Col. Lister Says Hollanders Are Picking Up American Ways.
Colonel Loren Stoen of St. Paul, United States consul at Rotterdam, Holland, is home on a short visit. He says tools and machinery of American make are being given the preference in the markets of Holland, the well-known American makes being common in the stores. The Hollanders are picking up American ways to a surprising extent.

THE CITY
TOWN TALK
The new city council contented itself with the consideration of routine business alone at its first session last night. Alderman Ryan of the first ward was prepared to make his first speech as commissioner and intended to bring up the necessary motion to bring on the city's first legislative experience, and while groping about for an opening, the council adjourned and left him high and dry. He insists, however, that he does not make any difference, as the twenty votes that he has in sight will all keep.

GOPHERS LOST A DEBATE
MICHIGAN DEFEATED THEM
The Debate Was One of the Best and Closest Ever Held.
Minnesota was defeated by Michigan last evening, and is out of the race this year. It was Michigan that won the Minnesota last year, but not until after Minnesota had won the preliminary with Northwest.
The debate was at Ann Arbor, and the Wolverines had the advantage in the audience, of course, but Minnesota was saved the sting of a unanimous decision. The vote stood two to one, and Professor Trueblood, of Michigan, said it was, in his opinion, the best and closest debate Michigan had ever taken part in, and was ahead of the contest of last year.
Michigan excelled in team work and in debate, and the decision was generally expected, and the Minnesota men admitting that they were excelled.
The question discussed was: "Resolved, That it is unwise for the states to elect to tax personal property." The affirmative was taken by Messrs. Maxey, Sonnen-schein and Jacob of Michigan, and the negative by Messrs. Lende, Lende, James and McIntyre, of Minnesota.
The judges were Harry A. Garfield, of Cleveland, a son of President Garfield; Thomas H. Franco, of Toledo, Ohio, and David Rosser, of Chicago. In the absence of Governor Bliss, President Angell presided. He paid tribute to the late Senator Davis as a graduate of Michigan and a Minnesota statesman.

RULING AGAINST MIXING
IMPORTANT TO GRAIN DEALERS
Chicago Grades Will Stiffen and Local Shippers Will Have to Be Careful.
A decision of interest to local grain men has been filed in the district court of Illinois by Judge Tuley. It declares the Illinois law of grain mixing to be unconstitutional and against public policy.
The decision was in the Central Elevator case, in which evidence was produced showing the practice of "mixing" to be very prevalent. In passing on the question of "mixing" in public warehouses, Judge Tuley said that such a practice is in the interstate commerce of the country that it was only a question of time before congress would be asked to pass general laws regulating them as part of the interstate commerce system.
While "mixing" is practiced by nearly all elevators, it is claimed on "change that it is not for private parties to be kept intact in separate bins. "Mixing" proper is a combination of good No. 2, for example, with enough No. 1 in it to bring the whole up to No. 1 standard. There is no law against this, either in Minnesota or Illinois. In this way, therefore, the decision does not affect local dealers.
In answer to a question, Judge Tuley said that the decision will have a tendency, "to stiffen grades in Chicago. That will make it necessary for the agencies cause them to send grain to Chicago to be handled more carefully about its grading. Our grades are usually fully as stiff here as at Chicago, and we prefer to have all the stiffening done here, not in Chicago. It is not too much to say that that decision may stiffen grades so that local shippers will be very cautious about mixing for the Chicago market."

THE LIBRARY ANNUAL
Directors Waive the Charter and Hold an Election.
The annual meeting of the library board was held yesterday afternoon. Mayor Ames and Miss L. M. Crafts, the new members of the board, were present. When the time came for the election of officers, the directors waived the charter. The library charter provides that the annual election shall take place in April; according to custom of several years' standing they have been held in January. Director Cyrus Northrop maintained that the election should be postponed until the time set by the charter. Director Carleton said that if the election took place in April the directors would be elected for a term of one year. The election was postponed until the time set by the charter. Director Carleton said that if the election took place in April the directors would be elected for a term of one year. The election was postponed until the time set by the charter.

THEY MUST GO
Slot Machines That Pay Money Are Closed Up.
The proprietors of the saloons about town who began operating the nickel-in-the-slot machines a few weeks ago, have been notified by Charles Ames that further gambling with these machines must cease. It is not the purpose of the department to confiscate any of the devices, but orders have been given to the various owners that the machines must be withdrawn at once. The small, harmless cigar machines are not under the ban. But all gambling machines that pay money must go.

LO DIGS LIGNITE
Fuel Surveying is Paying Better Than Sculp Lifting.
Major McLaughlin, federal Indian inspector, stopped here yesterday on his way east. The major was formerly agent at the Standing Rock agency in the Dakotas. He stated that in some of his later correspondence he had learned that the Indians at Standing Rock had turned miners and struck a vein of lignite coal of very excellent quality. The location of the vein is about half way between Ft. Yates and the Big Horn on the Missouri river. This country has been found to have its fuel for 40 miles and the Indians will consequently be able to dispense of all they can mine at a good price.

Fishes of the Nile.
No river has a greater variety of fish than the Nile, says the Indianapolis Press. An expedition sent out by the British Museum brought back 9,000 specimens. The Press evidently is not acquainted with the Mississippi river water. Why, it simply teams with ichthyoid life, and yet some Minneapolis people drink it. Those who fully realize the danger are drinking "Golden Grain Belt" beer, for it is pure, delicious and healthful. It is carefully brewed from the purest barley malt and hops, and will do you good. When you want a case, telephone "The Brewery," 485 Main.

FRIEND OF AGASSIZ
County Attorney Boardman's Father a Distinguished Naturalist.
HIS LONG LIFE ENDS IN MAINE
Though a Successful Business Man His Private Natural History Collection Was Notable.
George A. Boardman, one of the most learned naturalists in the United States, died yesterday morning at his old home in Calais, Me., at the advanced age of 83 years. He was the father of County Attorney Fred H. Boardman and W. B. Boardman of this city, and A. J. Boardman, now of Philadelphia, but formerly a prominent Minneapolisite. The deceased had been a successful business man and was interested in banks, lumbering and other industries as well as in shipping. He retired from the active affairs with a competence in 1870 to occupy himself with his favorite studies and public matters. His natural history museum is conceded to be the finest and largest private collection in America. In the zoological collection alone there are 2,500 specimens mounted and on skin, with the young and eggs of most of them. Not only was he a student and naturalist, but a keen sportsman as well, for he was a famous and enthusiastic angler in the lakes, streams and salt water estuaries of eastern Maine. Charles Hallock, a writer in Forest and Stream, says of Mr. Boardman that he seemed to be on the water almost all his lives have been graciously prolonged because of their usefulness to men. Mr. Hallock says:
Recognized for three-quarters of a century as a keen, discriminating naturalist, and possessing the most complete private museum of natural history extant, he is now in his 83rd year as painstaking as ever in his investigations, devoting himself with energy almost unimpaird by time to his favorite pursuit and study.
Now it happens that students and scientists become eminent in their profession are usually so segregated and intent on their transcendental pursuits that they often fail to become conspicuous among the world's honor men; and hundreds of such are enrolled on the unpublished books of the immortals whom the public never heard of, simply because they occupy a superlatively higher plane. These have no time to exploit their achievements. Such a man, I may be permitted to say, is George A. Boardman of Calais, Me., an ornithologist of highest repute among scientists, a contemporary and willow associate and co-worker with Audubon, Agassiz, Townsend, Todd, Baird and Bendire, those studious observers of natural objects whose renown lingers after their departure like the afterglow of a midsummer sunset.
It is understood that the famous museum will go to Bowdoin college.
MORE ROOM NEEDED

E. church and Dr. Crossley in the Forest Heights M. E. church.
In the afternoon at 2:30 the evangelists will attend the Ballington Booth meeting at the Century Hotel.
