THE WAR IS ON National League Will Invoke the Law Against American.

New York Sun Special Service. Philadelphia, March 22.—The great baseball war between the National and American Leagues is on, and in a few days legal proceedings will be begun to test the legality of the reserve clause in the players contracts. Second Baseman La Jole, who jumped from the National league and signed an American league contract, to play with Connie Mack's team is the man selected as the pivot upon which the legal question will turn. When asked what action would be taken against La Jole, Manager Shetline said: "He will be enjoined from playing with the Philadelphia American league team." American Magnates Go Home. The American league magnates concluded their labors last night and adjourned at 7:30. The meeting was a harmonious one from end to end. Two schedules were submitted by President Johnson, the one originally drafted being adopted, with few alterations. No definite conclusion was reached regarding the action the league will take against the contract breakers. It was finally agreed that each club should act independently in the matter. The committee on rules announced that there would be no changes in the playing rules. It was announced that Outfielder Davis, who was to have played with the Philadelphia team had jumped to Minneapolis. Pitcher Cuppy had been signed by the Cleveland club. Three umpires have been signed—Sheridan, Cantillon and Haskell. The fourth many may be Connolly.

WILD FOWL SLAUGHTER Cold Weather Causes Them to Settle Along the Mississippi.

The cold weather caught the ducks and geese in their northern flight, and they have settled by the thousands in the river live near the river say they cannot sleep nights on account of the incessant quacking of the wild fowl. Hunters are bagging them by the hundreds. Meat markets are overstocked and cannot dispose of half the game offered for sale. The sportsmen keep up a steady fusillade from morning until night. Sid-Day Killing Match. Special to The Journal. Fargo, N. D., March 22.—The six-day bi-

KNIGHTS OF MALTA Bishop Edsall Initiated in a Large Class at Fargo.

Special to The Journal. Fargo, N. D., March 22.—Prominent Masons are here from all over the state and are interested in the Knight of Malta work in the new temple. Last night a large class was taken in and the degree work was exemplified on a distinguished initiate, Bishop Edsall of the Episcopal church of this state. At least 450 participated and the work was put on by 150, on whom the degree had been conferred in the east. It is the first time the degree was conferred this far west and the event was of unusual importance on that account. The new temple with its splendid stage facilities, made a magnificent place for the work. The degree is the most spectacular in Masonry and distinguished visitors from eastern cities declared they had never seen the work more grandly done. To-night, Dr. Hingely of Minneapolis will deliver his lecture on "Chivalric Orders and Christ in Art." The wives of the members are invited and the attendance will be large.
