

CURED in THREE WEEKS!

Dr. Greene's Nervura

Is the Only Medicine in the World That Cures St. Vitus' Dance.

THE nervous troubles of children are no less heartrending because they are common.

What agonies of anxiety the parents of such children endure! Mrs. D. WARD, of 904 North Carlisle St., Philadelphia, Pa., tells how her little daughter was cured of St. Vitus' Dance by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. She says:

"My little daughter, Blanche, was stricken with St. Vitus' Dance. We had the best physicians attend her, but she grew steadily worse until she was as helpless as an infant. She couldn't speak one word or keep still for one-half minute at a time. I was driven almost to despair. I just left off my medicine and used Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. She slept better that night, and I continued it all the next day and night without losing the doctor's knowledge of the change. He called in two days and pronounced her 99 per cent better. I then dismissed all the doctors and gave her only Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and it cured her in three weeks' time."

Dr. Greene's NERVURA

BLOOD AND NERVE REMEDY

CURES Diseases of Infants and Children.

Every parent who has a child afflicted with St. Vitus' Dance should read the following letter from a father whose little daughter was cured by Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy.

CHARLES L. McRAY, a highly esteemed police officer, who resides at 14 Myrtle St., New Bedford, Mass., says:

"About two years ago my little daughter became run-down in health and suffered from St. Vitus' Dance. Soon after she was prostrated with rheumatism, which severely affected her lower limbs. After trying various remedies without obtaining relief, she began taking Dr. Greene's medicine and experienced immediate benefit. She continued its use and her rheumatism was practically cured. Her appetite returned, her pains disappeared, she was again able to walk without lameness, her general health was restored, and she was able to attend school and play like other children."

Will Not "O. K." State Board Bills Until the Court Decides.

Special to The Journal.

Canton, S. D., Feb. 19.—State Auditor J. D. Reeves has taken a hand in the contest between the rival boards of charities and corrections by refusing to allow petition and expenses to those members of the old board who were appointed by ex-Governor Lee just before his term of office expired. F. H. Bacon of this city was one of the appointees and sent to Pierre a bill for $68 per diem and traveling expenses this month. Auditor Reeves writes he cannot allow these bills until the supreme court decides which is the legal board. The bills were allowed for January without question, but it now seems the old board will be out their salary and expenses for February should the supreme court decide in favor of Governor Herrell's appointees.

This will give Canton two of the finest hotels in the state.

English Are Afraid of the Big Steel Combine.

Special to The Journal.

London, Feb. 19.—The head of a large concern in the midlands says that the American steel combination will realize such huge profits in directions that it will be able to sell to Great Britain and elsewhere with the view to compelling the closing of the British mills, and ultimately it will be the master of the markets. There is reason to believe that an attempt will be made to take the whole British trade into the combination.

COURTHOUSE AND SCHOOL

Minnewaukan and Benson County "Point With Pride."

Special to The Journal.

Minnewaukan, N. D., Feb. 19.—The new courthouse and school building are completed and now in use. The former is said to be the best county building in the state. Both buildings are thoroughly modern, the cost running close to $50,000.

Tax collections in Benson county for the month of January were about $22,000, of which the Great Northern and Northern Pacific paid about $14,500. Telegraph and elevator companies' taxes will bring this up to about $18,000, or about one-fourth the entire amount of taxes collected for all purposes for the year. Sixteen years ago the total taxes collected for the year were about $8,000.

The prospective extension of the Northern Pacific from McHenry through the southern and western part of this county will furnish a market for hundreds of settlers already located, and will enhance the value of tributary farm lands materially. Much good land can still be bought in Benson county for $1,000 to $1,500 per quarter section, though owners are rapidly coming to realize that the fact that choice lands here are cheaper than in almost any section of the north-west. This condition cannot long continue.

Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Feb. 19.—At a meeting of the council last evening it was voted to accept the terms of Andrew Carnegie's offer to give the city $25,000 to construct a library building. The city pledges itself to furnish an adequate site for the building and to give $3,000 annually for support of the institution. Citizens contemplate raising $10,000 to furnish the building and buy books and of this amount Henry W. Seymour offers to give $1,000.

HURRY UP ENGLAND

Choate Has Instructions on the Hay-Pauncote Treaty.

IMMEDIATE ACTION IS ASKED

Ambassador Will Tell the British That the Canal May Be Built Anyway.

Special to The Journal.

London, Feb. 19.—Ambassador Choate has received instructions from Washington to impress upon the British government the necessity for immediate action upon the Hay-Pauncote treaty. Mr. Choate will tell Lord Lansdowne that the United States expects an answer to the treaty before March 4.

Mr. Choate has been informed, unofficially, of course, of the disposition of the United States senate to repeal the Clayton-Brewster act, which bans the Nicaragua canal bill, if the pending treaty is not accepted. And he will, also unofficially, tell the secretary of state for foreign affairs that the situation in the United States is.

Ambassador Choate's instructions from Washington are imperative, and he will make Lord Lansdowne realize that whatever he intends to do he must do quickly.

NOT AN ABSORPTION

Companies in the Steel Combine Keep Their Identity.

ORGANIZED LIKE FEDERAL STEEL

Not Only Is Carnegie Out, but the Gates Influence Will Be Minimized.

Special to The Journal.

New York, Feb. 19.—It is learned authoritatively that the plans for the big steel combination do not contemplate that the constituent companies of the new $800,000,000 United States Steel company shall lose their identity. The plan it is understood will be similar to that which the Federal Steel company was formed. That company took over the stocks of the Minnesota Iron company, the Illinois Steel company, the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railway company, the American Steel company of Ohio, and the Lorain Steel company of Pennsylvania, issuing its own stock in exchange. Each company is operated under its own charter and organization, the revenues of the Federal Steel company being derived from the earnings of the constituent companies. About the same idea is expected to be exemplified on a grander scale in the United States Steel company.

Among the large holders of the new company's stock, who will be prominent in its management, will be H. H. Porter, E. H. Widener, W. L. Elkins, W. H. Moore and the partners of Mr. Carnegie. The combination not only eliminates Mr. Carnegie from active participation in the steel and iron business but also minimizes John W. Gates and his methods of business.

That the formation of the new company will have no effect on the money market was stated by one of the appointees. One report is that the plans under way are comprehensive enough to include the acquisition and control of certain coal and iron mines and organization, the revenues of the Federal Steel company being derived from the earnings of the constituent companies. About the same idea is expected to be exemplified on a grander scale in the United States Steel company.

WILDCAT ROAD GONE

LAST VESTIGE BEING REMOVED

$3,000,000 Line Which Never Had a Train Sold in a Lump for $110,000.

Special to The Journal.

L'Anse, Mich., Feb. 19.—John Campbell of Detroit, superintendent of the Detroit Construction company, has a crew of men at work tearing down the ore dock of the Iron Range & Huron Bay railroad. There is a fine lot of pine in the dock, aggregating nearly 3,000,000 feet of select stuff. It will take sixty days to tear it down. The dock was decked and the timber is as good as the day it was cut. It will be taken to Detroit.

This will remove the last vestige of about the complete railroad enterprise in Michigan. Milo Davis, formerly of Detroit, who is now a fugitive from justice and supposed to be in Mexico, owned the same until late in 1897. M. Turner of Lansing, was one of his victims. Christian Buhl and the Stevens, Alexander and Henry, of Detroit, were the heaviest losers. The scheme was to build an iron ore road from Champlain to Huron Bay, forty-five miles. Davis made the estimates and the road was built and equipped. It was finished in the early nineties, and even if it had not struck the panic of '93 it could not have succeeded. Although splendidly equipped with 70-pound steel and the finest rolling stock, it was never used. The road cost many times what Davis estimated. Nearly $3,000,000 were sunk in the forty-five miles of track. The grades were 3 per cent in some places and would just about have required a locomotive for every car. Two fine 110-ton locomotives never turned a wheel. The grades were 3 per cent in some places and would just about have required a locomotive for every car. Albert Lea Domestic Steals Dresses and Laces Valued at $50.

Special to The Journal.

Fort Dodge, Iowa, Feb. 19.—Nellie Carlson, domestic in the family of Dr. T. E. Deyers, a dress and lace maker, was caught last night, taking with her a choice assortment of silk dresses and laces, the property of her mistress. The girl had only been in the employ of the family for three days, but had evidently made a thorough canvass of the house, and had carefully selected the articles which were of the greatest value. It is estimated that she made away with goods to the value of $50.

A sensation has been caused in East Western township by the discovery that a family named Burns had permitted their child to attend a crowded country school when the little one's body was badly broken up with smallpox. The discovery existed in the family before, but it was thought all danger was passed, until the accidental discovery by the teacher of the cutting school, where the child was the pupil, the tell tale mark on his body. The family has been placed under strict quarantine, but it is feared the mischief has been already done, and it seems likely that several cases will result.

Thiemach is 54 years old, and the quartet was compelled to appear and Jones from this city to Geneva. Battle Lake Defendants in Blind Pig Cases Are Held.

Special to The Journal.

Pergus Falls, Minn., Feb. 19.—The cases against Dr. C. B. Heimark and Christian and Olof Klorjog, charged with having been engaged in the blind pig business at Battle Lake, came on for hearing to-day. Heimark was held on two counts, his bail being fixed at $500. The Klorjogs took a change of venue from Justice Cowing to Justice Field, but both were bound over, Christian being held on three counts and his bonds fixed at $450 and Olof on two, his bond being placed at $200. Heimark secured bonds, and the others are looking for them. The cases will come before the district court in April.

They Played For Their Friends.....

Since last fall the Journal Newsboys' band has been working hard under the direction of Professor C. C. Heintzeman and last night "the big band of little men" gave a splendid concert at Century hall for their friends, their mothers, fathers, sisters, brothers, cousins and aunts. And the friends accepted the invitation to the number of nearly 700, completely filling the hall. The band was assisted by the Temple Quartet. Fred White, the juggler, and Hazel Barer, the little 8-year-old lady, who sings and dances so well. Judging from the many encores insisted upon, it is safe to say the large audience enjoyed the entire entertainment very much.

Of course the Journal Newsboys' band made the hit of the evening and in their marches, two-steps and waltzes convinced their friends that they have been working hard. The boys have really accomplished wonders and play with a precision, dash and spirit that is wonderful.

When the curtain went up the fifty boys were "discovered" on the stage ready for the first number and when Professor Heintzeman came on the boys took off their red caps like one boy and played "The Flag of Victory March." The second number was "Peaceful Slumbers Serenade," executed in splendid style, and to an encore "Willow Grove March" was played with excellent finish. The band also gave three numbers, "Fort Popham March," "Tricotrin Waltzes," "The Fortune Teller March." Each number was heartily applauded and "Uncle Remus on Broadway," "Prize of Victory" and "Frontenac March" were given as encores.

The Temple Quartet was on the program for "Selections." The quartet as organized includes D. Alvin Davies, first tenor; H. A. Stuart, second tenor; George H. Lugsdin, first bass; and W. H. Elchman, second bass. It is safe to say that never in all its ten years' existence was it accorded a heartier reception. As an opening number, the quartet sang an amusing "Pecaniny song," which set the audience in a roar of laughter. The continued applause brought them on again, with a humorous number entitled "The Catastrophe." The lowering of the curtain on this number—failed to stop the applause and the quartet was compelled to appear and acknowledge the compliment once more.

Little Hazel Barer, the petite comedienne, although indisposed, appeared as though she was never happier in her life. She was beautifully attired for the occasion in the newsboys' band color—red—from tip to toe, and looked "too sweet for anything." By request, she sang—and bewitched, and every time she made "googoo" eyes at the audience, she brought down the house. She was compelled to answer a number of encores. In all fairness, it can truthfully be said that no more talented child performer than Little Hazel Barer has ever appeared on a Minneapolis stage.

The performance of Fred White, the premier juggler, and balancer, kept the audience in a continual bewilderment wondering if there was anything he could not perform. One of the feats in Mr. White's entertainment was the juggling of a cannon ball, a liny paper ball and a table. He held the audience breathless for nearly half an hour, and after persistent applause reappeared and built a tall pyramid of lanterns, flags, lamps and tumblers, which he balanced on his chin. Max Brenner presided at the piano, giving some excellent solos, between the curtains.

The band played as the last number "Kaaba Tomle March" and as a last encore "Uncle Sam March," which includes an arrangement of "The Star Spangled Banner" and "America." As the boys played they rose to their feet and the large audience followed the example, giving the boys one loud long "hand" for the evening's program.

Call It Kidney Ache

Minneapolis Citizens Tell You Why.

May as well call things by their right name. It is backache to be sure—but the kidneys are to blame. Too much of a strain on the little filters of the blood. They can't take the uric acid out of the blood—that's where the trouble begins—

You know the rest; backache, headache, urinary troubles, diabetes—and then, Bright's Disease.

Doan's Kidney Pills

are the remedy. Cure kidney troubles of any kind. Are doing it right here in Minneapolis every day. Here is the case of it:

Mr. Frank Breuck, proprietor of cigar, tobacco and confectionery store at 274 Aldrich avenue N. says: "For a long time I had a good deal of trouble arising from the imperfect action of my kidneys. Hearing good reports about the effectiveness of Doan's Kidney Pills, Mrs. Breuck went to the Voegel Bros. drug store, 2 and 4 Washington avenue S., corner of Hennepin, Minneapolis, Minn., and got a box. The result of the treatment proved this preparation to deserve all the good reports I had heard."
