DO MOON MEN TOBOGGAN?

SNOW IS FOUND ON THEIR PLANET Interesting Discovery Made in the West Indies by a Harvard Man.

New York Sun Special Service Boston, May 28.—Professor W. H. Pickering of the Harvard observatory, who has been making astronomical observations in Jamaica, West Indies, for several months, has brought a series of photographs of the moon which appear to establish the fact that there is snow on the moon. This fact was suggested about a year ago by Professor Pickering, and while in Jamaica he made a special study of this matter, adopting a method that would afford fuller data.

and from all such disfigurements and blemishes, follows the use of the Carlsbad Sprudel Water. It clears and freshens the skin wonderfully—takes away that dull and mottled look that comes from stomach derangements. Even in chronic and stubborn cases of skin disorders, like eczema, it is the prescribed remedy. If a decided laxative action is desired, take a teaspoonful of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt with the first tumblerful of the water early in the morning before breakfast. Insist upon the genuine imported, natural Carlsbad Sprudel Water and Salt, which has the signature of "Bisner & Mendelson Co., sole agents, New York," on every bottle.

THE WORLD GAINS

Result of the Supreme Court's In solar Decision.

VERDICT OF A LONDON PAPER

Fresh Proof Seen That Americans and Britons Should Stand Together.

London, May 28.—"The world at large stands to gain something by this momentous decision by which congress may devise for the dependencies a form of government outside the American constitution," says Westminster Gazette to-day discussing the United States supreme court's judgment. The Gazette continues: Without the decision the United States government would have been unable to adopt a more liberal trade policy outside of America without disarranging the whole of their continental trade with the continent of America to Europe and the world is profoundly modified by the new departure. Colonies mean a navy, a navy means naval bases and coaling stations and naval bases are insecure unless they are backed up by the possession of a Hinterland. This is the logic of imperialism and it may lead the Americans as far as it has led us. Moreover, by stepping outside their continent the Americans undoubtedly weaken the force of the Monroe doctrine.

There is a certain reciprocity in the present arrangement to reconcile Europeans to the exclusion from their territory but if the United States plunges into Water-world politics equipped with a strong navy and an American canal, enabling it to concentrate on either ocean, she can hardly claim to compete on the principle which limits liability while putting no limit on her expansion. The entrance of the United States on the scene as a world power is already regarded as a highly disturbing factor by the European chancelleries. The new departure makes it more important than before for the British and Americans by all possible means to keep on good terms with each other and settle by friendly negotiation all outstanding differences.

PRESBYTERIANS FINISH

GENERAL ASSEMBLY DISSOLVED Routine Odds and Ends, Including the Appointment of an Evangelistic Committee.

Philadelphia, May 28.—The 113th Presbyterian general assembly was dissolved last night by Moderator Minton after having been in session nearly two weeks. There are still six members of the revision committee appointed, but Moderator Minton said that he had not yet made any selections. The closing hours of the assembly were devoted to routine matters. The report of the committee on temperance urged ministers to call the attention of congressmen in their districts to the necessity for the completion of legislation now pending regarding the drink traffic in the islands of the Pacific. The report also urges the government to take definite action toward the suppression of the liquor traffic in all of our new possessions.

Fort Yates, N. D., May 28.—Within the shade around the Indian church assembled the largest council of red men perhaps for years. It was at the close of the annual payment of interest money, and the semi-monthly issue of rations was given out to the occupants of the entire reservation from the warehouses at the agency, instead of being sent to the various subagencies, as is ordinarily done, for distribution, where all the Indians were presumed to be present. Indian Agent Bingenheimer occupied the high central seat. Among those who occupied seats in front were Rev. Dr. Reed and Mrs. Reed; Dr. Lucius C. Warner and Mrs. Warner; Dr. William H. Ward of New York City; Mrs. M. C. Collins; Captain Sargent and wife of the military post; C. M. Ziebach and wife, Mrs. Thomas J. Reedy and daughter Miss Katie, Mrs. Brimmon, Mr. S. M. Trevellick and Harry F. Hunter.

TOWNE TO SAY GOOD-BY

WILL DESERT MINNESOTA FOR N.Y. Politics to Take a Back Seat While He Acquires a Fortune in Oil.

Duluth, Minn., May 28.—Duluth and the state of Minnesota are to lose the distinction of being the home of former United States Senator Charles A. Towne. He will remove with his wife to New York to purchase an estate, where they will make their home in the future. Politics will be a secondary proposition with Mr. Towne for the next few years at least, for he has the ambition to acquire a fortune. Mr. Towne left yesterday afternoon on the Omaha limited for New York upon business in connection with a new oil enterprise which he is promoting, and of which he will be the president. Mr. Towne and his associates have an option upon 300,000 acres of oil land in Texas and they are organizing a company to purchase, lease and operate it. One of the more important matters that Mr. Towne has gone east to attend to is the raising of capital for floating the enterprise. It will be the big oil project in the Lone Star state and Mr. Towne confidently expects to make a large fortune out of it.

CUBANS FINALLY AGREE

Constitutional Convention Accepts the Platt Amendment.

PRESIDENT GIVES CASTING VOTE

Amendment is Accepted in the Sense Explained by McKinley and Root.

Havana, May 28.—The Cuban constitutional convention yesterday accepted the Platt amendment. The vote was almost a tie. Sixteen is a majority of the convention and out of the twenty-nine delegates present fourteen favored and fourteen opposed acceptance of the American terms, President Capote casting the decisive vote. Acceptance of the Platt amendment was not unconditional or solely and exclusively as congress passed it, but in the sense explained by the Root and McKinley in Washington, and with that understanding, which the convention incorporates in the resolution of acceptance. The record of acceptance of the American terms recites the joint resolution, the treaty of Paris, the Platt amendment literally and the Washington government's declarations to the Cuban commissioners, which are described as having the character and value of official statements. The resolution finds that those declarations constitute an authorized interpretation of the Platt plan and that as thus understood it is not inconsistent with the independence and sovereignty of Cuba. The convention will issue an address, with the Platt amendment and the Cuban constitution as an appendix, with substantially the following understanding of the clauses regarding intervention and coaling stations in the Isle of Pines. Clause 3—Intervention unimpeded intermeddling interference with matters of Cuban government and will last only long enough to restore normal conditions and will be exercised in formal diplomatic action, first, to preserve the independence of Cuba when menaced by exterior force; second, to establish according to the Cuban constitution a government adequate to discharge internal and international obligations; third, in case there exists a true state of anarchy. The convention understands clause 3 to be an extension of the Monroe doctrine. The United States has no more right than in recent intervention and is to exercise no protectorate or suzerainty over Cuba, which will make treaties with foreign powers without the intervention of the United States. Clause 6—Although the Isle of Pines is included in the limits of Cuba as regulated by the same government and administration, the two governments will adjust the title by a special treaty, without prejudice to the rights which Cuba now has over the same. Clause 7—The future Cuban government is empowered to negotiate with the United States a treaty which may concede coaling stations on terms mutually agreed upon, which, if established, will be solely to defend the American seas and preserve the independence of Cuba in case of exterior aggression, and the defense of the United States. The resolution of acceptance gives the convention's understanding of other clauses in the Platt amendment, including a reciprocity treaty. The convention has adjourned subject to call. It has now to draft an election law. The following delegates voted against the amendment: Gomez, Geney, Fortuondo, Lacro, Manduley, Cisneros, Ferrer, Fortun, Robau, E. Tamayo, Silva, Castro, Zayas and Aleman. Senors Riera and Bravo were absent. Discussed in this evening, exclaims: "Now will come immediate independence."

Special to The Journal. Des Moines, Iowa, May 28.—At the convention in Dallas county, in addition to instructing the delegation for Cummins, a resolution was adopted declaring against any discrimination in matters of taxation and for an equitable assessment of the property of corporate interests, both tangible and intangible. This is not the first of the county convention to express its opinion on taxation. In Carroll county recently, especially strong resolutions were adopted. The aim of their promoters is to throw hot shot at the present state administration, particularly at Governor L. M. Shaw and Auditor Frank F. Merriam, who have steadily opposed an increase in the railway assessment. Governor Shaw is much stirred up over these indirect attacks on his policy. To friends who have called on him recently he expressed surprise at the course taken by some of the county conventions. In Dallas county, although the convention indorsed the federal administration, it conspicuously failed to say any word in favor of the state administration. While the Cummins leaders have invaded Linn county, Senator James H. Trewin has made a counter attack by going into Cherokee county. He hopes to make a showing in both Cherokee and Monona counties and prevent Cummins from getting the eleventh district solid. In Monona county a strong anti-Cummins sentiment prevails, and there is likely to be a hard contest for the delegation.
