KIWANIS MAKES DIEHL NOMINEE FOR PRESIDENT

Business Manager of Tribune Selected by Committee for Head of Club.

Leonard G. Diehl, business manager of the Tribune, was placed in nomination for the presidency of the Great Falls Kiwanis club at the club's luncheon at Hotel Rainbow Monday by the committee recently named to select candidates for offices which become vacant upon the expiration of terms of the present incumbents.

Mr. Diehl's nomination was presented for the committee by Mayor Ray M. Armour, with those of J. P. Hughes for vice president, Howard Stanley for treasurer and Sam Weekes for district trustee.

At the meeting next Monday general balloting will be conducted for seven directors and the 14 which have the highest vote will be candidates before the club at the final election.

Boorman Tells of Funeral Carl Boorman, one of the three Montana men invited to Washington Armistice day to act as "official mourners" of the funeral of the Unknown Soldier, was introduced by W. W. Freeman and gave an account of the ceremonies at the capital.

President Harding said in his address that he could sense the prayer that was in the heart of every American that day, said Mr. Boorman, "and led that immense gathering in the Lord's Prayer. It was declared that on that occasion more people repeated the Lord's Prayer in concert than at any previous time in the history of the world."

What Hughes Meant Mr. Boorman said there was a feeling at Washington that Secretary Hughes, in his opening address to the conference on limitation of armament, delivered one of the world's greatest orations in four words. These words, not spoken by the secretary of state but later selected by the public as best expressing his meaning, were: "pay up or disarm," the speaker explained.

President Harding, he stated, is giving credit for accomplishing a master stroke when he called the international conference to convene on Armistice day. The sentiment surrounding the trial of the "Unknown Soldier" was a tremendous factor in directing the minds of visiting dignitaries toward the purpose of America in calling the conference, Mr. Boorman stated.

Act on Club Work At the suggestion of Henry Newman, the club voted to donate $25 toward the fund being raised by the Rotary Christmas Stocking club for the purchase of gifts for poor children. During the week of December 4-10 the club will participate in a nation-wide movement by giving an Education week program. The club's interest was solicited in a letter from the National Americanization committee.

Norman Thisted was appointed by President C. J. Breese to head a committee that will inquire into means by which the Great Falls high school football team can be advanced to a more formidable machine. Mr. Thisted intimated that in his opinion more coaching assistance is needed for the team. A special committee was appointed to arrange for the attendance of Great Falls Kiwanians at a charter presentation ceremony at Lewistown December 10.

Carry Out Ceremony At the conclusion of Mr. Boorman's address, all ex-service men present were summoned to the head of the table by President Breese. Assembled there, they held aloft the club's huge silk flag while the membership stood and sang "America."

Stephen Gaylord sang two solos at the opening of the program. Graves Elected Head of Vets Who Served in Siberia Forces New York, Nov. 28.—Announcement was made tonight of the organization of the Siberian veterans, comprising members of the American expeditionary force, naval men serving in Pacific waters, Russian railway service and allied organizations, including welfare units.

RESULTS SHOW FROM CAMPAIGN AMONG FARMERS

Selvidge Says Renewed Confidence Results From Move for Better Methods.

Far reaching results that will within a short time assert a beneficial effect upon Montana in a financial way may be expected from the present movement to promote better farming methods throughout the state, according to W. A. Selvidge, president of the Montana Development association in a communication to the Great Falls Commercial club. Large implement concerns, eastern banks and mortgage companies are expressing a new confidence in the state as an immediate result of the movement, Mr. Selvidge states.

Attitude Changed "There was undoubtedly a feeling among the eastern bankers and others upon whom we depend for credit that Montana people had lost hope," said Mr. Selvidge. "Since they have witnessed a statewide campaign to promote better farming methods and note the enthusiasm with which it is received by the farmers and business men, this attitude has changed."

Mr. Selvidge believes that one of the earliest results of the summer tillage campaign, which is being promoted by the association, will be an expressed willingness on the part of eastern banks and loan companies to extend loans made in Montana and to make additional loans, now that the right kind of an effort is being made by the people of the state.

Expect Immigration "Another important result of this campaign in my opinion will be an immigration movement into the state as soon as Montana's agricultural lands have been proven productive," said Mr. Selvidge. "Eastern farmers have recovered to some extent financially by that time, and we may expect a movement toward the lands which are most productive, price considered."

"One outstanding feature of the present campaign is that it is effectually bringing the townspeople and country people closer together in mutual interest. They realize now as never before that such depends altogether on the other, sharing alike in prosperity and adversity. This movement is bringing about a better understanding which promises well for the future of our state."

The Committee on Critique of the National Board of Review said in its OFFICIAL REPORT

"This vivid, swift-moving picture is the peer of oriental dramas on the screen. It has the true atmosphere of an Arabian Nights tale and must rank as one of the exceptional photoplays of the year. It has both dramatic intensity and comic relief of an unusual order. The acting of Pola Negri may be said to be the finest and most convincing of her career before the American public."

tures by Hardy W. Campbell, dry farming expert, the association plans to cover the entire state in the promotion of summer tillage clubs. In these organizations the farmers and business men are members, the farmers agreeing to summer till correctly a specified acreage for the harvest of 1923. The work so far has been very successful, according to Mr. Selvidge, who estimates that fully 400,000 acres will be signed up as a result of the campaign, increasing Montana's wheat yield for 1923 by millions of bushels, if all this land is capably tilled.

OLD TIME RANCHER ANSWERS SUMMONS

James Carlisle, Pioneer Stockman, Dies Monday After Long Illness.

James Carlisle, stockman of Cascade county for the last 35 years, died at the Deaconess hospital Monday afternoon after an illness of several months. Mr. Carlisle had been confined to his room at the Great Falls hotel for a number of weeks and last week it became known that hopes for his recovery had been abandoned. He was removed to the hospital early Monday morning.

Mr. Carlisle was 62 years of age and since his removal to Cascade county from Colorado 35 years ago had been one of the widely known pioneers. He owned extensive ranch holdings on Hound creek and near Wilson post-office, and was also proprietor of the Carlisle coal mines. Mrs. Carlisle and a small son survive him.

The body is at the W. H. George undertaking parlors and funeral arrangements have not been announced.

Philippine Budget Exceeds Revenue by Eight Million Dollars

Manila, P. I.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press.)—The estimated expenditures of the insular government for the year 1922 exceed the estimated revenues by approximately $8,000,000, and as a result the secretary of finance has returned the budgets to the heads of various departments with instructions to cut the estimates to the limit of the estimated revenues.

The estimated expenditures submitted to the secretary of finance total $42,000,000, while the estimated revenues for next year is slightly over $34,000,000. According to heads of departments it will be impossible to reduce the expenditures to an amount within the revenues and that the only remedy for the situation will be for the legislature to provide additional revenue by increased taxation.

Redeemed Deserter Rides Proudly With Foch; Butte Resident

Special to The Tribune.

Butte, Nov. 28.—Among those who met Marshal Foch at Billings, Monday, no one idolized the generalissimo as much as Marcelle Berth, a Montana Power employe and war aviator, who Sunday obtained permission to board the Foch special at Billings, with all his war medals and decoration of the French Legion of Honor. And yet, a few years ago he was a French army deserter, liable to punishment and disgrace. Berth was living here when the Germans invaded Belgium.

When the war cry sounded throughout France he rushed back to the army begging that he be permitted to fight under the tri-color and announced his willingness to accept any punishment. That he served with gallantry is shown not only by the awards, for he won promotion and when the armistice was signed he was an officer in the French army since the announcement of Foch's visit to Butte the French fighter grew so excited that he was unable to attend to his work. Friends learning of his love for the marshal and his service in France, obtained permission for him to ride with Foch several hours and he left Sunday evening for Billings to take, for him, a more glorious ride than any he ever took over the German lines in his fighting plane.

Butte Murder Jury Reaches No Verdict, Dismissed by Judge

Butte, Nov. 28.—After more than 48 hours' deliberation without reaching a verdict the jury which tried W. C. Taylor, Butte policeman, for the killing of E. A. Brown, a Butte business man, was dismissed by Judge J. J. Lynch at 10:30 o'clock Monday night. Taylor shot into the back of the automobile in which Brown was riding when, he alleged, the car failed to halt at his command. The bullet struck Brown in the back of the neck.

STORK SPECIAL ON MILWAUKEE

Child Born on 9:05 Train on Run South; Mother Sent to Harlowton Hospital.

The 9:05 morning train out of here on the Milwaukee for Miles City will hereafter be known as the "Stork Special." On the Sunday trip it entered Harlowton with one passenger more than it had when it left Great Falls. Among the passengers who left here was a young woman traveling from Vancouver, B. C., to Miles City, who had been delayed three days on the trip by storm trouble on the Great Northern part of her journey. Between Garnett and Harlowton she was paid a call by the stork.

There being no physician on the train, Baggage-master Weaver, who is well acquainted with the stork, rendered the mother great aid—in fact a physician could not have done much better. After the birth of the child, a little girl, a collection was taken up among the passengers and presented to the mother as nucleus of a bank account for the youngster. Word was telegraphed ahead and at Harlowton, the mother and child were moved to the hospital.
