 Midway Horse Market. Minnesota Transfer, St. Paul, April 12.-Barrett & Zimmerman report that the good line of buyers on the market with the large receipt of good quality farm horses and driv-ers gave strength and life to the trade. De-mand centered almost entirely on good farm horses; drivers were next leading in demand, and sold freely to local men. North Dakota trade was very light, and comparatively little has been shipped to that country thus far this spring. Values: Dratters ettra s spring. is not included in Bradstreet's, nor any pub-lished visible. Argentine shipments of flax this week 240,-000 bu, against 249,000 the week previous. McReynolds & Co. of Chicago have some extensive reports from Texas covering the prospective Hessian fly developments. It is said the country is pretty well spotted with the fly and that there is some fear expressed as to the results from the Texas louse. Pro-fessor E. J. Smiley of the Kansas agricul-tural college is quoted. He speaks conserva-tively and without sensationalism, but says he found the general outlook favoring the de-velopment of the pest, and that he appre-hends much damage will follow. Special to The Journal. Fargo, N. D., April 12.—The long liti-gation over the Morris estate has been ad-justed by an agreement of all interests. T. R. Morris was a contractor. In 1897 he made a will, which divided his estate equally between his wife and four chil-dren, with certain conditions dependent on her remarriage. In 1900 Mr. Morris died in the state insane asylum, after a tively and without sensationalism, but says he found the general outlook favoring the de-velopment of the pest, and that he appre-hends much damage will follow. INVESTMENT GOSSIP Norfolk & Western earning for first week of April, increase, $16,554; from July 1, in-crease, $1,556,796. Earnings of Southern railroad, not includ-ing St. Louis Division, first week April, $615,-886, increase $33,158. died in the state insane asylum, after a few months' illness. Mrs. Morris con-tested the will on the ground that he was incapable of making the will in 1897 and fought its probation. After much litiga-tion an agreement was reached by which the court refuses to probate the will, and of the estate as her share. The estate in so to be divided till the youngest child reaches 21, and in the meantime Mrs. Morris will be appointed guardian.

Waldorf gossip to Waison: While the market is rather disappointing to the oversanguine the judgment of unprejudiced observers is that considering the advance in interest rates it acts very well and sentiment remains conservatively bullish. The latter, however, does not run as strongly in favor of high priced stocks as it did a few days ago, though it is likely to return to them again, leading houses believe, should money become easier. Hence operators who have been in close touch with the speculation advise the purchase of St. Paul, Rock Island, the Pacific stocks and the Steel shares on all weak points. It is thought that the monetary situation will bring about a further reaction, though well informed people believe that the secretary of the treasarry will buy within a fortnight over $10,000,000 bonds and that domestic exchange, within that time will reflect the expected turn of money from the interior to New York.
New York to I. G. Andrews & Co.: It is

Special to The Journal. Fargo, N. D., April 12.—The state veteri-nary board met here for examination of ap-plicants to practice in this state. None of the candidates appeared, although several had written they would be present.

Only Two Changes.

will reflect the expected turn of money from the interior to New York. New York to I. G. Andrews & Co.: It is worth noting that although Wall street chooses to regard the Burlington-Northern Pacific deal as a big buil argument on North-ern Pacific, it is very doubtful if such is a fact. The Union Pacific and Northern Pacific were bidding each other, while Burlington in-siders were themselves bidding to retain con-trol. Result: The Northern Pacific has ac-quired a controlling interest in Burlington by the purchase of stock at a grossiy ex-aggerated valuation and is assuming a load of permanent funded indebtedness in ex-change for said stock. This looks very much like a pyrrhic victory and though Mr. Hill probably knows what he is about, yet it may mean disaster in future years for the North-ern Pacific properties. The wise man took profits yesterday and this merning. It was quite clear that thehre would be a good re-action this afternoon and Friday morning as last night's letter pointed out. A break like that of Monday is most always followed by a drop of about half the advance. Unless I am greatly mistaken, stocks will be a purchase Friday morning. The only danger is tight money. The present monetary outlook is not encouraging, but relief may come from an unexpected quarter. A buil market seldom ends, however, with bad bank statements and tight money, rather the reverse. My advice is to play cautiously for a time. Buy spar-ingly and on big margins. The traction's are as good as anything else. They will be marked up after the leaders begin to decline. Unity Two Changes. Special to The Journal. Mitcheil, S. D., April 12.—There will be lit-tie change in the city council and board of education as a result of the election which will be held on Tuesday. All the present in-cumbents, except two aldermen, were re-nominated at the caucuses. The only impor-tant feature at the election is the proposi-tion to erect a city hall not to exceed a cost of $10,000. This will carry beyond doubt. It is the intention to build an opera-house in connection with the city hall.
