PAWNBROKER INVOLVED IN CAR SEIZURE

Sheriff Claims Zuckerman Owned Noble Automobile; Take Case to Federal Court.

Information charging Harvey Noble, Great Falls garage proprietor and alleged whiskey runner, and Norris Zuckerman, owner of a pawnshop on the south side, with transportation of intoxicating liquors, will probably be filed in federal court today (Friday), Sheriff Bob Gordon announced Thursday. An information against Noble, filed in district court by County Attorney Howard G. Bennet and charging the same offense, has been withdrawn in order that the case can be tried before the higher court.

Claims Zuckerman Owned Car Zuckerman is involved in the alleged liquor transportation, according to Sheriff Gordon, because he is the owner of the automobile captured from Noble last Saturday morning after a 55-mile chase along the Lothair road. Considerable liquor, alleged to have been thrown from the machine after it was found that escape was impossible, was seized by Sheriff Gordon. A check on the automobile license has indicated that the machine was the property of Zuckerman, it was said.

Try To Confiscate Auto Sheriff Gordon's purpose in filing the Noble case in federal court is mainly to secure the confiscation of the car. Under the state prohibition law, valid third party claims are acknowledged by the district courts and no liquor laden automobiles have ever been destroyed or sold in this county. Federal Judge George M. Bourquin has ruled that machines can be confiscated under the federal law if it is proved that they were used in transporting intoxicating liquors.

Accident Caused Krosky's Death

A coroner's jury Thursday night decided that Frank Krosky, who was killed Wednesday morning near Gerber when he fell between the wheels of a cinder car, came to his death by accident while in the employ of the Great Northern railway. The inquest was held before Coroner Lee Roy McBurney at the T. F. O'Connor undertaking parlors.

The verdict of the jury was based on the testimony of Peter Papuzak, Steve Angloff and Carl Christenson, all section laborers, who were eye witnesses to the accident. Krosky climbed aboard a moving car and when it suddenly stopped, was thrown beneath the wheels. The accident occurred on a railroad spur under construction to the Pease coal mine.

BUBBLING STILL ON SOUTH SIDE WAFTING AROMA ALOFT AS POLICE WALK IN; COLORED MAN ARRESTED

While investigating a report Thursday afternoon, Chief of Police Marcus Anderson, Captain Fred Locher and Officer William Murray entered a building at 208 Sixth avenue south. They proceeded to search the place and on the second floor, in a small room facing the alley, the officers discovered a complete copper whiskey still in operation. The finished product was running into a jug and the copper boiler, heated by a gas stove, was steaming merrily.

Only Making Medicine William Alexander, 36, colored, who occupied the house, was placed under arrest on the charge of manufacturing intoxicating liquors and taken to the city jail. Alexander told Chief of Police Anderson that he was ill and was preparing the whiskey for use as a medicine. County Attorney Howard G. Bennet, who arrived soon after the still was located and saw it in operation, expects to file information direct in district court against the negro.

Material Is Seized The still was dismantled and the parts taken to the city jail for use as evidence. A large quantity of rye mash was confiscated under the direction of County Attorney Bennet and several gallons of the product were taken for presentation in court. Officers said they had seen more elaborate stills in action, but had never seen one yield the liquor as fast as this one. It took only a few minutes under the spout to fill a gallon jug.

MADY COMPARES ASSESSED CARS WITH LICENSES

Assessor Gets Check on Hidden Machines by Obtaining Record From State.

Automobiles owned by Cascade county residents on the first Monday of last March, and not recorded when the check was made by deputies from the county assessor's office, will be assessed for 1921 taxes, according to a statement made Thursday by County Assessor Harold Mady. Assessor Mady has compiled a list of all the machines owned in Cascade county and by checking with Secretary of State Charles T. Stewart, he expects to determine the number that are eligible for the 1921 tax list.

3,724 Are Licensed According to the figures prepared by Assessor Mady, which were compiled from the automobile license registry sent out by the secretary of state's office, 3,724 machines are owned in Cascade county and there are 3,985 owners. By comparing this list with the state records the number of cars that escaped assessment will be figured and 1921 taxable machines determined on receipt of information from Helena. All cars purchased after March 7 cannot be assessed this year but will be caught in the next year's check.

Tally Will Be Close Assessor Mady said that he did not expect the actual number of cars in Cascade county to vary more than 25 from his list. A total of 2,050 machines were assessed in 1920 and 3,273 during the last year.

CLAIMS DEFENDANT WITHHELD $1,680

Mrs. Valleux Alleged Price Received for Land Was Misrepresented.

Charging the defendant with having defrauded her husband by misrepresenting the price received for 320 acres of land, which he sold as agent, Annie Valleux, executrix of the will of Oliver Valleux, filed action in the district court Thursday for the recovery of $1680 from William Wetzel. Prior to Valleux's death, according to the complaint, Wetzel was appointed agent for the sale of the land, which is located in Choteau county. It is alleged that the agent sold the property on April 29, 1918, to Ray C. Davis for $6720. Valleux held a fourth interest in the land and was therefore entitled to receive $1680.

Later, when Valleux applied for his share of the money, the defendant is charged with representing to Valleux that $4,000 was the purchase price. Valleux accepted this statement, the complaint states, but before his death in October, 1919, discovered the alleged fraud and repudiated the settlement. The plaintiff alleges that Wetzel has refused her demands for payment of the $1680 claim. COUNTY VALUE $116,716,585, FINAL FIGURE

Tax Valuation Is $35,828,305; Livestock Valued at $2,028,976.

The true valuation of property in Cascade county, as equalized by the county and state boards of equalization, is $116,716,585 and the tax value amounts to $35,828,305, according to a certified assessment abstract made public Thursday by County Clerk and Recorder John E. Moran. The abstract lists the property under the seven classifications.

Class 1, which includes mineral reserves and net proceeds from mines, assessed at 100 per cent value, has a true value of $165,955 and a tax value of $165,955. The true value of household goods, farm implements, automobiles and trucks assessed at 20 per cent, is $4,719,856. The taxable value is $943,971.

Class 3, assessed at 33 1-3 per cent, which includes horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, furniture and fixtures, has a true value of $9,612,365 and a tax value of $3,204,122. The abstract shows that Cascade county has 72,081 sheep, 10,023 horses, 20,318 cattle and 801 hogs, having a true value of $2,028,976.

Lands under the classification of irrigated and non-irrigated, improvements on the same, city and town lots, improvements on the same, mining, manufacturing and machinery property all coming under class 4, and assessed at 30 per cent, have a true value of $82,416,000 and a tax value of $24,728,073. The true value of all lands, which runs to more than 1,500,000 acres, and improvements, is $44,208,995.

Class 5, assessed at 7 per cent, including money, credits and bonds, has a true value of $3,435,502. The tax value is $240,785. Class 6 and 7, assessed at 40 per cent, including miscellaneous property, bank stocks, railways, power lines, telephone and telegraph lines, has a true value of $10,365,908, and a tax value of $4,146,390.

Find Hawkins' Cap on Shore of Lake

Discovery of the cap of Harry Hawkins, Great Falls man who was drowned in a lake near Cut Bank three weeks ago, Tuesday afternoon gave searchers for his body the first indication of the approximate location of the place where he went down. Since the finding of the cap, the searching party has become convinced that Hawkins drowned near the center of the lake and the lake bed is now being dragged at that point.

The cap was found by A. C. Capner, Hawkins' father-in-law, approximately one and one-half miles from the point where the boat in which he was riding drifted in. Hawkins was hunting ducks at the lake with a party of friends and started to cross in a leaky boat in defiance of their advice.

Word that the cap had been found was received in Great Falls by the parents, Mrs. George Hawkins, of 308 Second avenue south.

ROWELL IS SUED ON FREIGHT BILL

Railroad Alleges He Removed Stock Without Paying Transportation Charge.

Alleging that the defendant removed stock from the pens before shipment charges had been paid, the Great Northern railway Thursday filed a claim and delivery action in district court against Robert L. Rowell, for the recovery of stock or $250 alleged damages.

On August 13, 1921, the complaint reads, the defendant shipped 19 horses and two cows to Great Falls from Conrad. The stock was placed in the stockyards, and it is alleged that Rowell without knowledge of the plaintiff company, removed the animals from the yards. Rowell is charged with repeatedly refusing to pay the charges.

INN CHARGES FRAUD. Clara Herbinstreet, proprietress of the Vincent Hotel, 111 1/2 Central avenue, was arrested Thursday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Fred Houtari and is being held in the county jail for Teton county authorities.

She is wanted in Choteau on the charge of defrauding a hotel. It is alleged that she left Choteau without paying a lodging and board account amounting to more than $150. She admitted to Deputy Houtari that she had departed without paying the bill, according to the officer.
