

of the jury, the time has now arrived when it is the duty and privilege of the defendant to make known to you what the defense will be in presenting his case. I shall not use technicalities...

Hamilton Had Tuberculosis. "Shortly after Hamilton's father died it was discovered that the boy had tuberculosis. He was sent to Colorado. His condition was such that it required six years treatment to cure him. The treatment was climate and whisky for a year. It would be small wonder if, after six years' use of whisky he should acquire the habit, if he did acquire it. He came to Minneapolis about two years ago, working for a time on The Journal as a special writer.

Then he went back to Colorado for a time. About a year ago he came to Minneapolis to "do sports" for The Times. He did not meet all kinds of people, formed many acquaintances and was about a great deal at night in the line of his work. Mr. Hamilton's cure-all for all diseases was whisky.

Too Many Drinks. "In making the rounds of the hotels on the evening of the 12th he took several drinks of whisky. At about 11 o'clock he went across the street from The Times office to get another drink. There he was joined by his friend and roommate, Canfield. About 12 o'clock they were joined by Gary and Evans and shook dice and drank until 1:30. They drank, no one knows how much. Then they left Starr's place. Evans wanted another drink, but Starr's was closed, and it was suggested that the party go to the West hotel, which was sure to be open. Mr. Hamilton does not remember whether he took a drink there or not.

The Character of Day. "Mr. Day was the spoiled son of a fond and doting mother, very wealthy—very rich and capricious. He was very spoiled. I do not say these things to wound any one, but because they are facts. His reputation was tarnished and he had a very undesirable name wherever he was known. For two nights before this Saturday night he had been out carousing until the morning. The fire of alcohol in his blood was ready to burst forth at the slightest cause. Thursday and Friday night he had come to the hotel between 5 and 6 o'clock very drunk. He frequently did this and he consorted with many people of unsavory record.

A Night of Carousal. "On that fatal night he went to the Dewey theater. He and the theater he and his party went to a room with two women. Two of the men left after a while, leaving Mr. Day and friend with the two women. Some time later Mr. Day went to the West hotel. He was engaged in a game of pool with Mr. Reul, Mr. Leslie and Mr. George. These men, friends of long standing, are practically the only accusers of Mr. Hamilton.

Hamilton Party Drunk. "Mr. Hamilton was not himself, not wholly so. He was quite intoxicated, was partially deprived of the power to think but not entirely so. He was very drunk but not wholly irresponsible. He does not recall all that took place that night, but remembers some trouble with Day, he recalls shaking hands and thought the trouble was all over.

Hamilton Was Clubbed. "Everybody there was intoxicated, say what they will, all were intoxicated. No one was taking any notice of what happened. Mr. Hamilton remembers receiving a blow on the face or the jaw and shortly thereafter he received a blow on the head from a cane, cue or club, and this will be beyond his memory. He does not recall all that took place that night, but remembers some trouble with Day, he recalls shaking hands and thought the trouble was all over.

Knives He Did Not Do It. "Mr. Hamilton has no recollection of anything whatever. Of that he says: 'I know I did not do it. I could not do it in the very nature of things.'

Not His Knife. "A knife has been shown you here, gentlemen. That was not the knife of Frank H. Hamilton. He never had such a knife. It never was his. He had no weapon of any kind, except a small pocket knife.

They Left. "My first suspicion that coffee was slowly killing me came from reading in the newspaper the experience of a person suffering from the poison contained in coffee and how he had been relieved by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee. I had for a long time suffered from palpitation of the heart, indigestion, biliousness and intense headaches and neuralgia. If I did leave off coffee for one hour beyond the usual time I felt a little better. I had the most excruciating headache for the rest of the day, but I made the change from coffee to Postum without the slightest inconvenience, by first having the Postum prepared with a little coffee mixed with it, then the next day a little less and the next day a little less, until in less than a month I was having the Postum Simon Pure, and the coffee got so small that it was so strong and delicious that I enjoyed my Postum better than I had ever enjoyed the old fashioned coffee that had been underlining my health and rendering life a burden.

Vanished, Cleared Out and Quit. "My first suspicion that coffee was slowly killing me came from reading in the newspaper the experience of a person suffering from the poison contained in coffee and how he had been relieved by leaving off coffee and taking Postum Food Coffee. I had for a long time suffered from palpitation of the heart, indigestion, biliousness and intense headaches and neuralgia. If I did leave off coffee for one hour beyond the usual time I felt a little better. I had the most excruciating headache for the rest of the day, but I made the change from coffee to Postum without the slightest inconvenience, by first having the Postum prepared with a little coffee mixed with it, then the next day a little less and the next day a little less, until in less than a month I was having the Postum Simon Pure, and the coffee got so small that it was so strong and delicious that I enjoyed my Postum better than I had ever enjoyed the old fashioned coffee that had been underlining my health and rendering life a burden.

How many times we hear people complain of this and that obscure symptom of disease, and wonder what can be the matter with them. In nine cases out of ten it is due to nothing in the world but coffee poisoning. I am sure if all those who have ailments of one kind or another, or trifling, would try the experiment that I did, there would result an enormous aggregate of improvement in health, and coffee would take its proper place among the other poisons.

It is well for people to know that cooks who first undertake to make Postum boil it too little and therefore do not extract the flavor and food value, and if they do so prepared according to directions, (and that is easy.) This letter is from the cashier of one of the largest lines of groceries in the world, who requests that you withhold from print: given to inquirers by the Postum Cereal Co., Ltd., at Battle Creek, Mich.

and held it up. This was done within fifteen minutes after Day died. Day Had Such a Knife. "We will show you by the very best evidence that Mr. Day carried just such a knife as the one produced at this trial. We will show you by several witnesses that for a year or more Mr. Day carried such a knife and what he carried it for.

Was a General Fight. "Some one hit me on the face a hard blow, then I received a still harder one on my head and after that I don't remember anything. The next I recall some one was pouring hot water on them. One was rubbing Day's hands and some one was pouring hot water on them. One was sitting on the floor with an officer. I knew he was an officer because he had a shaggy coat. Over near a table sat Chandler the bartender. He looked funny—out of focus—seemed to be several of him. After while Mr. Peeney came.

Hamilton Had a Small Knife. "Yes, a little rough-handled pen knife I got out in Denver. "Nye then produced the big jack knife, which is said to have caused Day's death, and showed it to Mr. Hamilton.

Fatal Knife Not Hamilton's. "Did you have that knife? "I never did. "Did you ever own it? "No, sir, never. "When did you see it for the first time? "When it was introduced here in evidence at this trial. "Do you recall anything else that happened that night? "I think Canfield asked me to go home at one time. "Did you have any intention of injuring Mr. Day in any way? asked Mr. Nye. "I had not the slightest intention of doing so. "Did you have this knife that night? "I don't think it was possible, as I never owned that knife.

Didn't Use the Knife. "The state objected on the grounds of irrelevancy, witness not having told Hamilton of the conversation. Day's Hostility to Hamilton. The court ruled that the defense might ask any questions showing hostility to the defendant.

Contradict Rooney. "I don't see how I could make such a statement. I don't see how it was possible to say it. "You do not have a very clear recollection of what happened that night do you? "No, sir. "As regarding Mr. Rooney's testimony of the conversation between Francis and Hamilton, the latter said: "I am sure I did not say to Francis I had a big knife. I remember no talk with Francis about a knife. "Did you state to Mr. Rooney that you had to do it? that you did it in self defense? "It is a lie. "It is a lie, the whole thing. "Nothing was said of this. "No. "Did you tell Rooney that you had been intimate with the same woman? "It is all made out of whole cloth—all of it. "Did you ask two men to say that you had been struck? "I don't remember it. "Mr. Hamilton stated that when he recovered consciousness he had pains all through the head and was in pretty bad shape generally.

Hamilton Can't Remember It. "Do you remember what took place immediately before the officer took you to the station? "No, I do not. "Do you remember Officer Rooney giving you a 'stout lift,' as he says? "I don't remember it. "Do you recall saying: 'I will go with you, in the law take its course, I'll take the consequences.' "I don't think it is possible that I ever made any such statement. "Could you have made such a statement, knowing what you did? "No, sir, I could not. "Do you remember showing him the swollen spot on the head? "No, I do not. "Did you say you could have done Day without a knife if his friends had not jumped on you? "I have no recollection of it. "When asked by Mr. Hamilton denied all knowledge of any conversation whatever with the police officer on any subject whatever.

Hamilton Cross-Examined. In response to cross-examining questions by Mr. Boardman, the defendant said that he had been in Denver from September, 1899, to the following spring, and had done some newspaper work. He had worked about a month in a wholesale coffee house. "Did you have any trouble in Denver? "This was objected to by Mr. Nye, and the objection was sustained. Defendant was in Colorado Springs from December, 1899, to the following spring, and was not engaged in any business then. He stopped at the Johnson boarding-house all the time. "Were you traveling with a man named Bat Masterson? "No, sir. "Did you ever travel with him? "No, sir. "Do you ever live in Detroit? "No, sir. "Or in Kansas City? "No, sir. "Do you know Denver, Colorado Springs and Minneapolis are the only places you have lived in? "Yes, sir. I went to Cass Lake in July, 1899, to take position as bookkeeper, but they put me to work piling slabs. I began coughing and came back to Minneapolis.

Visit to Starr's Saloon. "When did you go over to Starr's saloon, did you say? "We went over to Starr's about 11 o'clock on the 12th. I think he went home after about fifteen minutes. "Mr. Canfield came in response to a message from you? "Yes, sir. "Who else of your friends were there? "Mr. Thurby. "At this time Mr. Nye asked for permission to interrupt the proceedings to allow Mr. Frye to declare William McKelvey elected president and Theodore Roosevelt vice president of the United States, and dissolved the joint meeting of the house and the senate.

Another Drink. "Mr. Evans, I believe, suggested that we go to the West Hotel and get another drink. I didn't want to go to the office for my drink, and I don't remember seeing me drunk, and sent Canfield for my overcoat. Then we four went over to the West Hotel. "Before going any further," interrupted Mr. Nye, "I would like to ask you several questions. Did you have any thought of Leonard Day when you started for the West Hotel? "No, whatever. "Had anything about him been suggested? "Nothing whatever. "Did you harbor any ill feeling then toward Day? "No, sir. "Not then nor any other time," was the emphatic reply. "Well, you may proceed."

No Thought of Day. "None whatever" was the answer. "Had anything about him been suggested?" "Nothing whatever." "Did you harbor any ill feeling then toward Day?" "No, sir." "Not then nor any other time," was the emphatic reply. "Well, you may proceed."

First Brush With Day. Force came up and said, "I'll fight you if you want to fight."

No Natural Way of Fighting. "Was your natural way of fighting with your overcoat on?" asked Mr. Boardman. "I have no natural way of fighting."

To Cure the Grip in Two Days. Laxative Bromo-Quinine removes the cause.

"I suppose I would take my overcoat off. I should start to fight, and my coat also. "You won't say that you did not remove your coat? "I don't know. "Did Day say that you did not catch him fair, that you had grabbed his hair? "No, I don't remember it. "Will you say he did not say so? "I don't know. "Do you remember that after the first clutch your roommate, Canfield, tried to lead you around the back? "I don't recollect it all. "How many were there when you were kneeling by Day's body? "I don't know. "Whether it was one or five? "I don't know. "You stood at the Y. M. C. A.? "Yes, sir. "You practiced in the gymnasium? "Yes, some. "You are athletic, aren't you? "Not particularly. "Could do feats on the horizontal bar? "No, I did chest work mostly; sparred, some. "What is your height and weight? "I weigh about 175 pounds; am 5 feet 8. "Day is a slight man? "No, I think not. He is a pretty athletic fellow. He has square shoulders and is quite a strong man.

No Hunting Knife. "Do you remember a hunting trip you and Canfield planned? "Yes, sir. "You secured a hunting knife? "No hunting knife was secured. Nothing was secured. The trip never got beyond the stage of talk. "Why did you grapple with Day? "He said something offensive to me—that is why I grappled with him. "I don't remember it. "How do you know it was something offensive? "Well, it angered me—that is why I say it was offensive. I don't remember it very clearly.

The Talk With Mannix. "You recall your conversation with Joseph Mannix at the lunch counter? "Yes, sir. "Was his testimony regarding that conversation correct? "Substantially so, I believe. "Witness would not admit, however, that he was angry with Day for making the threats. He did not fear him in any way and did not believe he had anything to fear from that quarter. "From this Mr. Boardman drew the inference that Hamilton had no apprehensions whatever that Day could do him any harm. "When do you recall that you were rubbing Mr. Day's hands? "I don't know. I knew at the time that I was rubbing Mr. Day's hands. "Do you remember seeing Mr. Francis that night? "Yes, sir.

Couldn't Remember First Charge. "Do you remember your first charge you with the murder? "No, I don't. "Do you remember seeing Mr. Bennett that night? "No, sir; I do not. "Did Bennett say: "He is dead; you killed him? "I don't know. "Will you say that you did not stab Mr. Day? "I don't know. "I mean to say that it was impossible for me to have done so. "Witness does not recall Francis advising him to keep quiet and recalled no talk with Officer Rooney except that I asked him to let me go to the closet. That's all I remember saying to him. "Will you say that you do not remember when he realized that it was Day's hand he was rubbing. "Mr. Boardman wanted to know why Hamilton could remember so many things as to not others, but Hamilton stated over and over again that he told all that he could and the blow dazed him so that he knew no more.

Sure He Didn't Kill Day. "I am sure I did not kill Leonard Day. "Why? "Because I am myself. "There is a blank that you can't fill? "I can't remember. "That's all," said Mr. Boardman.

Count the Votes. Houses of Congress Meet in Joint Session at 1 O'Clock.

Canvass the Election Returns. McKinley and Roosevelt Are Declared Elected President and Vice President.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The electoral vote for president and vice president were counted in the hall of the house of representatives at 1 o'clock today at a joint session of the house and the senate. Great crowds thronged the galleries.

Washington Small Talk. Mr. Tawney has recommended the establishment of a rural free delivery route at Lanesboro.

Representative Frye says he has no intention that Minneapolis lumbermen are opposed to the proposed bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota. On the contrary he has had a number of letters from them endorsing the bill. Such indications as are desired are of a minor character.

Representative Spalding today presented Dean D. V. Collins of Mandan to the president of the United States and the department of the interior. He will be six weeks abroad.

The Washington Times of Monday morning says: "Mrs. W. H. Ware of Minneapolis is visiting her daughter, Jacob Frye, at Eokington. She is the widow of Rev. W. H. Ware, who organized the first Good Templar lodge in the city. She has been supplied the pulpit of the Foundry M. E. church some thirty years ago."

Representative McCreary will speak at the banquet of the Michigan Republican club at Detroit on Washington's Birthday. Other guests will be Messrs. Charles Eastman and Messrs. Sauer and Merriman, ex-ministers of the Cape Colony, that they be given a hearing at the bar of the house, on the ground that their request is unusual and unprecedented. They will probably present a petition to the house, besides starting a propaganda by means of public meetings throughout the country.

Messrs. Sauer and Merriman are members of an Afrikaner committee appointed to visit England to inform parliament and the British people of the actual situation in South Africa.

Secretary Hitchcock today transmitted to the house the draft of a bill for an appropriation for the purchase of certain land in the ceded Chippewa reservation. A letter from the secretary of war, accompanying the bill, says that the land is needed as sites for watchmen's quarters and as a protection for the shore ends of the dams at Leech lake and Lake Umbagog.

Postmasters appointed to-day: Iowa—Curtis, Johnson county, Wesley Novotny; Fairmont, Jasper county, Archie Livingston; Monticello, Cass county, G. J. Charles; Nelhart, Cascade county, W. L. Cook. North Dakota—Hoffand, William county, D. Hoff. South Dakota—Reel Lake, Brule county, Frank Audera; Smithwick, Fall River county, Hezekiah Robins. William Bridge, of Grand Forks, will appear before the industrial commission today this afternoon. He will testify relative to the contract for the construction of the Minneapolis and St. Paul railway, and the contract with the Medawakanon Sioux, for prosecuting a claim for the restoration of lands to the Indians. He claims that the contract was secured by unfair means. Senator Kyle will go with Garvey to the interior department to lay the case before Secretary Hitchcock.

Speculation as to His Change on the Ship Subsidy Bill.

IT MAY BE DUE TO AMENDMENTS. His Former Position Has Been Made the Text of Speeches in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 13.—What is James J. Hill's present attitude on the ship subsidy bill? This is now an interesting question in view of the telegram said to have been sent by him yesterday to Senator Hanna.

At intervals during the past six months Mr. Hill, in private and in public, has placed himself squarely on record as believing that the pending bill should not be passed. He even went so far as to say publicly in a speech in Chicago that he was building a large fleet of Pacific freighters without reference to the subsidy bill and did not think the bill could affect his project in any way.

All of these public remarks, and in addition, several private letters from Mr. Hill to various interested gentlemen were incorporated day before yesterday in Senator Caffery's long speech against the subsidy bill. Using them as a text for one section of his speech, he inveighed against the bill in bitter and sarcastic terms.

If Mr. Hill, notwithstanding his well-known and oft-repeated views, is now favorable to the bill, as indicated in the dispatch received by Mr. Hanna yesterday, that fact will excite comment from one end of the country to the other.

It should be remembered, however, that the bill which Mr. Hill announced his opposition to several months ago is not the bill that is now pending. So radical have been the amendments that the original scope and purport of the bill have been almost entirely changed. These changes, however, it is believed, have been made with a view to making the bill more acceptable to the interior of the country by permitting that section to share more largely in its benefits. It is quite possible, therefore, that Mr. Hill's former position he is said to have taken, may be acting consistently and without laying himself open to criticism.

But whatever the reason for his alleged change, much interest is being taken in it here, and many people are wondering whether he will now give an interview by way of explaining his position. It is said the country on account of the wide publicity given his former views and the fact that they have exerted an important influence in shaping public sentiment.

Senator McCumber has prepared some remarks on the subsidy which he will deliver in his throat will stand the strain. He favors the subsidy principles strongly. In a general way he favors the present bill to the extent of voting for it if it comes to a vote in the senate. Senator McCumber believes that the subsidy should be based on capacity of vessels rather than their speed and the cargo carried. He has introduced some amendments to carry out his idea and he will ask for a vote on them.

Representative Spalding has received inquiries from his constituents relative to the establishment of a rural free delivery in North Dakota. Five routes have been established and seven or eight are pending.

Difficulties in the way are various. In the first place, it is a rule of the department that not less than 100 families shall be supplied on a thirty-mile route. It is difficult, on account of the large number of families in the state of North Dakota on which the required number of families live, and Mr. Spalding is trying to have that condition waived.

The second difficulty is in having the routes inspected. Applications for the establishment of routes are referred to inspectors as fast as they are received. In the territory which is to be covered, and those in the northwest make it a point to remain in the southern part of their districts during the winter. It is therefore probable that no inspections would be made in North Dakota until the late spring. A number of routes will be established as soon as the reports are received.

Senator Spooner is threatening again today to return to his original program of offering a motion in the senate in a few days to amend the bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota. He announced that the bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota would probably make his motion late this week or early next week unless the subsidy bill by that time is disposed of.

Washington Small Talk. Mr. Tawney has recommended the establishment of a rural free delivery route at Lanesboro.

Representative Frye says he has no intention that Minneapolis lumbermen are opposed to the proposed bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota. On the contrary he has had a number of letters from them endorsing the bill. Such indications as are desired are of a minor character.

Representative Spalding today presented Dean D. V. Collins of Mandan to the president of the United States and the department of the interior. He will be six weeks abroad.

WHERE IS THE AT? Speculation as to His Change on the Ship Subsidy Bill.

IT MAY BE DUE TO AMENDMENTS. His Former Position Has Been Made the Text of Speeches in the Senate.

Washington, Feb. 13.—What is James J. Hill's present attitude on the ship subsidy bill? This is now an interesting question in view of the telegram said to have been sent by him yesterday to Senator Hanna.

At intervals during the past six months Mr. Hill, in private and in public, has placed himself squarely on record as believing that the pending bill should not be passed. He even went so far as to say publicly in a speech in Chicago that he was building a large fleet of Pacific freighters without reference to the subsidy bill and did not think the bill could affect his project in any way.

All of these public remarks, and in addition, several private letters from Mr. Hill to various interested gentlemen were incorporated day before yesterday in Senator Caffery's long speech against the subsidy bill. Using them as a text for one section of his speech, he inveighed against the bill in bitter and sarcastic terms.

If Mr. Hill, notwithstanding his well-known and oft-repeated views, is now favorable to the bill, as indicated in the dispatch received by Mr. Hanna yesterday, that fact will excite comment from one end of the country to the other.

It should be remembered, however, that the bill which Mr. Hill announced his opposition to several months ago is not the bill that is now pending. So radical have been the amendments that the original scope and purport of the bill have been almost entirely changed. These changes, however, it is believed, have been made with a view to making the bill more acceptable to the interior of the country by permitting that section to share more largely in its benefits. It is quite possible, therefore, that Mr. Hill's former position he is said to have taken, may be acting consistently and without laying himself open to criticism.

But whatever the reason for his alleged change, much interest is being taken in it here, and many people are wondering whether he will now give an interview by way of explaining his position. It is said the country on account of the wide publicity given his former views and the fact that they have exerted an important influence in shaping public sentiment.

Senator McCumber has prepared some remarks on the subsidy which he will deliver in his throat will stand the strain. He favors the subsidy principles strongly. In a general way he favors the present bill to the extent of voting for it if it comes to a vote in the senate. Senator McCumber believes that the subsidy should be based on capacity of vessels rather than their speed and the cargo carried. He has introduced some amendments to carry out his idea and he will ask for a vote on them.

Representative Spalding has received inquiries from his constituents relative to the establishment of a rural free delivery in North Dakota. Five routes have been established and seven or eight are pending.

Difficulties in the way are various. In the first place, it is a rule of the department that not less than 100 families shall be supplied on a thirty-mile route. It is difficult, on account of the large number of families in the state of North Dakota on which the required number of families live, and Mr. Spalding is trying to have that condition waived.

The second difficulty is in having the routes inspected. Applications for the establishment of routes are referred to inspectors as fast as they are received. In the territory which is to be covered, and those in the northwest make it a point to remain in the southern part of their districts during the winter. It is therefore probable that no inspections would be made in North Dakota until the late spring. A number of routes will be established as soon as the reports are received.

Senator Spooner is threatening again today to return to his original program of offering a motion in the senate in a few days to amend the bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota. He announced that the bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota would probably make his motion late this week or early next week unless the subsidy bill by that time is disposed of.

Washington Small Talk. Mr. Tawney has recommended the establishment of a rural free delivery route at Lanesboro.

Representative Frye says he has no intention that Minneapolis lumbermen are opposed to the proposed bill for the extension of the timber land in the state of Minnesota. On the contrary he has had a number of letters from them endorsing the bill. Such indications as are desired are of a minor character.

Representative Spalding today presented Dean D. V. Collins of Mandan to the president of the United States and the department of the interior. He will be six weeks abroad.

Over 2000 Hospitals. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is the only pure, reliable alcoholic stimulant to administer to patients in cases of grip, consumption, dyspepsia, general debility, nervousness, weak heart and low fevers.

MONTVUE HOSPITAL, Frederick, Md. DUFFY MALT WHISKEY CO. Gentlemen: It has been about one year since I first began to use Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey both in preparation and laboratory work in this institution. I find it a most effective, invigorating, alcoholic stimulant, and prefer it to any other, as I believe it to be absolutely pure. Its action on the general economy and the entire system is more effective than any other whiskey I have tried, and our patients take more kindly to it. As long as the quality remains at the present standard I shall always use it wherever an alcoholic stimulant is required, especially in that class of convalescents who need what we call "restored foods." I find from experience that Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey acts gently, not vigorously on the digestive system. We will always use it to the exclusion of all others on account of its absolute purity and the excellent results we have received from its use. I am, Very kindly, H. P. FAHRNEY, M.D.

Use Exclusively. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey has brought the blessing of health to thousands of homes during the past forty years. There is none "just as good as" Duffy's. The dealer who says so is thinking of his profits, not of your health.

ST. JOSEPH'S HOSPITAL, 1215 Walnut St., Reading Pa., July 6, 1900. We are using Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in the St. Joseph's Hospital as a pure and reliable tonic. We believe it to be the purest of whiskeys. G. E. NEWBY, M. D., Res. Physician to Hospital.

MERCY HOSPITAL, Wilkes-Barre, Pa. November 28, 1900. Dear Sirs: The use of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey for irritable stomach has proven it to be a thoroughly reliable and satisfactory article and one always to be depended on. Respectfully, H. A. FISCHER, Resident Physician.

EASTON HOSPITAL, Easton, Pa. Oct. 26, 1900. I have used Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in my practice, and have always found it to do good work. I believe it to be perfectly pure. It is retained by the most irritable stomach. H. D. MICHLER, M. D.

Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is a form of food already digested, for the convalescent or the weak and tired a teaspoonful in half a glass of milk, three times a day, will soon build up strength and energy. It can be retained by the most sensitive stomach. 7,000 doctors prescribe it.

CAUTION: We wish to caution our patrons against so-called "Duffy's Malt Whiskey" sold in bulk and unsealed bottles. Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is sold in sealed bottles only. Unsealed bottles it is a fraud. Insist on getting the genuine. Refuse substitutes. The distinguished writer of the following letter has served her beneficent mission at the head of some of the largest curative and charitable institutions in the country:—

It gives me great pleasure to recommend Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey, which I have used for consumptives in the last stages of the disease. Aside from its medicinal properties it is very mild. The patient can retain it when all other stimulants fail. I recommend it to all. MOTHER HIERONYMO, Rochester, N. Y.

FREE. If you are sick and run down, write us. It will cost you nothing to learn how to regain health, energy and vitality. Medical booklet and testimonials sent free. It is the only Whiskey taxed by the Government as a medicine. This is a guarantee. All druggists and grocers, or direct, $1.00 a bottle. DUFFY MALT WHISKEY CO., Rochester, N. Y. NO FUSEL OIL.

Allen, Vermont, and two each at Fort Riley, Kansas, and at the Presidio at San Francisco. Plans are under consideration in the treasury department which would result in a rearrangement of the internal revenue districts in several northwestern states. Members of the Minnesota delegation have recommended that North and South Dakota be detached from the Nebraska collection district, that North Dakota be placed in the St. Paul district and South Dakota in the Iowa district. This arrangement is suggested by business men of the Dakotas who urge the change on the ground that St. Paul and Sioux City are more easily accessible to them than Omaha, the headquarters of the district of Nebraska, which embraces the two Dakotas. Senator Kyle is opposed to this plan, and asks that North Dakota be embraced in a district by themselves.

Special to The Journal. Blue Earth, Minn., Feb. 13.—Thomas R. Senter, the Missouri swindler and forger, is in a fair way to receive his just deserts. The jury has found him guilty of forgery in the first degree and Judge Quinn will pronounce sentence in a short time. An extraordinary effort was made to save the defendant and his alleged alibi might have been made perfect but for the fierce cross examination conducted by A. H. Hall of Minneapolis, who disconcerted many of the witnesses for the defense and wrung the truth from them.

A. J. Foster, of Briscany, is now on trial for grand larceny in the first degree. The work of getting a jury is under way. Fred Ober, a boy, confessed to robbing the Model clothing store last night and was sentenced to forty-five days in jail. Some $16 was taken, $12 of which was recovered.

WITH MILITARY HONORS. Watertown, N. Y., Feb. 13.—The remains of Colonel Albert D. Shaw, congressman from this district and late commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., were interred in Brookside cemetery to-day with military honors, after private funeral services at the family residence. The body lay in state at the armory.

EDITH ROGERS FINED. Edith Rogers, convicted on a charge of keeping a house for forty-five days in jail, some $16 was taken, $12 of which was recovered.

GENUINE "KHAKI." The genuine "khaki" is the fadeless olive-green canvas cloth used for the uniforms of soldiers in hot countries. The permanent dye was the accidental discovery of a dyer employed by a Manchester, England, business firm, after many fruitless years of experiment. It was found that one piece which fell into a metal dish retained the color despite the application of soda or soap, and his experiment led to the use of chemical dyes which secured the "fast" color required by government.

FIGHTING WILL END SOON. GENERAL MACARTHUR'S RELIEF. Surrender Removes Last Formidable Force in Northern Luzon Except One District.

Washington, Feb. 13.—The following cablegram was received by the war department to-day from General MacArthur at Manila: Colonel Simon Treson, seven officers, seventy-one soldiers, fifty-nine guns, 5,000 rounds ammunition, surrendered unconditionally Feb. 11 at San Miguel de Mayumo, Luzon. This breaks up group of insurgents heretofore operating in mountains east of Bataan; removes from northern Luzon last formidable organized force excepting the first district. Rigid enforcement proclamation Dec. 20. Spontaneous action of people through federal army on behalf of peace, self-protection, and independence. They will probably present a petition to the house, besides starting a propaganda by means of public meetings throughout the country. —MacArthur.

Men's Shoes. You can save $1 to $1.50 by buying a pair of the North Star Samping Shoes that we are now selling. Among them are all sizes; they are eleven styles, all of you will look this up; they are $2.59 per pair.

Ladies', Boys' and Girls' Shoes are also in this sample lot at prices in proportion. See them in our windows.

Home Trade Shoe Store 219-223 Nicollet