Bell investment company for trustee and it is expected that a 500,000-bushel warehouse will be erected on the corner of Minnesota and Sandstone company will erect a 312,000-bushel residence on Pillsbury avenue between Twenty-second and Twenty-fourth streets.

A Sunday in London—Dr. Eugene Storke, Sunday evening at the Church of the Redeemer, delivered his third Sunday night lecture before a very large audience. The subject was "Sunday in London," and was illustrated with lantern slides. The lecture was a comprehensive commentary on the Sunday in London, and was well received. The lecture next Sunday night will be on "Oliver Cromwell and His Times."

Shot Just for Fun—With a rare sense of humor, Mable Humphrey, colored, took a shot at her husband with a .38-caliber Sunday. Humphrey dodged just in time and the bullet went whizzing by his ear. Mable then showed the police the point of the joke. But Humphrey could not see it, and had an officer arrest the playful Mable. In the police court yesterday she told the court that she did it "all in fun." With a stern rebuke Judge Dickinson fined Mable $15 or fifteen days. Mable went out and pawned Mable's gun for $15 and paid her fine.

Ministers Meetings—Rev. W. C. Hicks, a young man from the Detroit conference, addressed the Methodist ministers yesterday on "Positive Results of the Modern Biblical Criticism." At Plymouth church Rev. Clarence F. Swift of the Park Avenue church spoke on the observance of the Sabbath. Reports were received at the Baptist church but no address was made. The committee appointed last at the union meeting at the Y. M. C. A. building to investigate as to whether a general conference of the ministers should be held each Monday next year will report the first Monday in June. The committee consists of Messrs. W. C. Hicks, H. H. Hall, J. W. Heilig and Rev. Mr. Tanner.

Byrnes and William P. Kenney.

P. R. A. IS DISSOLVED

Judge Brooks Settles Police Relief Association Problem.

NO RECEIVER APPOINTED YET

Two Applicants File Petitions—They Are Odin Wold and Harry Burke.

Judge Brooks has ordered the dissolution of the Police Relief association. After hearing further evidence, the judge yesterday granted the petition, leaving the matter of the receiver's appointment open.

The case came on for a continuance, and Secretary Odin Wold produced a copy of the by-laws, which the court had asked for, also a copy of the resolution passed by the council rescinding a former resolution which authorized the association to turn over to the association one-half of the dog tax money.

It was explained that the action of the council out of the chief concern of revenue, and that while many of the members had withdrawn there had been no applications for admission by the new members of the force.

Frank M. Nye presented a petition signed by seven-five members of the association, asking that Wold be appointed receiver of the defunct concern.

W. W. Erwin, representing Harry Burke, objected to this, and in reply to questions, Wold admitted that he had agreed to do the work for $100.

Judge Brooks said he would take time to consider the matter. He is intimated that the names of some of the signers of Wold's petition had been juggled with. When Burke presented his petition last week he had fifty-seven signers, some of whose names now appear on the Wold petition.

UNIVERSITY WILL INSIST ON AUTHORITY

University Will Insist on Authoritative Interpretation.

BOARD OF CONTROL'S AUTHORITY

Governor Pillsbury Asks Attorney General Douglas for Opinion as to Disputed Question.

The state university will not voluntarily come under the supervision of the board of control without full understanding as to the extent of that control, said Governor Pillsbury called at the capitol this afternoon and had an interview with Attorney General Douglas. Among other things, he asked him for an opinion as to whether the board of control should have the right to draw upon the university under the board of control at all. The attorney general has already expressed his opinion that the title makes that part of the bill invalid.

Armed with this opinion, the board of regents do not need to submit to the supervision of the board of control, and will not do so unless assured that they will be left with a large measure of freedom. While Governor Pillsbury does not care to discuss the matter to-day, he evidently feels that the board of regents is capable of auditing their own bills. He said this morning:

"There has not been a dollar of university funds misapplied in twenty years. I am sure. Even to the buying of postage stamps, all money is spent for the good of the university alone."

As noted in The Journal yesterday, the board of control has already assumed that the university is under its charge. In advertising for an architect, and specifying the work he will superintend, the university buildings are included, though the construction of the chemistry and mechanical buildings, which are now in charge of the board of regents.

The regents do not object to the board of control assuming the responsibility of accounts as such as they please. It is probable that a satisfactory adjustment will be reached, but the regents certainly hold the best cards should there be a failure to agree.

REGENTS ATTITUDE

At a meeting of six of the regents in the office of President Northrop a few days ago, the opinion was that it would be proper for the board of control to look after the accounts of the university, leaving to the regents the responsibility of questions relating to salaries and the educational side of the work. The matter will be decided by the regents at their next regular meeting, the first week in June. President Northrop, speaking this morning of the attitude of the board, said that the opinion of the members expressed at the last meeting will, probably be that of the whole board, and that the regents will not question the right of the board of control to look after that portion of the work at the university which will fall to them under the provisions of the bill. At the same time it is known the regents are determined to have a full understanding as to the limits of the board of control's authority before they waive their legal technical objections to them from the board of control.

JUST LIKE A SCHOOLHOUSE

CHILDREN AT THE CITY HALL

They Submit to Vaccination at the Rate of Forty an Hour.

School children have been pouring into the health department quarters at the rate of about two score an hour all day today. Yesterday Health Commissioner Hall gave notice that the vaccination rule for the regents in the schools in South Minneapolis last week would apply to all schools in the city.

The requirement in brief is that all children not possessing a certificate of successful vaccination must be vaccinated at once. This time, however, they must show up at his office for inspection and vaccination. When vaccinated, they are sent home with instructions to report again next week. If it is found then that the vaccination has "taken" they will be allowed to return to school. The others will be vaccinated again and then allowed to return to school. Dr. Hall insists that the school year the same as the others. Dr. Hall is confident that there will be few primary vaccinations that will not be successful. Following their return to his office for a second inspection, the pupils will be required to remain out of school.

As to the assertion that the health department has shown discrimination in favor of the teachers, Dr. Hall insists that it is without foundation. The teachers uniformly throughout the city who cannot show evidences of a previous successful vaccination will have to be vaccinated, he says.

STORY OF W. CHRISTENSON

GRAND JURY HEARD IT TO-DAY

Young Man Says He Was Assaulted by a Police Officer After Arrest.

Walter Christenson, a freeman in the Syndicate block, was the principal witness before the grand jury this morning. Christenson was arrested a short time ago on a charge of assault on a police officer and he charges that when taken to the lockup he was most brutally assaulted by one of the officers at the time when he was in a position in which he was unable to defend himself. Christenson brought along a friend who was present at the time and who corroborated what he said.

Other witnesses examined during the day showed that the jury is still at work upon the investigation of municipal matters, and there is some reason to suppose that it will be many days before it can dispose of its business and adjourn. There is a number of serious matters which have not even been touched yet, and it is deemed certain that while the jury is in this line of business it will lead up to everything that is going on, including the investigation of the council commissioners and the conduct of the city hospital officials.

Fred Briggs is showing himself freely upon the streets and takes pains to conceal the fact that he considers himself immune. Late yesterday afternoon he conferred with the mayor in the latter's private office. Friends of Briggs say that if he is indeed as sorry a day for some other people in this vicinity, and the inference is that Briggs purposes to tell what he knows about evils municipal if some comes to court this morning.

It now appears that Briggs is the author of the idea that Congressman Fletcher is at the bottom of a conspiracy to de throne Mayor Ames in the opinion of the public, and that the mayor in his recent remarkable utterances has been taking as facts these suspicions.

VERDICT SET ASIDE

Judge Pond has set aside the verdict in the breach of promise suit of Emma Mankowski against Patrick Ryan, and a second trial will probably be had in a few months. The jury awarded the plaintiff the sum of $732.

DENIED BY NEWTON

An affidavit by the defendant in the divorce suit of Nettie Newton against Charles D. Newton showed that the defendant ever checked or signed the plaintiff, and asserts that the plaintiff deserted the defendant. The court has granted a new trial, and the case will be set for trial on May 21. Mrs. Newton is hair dresser and makes from $4 to $8 per day, and that there is a number of serious matters in the year, making not more than $250 per day.

THE TOWN IS IN POSSESSION OF 2,000 TICKET PUNCHERS.

Some Citizens Oppose City Hospital's "Contagious" Building.

PETITION COURT FOR INJUNCTION

Intend to Serve It To-night—They Maintain That the Building Would Menace Health.

St. Paul is in the hands of the O. R. C.—short for Order of Railway Conductors—to-day and the ticket punchers they own the town for a week longer. There are over 2,000 members of the order and of the ladies auxiliary already in town.

The more important events of the morning were the formal reception to those who came on the Georgia and New Orleans "specials." The southerners were greeted with a hospitality and good fellowship that must have reminded them of the best days of the old South. There were about 400 on each special. Down town it was hardly possible to move without encountering a big red, white and green O. R. C. badge.

The chief interest among the delegates is in the contest between Cincinnati and Pittsburg for the grand division. Milwaukee and Cleveland are also candidates, but they appear to be in the "also ran" class. Cincinnati to-day's showing has been up to date Pittsburg. Mrs. T. B. Woodard, president of Steeltraville say they have not started yet.

The first formal session was called to order this afternoon and attended by the reports of the grand officer and the committee.

At 2 o'clock the ladies' auxiliary was given a public reception in the senate chamber at the capitol. The program for the afternoon was as follows:

Overture, "Jolly Robbers," Twin City Mandolin orchestra; invocation, Mrs. B. F. Witte, grand officer; welcome address, Mrs. J. C. McCall, committee of division; St. Paul address, the auxiliary—Past, Present and Future," Mrs. J. H. Moore, grand president; Song, "Oh, For a Bunch of Song," Mrs. Vina Avery Smith; address, Mrs. A. J. Eley, grand junior; vocal number, Mrs. Vina Avery Smith; address, Mrs. Perry Callahan; address, Mrs. M. E. Sewell, grand secretary; impersonations, Mrs. F. M. Smith.

Formal Reception.

The formal reception will be held this evening at the auditorium. After prayer by the Rev. Dr. Samuel Smith, the visiting delegation will be welcomed by Governor S. Van Sant on behalf of the state and Mayor Robert A. Smith on behalf of the city. Responses will be made by Grand Chief George E. H. Moore, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and E. A. Moseley, secretary of the interstate commerce commission.

MINNEAPOLIS DAY

Minneapolis is to have a visit from the conductors, their wives, sweethearts and friends. Friday is Minneapolis day on the official program and early in the morning street cars will convey several thousands to the larger hotels and resorts. To the parks and other points of interest.

SALOONS AND LICENSE

Recommendation of a Mayor Not Likely to Be Accepted.

Special to the Journal. On May 14.—The communication of the mayor to the city council, recommending that the number of saloon licenses be cut down from twenty-three to fifteen, and that the license fee be raised from $50 to $75, has met with a great deal of comment. It is not likely, however, that the council will act upon the mayor's recommendation, as the members do not like to shoulder the responsibility of turning down the wishes of applicants who may be their friends. The mayor's recommendation has the backing of the majority of the people.

A training school boy made a break for liberty Saturday night by slipping out of the school later in the day. He was cutting grass on the river bank, and as the guards were called away for a few minutes he made his escape. He was assisted by some one with a boat, as he was found on the Wisconsin side walking the Burlington track near Hage, City.

BUFFALO LAKE ENTERPRISES.

Special to the Journal. Buffalo Lake, Minn., May 14.—McGregor Brothers and the Buffalo Lake Hotel, a second lumber yard here, and have completed a $200,000 yard shed.—P. F. Walstrom, president of the Buffalo Lake Hotel, here as soon as his building is completed.—Mrs. Fischer, of Cavalier, N. D., and Mrs. Lucas, of Blue Lake, are here to inspect lots here and let contracts for modern dwellings.—The Modern Woodmen and Odd Fellows contingent of the Buffalo Lake Hotel, erecting a two-story, double-store building, of solid brick.—The council is having a complete system of sewerage laid out, and the contract for waterworks, which will soon be constructed.—All schoolteachers have been re-elected for next school year. They are: Professor W. B. Foster, of this place; Miss Laura Desmond of Mankato and Miss Helen Webb of Monticello. The new farm residence of Mrs. Maudie C. Parker, of Minneapolis, is a kindergarten.

"COCAINE FIEND" RECOVERS.

Special to the Journal. Ocoela, Wis., May 14.—Word has been received from the hospital in March, is recovering from the cocaine habit and will soon be able to return to his vocation, that of a veterinary surgeon.—The smallpox scare at St. Croix Falls has about blown over, and the epidemic has been traced to the disease, Charles Carter, who broke into William Schmidt's saloon at East Farmington, four weeks ago, and carried away a pair of pants and a pair of shoes. The smallpox scare at Sparta.—The people of Amery have presented a petition to the state board of health for a mail route established between that point and Balsam Lake, the county seat.

DOUBLE WEDDING AT ALEXANDRIA.

Special to the Journal. Alexandria, Minn., May 14.—Otto W. Nelson was married to Miss Ingeborg Mumb and Edward Nelson to Miss Ellen Young. The organization will be pushed and a creamery built as soon as possible.—L. Kellogg has purchased the property of the village.—Saturday night ice formed to the thickness of a window glass, but the wind blew hard all night and no damage was done to vegetation. The weather is still very cool, and grain is doing well.

A DEATH AT STONX FALLS.

Special to the Journal. Sioux Falls, S. D., May 14.—Mrs. C. J. Madison, who had many friends in the city, died yesterday morning. She had been confined to her home for the past five months. Consumption caused her death. She left a husband and three children. The funeral was held this forenoon from the Catholic church.

PRISONER ESCAPES.

Special to the Journal. Baraboo, Wis., May 14.—Thomas Riley, who was serving a term in the Juneau county jail at Mauston, escaped yesterday and has not yet been recaptured.—The new farm residence of Frank Beardsley was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon. Loss, $2,000, partly covered by insurance.

COOPERSTOWN RESIDENCE BURNS.

Special to the Journal. Cooperstown, N. D., May 14.—The residence of T. A. Harker was completely destroyed by fire this morning at 4 o'clock. All clothing and most of the furniture were lost. The cause of the fire is unknown. The insurance is $600.

THE SULTAN OF TURKEY MAKES USE OF HIS OFFSPRING IN AN ORIGINAL WAY, HAVING BUILT A SMALL THEATER, WHEREIN THEY PLAY SMALL PARTS FOR HIS MAJESTY'S PLEASURE.

Excavating for the new contagious disease ward, the city hospital already under way, but it will depend on the court how far operations will go at this time. Residents in the vicinity of the city hospital have endured the existence of a contagious disease ward but now that a permanent building is about to be erected there, they say the time has come to enter a protest. Several of them to-day united in a petition to the district court praying for an injunction against the city to prevent further building operations, and they expect to serve the injunction on the board of charities and corrections at St. Paul. It is gaily decorated with the colors especially in the vicinity of the health and life of people living in the locality.

THIS FOR THE MAYOR

Sheriff Mogaarden Makes Some Very Plain Remarks.

THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE LAWS

It is the Mayor's "Privilege" but the Sheriff Considers It His Duty.

Sheriff Mogaarden is much amused at on indications that he is engaged in a conspiracy with Loren Fletcher and others to prevent the candidacy of the mayor for congress, but in view of the mayor's official position Mr. Mogaarden has made a statement in reply which follows: It will be noted that the sheriff uses plain language in discussing the municipal situation. He says:

"The fact is that I ever had about this terrible conspiracy of Mr. Fletcher, Mr. Lovejoy and myself against Dr. Ames, was when I read the same in the newspapers, and I am not entirely correctly quoted, he is certainly 'talking through his hands.' Personally, I am not concerned as to whether our next congressman shall be Mr. Fletcher or Dr. Ames. In regard to the investigation by the grand jury of municipal affairs I have no knowledge, and the grand jury is certainly capable of attending to its own business, and has not called upon me for advice or information and I am, in fact, kept quite busy attending to my own business.

As sheriff of this county, it is my sworn duty to preserve the peace and enforce the laws within the bounds of the county; Minneapolis happens to be a part of Hennepin county, therefore laws which are enforced by the mayor and his police force, are not relieved from enforcing; but laws not enforced by the police, I deem it my duty to enforce, and shall do so without fear or favor, and without consulting or securing the doctor's permission.

Houses of ill-fame, unlike our sugar beet industry, require no encouragement or protection, and under a monthly fine system of $100, they have been steadily increased in numbers and apparently flourished financially, and if I should cause the keepers of these unlawful places to come before the mayor and his police force, which I am very likely to do, the doctor must not consider that an infringement upon his official prerogatives; I am simply aiding the police to do their duty.

In regard to the gambling houses of the city, I have only acted when warrants were placed in my hands which it was my plain duty to execute, but it is the doctor's privilege and my duty to suppress gambling, and in the future I shall endeavor to do so.

In regard to the suppression of slot machines, I accept entire responsibility for my own action and I have no apology to make for my official action in reference thereto. There is no occasion for a difference between the mayor and myself, for if the city shall not feel disinclined, but if he fails and neglects to do so, I shall endeavor to enforce the laws to the best of my ability.

EXPLORES ICY REGIONS

D. T. HAMBURY OF LONDON, ENG. He Is Here on His Way North for a Two Years' Expedition.

D. T. Hambury, of London, Eng., explorer and scientist, is at the West. Mr. Hambury is a member of the Royal Geographical Society of London and is prominent because of his work on the Hudson Bay region which he explored very thoroughly in '98 and '99. He is now on his way north to begin two years' explorations in the Arctic coast. He said:

"My route will begin at Edmonton and include Slave river to Slave lake, east to Pond du Lac and Arctique lake, across the divide of the Arctic coast, and on to Hudson Bay. Two years ago I took this same route in an opposite direction, exploring Arctique river (which I named myself) for a distance of 500 miles. The divide of the Arctic coast is the geography of Canada. Its source is in Campbell lake near the divide, which separates the waters that flow into Hudson Bay from those of the McKenzie river.

"My mission this time is to explore the Arctic coast for copper deposits. I will start on my Arctic coast trip from March 15, and reach the Arctic coast in the region of this year in preparing for it. A whaler leaves England in July and is due at the island in September with my supplies. I will use the whaler's crew, which is very short. In the summer, my last trip in the Hudson Bay country I was using a sled as late as July 4."

ENTER PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY

They Are Charged With Attempting to Rob and Drug Wm. Grosser.

Herman Jacky and Harry Moore were arraigned before Judge McGowan yesterday afternoon on charges of attempting to drug and rob William Grosser, of 511 Second avenue S., on April 20 last. They pleaded not guilty and were committed to the city jail on two counts, the first charging him with the unlawful use of chloroform, administered to Grosser, and the second with attempting to commit grand larceny. Jacky is indicted on similar counts, and in addition is charged with assault in the first degree. On the night of the day planned to rob Grosser, Jacky and Moore were seen to enter the room of Grosser, who was alone in the room, and were seen to attempt to drug him with chloroform. Jacky and Moore were seen to attempt to rob Grosser, who was alone in the room, and were seen to attempt to drug him with chloroform. NECROLOGICAL

PERRY D. MARTIN, one of the distinguished local characters, who served the veteran soldiers in both Wabasha and St. Louis counties, died at the Soldiers' Home hospital early Saturday morning of senile paralysis. Mr. Martin, better known as "Judge" Martin, a man of wide and varied information, of a genial and convivial nature, was a general favorite with his intimates. He was born in Vermont seventy-seven years ago, and resided in Wabasha county for many years. He has ever since been a citizen of the state, living most of that time in the vicinity of Lake City, at Duluth, and during recent years on a claim in St. Louis county on the north shore of Lake Superior. He served for twenty months during the civil war as a private in Company D, Third Minnesota infantry, and at the time of his death was drawing $40 per month pension by special act of congress. He entered the home hospital from Wabasha county, suffering from senile paralysis, and has since been confined to his bed. Among the old settlers of Minnesota Mr. Martin was widely and favorably known. He left no immediate relatives, being a widower and childless. The funeral was held at the home chapel yesterday at 10 o'clock a. m. The burial was at Lakewood.

PROBLEM OF THE OMAHA

COM' CLUB TO INVESTIGATE

Result Will Have a Bearing on the Road's Petition for Vacation of Streets.

Whether the Commercial Club, acting for the business interests of the city, will make an effort to induce the Omaha road to run its passenger trains into Minneapolis will depend upon the report of the committee appointed at to-day's session of the Commercial Club. The fact that the Omaha's trains pull into the St. Paul depot first gives that city the advantage of about eight minutes for out-of-town buyers and pleasure seekers are not particularly in view. The Omaha road is run by the Commercial Club, which is run by the Commercial Club, which is run by the Commercial Club.
