A pretty affair of last evening was the marriage of Miss Jessie B. Horner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Horner, and Leslie Franklin Mansfield, which took place in Calvary Baptist church. A group of twelve young women, Misses Agnes Griswold, Mildred Clark, Mabel Smith, Helen Hays, Zelma Heines, Ina Staples, Florence Cook, Lita Cook, Anna Goodrich, Mabel Chase and Alice Gould, in white gowns and carrying snowballs walked down the side aisles to the front of the church singing the "Lohengrin" chorus as the bride party entered the church. Miss Hattie Sturm was bridesmaid and wore lavender mousseline de sole with trimmings of black velvet ribbon. She carried snowballs. Mrs. Willard J. Heild was matron of honor and her gown was of white silk, fashioned with yellow lace and yellow ribbon. Little Ruth Jackson, the flower girl, was in a white frock and scattered snowballs before the bride. Miss Horner wore white tulle and her gown was tucked and the tucked bodice was trimmed with old point lace. Her veil was caught with a flower and her bouquet was of bride roses and ferns. ### CRUSE PLEASD

Domion Line Passenger Manager in the City.

S. E. Cruse, of Liverpool, England, passenger manager of the Dominion Steamship line, spent a few hours in the city today, accompanied by Mrs. Cruse, R. J. MacFarlane, passenger manager for Montreal, and Thomas S. Jones, passenger manager for the west, with headquarters at Chicago. Mr. Cruse looks for a large amount of steamship passenger business from America during the coming year. He said:

America is becoming great in everything. An Englishman can realize this in a short visit to the eastern cities. He can be impressed with it greatly by extending his visit to these rapidly growing cities in the middle west. One indication that America is growing wealthy is the immense increase in steamship passenger business from this country in the past few years, and especially the increase in the number of better class tickets sold. The increase in third-class business has been tremendous. The immigrant has made money in America and many of them are paying visits to the old country. A few years ago the Christmas ship carried a majority of the business east from this country. Now there is a steady trade of big and increasing volume.

A demand that the American trade be created in late years is better service to Mediterranean ports. This is becoming a very popular winter route with Americans. It is intended to put the Commonwealth in this service the latter part of October. She is a steamer of 13,000 tons and the first of the really big ones to take the American-Mediterranean route.

OUR DAILY BREAD

Valuable Suggestions for the Kitchen and Dining-room.

Series B.

By Katherine Kurtz.

A DESERVEDLY POPULAR SUMMER FRUIT

Among our delicious native fruits of the early summer, we do not find a greater favorite than the cherry. The seeds, of course, must be rejected, and, strange to say, children have a propensity for swallowing these. The cherry, with the peach, plum and apricot, being to the "stone" family. They are subacid, rich in sugar and saline substance, and contain a large amount of water. The Morilla cherry is a variety of red cherry which is less sweet than the white or black and not nearly so acid as the pie cherry; it is best for pies, tarts, puddings and ices, and makes a beautiful and delicious jelly.

Grandmother's Cherry Pie.

Has culinary skill created anything more delectable to our minds than the memory of grandmother's pie? Even the strawberry shortcake mother makes, pales in comparison. This favorite fruit may be treated in a variety of ways. Every year we learn something new about this good little fruit, and the many methods from soups to desserts would fill quite a little volume. Cherry soup is comparatively new and is surprisingly refreshing on a hot day, apricots being substituted for soft stock in giving it body. A cherry shortcake will bear more than favorable comparison with the much lauded strawberry creation. Cherry salad and sandwiches are also rather new and very nice.

Cherry Roly Polys.

Remove the fiber and skin from five ounces of the best fruit, chop it very fine and mix it with half a pound of sifted flour and half a teaspoonful of salt. Moisten with sufficient cold water to make it hold well together. Roll out on a well-floured board about an inch in thickness. Cover well with

Not Common but Extraordinary

The California Prune

"The most delicious dessert I ever tasted was made of the common prunes," said a New York lady to a friend from California. When the California lady had finished telling of the California Prunes of today, of "its standing at home," the numerous ways in which it can be prepared, its nutritive value and virtue to health, the New York lady remarked that she had named the fruit wrong—it was not "a common prune," but an extraordinary fruit. You can learn the same without going to California, or talking to California folks. Buy a box of the present-day California Prunes, grown, packed and inspected by the California Cured Fruit Association, and on sale by all dealers.

The Association issues a book containing 100 recipes for preparing prunes in every way, which were obtained by a prize contest participated in by the very best cooks and chefs of California. This book, together with a "Prune Primer," which will delight the little folks, will be sent free on request. Address CALIFORNIA-CURED FRUIT ASSOCIATION, San Jose, California.

Cherry Salad.

Stone half a pound of cherries and save all the juice. Select and wash a nice head of lettuce, using only the whitest leaves; slice a small cucumber; chop fine a dozen blanched almonds. Mix all together and pour over the salad a dressing made of a gill of sherry, four tablespoons of sugar, a tablespoon of lemon juice and one of maraschino. All rights reserved by Banning & Co.

Cherry Shortcake.

Mix and sift twice, two cups of flour; quarter of a cup sugar; two level teaspoons of baking powder; quarter of a teaspoonful of salt and a pinch of nutmeg. Rub in a third of a cup of butter, add a beaten egg to two-thirds of a cup of milk, and moisten the flour. Make the dough soft as biscuit dough. Do not knead the dough, but toss lightly on a floured board; roll out and place in a square baking tin, having the dough about an inch thick. Bake for twenty or twenty-five minutes in a hot oven. When done, split open carefully, spread with softened butter, then plain cream. The cherries must be very ripe for this cake.

Cherry Tapioca.

Soak four tablespoonfuls of tapioca in a pint of cold water until the water is absorbed. Take a pint of stoned cherries; add the juice to the tapioca; add sugar enough to make it very sweet. Cook for 15 minutes. Then add the fruit and cook ten minutes longer. Turn out to cool. Serve with plain or whipped cream. If the fruit is not juicy add a little more water.

White Cherry Ice Cream.

Put two cupfuls of granulated sugar and one cupful of water in a saucepan over the fire. Stir until the sugar is dissolved and let the syrup come to a boil. Drop in carefully one cup of California white cherries, pitted; simmer gently for fifteen minutes; strain carefully and when the syrup is cold add a quart of cream and freeze. When the dasher begins to turn hard take it out; beat the cream well with a paddle and stir in the fruit. Repack freezer in ice and salt and let it stand three or four hours with a blanket or piece of carpet thrown over it.

Cherries and Cream.

Stone and cook white cherries in just enough syrup to cover them; when done drain off the juice and stand both away to get cold. Have ready a pint of vanilla ice cream. Put a tablespoonful of the cherries in the bottom of a small glass dish. Cover with the cream, heaping in the center; and then pour a little of the syrup over the cream, place a cherry on top and serve.

Cherry Custard.

This is a deep, open cherry pie with a thick custard poured over the cherries after pie is baked and cold; this custard covered with a meringue and browned slightly in the oven.

Cherry Souffle.

Moisten two tablespoonfuls of flour with
