A PRETTY WEDDING

The Lovejoy-Chapin Nuptials Celebrated Last Evening.

BRIDE DAUGHTER OF S. B. LOVEJOY

Ceremony at the Lovejoy Residence Was Witnessed by 150 Friends and Relatives.

One of the prettiest of May weddings took place last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen B. Lovejoy on Hawthorn avenue, when their daughter, Miss Emma Louise Lovejoy, and Charles Jewett Chapin were married. The 150 guests who gathered to witness the service included friends and relatives from Milwaukee, Mr. Chapin's former home, St. Paul and other Minnesota and Wisconsin cities. The room was charmingly decorated. The tall palms and drooping ferns served as a background for a wealth of roses, pink tipped white blossoms and the deeper La France roses. No other flower was used save the roses from the delicate pink to the warm tints of the American Beauty. The alcove in the drawing-room was banked with palms and ferns and lighted by an odd Moorish lantern. The music was furnished by a band of green on which rested another bank of white roses. Palms formed a screen for the orchestra and the lights were shaded in pink. In the dining-room, American Beauty roses in a tall cut glass vase gave the color note which was repeated in the red tapers and in the flowers on the sideboard.

Gowns of Bride and Maids.

The bridal music was furnished by Miss Hope's ladies' orchestra from St. Paul, and the Loehgrin chorus was played as the bride and her maids appeared. A. C. Bell and Dr. Lester W. Day stretched the white ribbons that formed an aisle from the stairs to the green banked alcove in the drawing-room. The bridesmaids, Misses Josephine and Jane Chapin, the widows' sisters, from Milwaukee, wore white batiste over white silk. The skirts were trimmed with tucked flounces and the bodices were also tucked. They wore meshes of white silk and carried great clusters of American Beauty roses. Miss Marjorie Lovejoy, the flower girl, wore white Swiss with a deep flounce of Valenciennes insertion and stock and girde of white silk. She carried American Beauty roses also. Mrs. Frank Covey Hale was her sister's matron of honor. She wore her wedding gown of white crepe de chine, trimmed with point lace and, like the maids, her flowers were American Beauty roses. The bride was met at the foot of the stairs by her father, She wore a Pugin model of Paris muslin. The skirt was finished with diamond-shaped squares of tucked muslin, edged with point lace insertion and a flounce of muslin. The bodice was tucked and finished with a ruche of white satin. The stock was of lace and the girde of white satin. She wore a veil which was caught with a rossette of tulle. Her flowers were white roses and ferns. The bridegroom, Mr. Charles Jewett Chapin, was dressed in a tuxedo. He wore a white shirt with a high collar and a white waistcoat. He carried a boutonniere of white roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. S. J. Rogers of Minneapolis. The bride and groom were then seated at a table with the bridesmaids and the matron of honor. The wedding breakfast was served by the bride's mother, Mrs. Stephen B. Lovejoy. The reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The bride and groom were accompanied by the bridesmaids and the matron of honor. The wedding party was very large and the celebration was a great success.

Informal Reception.

An informal reception followed and Mr. and Mrs. Lovejoy and Mr. and Mrs. Chapin of Milwaukee, the bridegroom's parents, received with the bride couple. Mrs. Lovejoy wore black velvet trimmed with point lace and Mrs. Chapin's gown was of black point lace with trimmings of white silk and jeweled bands. Supper was served by Dorner. Mr. Chapin and his bride left last night for the east. They will be at home here July 1 at 1922 Portland street. Mrs. Chapin is going away gown was of blue broadcloth with a shirt waist of blue and white and a blue and white hat. Her gifts to her matron of honor and her maids were pins of rose gold in an orchid design set with pearls. The flower girl received a ring of rose gold. MISS TAYLOR'S JOKE

She Counts on a Stomacher of Diamonds.

Miss Maude Van Courland Taylor, whose engagement to Louis Hill, son of J. J. Hill, has just been announced, is the guest of her brother-in-law, Mr. Oakes, at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York.

Miss Taylor, according to a New York paper, was the center of an incident that stirred the group of excited men and women in the billiard room of the Waldorf-Astoria recently in close proximity to the ticker.

News that Northern Pacific had touched 149 1/2 was followed by an impressive stillness, broken by her impulsive outburst, "I'll get my stomacher."

In a ripple of laughter the crowd of women gathered about Miss Taylor. She explained that she had been teasing her father for a stomacher of diamonds that had caught her eye in a Union Square jewelry window.

"But a stomacher is only for matrons," put in a friend.

"Well, maybe that's why I want it," she laughingly admitted, and papa had promised to gratify her wish if Northern Pacific went over 145.

According to the statement of James J. Hill the marriage will be solemnized in New York at the Taylor residence, 9 N. Thirty-first street, in June, by Archbishop Ireland.

After the return of the Taylor family to New York Miss Taylor went out to prominent social circles for a short time and then gave up such pursuits to become a probationary nurse at the fashionable Presbyterian hospital. She contracted typhoid fever, from which she has just recovered.

COL. CLAGUE'S VIEWS

The Work That Remains for the Army in the Philippines.

Colonel John J. Clague, who recently retired from army service, is at the West. During the later years of his service, Colonel Clague was stationed at St. Louis as assistant commissary general. He intends to make his home in Minneapolis.

Colonel Clague has made a study of the Philippine trouble. He says that the work that remains for the army to do is that which any nation finds in fighting a semibarbarous people in such a large territory. The islands must be well garrisoned for a time. It will not, in his opinion, require 50,000 men, as has been stated in some quarters. Our work of pacifying the Philippines parallels the problem that Great Britain is endeavoring to solve in South Africa. Guerrilla bands with a large area to work in are hard to run down. The cavalry now being organized in the west for Philippine service will be found decidedly effective.

From the Baker to You

"These biscuit are stale," said the husband. "I bought that bag of biscuit day before yesterday," said his wife. "I only had them a week," said the grocer. "They didn't stay around here over ten days," said the jobber. "They were shipped the day they were baked," said the baker, "but perhaps they were delayed in delivery."

It used to be a long journey from the baker to you. To-day the distance is bridged by the In-er-seal Patent Package. These packages
