

SUFFERED THREE YEARS. CATARRH OF STOMACH.

Miss Evelyn Morse writes from 651 Adams street, Minneapolis, Minn. "I suffered for nearly three years with catarrh of the stomach which no medicine seemed to relieve, until a friend advised me to try Peruna. Although skeptical, I tried it, and found it helped me within the first week. I kept taking it for three months, and am pleased to say that it cured me entirely, and I have had no symptoms of its return. I am only too glad to recommend it as a wonderful medicine, doing all and more than you claim for it."

Adia Brittain, of Sektian, O., writes: "After using your wonderful Peruna three months, I have had great relief. I had continual heaviness in my stomach, was bilious, and had fainting spells, but they have all left me since using Peruna. I can now get around and do my housework, and think Peruna the greatest medicine I ever used. My husband complained of shortness of breath and weakness in limbs, but since taking your Peruna says he has not felt so well in ten years."—Adia Brittain. Mrs. Lizzie Blevins, 102 Boliver street, Cleveland, Ohio, writes: "After following your directions and using your medicine, I candidly feel it was the means of saving my life, for I suffered for months from catarrh of the stomach, and doctors that I consulted did not seem to know what ailed me, and did me no good. I used two bottles of Peruna and began to get so much better that I continued taking it until I had taken five bottles and it cured me. I find it to be just as it is recommended, and I speak in highest praise of Peruna. I trust it may do good to others as it has to me. I am confident a trial of your medicine will convince anyone."—Mrs. Lizzie Blevins. From McPherson, Kan., F. M. Landis writes the following letter: "I wish to say I am doing splendidly under your direction. Peruna is doing the work admirably and the catarrh of the stomach is going away steadily. I think Peruna a most wonderful medicine; it has done me wonderful good, and I recommend it to all suffering from the effects of catarrh and kindred ailments. I used less than three bottles of Peruna and I am relieved so much that I intend to always have Peruna ready for use in cases of need."—F. M. Landis. Miss Maggie Becker, 653 Lake street, Appleton, Wis., writes: "It is with pleasure I recommend Peruna as a splendid tonic to any overtaxed persons. When the body will soon be worn out also, but Peruna invigorates the system, and refreshes the mind. I have also found a relief in cases of severe headache. We never without it at home, and consider it a household blessing."—Miss Maggie Becker. If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman giving a full statement of your case and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis. Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.

CANAL HAS A RIVAL

Railway Across the Narrowest Part of Mexico. A BRITISH FIRM'S ENTERPRISE

It is asserted that the Railroad will handle freight cheaper than the Canal. New York, April 17.—A dispatch to the Journal from London says: The great British rival to the isthmian canal is a railway across Mexico's narrowest point. This will be mainly an outlet of the Tehuantepec line, built by the Mexican government to connect the Gulf of Mexico with the Pacific, which has no terminal facilities. Pearson Co. of London purpose turning the railway into an international freight thoroughfare, the Mexican government leasing the road to the British firm for two years. The road will be ready in four years. Four thousand men are at work under the supervision of Sir Wetman Pearson. Harbors are being constructed at both ends, forming an anchorage to the largest vessels. Sir Wetman Pearson said: We hope for 2,000,000 tons annually on our road. If the Nicaragua canal carries that amount, it will have to charge 40 shillings a ton to make 4 per cent, against our 10 shillings. Again, there will be a saving of time. We can handle a ship's cargo in one day, against three spent in the canal. We have the best of the distance and a start of fully five years. Though the road is 190 miles long, it has 900 bridges of iron and stone, which, with the steel rails, are coming from America.

The light was turned up and O. F. Andrews, a member of the council, was recognized behind the paint and grease on his face. The sell was complete.

REFORMERS BOLDER

Petition the Czar, Begging for a Constitution. SITUATION IS BECOMING WORSE Tolstol's Address to the Czar is an Appeal and Also a Warning.

New York Sun Special Service Vienna, April 17.—The newspapers here are receiving reports that the situation in Russia is becoming worse. Wholesale arrests continue throughout the empire. Fifteen hundred persons were arrested in Odessa, Sunday. Revolutionary proclamations continue to be distributed in St. Petersburg, Moscow, Odessa, Kiev and elsewhere.

The most remarkable of recent developments is a proposal to send to the czar an address begging him to grant a constitution. Fifteen thousand signatures have already been appended, including those of many land owners, merchants and literary men. The address is causing much excitement. It is generally regarded as a most daring step.

Tolstol's Appeal. The full text of Count Tolstol's address to the czar on March 28 has been received. He submits a long program of reforms. The whole document is full of the plainest speaking. The following is a sample: Again murders, again street slaughters, again will there be executions, again the false accusations, threats and spite on one hand, and again hatred, the desire for vengeance and readiness for self-sacrifice on the other. Again all Russian men are divided into two conflicting camps, and are committing, or preparing to commit, the greatest crimes.

It is very possible that this time the disturbances will be repressed, though it may also happen that the soldiers and police, upon whom the government rests so much hope, will perceive that what they are forced to do is the great crime of fratricide, and refuse to obey; but even if the disturbances are quelled at present, they cannot be stifled. They will continue to spread in a concealed form, and sooner or later will break out in increased violence and produce yet greater suffering and crime.

Where the Blame Lies. Count Tolstol appeals not only to the czar, but to his advisers, uncles, brothers, ministers of state and councillors. He says: The blame does not lie with evil, turbulent men, but in you rulers, who do not wish to see anything at the present moment except your own comfort. The problem lies not in your defending yourselves against enemies who wish you harm. No one wishes

Beauty is Health.

I thank you for the benefit I received from your advice and the Wine of Cardui I took. In my terrible condition my life was no pleasure to me at all and I was of no use to anybody. After receiving your advice and medicine I commenced taking it and began immediately to improve. The pains left me and the menses, which came at the correct time, continued three days. I have gained strength and my weight has increased. My husband says the medicine has made me better looking than ever before. Mrs. LIZZIE MANNELL

Womanly health means bright eyes, rosy cheeks, clear complexion and elasticity of form. This is the youth unmeasured by years—the beauty of perfect womanhood. Beautiful women are happier and get more out of life than their sisters whose faces indicate suffering. Wine of Cardui made Mrs. Mannel "better looking" and infinitely happier because it cured her of those terrible pains. But she is no exception.

is giving thousands of women health, beauty and freedom from the dragging pains which have made their lives so miserable. Wan faces, haggard eyes and emaciated forms are the results of suffering. What suffering can compare with the torture of irregular menstruation, leucorrhoea and falling of the womb! Beauty flies quickly before the ravages of such disease. The sharp pains of falling of the womb deepen the crow tracks in the face. Menstrual irregularities rob the eye of its fire and the complexion of its transparency. Leucorrhoea drains the body of its strength, but Wine of Cardui restores the natural beauty, brightens the eye, clears the complexion, rounds out the figure and brings back the vigor of health. Every druggist in this city handles $1.00 bottles of Wine of Cardui.
