad and Brown appeared as counsel for the plaintiff. Before the case could come to issue the parties were reconciled and Mrs. Johnson directed her attorneys to dismiss the action.

Subsequently Grimstad and Brown brought an action against both Johnson and his wife to recover $200 in attorney fees, which amount Mrs. Johnson in her action asked the court to allow them. The defendant, John A. Johnson, filed a general demurrer, which was sustained by the district court.

ARTISTS DELIGHT GRAND AUDIENCE

Marie Sunderlius and Nicola Zerola Give Opera Recital Monday Evening.

Though Marie Sunderlius, Swedish-American prima donna soprano of the Metropolitan Opera company, thoroughly established herself with Great Falls music lovers a year ago, when she came here with the Scott Grand Opera company, she was more appealing than ever Monday night, when she appeared at the Grand theater in joint recital with Nicola Zerola, tenor of the Metropolitan Opera company. Both great artists left a lasting impression upon the large audience that heard them. Their program consisted of eight numbers, two of which were groups. Mr. Zerola sang three numbers and one group. Mme. Sunderlius sang two numbers and one group, and the eighth number was a duet.

Mme. Sunderlius is easily one of the most admired singers in the Metropolitan opera company. She possesses a naturally lovely voice, displays admirable vocal skill and appears before her audience with a graciousness and charm of manner that captivates before she has uttered a note.

Mr. Zerola's dramatic tenor voice is one of the best ever heard in Great Falls—in spite of the fact that he was unable to give the audience the encores they demanded and which, apparently, had never been glad to give them but for an indisposition that strained his throat. He sang first the "Improviso" from Giordano's "Andre Chenier." This impressed all with the bigness of his voice and the liquid smoothness of his tones. On his second appearance he sang, "Vesti la giubba" from Leoncavallo's dramatic opera, "Pagliacci," with genuine emotional effect.

All of the numbers in his group of songs were sung in English and Del Riego's "Thank God for a Garden," was received with greatest enthusiasm. D'Hardelet's "Beatus" was sung with much intensity and showed the ease with which he went from low to high tones.

"O terra addio," duet from the opera "Aida" was the closing number by Mme. Sunderlius and Mr. Zerola. It was an admirable closing to a delightful program, and the audience refused to leave their seats until the artists had returned again and again to give their acknowledgments.

Mary Capewell Gustafson was accompanist for both Mme. Sunderlius and Mr. Zerola and her artistry at the piano was quite the best that has been heard here in some time.

Billings Tearing Up Abandoned Car Tracks

Billings, Oct. 10.—The last trace of the street car system which graced the streets of Billings for a brief time, several years ago, began to disappear Monday, when workmen started tearing up the few remaining rails. The tracks were abandoned several years ago by the defunct traction company and efforts of the city council to have the rails removed at the expense of the company have proved unavailing. The council recently sold the rails for enough to pay the cost of taking them up and repairing the pavements. The street cars have been replaced by large motor buses.

The Delaware, Lackawanna and Hudson Railroad company has made a 12 per cent reduction in the working forces at its Scranton repair shops and placed the shop on a 44-hour week basis.

The Best Cough Syrup is Home-made.

Here's an easy way to save $2. and yet have the best cough remedy.

You've probably heard of this well-known plan of making cough syrup at home. But have you ever used it? Thousands of families, the world over, feel that they could hardly keep house without it. It's simple and cheap, but the way it takes hold of a cough will soon earn it a permanent place in your home.

Into a pint bottle, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex; then add plain granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. Or, if desired, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, never spoils, and gives you a full pint of better cough remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times its cost.

It is really wonderful how quickly this home-made remedy conquers a cough—usually in 24 hours or less. It seems to penetrate through every air passage, loosens a dry, hoarse or tight cough, lifts the phlegm, heals the membranes, and gives almost immediate relief. Splendid for throat tickle, hoarseness, croup, bronchitis and bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations for throat and chest ailments. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

INSURANCE IS LOST BECAUSE OF HIDING FACT OF TREATMENT

Supreme Court Also Cuts One Policy Where Maker Was Killed on Other Job.

Helena, Oct. 10.—Ruby R. Williams, of Dillon, widow of Oscar H. Williams, will not be paid insurance on the life of her husband, according to a decision of the supreme court which was handed down Monday and which decision reverses the judgment of the district court of Beaverhead county.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Williams brought suit in the district court to recover the amount for which the deceased was insured and obtained a judgment for the full amount following a trial of the case by a jury. The defendant company, the Mutual Life Insurance company of New York, in its defense set up that the insurance policy was obtained by fraud in that Oscar Williams did not correctly answer all of the questions put to him when being examined by the company's physician.

The record shows that he answered that during a certain period of time he had been treated by only one physician in the city of Dillon. The uncontradicted testimony, according to the opinion of the supreme court is that Williams had been treated by three physicians in consultation for a throat trouble which is said to have been tuberculosis. This fact not having been admitted by Williams at the time of the examination and when he was specifically asked as to his previous ailments, the court holds that a fraud was practiced upon the insurance company and the case is reversed, with instructions to enter judgment for the defendant company.

The opinion of the court was written by Associate Justice Frank B. Reynolds.

Vocation Cuts Policy Benefit.

The court also modified the judgment of the district court of Big Horn county in the case of Jessie W. Ebeling against the Bankers Casualty company. The plaintiff had secured a judgment of $1,100 against the defendant in the lower court on a suit to recover the amount on an insurance policy held by her husband, who was killed in an accident on a train while taking cattle to the market. The judgment of the lower court is cut to $275, the higher court holding that this amount is the maximum that can be recovered under the nature of the policy held by the plaintiff.

William O. Ebeling purchased an insurance policy from the defendant company, providing for $1,100 insurance to be paid his wife in case of his death while engaged in the occupation of proprietor and meat cutter but which policy provided that if Ebeling engaged in a more hazardous occupation than that designated as his regular business and while engaged in such more hazardous occupation should be killed, then in that event, the amount of money paid the beneficiary should reduce to the amount allowed in the schedule fixed by the company for the various occupations.

The supreme court holds Ebeling was working, at the time of his death, as a "tender in transit" and came under the $275 beneficiary provision.

Never Wants Anything Else.

The season of coughs, colds, croup and bronchial troubles is at hand. Every mother will be interested in this letter from Mrs. E. K. Olson, 1917 Ohio Ave., Superior, Wis. "I tried many different kinds of cough medicine, but now I never want anything else but Fole's Honey and Tar. I used it for all my children when I lived in Iowa and also for my grandchild in Duluth, and it has always done good work." Contains no opiates. Great Falls Drug Store—Ad.

Students Study Drill Methods at Moccasin

Special to The Tribune.
Harlowton, Oct. 10.—High school students of agriculture to the number of 30, accompanied by their instructors, R. E. McConnell and Nell R. Jones, and County Agent A. D. Anderson, motored to the experiment station at Moccasin, Monday, on a tour of inspection. At Judith Gap they were joined by two cars of boys from that school with their instructor, W. E. Lippert, and at Moccasin by the agriculture students there, making 50 in all.

The boys were shown about the farm and were particularly instructed in the method of growing winter wheat by means of the furrow drill. This is effective where winter killing is common and this method doubled the yield at the station this year. The winter wheat at the station, put in by this method, already has a splendid stand.
