RISE OF VANDERLIP

From a Machine Shop Apprentice to a Bank Presidency.

HE IS ONLY ABOUT THIRTY-FIVE

William Gwin Has Been a State Department Messenger Thirty Years.

Washington, March 23.—From a machine shop to the presidency of a bank or trust company at a salary of $12,000 a year, is a brief biography of Frank Vanderlip, the first assistant secretary of the treasury.

Frank Vanderlip was born in Aurora, Ill., about thirty-five years ago. His father died when he was quite young, and before he came of age Vanderlip entered the local machine shops and learned the trade. He drifted into newspaper reporting, his first place being of the Aurora Post.

Mr. Vanderlip sought wider fields in Chicago, and there he met Lyman J. Gage, Joseph Francis Johnson, then financial editor of the Chicago Tribune, took an interest in Vanderlip. Vanderlip studied finance under Mr. Johnson's direction, and then took a term course in the University of Illinois. By the time Mr. Johnson was ready to retire Vanderlip was prepared to step into his place.

When Mr. Gage entered the cabinet, he took Vanderlip with him as his secretary, and soon he was promoted to assistant secretary of the treasury. He was found very valuable in that capacity, but at the beginning of McKinley's second term, on the advice of his old friend, Mr. Johnson, Vanderlip accepted a position at the University of Pennsylvania, he determined to go abroad and study some more. When he returns he will be a bank president.

Meantime he has supported a widowed mother and two sisters. He is a bachelor.

Though the late congress went out of business without passing a river and harbor bill, it did show some liberality in the matter of increases of salary. One of them was William Gwin, the colored messenger, on duty at the door of the office of the secretary of state.

William has held his place for thirty years, and served thirteen secretaries in succession. He is a very capable man, and a gold watch inscribed: "From William M. Everts to William Gwin, February, 1893." Mr. Everts sent him this watch, his daughter bearing the gift to Washington and delivering it to William's daughter.

When Mr. Everts celebrated his golden wedding he invited William to take charge of the party. This was during the administration of Secretary Gresham, and William felt somewhat doubtful about asking for leave of absence from a secretary whom he knew so slightly. But he showed the invitation to private Secretary Landis, who passed it over to his chief. Gresham exclaimed in his impulsive way: "Why, go, by all means. You shouldn't let slip such an opportunity as that." William conducted the entertainment so as to win the hearty approval of Mr. Everts, who presented to him a photograph of the Everts family gathered at a book descriptive of the event, in which his services are very flatteringly noticed. These mementoes are cherished among the treasures of the household.

William notes as an interesting coincidence that his watch ran splendidly till about the time when Mr. Everts' last illness took his more serious turn, and then it began to be very erratic. He hesitates to let any watchmaker "tinker" with it under the circumstances.

Friends of Russell Harrison Think He Will Be Reinstated.

New York Sun Special Service.

Washington, March 29.—Friends of Lieutenant Colonel Russell Harrison, who was dismissed from the volunteer army last November while serving as inspector general of Porto Rico, attribute the responsibility for his removal to Adjutant General Corbin. It is not believed the president or Secretary Root knew of the contemplated dismissal or ordered the action.

There are strong indications that Colonel Harrison will be set right by the president. The method has not been decided. It has been suggested that Colonel Harrison be reinstated July 1, then being transferred to the regular army.

PITY THE LITTLE LION.

Cincinnati Enquirer.

A mother was showing her dear little Joe a picture of the martyrs thrown to the lions, and was talking very solemnly to him, trying to make him feel what a terrible thing it was.

"Ma," he said, suddenly, "oh, ma, just look at that little lion right behind here. He won't get any."

beer is the beer of civilization. Go to any part of the earth where mankind values purity, and you will find Schlitz beer is the recognized pure beer.

For fifty years the Schlitz agencies have followed white men's conquests.

They are twenty years old in South Africa.

Schlitz beer was famous in Siberia before a railroad was thought of.

When Japan and China first began to awake, Schlitz beer was advertised in their newspapers.

Almost as soon as Dewey captured Manila 216 carloads of Schlitz were sent there.

Today Schlitz agencies so dot the globe that when it is midnight at one it is noonday at another.

The quality by which Schlitz beer has won distinction has been its absolute purity. Every physician the world over will recommend Schlitz, the beer that made Milwaukee famous.

President McKinley has all doubt at rest regarding the fate of Minister Conger by announcing that he is to remain as American representative at the Chinese court for another four years. Senator Allison and Representative Hepburn of Iowa, however, known over the country, but taxes are considerably lighter in Washington, so far as the individual is concerned, than in any other city of the country. One of the expenses of running the city is paid out of the national treasury, and the citizens pay the remainder. It is this system that makes the escape practically every form of personal taxation possible. So far as I have been able to learn there is no attempt here to collect taxes on household goods, watches, jewelry and other articles which never escape the tax gatherers of Minneapolis, St. Paul and other American cities.

SOUTH DAKOTA EDITORS

Some Additional Particulars of the Outing at Buffalo.

Special to The Journal.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 29.—The members of the South Dakota Press association look forward with interest to this year's outing. The Buffalo exposition will be visited. Glenn M. Farley of Madison, George Schlosser of Sioux Falls and J. F. Halladay of Ironopolis were appointed a committee to arrange for the trip. The South Dakota editors will leave their homes on June 18. The editorial party will leave Chicago over the Nickel Plate road at 10:30 on the morning of June 19, and will reach Buffalo at 2 o'clock the following morning. When the train arrives at Buffalo, trolley cars will be waiting to transport the editors to their hotel, a new one, which will accommodate 5,000 people. Free tickets to the exposition grounds will be furnished all members of the party on arriving at Buffalo.

In addition to visits to the exposition, the committee has made arrangements for trips to all points of interest. In aid about Niagara, and is also arranging for a trip to Niagara Falls. It was originally intended to go one way by lake, but investigation showed that the principal boats engaged in the lake traffic would only run as far as Chicago during the exposition. As this would cut off the trip from Chicago to Duluth, the best part of the journey, it was decided to make the trip an all-rail one and leave the lake outing for some future time.

TOWN HEATING PLANT

Proposition Carries Webster City by Five to One.

Special to The Journal.

Webster City, March 29.—At the city election P. A. Edwards was chosen mayor, and the old councilmen were all re-elected. The proposition to grant a twenty-five-year franchise to N. P. Hyatt and others carried by vote of five to one. The franchise gives the petitioners the privilege of establishing a heating plant, to carry steam and gas to all parts of the city. The plant will cost in the neighborhood of $50,000 and work will be commenced at once.

The town of Lehigh, southwest of this place, is wrought up over the disappearance of Harry Cody, a coal miner. A man by the name of James Paul was arrested on suspicion, but as there was no direct evidence he was released. He is a bad character, having been tried in this country several years ago for the murder of his grandmother. At that time he narrowly escaped conviction, after which he went to Lehigh. He became intimate with Cody's wife and had been the cause of much trouble in the family. So far as trace of Cody, except his hat, which was near the river, has been found.

Headquarters Removed From Chicago to Sioux Falls.

Special to The Journal.

Sioux Falls, S. D., March 29.—At a general conference of the Methodist Episcopal church of the United States held last spring Dr. W. H. Jordan, pastor of the M. E. church of this city, was selected as one of the second vice presidents of the National Congress of Epworth League Workers. There are four second vice presidents in the United States. Each of them is at the head of a different department. Dr. Jordan is the head of the "Mercy and Help" department, which has jurisdiction over hospitals. The headquarters of his department has been in Chicago, but he has managed to direct the work from here. This was very inconvenient, and at the congress which he has just attended at Delaware, Ohio, he was authorized to remove the headquarters from Chicago to Sioux Falls. He will make the change at once. He was also authorized to employ a clerk, who will act as private secretary and stenographer.

SAVES HER HOME

Six-Year-Old Girl Runs Four Blocks in Her "Nightie."

New York Sun Special Service.

Camden, N. J., March 29.—Held in the arms of a fireman, who threw about her his great coat as a protection against the cold which her night clothes did not afford, Mammie Brogan, 6 years old, led the engines this morning to a fire which threatened her home.

The child, pinched with cold and almost speechless from terror, appeared in the fire house at 8 o'clock. "Fire!" she whispered, and pointed toward Kaighn avenue. Her feet were bare and her little body was covered only by her "nightie." She had run from her home, four blocks away, to give the alarm. The fire was started by children playing with matches. It was extinguished in a few minutes.
