INSULAR CASES MAY BE REOPENED

Lawyers Who Argued Against the Government in Downes Case May Ask a Rehearing.

They Hope That the Decision of the United States Supreme Court Will Be Reversed.

New York Sun Special Service.

Washington, May 30.—When the supreme court resumes its sessions in October a motion will be filed asking for a rehearing of the Downes case, which was made the medium of the court's decision sustaining the constitutionality of the Foraker act for Porto Rico. A conference of all the lawyers who argued the insular cases against the government is to be called between now and October to discuss the new points that will be raised and submitted to the court as the basis of the motion for a rehearing.

PILOTAGE DECISION

Its Effect May Be Injurious to American Shipping.

Washington, May 30.—It is thought that the pilotage decision, which attracted little attention at the time, but was handed down with the other insular decisions Monday, will be construed as extending the regulations of the coastwise trade to the Philippines, as well as to Porto Rico and Hawaii. By direction of the president and on recommendation of the bureau of navigation of the treasury department, the coastwise regulations were extended to Porto Rico soon after the ratification of the Paris treaty, or in August, 1898, about the same time they were also extended to Hawaii. What is known as the pilotage case was friendly litigation, brought to test the legality of these extensions of the shipping laws. The supreme court sustains the president's act and it is now thought that there will be a demand to extend the regulations to the Philippines, in pursuance of the court's mandate.

Shipping men say this would be a serious blow to American shipping. It is contended that the country is not yet ready to receive the distant Philippines in its coastwise trade and to confer on that far removed archipelago the benefits of the American navigation laws. Still, as the question is not yet very well understood, it is likely that little will be heard about it until congress takes hold of it and enacts the necessary legislation.

Attorney General Knox is carefully studying the various expressions used by the justices in the DeLima and the Downes decisions, with the view of preparing an opinion for submission to the cabinet as to the special legislation for the case upon rehearing might cause one or both to join with the chief justice and Justices Harlan, Peckham and Brewer to reverse Monday's decision.

MEMORY OF FLOYD

Shaft for the Lewis and Clarke Explorer Dedicated.

ORATION AT S. CITY BY KASSON

General Observance of Memorial Day in Northwest Cities and Towns.

Special to The Journal.

Sioux City, Iowa, May 30.—The conspicuous figure at the dedication to-day of the hundred-foot monument, costing $16,000, to Sergeant Charles Floyd, a member of the Lewis and Clarke expedition, who died and was buried near here, was John A. Kasson, recently treaty commissioner, who wrote the anti-slavery plank in the Lincoln platform of 1860.

He was present in the morning at the exercises of dedication when Col. H. M. Chittenden, government engineer in charge, presented the shaft, which was accepted by John H. Charles, president of the Floyd Memorial association, a pioneer, who uncovered the tablets of bronze and visitors in the city the railways having made special rates. President Burd of the Union Pacific was here. He gave $500 to the monument fund.

MONUMENT FOR A HERO

Sacrifice of Private Lamb Recognized at Hamilton, N. D.

Special to The Journal.

Hamilton, N. D., May 30.—The monument erected to young William G. Lamb, a soldier of the First North Dakota regiment who was killed in the Philippines, was dedicated here to-day in the presence of an immense throng of people. State officials, judges and many prominent in civil life participated. The monument was erected by the people of Pembina county, the home of the dead soldier.

Several companies of the state militia were present and many of Lamb's comrades paid tribute to his memory. Exercises for Memorial Day had a deeper significance here than usual, and were singularly impressive.

ELSEWHERE IN THE NORTHWEST

Special to The Journal.

Mankato, Minn., May 30.—Memorial Day was observed in this city with a parade of civic and military organizations, through the city and to Sibley park, in the afternoon. The G. A. R. were the leaders. Sons of Veterans, militia company, fire department, mayor, council and city officials, etc., were in line. At the park, Attorney W. A. Funk gave the address. Other exercises were carried out, and the graves were decorated. Many of the graves were moved to the cemetery, where the graves of departed soldiers were decorated.

Excelsior, Minn., May 30.—Alexander Hughes, recently of North Dakota, now of Excelsior, delivered the Memorial Day oration in this place. The exercises were largely attended. A long procession, composed of the Excelsior Cornet band, the G. A. R., Modern Woodmen, cadets, school children and officials and citizens in carriages, was a feature.

Fargo, N. D., May 30.—Memorial Day was observed here by the members of the G. A. R. and their friends. During the forenoon, flowers were placed on the graves of the dead, and this afternoon, after a short parade, appropriate exercises were held in Company B armory, at which the chief address was delivered by Judge Newton.

Aberdeen, S. D., May 30.—Memorial Day exercises in this city were very elaborate. Business houses were closed during the services and the public participated to an extent much more general than usual. In the forenoon, members of the G. A. R., W. R. C. and Red Cross and Veterans of the Spanish War marched down Main street to point where carriages were in waiting and proceeded to Riverside where the graves of soldiers were decorated with flags and flowers by school children in uniform. In the afternoon, Senator Robert J. Gamble delivered a masterly address at the Grain Elevator.

La Crosse, Wis., May 30.—Memorial Day was appropriately observed in this city, and many business houses and all of the public buildings were closed. In the forenoon, the veterans of the civil and Spanish-American wars marched to Oak Grove and the Catholic cemeteries and decorated the graves of dead soldiers. This afternoon, exercises were held in the Fourth Street Park.

Black River Falls, Wis., May 30.—Memorial Day was observed by speeches and parades all over the county. The children, 400 strong, helped the parade here. Rev. L. A. Brenner spoke at Trout, Professor Vanderhoof at Melrose; G. M. Perry at Alma Center; J. R. Ogden at Shamrock, and Rev. Mr. Karshew at Merrillan. There was a large turnout at Northfield to dedicate the monument for Samuel Tweed, who died in the Philippines.

ZIONIST SCHEME BOOMS

ITS FIRST POLITICAL SUCCESS

Emperor William the Principal Surety in the Colonization of Southern Palestine.

New York Sun Special Service.

London, May 30.—The Daily Mail says that the Zionist movement has achieved its first great political success. The founder of the movement, Dr. Theodore Herzl, and other promoters, arrived at Constantinople three weeks ago and were received with distinction. Dr. Herzl was placed among the imperial guests at the Solamlik on May 17, and thereafter the sultan granted an audience that lasted for two and a half hours. Dr. Herzl submitted his scheme for rebuilding Jaffa harbor and establishing considerable irrigation works. Jewish labor will be employed, and as houses are built rural Jews from Roumania, Russia and Galicia will be gradually settled on the land. The scheme is in no sense charitable. The leaders do not intend to import the lower classes of Hebrews, but the best class of workers. The scheme is on a business basis and remunerative returns are expected.

RACE FOR A DINNER

Griscom and Mackay Speeding Across the Atlantic.

New York Sun Special Service.

New York, May 30.—The steamship St. Paul, which sailed yesterday for Southampton, will have a chance to test its new engines on the trip across. The ship usually arrives at Southampton during the afternoon of the Wednesday after sailing. On board the vessel is a race between the president of the American line. He is hastening aboard to attend the banquet of the London Board of Trade, set for next Wednesday night, and the slightest delay in the arrival of the vessel would mean that the president of the line would not be able to attend the dinner. Another reason for Mr. Griscom's trip is said to be that he wishes to confer with J. P. Morgan on steamship business.

Mr. Griscom is not the only member of the chamber of commerce who is racing across the Atlantic in the hope of being in time for the London chamber of commerce banquet. His rival is J. W. Mackay, president of the Commercial Cable company, who is aboard the Teutonic, which left this city two hours before the St. Paul. There will, therefore, be a race between the two swift transatlantic liners.

KRUPP MISSES

Failure of Armor-Plate Made for the American Navy.

New York Sun Special Service.

Washington, May 30.—The first plate representing a lot of Krupp armor manufactured for the American navy by the Bethlehem company was tested at the Indian Head proving grounds yesterday and was a complete failure. It does not follow, though, that the group is worthless. Government inspectors will select another plate from the group and send it to the proving grounds for trial. Should it fail the department will reject the group, although under the contract it may allow the company to retreat the plates. The plate tested yesterday did not possess the required toughness of back so necessary to insure the best results.

HARMONY APPEARS IN CUBA.

Havana, May 30.—Acquiescence in the will of the majority is dominant, and the convention's acceptance of the Platt amendment has been quickly followed by pleas for harmony. The minority of the radical radicals were bitter against the supporters of the amendment, but their bitterness finds little popular support.

AMERICAN JURISPRUDENCE

of the federal court of appeals in San Francisco in citing Judge Arthur H. Noyes of Alaska to appear before it to defend himself against a charge of contempt. There may be precedents, but department officials do not recall any of them, nor have they been able, in a hurried search, to find one.

Undoubtedly, say these gentlemen, Judge Noyes will appeal his case to the supreme court. He will probably resist the contention of the San Francisco court that it has jurisdiction over his acts, and no matter what that court may hold, will ask the Washington court to finally review the matter and decide it. This will mean that nothing can be done until October, for the supreme court on Tuesday adjourned until that time. And it may not come up very early in October. In fact, no decision may be handed down until after the close of navigation in Alaska, which will mean that Judge Noyes will continue to act as judge until next summer, unless the department of justice, the supreme court upholding the punishment, which the San Francisco court will undoubtedly endeavor to administer, sees fit to take the initiative and send word to Noyes by dog team.

The case is being watched here with much interest, and the department of justice will endeavor to keep informed on the work of the federal court of appeals. It is entirely possible, as already hinted, that the hearing in San Francisco will be a retrial matters which will warrant the attorney general in taking a hand and suspending Noyes until everything has been finally disposed of. No definite forecasts can be made at present along this line. It is rather certain, however, that the publicity which will attend the movements of the court of appeals will compel the Washington authorities to take hold of the Noyes case with vigor and bring it to an quick conclusion.

LOOMIS WILL GO BACK

NOT SCARED BY MR. CASTRO

Venezuelan President's Criticisms Met With Something Like Defiance.

New York Sun Special Service.

Washington, May 30.—The state department gives out the astonishing information that when Minister Loomis returns to the United States from his trip abroad he will start forthwith for his post at Caracas, Venezuela, and continue to represent the United States as minister for another four years. The statement has a ring of defiance, for it is made in response to an interview by President Castro of Venezuela, to the effect that he is confident the United States will not send Minister Loomis back to Caracas. President Castro adds with mingled diplomacy and naivete: "I believe the United States desire to maintain friendly relations with the republic of Venezuela." Then he openly charges Mr. Loomis with interfering with the government of Venezuela by taking the part of the asphalt trust against the Warner-Guinaia syndicate

Life Sentence for Young Wolf

Special to The Journal.

Helena, Mont., May 30.—Life sentence in the state penitentiary is the punishment meted out to James Wolf, an 18-year-old boy who shot and killed Sheriff Summers of Madison county last winter. The jury that tried Wolf at Dillon, Beaver Head county, whether the case was transferred on a change of venue, reached a verdict in five hours last night. Wolf's youth saved him from receiving the extreme penalty.

The crime was most coldblooded and unexplainable as Sheriff Summers was attempting by a search warrant to search the cabin in which Wolf lived near Virginia City, for articles alleged to have been stolen by Wolf, when the latter deliberately killed the officer with a rifle. Feeling ran high and Wolf would have been lynched but the pleadings of the dead officer's wife who urged the crowd of maddened men to let the law take its course.

South African Winter Campaign

London, May 30.—A dispatch to the Times from Capetown dated May 28, reports that the Boers are massing under Commander Krietsinger to the northwest of Baileysburg. There is much apprehension, and the town guard remains all night in the trenches. Passenger traffic to the north is suspended and freight is proceeding under an armed escort. The banks close at noon.

Pettigrew Denies at a Late Day

Special to The Journal.

Sioux City, Iowa, May 30.—Former Senator Pettigrew passed through Sioux City from Salt Lake City to St. Paul this morning, and while here made denial of the story that he had made a quarter million dollars in Wall street.

"I have not dealt in stocks, either on margin or in shares, and the story is a canard," he said.

He admitted he had been offered a high position with a corporation, presumably the Northern Pacific, but not the presidency. He would not accept, he said.

Kidnapped and Painted

Special to The Journal.

Castro Falls, Iowa, May 30.—Ben Parker, president of the junior high school class, was kidnapped by the seniors, taken to the woods and painted. He was returned to the school, and a fight immediately followed between the two classes. In the melee the large plate glass door of the building was smashed.

Then he openly charges Mr. Loomis with interfering with the government of Venezuela by taking the part of the asphalt trust against the Warner-Guinaia syndicate when their quarrel was pending in the supreme court.

President Castro also charges that money in large amounts was brought into the country and used to bribe the editors of newspapers in behalf of the asphalt trust. These charges are brushed aside by the state department with the statement that "no conservative official would have made them."

It is certain, said one of the highest officials of the department "that when Minister Loomis leaves the office he will return to Caracas. I make this statement, keeping in mind the possibility that Mr. Loomis will not care to return to a post where he would be certain to receive treatment that is not cordial."

PRISONERS FOR STILLWATER

Federal Court Sentences Postoffice Robbers in Wisconsin.

Special to The Journal.

St. Paul, Wis., May 30.—James Hess, alias "Janeyville" Tommy, and Thomas Dillon and Thomas Riley, who robbed the postoffice at Footville, Rock county, about a month ago, were sentenced by Judge Bunn in the federal court to-day, Hess and Dillon getting four years and Riley two and a half years in the state's prison at Stillwater, Minn.
