meeting Tuesday night. Beginning with Tuesday, the bartenders will hold a series of open meetings extending through March and February.

A committee from the plumbers' union visited Mayor Ames during the week and asked him to use his influence to secure the appointment of George Bigowett to the sanitary inspectorship made vacant by the resignation of John O'Donnell, labor's former representative in the city health office.

On Monday last, the lecture-room of Plymouth church, an auxiliary of the American McAll Association was organized. This auxiliary, in connection with like auxiliaries in the great eastern cities, will support in large part the McAll mission in France, the most interesting of modern missions.

The McAll mission has eighty-three stations in France and is a vast evangelizing agency. Giltot was once asked what was the remedy for the evils existing among the French people. He replied: "The circulation of the Scripture and the preaching of a simple gospel."

This the McAll mission seeks to furnish. There are many people in Minneapolis in whose veins flows the blood of the Huguenots who have visited France and seen the mission in operation. They will be glad to learn of the existence of this helpful agency in the record of both printed and preached, to the French people. They are invited to send contributions to the treasurer, Mrs. J. W. Taylor, 723 Lumber Exchange. It is the one mission in the world that all denominations love and support.

Organized Labor Will Fight Johnson's Bill. Labor Leaders Do Not Want Compulsory Arbitration or a Permanent Board.

Organized labor will fight the bill introduced in the house by Mr. Johnson from abroad, which provides for compulsory arbitration and a permanent board. Several labor leaders seen by The Journal say that the bill does not suit them in any particular.

The provision most repugnant to labor is the one imposing penalties for refusal to abide by the arbitration. It makes possible the confiscation of the property of the union, and makes its members personally liable for the fines assessed. The labor unions will fight the bill hard, and threaten dire vengeance on such members as are found voting for it.

Philip Carlin, business agent for the Building Trades council, says the future for the allied crafts has a most rosy hue. Work is plentiful, he finds, and wages in the main correspondingly high.

The Trades and Labor organization committee is now busily trying to enlist recruits to reach New York next Tuesday, which will give the orchestra a day or two in which to get on its legs again before giving its first American concert at Carnegie hall.

Woodworkers Angry With a Manufacturer With a Scheme. The woodworkers are mad clear through at a certain sash and door manufacturer in his order to defeat the movement for a nine-hour day, called his employees before him and undertook to secure their signatures to an individual agreement to strike May 1.

Painters Will Avoid Trouble Over Wages This Year. The painters and master painters decided at a conference Monday evening that all of their differences would be settled by arbitration rather than by a resort to a strike or lockout.

SAVE YOUR HAIR. DO YOU WANT A CLEAN, HEALTHY, HAIR-PRODUCING SCALP, free from baldness, scurf, dandruff and all scalp diseases? If so, send for Dr. Chase's Hair Renewer and Medicated Shampoo, a month's treatment at home, and get started right, and keep the scalp clean (inside and out), loose, moist and free from fever. In other words, keep the scalp feeling comfortable with these remedies, and baldness is arrested at once and new hair begins to show in a few weeks.
