CLUBS AND CHARITIES

Club Calendar.

THURSDAY—
Tourist club, Mrs. C. B. Elliott, 227 Oak Grove street, afternoon, social meeting.
Willard W. C. T. U. Mrs. J. V. Ellis, 3006 Garfield avenue, 8 p. m.
Ladies' Thursday Music program, 10 a. m., First Unitarian church.

A reception was given last evening by the Young People's Christian Temperance Union in the headquarters in the Andrus building. A program was given by Hamilton Broughton, Corinne Broughton, Mrs. J. S. Kemp, Miss Eleanor Lloyd, Miss La Rue and Mrs. Rowell Larson. Miss Guthrie spoke of the need of such a club as the society has recently opened on Cedar avenue and Second street and Dr. Charles P. Berkey told what the work is. An informal reception was held and the officers of the union, Dr. Berkey, president; Miss Hannah McLennan, recording secretary; Mrs. Mary A. Whedon, corresponding secretary, and St. Martin, treasurer, greeted the guests. Light refreshments were served. The society will make an effort to secure a larger membership and to that end has been divided into two divisions. The division securing the largest list by June 1 will receive a handsome prize.

The Business Women's club social last evening was a pleasant affair, although the attendance was diminished by the cold weather and illness among the membership. The guests were served with champagne and long coupon tickets, each coupon having on it the name of a station hidden in conundrum. Master Brain was the ticket agent. A railroad station luncheon was served from a large counter, around which were placed the familiar signs.

Next Tuesday evening Mrs. J. B. Gillilan will give her postponed talk on her European trip before the club and its friends.

Mrs. Lowell B. Jepson presided at the all-day meeting of the Women's Missionary union of the Minneapolis Congregational churches which was held in the Fifth Avenue Congregational church yesterday. Miss C. W. Nichols, president of the Minnesota Woman's Home Mission union, had charge of an hour in which the work of the union was presented. Dr. George R. Merrill gave an earnest missionary address, in which he made a plea for more work in the northern part of Minnesota among the miners and lumbermen and for greater effort with the children. Miss Nichols spoke of the jubilee fund which is being raised to commemorate the seventy-fifth anniversary of the Home Mission society. The fund will be used for extra missionary work and $600 has been promised from Minnesota. Mrs. E. W. Smith spoke of the Christian Endeavor work and the devotional half hour was led by Mrs. A. Snow. In the afternoon Mrs. C. T. Rickard spoke on "What Has Been Done for the Negro," and Mrs. W. S. Pattee on "The Condition and Need of the Negro." Mrs. G. W. Beach reviewed what was being done among the mountaineers of Tennessee and Mrs. E. R. Smith the work in New Mexico. Mrs. H. S. Baker spoke of the children's department, and Mrs. C. T. Sawyer led the discussion which followed. Mrs. S. V. S. Fisher led a memorial service for Mrs. F. A. Brownson, vice president of the Anoka conference, who died in December. Miss Melva Kanarar sang a solo during the afternoon.

The Eighth Ward W. C. T. U. organized a party at the home of Mrs. Houghton, 107 E. Twenty-second street. Dr. Eibel E. Hurd gave "A Retrospect" in the interest of the department of franchise, recalling many interesting facts connected with woman's evolution. Dr. Hurd was given a hearty vote of thanks by those present. Tributes to Miss Willard were read and a generous thank offering was raised to be used for national work. It was decided to assist in gospel work at the Crittenton home during October. Refreshments were served.

At a meeting of the Woman's League at the university the other day it was decided that the groups would meet the second Saturday of each month. The women of the faculty will entertain the girls on March 9.

Hartnell presented a paper on "Puritan England and Its Influence on Literature." Mrs. E. S. McCure gave a paper on "That Prince of Poets, John Milton," and Mrs. E. L. Kariker read "The Allegory," a poem replete with rural beauties. Mrs. C. B. Wright compared Milton's satan, Dante's Lucifer and Goethe's Mephistopheles. The usual half hour of discussion and conversation followed.

Secured Funds by Subscription.
The Hebrew Ladies' Benevolent society hereby wish to thank the public who so generously responded to its subscription list appeal, which was employed this year in place of the annual charity ball. The ladies are very much elated at their success, the sum thus obtained being fully as large as that raised by former efforts.

Consumers' League.
Dr. Frank L. McVey of the university lectured on "The Consumers' League" last night at the Commercial Club under the auspices of the Consumers' League of Minnesota. The lecturer gave a clear and interesting statement of the conditions which made the league necessary and of its purpose and methods. The problems of both national and local leagues were given full consideration. The lecturer pointed out that the local league tends to the elevation of the consumer, and his influence over the production of goods. The conscientious consumer will be the means of establishing the standard of a fair house, a house which will handle only goods of sanitary and scrupulous methods. The main problem of the national league is the suppressing of the sweatshops, the procuring of good sanitary conditions in the home, which can only be done by close and constant inspection and by the use of labels or well listed goods. The speaker also gave an interesting account of the work done in this city. A great many merchants were reported to have given full New York standard, and in several of the large houses the consumer can purchase labelled goods.

Club Notes.
Dr. Mary Whetstone gave an address on "Non-Alcoholic Medication," in Lyndale Congregational church, Sunday evening, under the auspices of Willard W. C. T. U.
The Artists' Study Club will entertain its friends at a social, at the home of Mrs. Whetstone, at the home of Mrs. Frank H. Robb, 115 W. Fifteenth street. Dainty refreshments were served after the program.

FOOD FOR BRAIN WORKERS.
A person whose work is chiefly mental requires as food, according to an expert, much less carbon than another. Beef, mutton, poultry and game are recommended. Sugar or starch in excess should not be eaten. Rice is a better form of starch than potatoes. For breakfast a little sub-acid fruit, a cereal, if it is liked, a soft-boiled egg and a cup of coffee made in the French way and taken without sugar or cream, or at least, without cream. At noon a bowl of cream soup, with some pieces of pulled bread, and at 5, when the day's work is over, a good, simple dinner—a soup, a broiled steak or chop or a roast and two vegetables, one starchy the other a green vegetable, a salad with French dressing, and a little cheese and water or fruit, with a seeded raisin or two. The breakfast may be varied with a chop or a little piece of broiled fresh fish instead of the egg.

Sweet French Rolls.
Scald a pint of milk in a double boiler and add, while hot, quarter of a cupful of butter, quarter of a cupful of sugar, and a level teaspoon of salt. Dissolve a yeast cake in quarter of a cupful of lukewarm water, and add to the milk when lukewarm. Then add about three cupfuls of sifted flour and beat until the batter is smooth and full of bubbles. Raise in a warm place for one hour. Then add two eggs, the whites and yolks beaten separately, and four enough to make a dough stiff enough to knead. Set to rise again, and then shape like Parker House rolls. When light make three parallel creases across top of each roll. Brush with slightly beaten white of egg diluted with cold water and a little vanilla flavoring. Sprinkle coarse granulated sugar thickly over the top and bake.
