Hillman Gets $85.

Judge Simpson yesterday filed a decision denying the demurrer of the county commissioners to the complaint of S. D. Hillman, court stenographer, who sought to recover $525.25 from the county for services alleged to be due in taking the transcript of evidence in the Metcalf investigation. The court holds that Mr. Hillman is entitled to but $85, his salary being $5 per day for seven court days. The county commissioners had already conceded that Mr. Hillman was entitled to $85. In his memorandum, the court holds that while the defendant's services during the investigation were undoubtedly worth more than $85 the law of 1872 governing the case, is against the collection of a cent more than $85.

RAILROAD RUMBLE

NEW LINES PROJECTED

Illinois Central Will Make Many Extensions This Year.

The plan calls for the building of second tracks between Gilman and Levecoet, Ill., a distance of forty miles, and Savoy and Mattoon, Ill., a distance of forty miles. Horan of Rice Lake, Clarence C. and Arthur E. Coe of Barron, Wis.

Great Western Changes.

It is said that Thomas N. Hooper, assistant general freight agent, and L. Oppenheim, district agent, of the Great Western railway have resigned, to take effect April 1. W. B. Marshall, general freight and/or of the road, is slated to succeed Mr. Hooper, and Robert Heard, traveling freight agent, will take the place of Mr. Oppenheim.

Rate Cutting at K. C.

CAME ON THE CARS

The average commercial traveler knows a good hotel venture on sight. One of the prominent members of the fraternity says: "The people of Ferguson Falls have in the Grand Hotel a white elephant passed on to them from the days of the 'boom.' The Grand is three stories high and thoroughly up to date. It cost $22,000. The city loaned the former proprietor, now dead, $10,000, which amount has been increased by subsequent taxes and interest to a point where foreclosure was necessary. The sale has been made, the equity redemption expiring next October. Ferguson Falls is a thriving town of 8,000 people, and the Grand is the only first-class hotel in the place. The city is looking for a man with money who can help them charge off the balance against the hotel, and who himself is not averse to taking a big snap in hotel property."

Among the prominent men here from the cattle country is Tom Fox of Willow City, N. D. Mr. Fox says that the ranches could wish for better weather than those they have had this year, but not for better results.

THE FIFTH REGATTA

Minnetonka Ice Yachts Will Sail on Snow To-morrow.

The fifth open championship regatta of the Minnetonka Ice Yacht club will be held at Tonka to-morrow afternoon. A big fall of snow, which we wet when it fell and must now be quite crusty, will not keep the white wings from stretching forward free and far. While the snow, of course, does offer a considerable impediment to yachting, the big boats, with a stiff wind blowing, will nevertheless be able to cut steadily through it and make good time. To the experienced yachtsman there is something fascinating about bucking the drifts and sending a flying shower of snow to windward, especially on a sharp turn, when the boat scrapes the ice clear of snow for yards.

Avanache, which took three straight heats last Saturday, seems to have a cinch on the pennant this year. Slepner, the boat which did such wonders at Pepin last year, does not appear to have been in the game to any extent this season. Her falling off has been due, possibly, to the too great prevalence of "smashing" winds. Slepner is a better light-winder, perhaps than any other fast boat in the "Tonka fleet." Give her a fair breeze and ice a trifle soft, as was the case at Pepin, and nothing can touch her. Such conditions have been wanting this year.

Zero is well up front and will make a finish fight with Avanache for first place.

CONTRACTS WERE USURIOUS

Iowa Stockholders of a B. and L. Association Win an Important Suit.

Special to The Journal.

Creston, Iowa, March 15.—Judge Townner of the third judicial district has just rendered a decision that has a far-reaching influence and is of great importance to the thousands of stockholders and borrowers of the defunct Interstate Building and Loan association of Bloomington, Ill. The cases were tried in the January, 1900, term, and have been under advisement since that time.

The Illinois company made loans and sold stock to Creston men, John A. White, J. J. Rice and W. H. Robb, defendants in the cases at issue, being among the number. The company failed and went into the hands of a receiver, who got an order from the Illinois court authorizing him to sell the Iowa property of the concern. An auxiliary receivership was established at Des Moines and a similar order to that issued by the Illinois court obtained.

C. E. Spinney, as assignee, bought the loans and instituted suit to have the borrowers pay the full amount of their loans and take back their per cent of the dividends. The defendants held the contracts as Iowa contracts, hence usurious. They also held that the money they had paid should apply on their loans. The court held the contracts were usurious and that the borrowers should have credit for what they paid. In all three cases the court decided for the defendants.

WHEN "STOCK IS SOLD"

Minneapolis Will Have a Thirteen-Story Building.

A morning paper, turning forward the date of time about two weeks until April 1, has set all the real estate men of the city grinning by printing a story that a mining investment company would build a thirteen-story building within the next three years. It is ingeniously added that this magnificent building is to be put up in the heart of the business district, "as soon as enough money has been secured from the sale of stock to put in the foundations and get the work on the superstructure under way." The site has not yet been known. They are 250x500 feet on the ground floor. In the mining temple, or possibly it is proposed to take one of the long blocks between Nicollet and Hennepin on Sixth, Seventh or Eighth street. If such a site, it would only be necessary to tear down a number of more or less valuable buildings. Meanwhile, the stock will doubtless go off like the traditional hot cakes.
