No. 44, which is announced to occur at the Lyceum theater to-morrow afternoon, are selling at a premium. Milton Cooper, who came to this city with his family of seven children from Pennsylvania forty years ago, died at the residence of his son, Preston Cooper, 2677 Grand avenue S., on Tuesday evening, in his ninety-first year. It is somewhat of a coincidence that his wife died twenty-two years ago on Washington's birthday, while his death occurred while the birthday of Lincoln was being observed. Mr. Cooper was a builder by occupation, and enjoyed the acquaintance of many of the older residents of the city. With the aid of his sons, Preston and Barclay Cooper, he helped to finish the interior of the old original Nicollet House. He also engaged in the construction of the government buildings at Fort Snelling during the civil war.

A BIG ONE COMING. Irwin's "Big Show" at the Dewey Next Week. One of the best all around vaudeville and burlesque companies now traveling is headed by a two month old troupe, "Irwin's Big Show." It is the name of the company and will present two entirely new burlesques, "The Man With the Funny Touch," and "A Good One," both interspersed with the latest songs and music. The specialties which form the middle portion of the program are carefully selected for their individual merit and comprise the following: The Eight Cornallias, lady and gentlemen acrobats, Fitzgibbons, McCoy and Fitzgibbons, a merry trio in a new sketch entitled, "Her Mischievous Brother," the Clarion Trio, stars from the operatic firmament, Watson and Bernard, German dialect comedians and language mixers as the "German and the Jew," Dr. Dewey, the "Week of the city," and the quality was fine. The rush of turkey comes at a cheaper price to hold communion with his appetite.

THE "BIRD" GET POPULAR. What Dooley calls the "Grate Nashual Birrud" is growing more popular with Minneapolis epicures and is very plentiful in Minneapolis markets. A local commission man stated this morning that it was evident that he people living in the rural districts of Hennepin and neighboring counties were diversifying their poultry-raising to the extent of multiplying the turkey output by five within a year. The holidays saw the largest amount of turkey prepared in Minneapolis in the history of the city, and the quality was fine. The rush of turkey comes at a cheaper price to hold communion with his appetite.

HIS REPORT USEFUL. Michael Dowling's Secret Mission to the Philippines. HIS SUGGESTIONS ANENT SCHOOLS. He Did Not Oppose the Faribault Plan—Recommendations Acted Upon.

In the benevolent assimilation of the Philippines, the administration at Washington expects education to play a most important part. It can easily be shown that the problems of adapting the American school systems to conditions found in the islands have been very difficult to solve, and yet, being familiar with American progressiveness, just such a solution might be expected as that which has been reached. Washington dispatches say that, in the islands of civil government proposed for the Philippines, the Faribault plan of instruction has been adopted for the schools, a system that has become familiar to pedagogues everywhere in connection with the name of Archbishop Ireland.

Dowling's Secret Mission. Some months ago Speaker Dowling, of the house of representatives, was sent to the Philippines on a secret mission for the war department. His report has not yet been published, and, consequently, it is not permitted to refer to some of the recommendations made. However, the statement does not come from Mr. Dowling, it is understood that he did not express in his report an opinion hostile to the Faribault plan. "Through the war department has not given out any statement touching his report, the educational system of the island has been taken up for consideration by Mr. Dowling of which mention was made at this time. One of the first suggestions from the Minnesota man was that American teachers be imported. Fred W. Atkinson, general superintendent of education in that far away archipelago, has recently informed Mr. Dowling that teachers from this side of the ocean have been secured.

DECLINED TO COMPROMISE. Rev. M. Falk Gjertsen Will Fight to a Finish. A letter has been received from the Rev. M. Falk Gjertsen of this city, now just declining to a compromise in regard to the scandalous charges preferred against him by certain clergymen of that city. Mr. Gjertsen has hired a lawyer and will not set to court until the charges as proposed, but will fight it to finish. The affair is the sensation of Christiania, as the papers exploited it as soon as Mr. Gjertsen and his wife arrived in Norway.

KIMBALL ARRESTED. Charged With Big Revenue Stamp Robbery. United States secret service officers Tuesday night arrested S. T. Kimball on suspicion of being implicated in the robbery of the internal revenue office in Peoria, Ill., last month, of $32,000 worth of revenue stamps. Immediately after the robbery Detective Andrews and Benjamin of the secret service were detailed on the case. Kimball, a resident of Chicago, was registered at the Golden West hotel, internal revenue office reader of Nevada, Iowa, assisted in making the arrest. He denied his assistance in running down the real offenders. While Kimball and Read were away from the hotel the other two detectives searched the man's room and there found the missing stamps. Kimball denied all complicity in the robbery. A confederate by the name of Arns is under arrest in Chicago. A revenue officer from St. Paul took Kimball to Chicago.

IDEAS OF TRANSIENTS. "The northwest takes lots of New England fish," said Charles E. Lawson of Gloucester, one of the prominent fish packers of the east. "Oodish, herring and mackerel are great favorites with the Minnesota and Dakota traders and the demand from this section increases every year. In fact, the demand is so great that the lenten season seems to bring no marked increase." Mr. Lawson is much impressed with the hustle and energy of western men.

OPPOSED TO HILL'S ROAD. Efforts to Rouse Sentiment Against Its Construction to Boundary. Special to the Journal. Vancouver, B. C., Feb. 14.—Desperate but earnest efforts are being made to rouse sentiment in British Columbia against the proposed American rail connection with the boundary mine country. It is alleged that President Hill is leagued with the American smelter trust to buy the control of the Crow's Nest collieries, cut off the British Columbia smelters' coke supply and close down the smelters. Dispatches from the east have also been circulated throughout Canada, claiming that the proposed grant and charter rights from the Canadian parliament.

THE TRUTH AT LAST. James J. Hill "O. K." in the Ship Subsidy Telegram. James J. Hill, who has returned from Chicago, does not deny the ship subsidy telegram. He says: "The telegram is all right. I sent it to Senator Hanna and it fully expressed my sentiments toward the measure. You say further that it is the only genuine and truthful plea in regard to my affairs which I have seen for three months."

There are 200 applicants for admission to the school for the feeble minded at Faribault who cannot be taken in on account of lack of room, and have been put on the "waiting list." The state board of charities is waiting practically on their request that the legislature take some means to relieve the overcrowded condition of this institution, and the board of trustees of the institution have asked for an appropriation of $100,000 for repairs and new buildings.

BY THE HIGH COURT. Three Decisions Handed Down Yesterday. The supreme court yesterday handed down the following decisions: In the matter of the estate of Fanny Semper, deceased, Joseph H. Corcoran, appellant, vs. William Semper, respondent. Syllabus: First—An attorney at law who drafts a will, attends the person executing the same to give advice, is not prohibited, on account of his relations as legal counsel to the person subscribing the same, from answering any question concerning the facts connected with such execution, except those which she had the necessary testamentary capacity and that the same was her legal will. Order affirmed. —Lovely, J. Julia Gorstz, respondent, vs. Gustav Pinski, appellant. Syllabus: First—Where an erroneous statement of law clearly applicable to the facts of a case is given in the charge of the trial court, and the error is not corrected by subsequent correct instructions which do not point directly to and correct the misdirection. Second—It is the duty of the trial court to apply the law in its instructions to the essential facts of the evidence in a practical and concrete form, and if errors in this respect, and a general correct abstract proposition upon the same subject will not cure the previous error. Third—Correct statements of abstract propositions by a trial court must be confined to the facts of the case, and must be presumed in this court on review when contradictory instructions are given, and those of practical application to the evidence were most effective than others of an abstract character. Fourth—An erroneous instruction of the trial court in this case, considered in the light of the evidence and the rules above stated, and held to be prejudicial to the defendant. Order reversed. —Lovely, J. State of Minnesota, respondent, vs. E. B. Ford, appellant. Syllabus: First—In a prosecution for a criminal libel, the jury have the right to determine the law as well as the facts involved (G. S. 188, sec. 818), and may infer in a case where the language of the libel complained of is scurrilous and abusive, as in this case, that the same was published from an improper motive and with malicious intent. Second—Evidence considered and held that there was no evidence that would require the jury to believe that the defendant was excusable or published upon reasonable grounds of belief in its truth or for good motives. Third—Suspensions and rumors of improper conduct by a citizen in a public station will not be a matter of law, justly a newspaper in giving the same circulation. Publication, in such case, must be upon a statement of the truth of such rumors and from good motives to secure immunity to the publisher. Order affirmed. —Lovely, J.

THE PULP INDUSTRY. It is Now Booming in the North Woods. Arrivals from Duluth and Wisconsin tell an interesting story of the progress of the pulp wood industry. There are few localities where pulp wood is not being made for taking out pulp wood this winter. One paper company has over 20,000 cords under contract. The St. Croix district is well supplied with pulp wood, and efforts are being made to start a mill in that section. All that is needed is the right freight rate.

OSTEOPS WATCHING. Fear Restrictive Legislation in North Dakota. Local disciples of osteopathy are watching the legislative skies for any clouds of trouble that may be collecting for them. The first appearance of trouble in the legislative halls of North Dakota, where a bill has been introduced to osteopaths to practice in the state. There are several graduates of the Northern Institute of Minneapolis, located in North Dakota, and the proposed legislation is being watched closely.

Miles on Miles. Are walked by the billiard player, as he moves around the table. That is the only exercise many a city man gets. It is this lack of exercise in the shut-in-life of the city, combined with irregular eating and indigestible dishes which tend to make the city man a victim of "stomach trouble." When there is undue fullness after eating, with belching, sour risings and other distressing symptoms, a prompt use of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will effect a speedy cure. In the most extreme cases, I do not think of a disease of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, the persistent use of the "Discovery" will result in a complete cure in ninety-eight cases out of every hundred.

THE OPPORTUNITY CAME. Two Chorus Girls Equal to An Emergency. The opportunity which always comes to those who wait came to Miss Anna Hicksh, a chorus girl in the Alice Nielsen company, at the matinee performance of "The Fortune Teller" in St. Paul. An hour before the performance, Miss Nielsen sent word to the theater that she was indisposed and would not sing. This gave Miss Hicksh her opportunity. Although she had never sang the double role of Musette and Duna, she had listened to it a hundred times when Miss Nielsen was singing her way to fame and fortune. She immediately assumed the proper costume and went on with the confidence that youth and ambition inspire. She sang beautifully, and hundreds of people in the audience did not know but they were listening to the famous prima donna, Alice Nielsen.

H. Normington. The soloists are Misses Inez Davis, Sarah Alice Brooke, Ella Glasen, Marian Herrick, Helen Crittenden, Alice Haley, Katherine Wichele and Zubrah Steinhilber.
