JUST A WORD

C. A. Hale of Grand Forks, who is a candidate for governor in his state, is at the Nicollet. Mr. Hale is the holder of a very early clay-pipe shooter in his state. During his recent visit in Iowa he heard a discussion on northern Minnesota and the Dakota. A lawyer's people are greatly interested in the reality possibilities farther north.

F. H. Sprague of Grand Forks, N. D., who has been prominent in fiscal politics for years, is at the Nicollet on his return home from the east. Mr. Sprague spent eastern winters in Chicago. The quantity of the northwest is now considered very reliable.

Governor White of North Dakota believes that all of the western states will profit by a creditable display at the Buffalo exposition. The time is ripe to attract people from the east, and also eastern money for investment. North Dakota people are generally able to go into the exhibition enterprise on a large scale, but her appropriation will be carefully handled, and, with the aid of the state, will be made a creditable one. Wheat will be king, of course, but the other grains and vegetables will be given a prominent place in the exhibit. The quantity of classes of fickle industry will be called upon for aid in making the exhibit.

State insurance commissioner Leutz of North Dakota is shipping a large number of cows to the Missouri slope this week. The slope country has made a success of creameries and the number is increasing.

T. H. Kelley and Frederick Martin of Waverly, Minn., are at the Nicollet. Kelley will be the candidate for governor of Waverly this spring and Martin was his opponent. Both are certain that the town can survive the result.

Lieutenant Governor Bartlett of North Dakota is here to begin the work of the Dakota commission on the exhibit for the Buffalo exposition. He believes that a great deal has been done by his state to attend the big show. "All that we need," said Mr. Bartlett, "in North Dakota, to make the people well established this year, is a fair crop."

C. F. Keenan of Eureka, S. D., is at the West. Eureka is one of the largest primary markets in the world. That section of South Dakota has been very prosperous during the past five years.

WILL RUSH TONIGHT

Crown Claims Thrown Open 'Midst Much Excitement.

RACE TO STAKE AND TO GET BACK

Horses, Dogs, Bicycles and Skis Used in a Midnight Stampede in the Klondike.

Special to The Journal.

Victoria, B. C., March 19.—Stirring indeed were the scenes which followed the throwing open of the crown claims in the Klondike district on Feb. 26. Hundreds of men and not a few women participated in the wildest stampede the Klondike has known since its discovery. Could a panoramic picture have been obtained of the rich district on that date it would have shown man-frenzied struggling in all directions through the snow along the countless creeks, hills and canyons of the Klondike to stake claims, then racing back to Dawson to record them. All this was done in the matter of an hour at 35 below zero, and the moon shined but part of the time.

The excitement was the immediate cause of the opening to location of the claims held by the crown, and marked one of the most exciting and perhaps the most important epoch of the camp. Thousands of claims and fractions in thousands that had lapsed to the crown or had been accumulated to the crown through the method of reserving alternate blocks of ten claims were open to the public. It was like the great Whit-tell rush of the Transvaal fields in September, 1895, or the opening up of a great western Indian reservation in the United States.

Many of the stampedees were already on the creeks when the opening day arrived, but like the other rushers, they were held off from exactly at midnight the bars were lowered, and the stampedees began putting in their stakes. Then in a minute or two began the great rush back to Dawson to record the recorder's office. On the various hillsides and creeks men had waited in long night vigils, after tolling to the place through the deep snow, and it did not take these long hours to put in the stake, but to gain the rush to the gold commissioner's office at Dawson.

Over the snow-covered tracks the stampedees raced at a mad pace, and the Klondike conveyances. Some had teams of horses hitched to light sleighs, some rode bicycles and others were hurried over the ice with fast dog teams, and others went by special stage or on foot. One man spent eighteen miles on Norwegian "kiks," aided by a dog running before him and tugging a rope which he held. He traveled the distance in two and three-quarter hours and beat a horse which drew a sleigh.

The scene at the gold commissioner's office was indeed a unique one. On arrival the stampedees had to stand in line until 9 a. m., the regular opening hour. Some hundreds were waiting in the line. The first had arrived from Bonanza with a dog team at 2:30 a. m., and then came men from Hunker with horses nearly dead with fatigue. Then came a wheelman from Hunker, and from the part of the victim, while temporarily demented, or he may have been murdered and placed in the sleeping bag in which he was found so that suspicion of the real cause of death might be avoided.

Numerous instances might be cited, but there is room here for only three or four. Boston has a Camilla Urso Woman's Club.

CAMILLA URSO

The Great Violinist Will Appear Here Next Tuesday.

Although many men—and but few women—of genius have made the violin their medium of musical expression, Camilla Urso is reputed to be the pre-eminently a woman's instrument, in that it can interpret better than any other those tender and more delicate notes of emotion that are her special charm. It is one of the features of Mme. Urso's remarkable career that she has illustrated this truth in a most unusual way, and with that subtle atmosphere of affinity with every woman has attracted to her the cultivated element of her own sex, and made her especially known as the woman's artist, as well as the queen of the violin.

Numerous instances might be cited, but there is room here for only three or four. Boston has a Camilla Urso Woman's Club.

The New York Ladies' Orchestra, Mrs. Hamilton Fisk, president, the membership of which includes many of the ladies highest in New York society, solicited Mme. Urso to act as honorary soloist, and her name thus appears at the head of all the club programs.

Last May the Ladies' Eoleistic Club of New York invited the great artist to their annual dinner at Delmonico's—the first innovation of this kind in the sixteen years of the club's existence. Each program in which woman has engaged—Literature, art, psychology, law, theology, etc.—had one guest, and Mme. Urso was singled out of all the great artists to represent music.

Camilla Urso is to appear at Plymouth church March 26 in a concert recital. Reserved seats will be on sale to-morrow morning at the Metropolitan Music Store.

VERMONT ASSOCIATION

It Holds Its Annual Banquet at the Nicollet.

The banquet of the Vermont Association at the Nicollet, held last evening, was largely attended. Robert Pratt presided as toastmaster. Governor Van Sant, Lieutenant-Governor Smith and Judge Lovely, who were the program, were unable to be present. "Vermonters Abroad" was responded to by Hiram F. Stevens. The Masonic quartet sang several numbers. A pleasant dance followed.

Pan-American Exposition.

Nothing since the world's fair at Chicago in 1893, has elicited the widespread interest that is manifested all over the world in the Pan-American Exposition, which is to be held in Buffalo from May to Nov. 1901.

The purpose of the exposition is to illustrate the progress of the countries of the Western Hemisphere during a century of wonderful achievements, and to bring together into close contact the great people comprising the many states, territories and countries of the three Americas. Acting under proper authority, the President of the United States has invited all the republics and colonies of the American hemisphere to join in commemorating the close of the nineteenth century and beginning of the twentieth century by holding this international exposition on the Niagara frontier.

For this important event the Nickel Plate road has issued an attractive, descriptive folder, which, by a laboratory illustrating the Pan-American Exposition, the buildings and grounds.

The Nickel Plate road is the short line between Chicago and Buffalo, and affords competent train service from Chicago to Buffalo and New York city, in connection with the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western or West-shore roads, and to Boston in connection with the West Shore and Boston & Maine roads. Its trains are composed of modern equipment, on which no extra fares are charged. Meals on individual club plan, ranging in price from 50¢ to $1, are served in dining cars on the Nickel Plate road.

Call on any ticket agent for Pan-American folder of the Nickel Plate road, or press John V. Calahan, General Agent, 111 Adams street, Chicago.

Parties desiring hotel or rooming accommodations at Buffalo or Niagara Falls during any period of the Pan-American Exposition, are invited to apply by letter or otherwise to F. J. Moore, General Agent, 291 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y.

DEATH ON THE RAIL NEAR NOME

Nude Body of an Unknown Found by Teller Miners—Murder Hinted At.

Special to The Journal.

Victoria, B. C., March 19.—Advices from Nome include details of the mysterious death of an unknown prospector, who was found by C. Betch and James McKay, who had arrived at Nome from Teller. This was the first death of the winter on the trail, and from the description of the scene it must have been due to ignorance of the breaking of an ice gorge in the Yellow river, and Mrs. Campbell was drowned.

MONONA—While Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Campbell were returning from Teller, they were caught in a rush of water caused by the breaking of an ice gorge in the Yellow river, and Mrs. Campbell was drowned.

DUBUQUE—The ice below the bridge has broken up now and the channel is now clear as far as can be seen. Dynamite has been used to break up the ice above the bridge, which has been coming in a solid, threatening mass against the piers. The river has raised a foot and a half in twenty-four hours and gauge 7 feet 7 inches, an unusually high stage for this time of year.
