The List of Names Suggested for Baby Lunden Is Submitted to the Parents.

Just an even 100 names were suggested by the public for Baby Lunden, the first baby born in Minneapolis in the twentieth century. Already the little one is about as famous as any young lady of her age in the United States, for the unique distinction of the time of her arrival and her christening by a whole city have attracted widespread attention. Papers all over the country have commented on the incident and newspaper readers as far away as Kentucky have felt their sympathies stirred and have sent in "A Name for Baby." Other names have come from Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, North and South Dakota and Montana, though naturally the majority of suggestions have come from Minneapolis. Among them is one from Charles J. Alexander, 1014 Hennepin avenue, who wants to make a dozen photographs for Baby Lunden as soon as she is old enough to hold her own up as "100 percent."

The full list of suggested appellations already published and a fresh batch received from places throughout this and adjoining states by the latest mail were to-day submitted to the favored parents of that very important young miss. With such an array of names before them to choose from Mr. and Mrs. Lunden will no doubt be able to select a name in every way appropriate to the first woman of the twentieth century in Minneapolis. Within a day or two they will probably be able to take the Minneapolis public under their wings and interested in the christening of Baby Lunden what to be the handle of her Christian name. The following names are the latest received, which, with those already published, complete the list from which the parents will select:

Henriette Centurette, Mrs. F. Woch, Felton, Minn.; Alpha Century, J. S. Nichols, Soldiers' Home; Fustwin, or Numwin, Charles J. DAILY HOUSEHOLD COLUMN ROAST YOUNG PIG By Parker Quincy Adams. Copyright, 1901. While many of us cannot abide pork in hot weather, there are few but would eat and enjoy roast pig in the bracing January days. It is made of a greater percentage of fat, and we supply that demand by the eating of fat meats and notably by devoting a greater amount of pork. Thus the roast leg of pork is popular at Christmas spreads, but not more so than the roast young pig. Select for roasting an animal not more than 6 weeks old, one younger rather than older being preferable. Wash the pig in cold water thoroughly, both inside and out. Chop the liver and mix it with equal quantities of bread crumbs and mashed potatoes. Add two chopped onions, a little parsley, with salt and pepper to taste, and mix into a paste, with two beaten eggs, a lump of butter and about a teaspoonful of milk. Stuff the pig with this dressing, sew it up, put it in a pan and roast from one and a half to two hours, basting frequently. Make a gravy with the juice of half a lemon, some of the stuffing and the drippings. When the pig is done place it on a platter, put a lemon or apple in its mouth, and serve with the sauce or gravy. Another roast that you should try is a portion of a still older pig, called by the English, I believe, a "porket." Pigs 3 months old are about the size suitable, and you will have little trouble in buying a quarter of one in any of the leading markets. Roast brown, and you have one of the most desirable of pork products. Baked Bacon.—This is another cold weather dish, but a hearty one for a hungry man. Soak the bacon in warm water for an hour or two. Then pare off the rusty parts and scrape the under side and rinse as clean as possible. Put it into a pot, and pour cold water, let it come gradually to a boil, and as fast as the scum rises to the surface of the water remove it. Let it simmer very gently until it is thoroughly done; then take it up, strip off the skin, if desired, and sprinkle over the bacon a few bread crumbs, garnishing with cauliflower or Brussels sprouts. Another nice way of serving boiled bacon is with spinach or cabbage. To-morrow Mrs. Lincoln gives several of her best recipes for the preparation of cured eggs, dings, caramels, coffee, etc. Opposed to a Lease. Special to The Journal. Fort Pierre, S. D., Jan. 8.—At the meeting of the Missouri River Stockmen's Association, delegates selected to go to the national meeting, at Salt Lake City, were Noah Newbanks, John Hays, Truels Madsen, Manuel Silva, John Lins, W. W. Walter, W. H. New, J. Q. Anderson and B. C. Ash. Resolutions were adopted unanimously against the proposition for leasing government lands, and the delegation was instructed to work against the measure.

WOMEN BEHOLD CURE BY SWAMP-ROOT.

To Prove what the World-famous Discovery, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, all Our Readers May Have a Sample Bottle Free by Mail.

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for more sickness and suffering than any other disease, and it is permitted to continue fatal results are sure to follow. The kidneys filter and purify the blood—that is their work. So when your kidneys are weak or out of order you can understand how quickly your entire body is affected, and how every organ seems to fall to do its duty.

D. W. SMITH. Mrs. H. N. Wheeler, of 117 High Rock St., Lynn, Mass. writes on Nov. 28, 1900: "About 18 months ago I had a very severe attack of grip. I was extremely sick for three weeks, and when I finally was able to leave my bed I was left with excruciating pains in my back. My water at times looked very like coffee. I could pass but little at a time, and then only after suffering great pain. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and all my kidneys were not affected, but I felt certain that they were the cause of my trouble. My sister, Mrs. C. E. Littlefield, of Lynn, advised me to give Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and I procured a bottle from my druggist, and found it a very pleasant change in my treatment. My kidneys commenced to get better. I followed up that bottle with another, and at the present time I feel as well as ever. My business is that of a canvasser; I am on my feet a great deal of the time and have to use much energy in getting around. My cure is therefore all the more remarkable, and I feel it is well worth the trouble to tell of it.

What a Woman Says of Swamp-Root. Little at a time, and then only after suffering great pain. My physical condition was such that I had no strength and all my kidneys were not affected, but I felt certain that they were the cause of my trouble.
