

A LONG, HAPPY LIFE

The Kind Way in Which Fate Treated the Queen.

A COLLECTION OF AUTOGRAPHS

Why the Queen Sold Milk, Turnips, and Other Farm Products from Her Private Garden.

W. E. Curtis, in Boston Record.

Fate is kind to permit Queen Victoria to die at Osborne, which is her own property, associated with her greatest happiness...

Osborne is not an official residence. It was the private home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wettin, and has since been occupied by Mrs. Weymouth...

As it was sanctified by association with her husband, she endeavored to preserve the privacy of Osborne so far as possible...

Thoughtless people have sneered at Queen Victoria for selling milk, turnips and other farm products raised upon her estate at Osborne...

Under her careful management—and she was one of the shrewdest business women in the world—the farm at Osborne has become a large and profitable concern...

An American lady who frequently enjoyed the entrée to Windsor castle during the diplomatic service of her husband at the court of St. James...

There never was a more careful and exact woman than Victoria. She is a model housekeeper and the burden of the care of state never tempted her to neglect the management of her several households...

She has many peculiarities. One of them is an abhorrence of curiosity, and people admitted to her presence are often warned by the ladies or gentlemen in waiting that the exhibition of unusual interest in any subject pertaining to her to the affairs of state is displeasing to her majesty...

ALDERMAN FRUIT FARM

Cherokee, Iowa, Man Buys It for $12,000.

Hurley, S. D., Jan. 22.—The Alderman fruit farm, so well known throughout this section of the state, has been sold by J. J. Prosser of Cherokee, Iowa...

TRIBUTE OF THE GREAT LAUREATE

In the dedication of the "Idylls of the King" to the memory of the lamented Prince Consort, written in 1862, Alfred Tennyson expressed the never-ending sympathy of the English people for their widowed queen...

KING OF ENGLAND

Brief Sketch of the Life of the New Monarch.

ALBERT EDWARD'S EARLY DAYS

Social Reforms Brought About by His Trip to the United States in 1860.

Albert Edward, King of Great Britain and Ireland and Emperor of India, was born on Nov. 9, 1841, at Buckingham palace.

His Early Years. During the first few years of the prince's life the public did not have any opportunity to see much of him.

His Education. The prince received his education at the boarding school of St. Edward's, which was founded by his father, King George III.

His Marriage. The prince was married to the Princess Alexandra of Denmark on June 10, 1862, at Windsor castle.

His Travels. The prince's travels in the United States in 1860 were of great importance in bringing about social reforms.

His Character. The prince was a man of great energy and determination, who was devoted to his duties and to his people.

His Death. The prince died on May 6, 1901, at Osborne house, and was succeeded by his son, King Edward VII.

QUEEN A HARD WORKER

She Signed 50,000 Documents Yearly—Incidents Recalled.

London, Jan. 22.—The papers devote columns to a history of the personal reminiscences and the scenes and incidents of the queen's life.

Her Personal Character. That Albert Edward is keenly interested in both domestic and foreign policies every one knows.

Her Work. The queen's work is a hard one, and she is a woman of great energy and determination.

Her Appearance. The queen's appearance is one of the most beautiful in the world, and she is a woman of great grace and dignity.

Her Influence. The queen's influence is one of the most powerful in the world, and she is a woman of great wisdom and insight.

Her Legacy. The queen's legacy is one of the most glorious in the world, and she is a woman of great honor and respect.

CREEK RAIDS ARE SERIOUS

Federal Troops Called For Snake Band Is Continuing Its Outrages Against the Peaceable Indians.

IT CAN'T PASS AT THIS SESSION

Pettigrew, Teller and Butler Will Kill the Subsidy Bill.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Senators Pettigrew, Teller and Butler have organized for the purpose of talking the subsidy bill to death.

They say three members can do it and they are predicting to-day that the bill cannot possibly pass at this session.

They are doubtless right. The prevailing opinion is that the bill cannot pass both houses this session even if there is no filibustering.

Washington, Jan. 22.—M. P. Moran of Graceville, Minn., who recently appeared before the industrial commission to testify concerning grain rates from the farmers' standpoint...

The Indian appropriation bill, reported to the senate to-day, contains the following items, which were put in the bill by the senate committee.

On Tans Bixby's testimony as to necessity for it, the appropriation for the Dawes commission is increased from $39,000 to $300,000.

Washington Small Talk. C. W. Stanton, editor of the Appleton Press, and Mrs. Stanton, arrived to-day from New York.

Additional rural free delivery service has been ordered established at Fairbault, Minn., on five routes.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

BANKRUPTCY LAW STANDS

Senator Pettigrew Reviews the Anticongress Controversy.

Washington, Jan. 22.—While the struggle was going on in executive session of the United States senate over the confirmation of James S. Harlan as attorney general of Porto Rico, Mr. Pettigrew read in the senate a copy of a letter written by Harlan to the president.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

Senator Pettigrew reviewed the anticongress controversy, and said that the law will be removed in a large measure.

TALK IT TO DEATH

Pettigrew, Teller and Butler Will Kill the Subsidy Bill.

Washington, Jan. 22.—Senators Pettigrew, Teller and Butler have organized for the purpose of talking the subsidy bill to death.

They say three members can do it and they are predicting to-day that the bill cannot possibly pass at this session.

They are doubtless right. The prevailing opinion is that the bill cannot pass both houses this session even if there is no filibustering.

Washington, Jan. 22.—M. P. Moran of Graceville, Minn., who recently appeared before the industrial commission to testify concerning grain rates from the farmers' standpoint...

The Indian appropriation bill, reported to the senate to-day, contains the following items, which were put in the bill by the senate committee.

On Tans Bixby's testimony as to necessity for it, the appropriation for the Dawes commission is increased from $39,000 to $300,000.

Washington Small Talk. C. W. Stanton, editor of the Appleton Press, and Mrs. Stanton, arrived to-day from New York.

Additional rural free delivery service has been ordered established at Fairbault, Minn., on five routes.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

Representative Spaulding called on Director McLean and urged that the bulletin of the population of North Dakota be issued as soon as possible.

PERIL OF GRIP

WORST EVER KNOWN.

GRIP RAGES EVERYWHERE—IN THE AIR WE BREATHE, IN THE WATER WE DRINK, IN THE FOOD WE EAT.

Hundreds of our best of Peru are shipped in all directions to meet the extraordinary demand of the grip epidemic.

Everybody laying in a stock of this valuable remedy in time to meet the terrible enemy, the grip.

The extensive facilities of the manufacturers tested to their utmost to meet the urgent demand for Peru.

Almost everybody has the grip. Almost everybody must have Peru.

Taken at the appearance of the first symptoms of the grip, not only is Peru a prompt cure for the grip but it prevents those disastrous after effects so characteristic of this dread disease.

Peru not only cures the grip but prevents it. Taken in time thousands of lives will be saved in this present epidemic.

Every family should take the precaution to secure a supply of Peru at once, for the retail and wholesale stock of the remedy may be exhausted by the enormous demand for it.

It is wisdom to have Peru in the house even before the grip attacks the household.

It has been ascertained by a reporter that the following people of national reputation have given public endorsement and testimonials to Peru as a remedy for la grippe.

Congressman Howard, of Alabama, says: "I have taken Peru for the grip and recommend it as an excellent remedy to all fellow-sufferers."

Congressman White, of North Carolina, says: "I find Peru to be an excellent remedy for the grip. I have used it in my family and they all join me in recommending it."

Miss Francis M. Anderson, of Washington, D. C., daughter of Judge Anderson, of Virginia, says: "I was taken very ill with the grip. I took Peru and was able to leave my bed in a week."

Mrs. Harriette A. S. Marsh, president of the Woman's Benevolent Association, of Chicago, writes: "I suffered with grip seven weeks. Nothing helped me. Tried Peru and within three weeks I was fully restored. Shall never be without it again."

The appearance of the first symptoms of grip people should stay indoors and take Peru in small doses (teaspoonful every hour) until the symptoms disappear. This will prevent a long, disastrous sickness and perhaps fatal results.

PROGRAMS TO BAR THE NEGRO

Maryland Is Expected to Pass a Law for Disfranchisement.

Continued From First Page.

dispensed with. There was no opposition except a jocular one from Senator Lives, to the motion, and the senate promptly proceeded to vote by roll call.

Then Senator Sheehan duplicated Mr. Young's motion with regard to filling the vacancy and the motion prevailed.

Senators Fitzpatrick, McKusick and Ryan were absent and did not vote.

The vote for the long term was as follows: For R. Nelson, 18; Knute Nelson, 42.

For a successor to the late Cushman K. Davis, serving until March 4, 1905, the vote stood: Charles A. Towne, 17; Moses E. Clapp, 43.

The Democratic Caucus. The democrats selected their candidates for senators at caucus held at the capitol last evening.

Senator C. A. Towne was unanimously nominated to succeed the late Senator Cushman K. Davis. In picking Davis, the republicans say such an act will be unconstitutional.

BLACK FOX

Skins, Rare and Beautiful, Actually Worth Their Weight in Gold.

The New York Times. The New York women will have an opportunity this fall of wearing the most exquisite and valuable furs known among these beautiful adjuncts to feminine wear.

There is according to the individual taste of the wearer, the muff twisted carefully into shape and the skins tacked to place with the greatest care not to injure them.

There is another pair of beautiful black fox skins, only less fine than the first, which are worth $4,000, and an exquisite gray skin is valued at $2,200, and with a companion skin the pair are worth $4,000.

Among the most beautiful of skins are those of the black fox, which are worth $4,000, and an exquisite gray skin is valued at $2,200, and with a companion skin the pair are worth $4,000.

SAVE THE ENGLISH TONGUE. Why the teachers in the public schools of New York city should be directed to reduce the amount of time devoted to the teaching of English grammar is one of the things that, in the surface at least, is beyond comprehension.

It is a matter of fact that the English language has been adopted. But if the time taken from grammar is to be given to anything except English, it is a mistake, regardless of what the subjects are that will take its place.

If there is any one subject in which American school children are deficient it is the proper use of the English language. How anybody who overhears the average conversation of a crowd of average school boys can come away with anything but the sort of feeling he would have after witnessing a murder is incomprehensible, except on the theory that the man is himself a regular perpetrator of linguistic crimes.

Fortunately there are many exceptions among school boys on the score of good, clean speech, but in the large cities especially, the English language is the proper use of the English language. It is tempting to say chiefly an outpouring of vulgar slang, barbaric sentence construction and pronunciation so drawing and slovenly that the street gambler's influence has apparently proved far more powerful than anything brought to bear in the school room. It may be that formal grammar study is being discarded as bad in method, but, if any change is to be made in the time devoted to English, double it! To reduce it would be a crime.

A MYSTERIOUS MESSAGE. A Cleveland Plain Dealer. Nikola Tesla gravely announces that the earth has received a message from another world—presumably Mars.

It is "One—two—three." This is a very mysterious message. Perhaps the man in the moon was fighting a duel with old Colonel Jupiter. Or possibly it was merely the cry of surprise with which a paralyzed Martian once greeted the discovery that he was the father of triplets!

TOO EMPHATIC. The New York Weekly. Young Lash—How do you like that? Telegraph Operator—Twenty-five cents. For that one word, 'yes'!

"Yes!" Same price for ten words or less. You repeat the 'yes' ten times and you get the same price.

"Um—no." That wouldn't look well. It's an answer to a proposal of marriage.

MAURICE THOMPSON WEAK

His Doctor Says His Case Is Not at All Encouraging.

Crawfordsville, Ind., Jan. 22.—Maurice Thompson, the author, is extremely weak. His physician says to-day the case is not at all encouraging.

S. A. Reed has commenced an action against the Tribune for libel on the Fourth street. He avers in papers filed yesterday that the front benches on the Fourth street are owned by him, and that the Tribune, by publishing a story, libeled him.

Colonel Arthur Linn, commandant of the soldiers' home at Hot Springs. He was an Elk and a Knight of Pythias and belonged to the St. Paul Typographical union.

British Ship Burned. Port of Spain, Trinidad, Jan. 22.—Persons here from the mainland of Venezuela report that the Venezuelan gunboat Miranda burned the sloop Marla Teresa, owned by a subject of Great Britain.