NEVILLE MAY LIVE

Doctors Think the Salt Treatment Will Be Successful.

Washington, Jan. 10.—Armed with salt, physicians and trained nurses for forty-eight hours have been engaged in a hand-to-hand fight with death over the prostrate form of Congressman William Neville of North Platte, Neb. The physicians say they have apparently won a victory; that the congressman, who had been delirious, was resting easy and that the prospect was good for saving his life.

This feat of medical skill and science was accomplished with four quarts of salt water, one drachm or teaspoonful to one quart of water. The solution was injected into the veins of the dying man in places on his back and breast. The use of salt water was a last resort, the patient having lost a great quantity of blood from hemorrhages caused by the pneumonia and having become so weak that he could not open his eyes. His death was expected at any moment and his case was regarded as hopeless, in particular on account of his age. He is nearly 60.

Congressman Neville served through the war of the rebellion as an officer of Company H, One Hundred and Forty-second Illinois Infantry, and wounds received in battle made his case more difficult. His district in Nebraska comprises thirty-two counties, and he is known in all states as a staunch friend of the dairy interests.

TARIFF THE SALVATION

Senator Warren's Talk to Wool Manufacturers.

New York, Jan. 10.—The National Association of Wool Manufacturers has referred to the executive committee the question of establishing a chamber of commerce at Boston where trade disagreements could be settled. United States Senator Francis W. Warren of Wyoming gave the manufacturers a pretty plain talk on the tariff on wool. He said the McKinley and Dingley tariffs had been the salvation of the wool growers, and the manufacturers should not ask to have the tariff reduced on the raw material until they were willing to have it reduced on the manufactured product.

LYNCHING AND KIDNAPPING

Gov. Mount's Farewell Message Urges More Stringent Laws.

Indianapolis, Jan. 10.—In his farewell message Governor Mount says of the recent lynchings in Indiana:

"Lax enforcement of law brings its fruitage of contempt for law. The remedy must be found through the co-operation of good citizens in demanding the rigid enforcement of the law and not through mob violence."

A more stringent law is recommended. Kidnaping, Governor Mount declares, should be made, in extreme cases, punishable by death or imprisonment for life.

There was not as large an attendance as usual at the meeting of the Ladies' Thursday Musical, as many of the members are suffering from the prevailing epidemic grip, illness on the part of those who were to take part necessitated several changes in the program. The new year's greeting from the former president, Mrs. H. W. Gleason, was read. Mrs. Gleason congratulated the musicale upon the success of the past year's work and said: "The Thursday Musical has grown to be one of the leading clubs of its kind in the country, not only in respect to size of membership and in the interest and enthusiasm shown by its members, but, what is more important, in constantly increasing influence in the elevation of musical taste in the community." The visiting artist was Signor Valena, who gave two charming harp solos and was obliged to respond to an encore. A piano solo was given by Miss Grace Harrison; Mrs. Edna Ryan and Miss Drew played a duet and a concerted number was by Misses Drew, Dorcas Emmel, Misses F. B. Muckey and H. W. Crandall. Mrs. Alice Adrian Pratt, Miss Jane Moore and Miss Ednah Hall contributed vocal solos and Misses Genevieve Smith, Margaret Daniel, Mabel Otis and Mrs. Fred Wheaton furnished a quartet.

The new year books were distributed. They are very neat little booklets in a brown covering, bearing the Ladies' Thursday Musical insignia. The contents include the list of officers and committees, active, student, associate, absent and honorary members, the minutes of the meetings and other information of interest to the members. The open meeting of the musicale will be given Wednesday, Jan. 30, in Plymouth church, when an exceedingly interesting program will be presented.
