Mothers Should Visit Our New Children's Department.

The flood-tide of spring business is upon us—we are prepared as never before—to lead the well beaten path that leads to our store—mark the crowds. It proves what we prophesied, that our store would become a necessity—women know a wonderful lot more about styles than formerly—they look around, and the result is that their selection is as it should be with a suit or garment, the survival of the fittest. We want you to shop around; we do ourselves when we are in the market. We do not fear the outcome of your judgment.

New Spring Suits and Topcoats Are Ready

A SPLENDID showing of new "1901" Spring Suits and Topcoats will greet your coming here tomorrow.

The Topcoats are the handsomest garments of the kind we have ever sold. The cloths are new and correct. The style the same as the "high priced" tailor would give you but the prices less than half what he would ask.

The Suits are in a variety of rich genteel patterns not to be found elsewhere. All have been most carefully made in our own workrooms.

THE SUITS and TOPCOATS WE MAKE and SELL AT

$10, $12 and $15

Fit as well and have as much style as those we sell at

$18, $20 and $25

The difference is in the materials, but all are good.

"No Clothing Fits Like Ours."

Progressive euchre was played and prizes were won by Mrs. T. Anderson, Mrs. Mixer, Mrs. J. Bird and T. Anderson. Refreshments were served. Present were Messrs. and Mrs. Riekert, Morrell, Mixer, Anderson, Bird, Weston, Mmes. McCoy, Risdon and Miss Caroline Risdon.

MISS EVERTS AS JOCELYN LEIGH. Miss Katherine Jewell Everts, the young dramatic reader from Minneapolis, will give a reading from "To Have and to Hold" in Steiner hall, Boston, Mass., this evening.

Brooding and Shakespeare and the affair this evening is one of a series which she is giving in Steiner hall. She is really an impersonator rather than a reader and her treatment of Miss Johnston's heroine is said to be very interesting.

ONLY A MARE'S NEST

Stores of Coarse Grain at Manitowoc Mean Nothing.

Reports from Milwaukee say a large stock of coarse grain, principally corn and oats, now in elevators and on track at Manitowoc, Wis., is being concealed by speculators who are planning to bear the market. The writer of the item has discovered only a "mare's nest." While the stocks at Manitowoc do not appear in the public estimates of the visible supply, grain men know just how much is there. The bulk of the grain now at Manitowoc is controlled by shippers having headquarters in Minneapolis, and the Milwaukee elevators of these companies are also filled. Accumulations at lake ports prior to the opening of navigation are regular annual occurrences. All this grain has a destination farther east and will begin to move shortly. As it now lies, it is, of course, so clogged in the event of extraordinary high prices it could be diverted in part to that market.

F. E. Voracek of Conway, N. D., is at St. James. Mr. Voracek is one of the principal merchants of that part of the state and a well known democratic politician of usually democratic Welsh country.
